TEXANS CLOSE REGULAR SEASON WITH TITANS

The Houston Texans (9-6) will wrap up the 2016 regular season with a road game against the Tennessee Titans (8-7) on Sunday. Kickoff is set for noon CT at Nissan Stadium.

Last week, Houston clinched the AFC South Division for the second straight year and fourth time in the last six seasons, which is tied for the third-most in the NFL since 2011. This week, the Texans will be playing for their third 10-win season in franchise history and first since 2012.

In Week 16, the Texans improved to 7-1 at home, a single-season team record, after defeating the Cincinnati Bengals, 12-10. The defense held Cincinnati to just 50 net rushing yards, while recording 3.0 sacks and one interception. OLB Whitney Mercilus led the team with 2.0 sacks, giving him a team-leading 7.5 on the year, while DE Jadeveon Clowney added the other quarterback takedown. S Quintin Demps posted his third straight game with an interception and is now tied for the lead among NFL safeties with five picks this year.

Offensively, QB Tom Savage made his first career start and despite a scoreless first half, completed 16-of-22 passes for 163 yards and a 93.6 passer rating in the final two quarters of the game, which led to 12 points and the victory. RB Alfred Blue scored his first rushing touchdown of the season on a 24-yard run in the fourth quarter and finished the game with season highs of 21 carries for 73 yards.

Tennessee fell to the Jacksonville Jaguars at EverBank Field last week by a score of 38-17. QB Marcus Mariota threw for 99 yards and a touchdown before exiting the game due to injury. QB Matt Cassel came in and finished with 124 yards, one touchdown and one interception.

Although all six teams in the AFC playoffs are set, some seeding is still to be determined. The Texans will find out their opponent in the AFC Wild Card round following completion of the Week 17 games.

Novak has added 20 extra points for a total of 122 points scored, which is his fourth 100-point season and is tied for the second-highest seasonal total of his career.

Novak has made his last 16 field goal attempts, dating back to Week 10 at Jacksonville (11/13), which is tied for the second-longest streak in Texans history. His 87.2 field goal percentage in 2016 is currently the third-highest single-season percentage in franchise history.

In Week 14 at Indianapolis (12/11), Novak tied a career-high after making 5-of-5 field goals and one extra point for 16 total points scored.

FULLER

WR Will Fuller V has recorded 44 receptions for 611 yards and two touchdowns this season. He has also notched a 67-yard punt return for a touchdown.

Fuller became the first rookie in NFL history with 300 receiving yards and a punt return touchdown in his team's first four games of a season. Former 49ers RB Hugh McElhenny is the only other rookie to produce over 300 scrimmage yards and a punt return touchdown in as many games to start a season, when he did so over 60 years ago in 1952.

In the season-opening victory over Chicago, Fuller caught five passes for a team-leading 107 yards and a touchdown. He became the first rookie first-round pick to post a 100-yard receiving game in a season opener since Louis Lipps in 1984 with Pittsburgh. He also became the first Texans rookie with a 100-yard receiving game and a touchdown in a season opener.

Fuller followed his Week 1 output with four receptions for 104 yards in Week 2 against Kansas City (9/18), making him the third player in NFL history with back-to-back 100-yard receiving performances to open his career, joining Don Looney (1940) and DeSean Jackson (2008). He is the first player in NFL history to gain at least 200 receiving yards over his first two games while winning both. He is also the first rookie drafted in the first round with back-to-back 100-yard games in his first two games.

In Week 4 against Tennessee (10/2), Fuller paced the team with seven receptions for 81 yards and a touchdown, while also returning a punt 67 yards for a score, becoming the first player in Texans history with a receiving and punt return touchdown in a single game.

Can we get your thoughts on how QB Tom Savage did in his first start? Do you expect to start him against the Titans?

"Yeah, he'll start against the Titans. I thought that the first half was a combination of some missed assignments, he held the ball a little bit, could have been some better play calls by me in there. It was a combination of just bad some offense obviously. We came in at halftime, we regrouped. I thought the players did an excellent job of understanding the way we wanted to kind of change our attack in the second half, and it helped. So as it relates to Tom, I thought he got into a rhythm in the second half and he was much better. I think everybody could see that. What did we learn from that? I don't know, we're still talking about that right now. You know, obviously Tennessee is a different opponent, different defense, the whole thing. But I thought Tom played better in the second half."

You said last week you play every game to win. Now, what is your philosophy for this game?

"I think anytime you line up, you play to win. I mean, I think that's we're all about here at the Houston Texans. I mean, I think it's important to win anytime you play, in this case on Sunday. Look, we'll be smart about it. We're going to go out there and do everything we can against a very difficult opponent. Dick LeBeau on defense, Mike Mularkey and those guys are doing a good job offensively. We're going to go out there and play to win."

What are some of the things you guys have done on defense moving players around and do you think that's helping DE Jadeveon Clowney?

"I think it's important to do that. It's something we really believe in because I think if you line a guy up in the same spot on every snap, it's pretty easy to get a beat on where they are. You know, as far as chipping, the different ways to slide the protection to help, and things like that. I think RAC (Romeo Crennel) and his crew of guys on that side of the ball do a good job and I think, like I said after the game, most of the credit should go to the players. The players execute at a very high level, they play very hard, and they've done a real nice job for us this year."

In what ways do you change your preparation with Titans QB Marcus Mariota out for the season?

"Well, he's a different quarterback. Obviously, it's terrible what happened to Marcus. I'm sure he'll be back, he's a guy that we got to know a little bit pre-draft a couple of years ago. He's an excellent young quarterback. But he's a different quarterback than Matt (Cassel). Marcus is a guy that has tremendous speed. Obviously, he can throw the ball. So we'll have to really study some of the things that they've done with Matt, whether it was Jacksonville or in the preseason or during this season, and see how we want to try and defend that."

What's the balance between working on your team and your identity, and preparing for Tennessee?

"We're preparing for Tennessee. Now, there's going to be different things that we do off the field, as far as treatment in the training room, and things that we do in the weight room as far as trying to get guys as healthy as we possibly can at the end of the year here. But, as far as on the practice field and things like that, we're definitely offensively, I can tell you this, we're going to work on the red area every day. I mean, it's not very good in the red area, starting with me, with the coaching. We got to coach it better, but I think overall that still points towards Tennessee. We're going to be working very hard on Tennessee."

Have you determined how much your starters will play against Tennessee?

"We're playing to win. We're playing to win. We're not even talking about that. We're playing to win. We've got a chance to win 10 games. You know, I don't know how many double-digit win seasons the Texans have had, but I think that's important. I think every game counts. I don't really care what - you know, I think any time you line up in this league, I think it's really just out of respect for the National Football League and football in general. You play to win. That's what you do, you play to win. You know, we're going to go out there and do the best we can to try to win, and I think that it's a very difficult opponent, and that's what we're studying right now."

What did you see from the breakdown on the touchdown pass to Bengals WR Brandon LaFell? Did you think DE Jadeveon Clowney was going to catch him?

"It was a great design by Cincinnati. We had two guys on the same level in man coverage, and they got picked off, they picked each other. Brandon can run. It was a quick slant pass and he took off. You know, that's the thing about our guys, even though that was a bad play obviously, an 87-yard touchdown, there was tremendous hustle on that play, and I think that the guy to point to there especially was Clowney. I mean, he was rushing in on the quarterback, turned around and ran basically - whatever that was - 90 yards in his case to try to chase the guy down. That's an example of the type of effort led by (Brian) Cushing, and (Benardrick) McKinney, (Whintey) Mercilus, Johnathan Joseph, that's the tone that they set in practice, those veteran players that we're going to rally to the ball, 11 guys to the ball, and I think the younger players here have taken to that."

The pass protection help up really well against the Jaguars two weeks ago but struggled against the Bengals, what was the difference between that week to what we saw on Saturday?

"I don't know what the difference was as much as we just have to do a better job. Geno Atkins got us, he's a tough guy to go against. (Carlos) Dunlap and (Michael) Johnson, those guys off the edge are not easy. I thought in the second half, with a combination of guys doing a good job of running the right routes, the ball coming out a little bit quicker, obviously the protection looked better. But that's something we're going to have to really work on this week. You know, we can't start the game like that with whatever it was, three or four sacks in the first half. That's not good, and again it's not always the line. I mean, certainly there were breakdowns and the line has to play better than they did in the first half. But a lot of it has to do with the whole unit. That's the beauty about offensive football, you're working to try to get 11 guys on the same page every play, which is virtually impossible to do that every single play of a football game, but that's the key because sometimes things breaks down and you don't really know what's going on behind. That receiver maybe didn't run the right route, or maybe Tom's (Savage) making the wrong read, whatever it is. So we've got to get everybody on the same page to start the game. That's for sure."

Can you talk about QB Tom Savage not throwing an interception and leading drives for the win in back-to-back weeks?

"He's done a good job of taking care of the ball, knock on wood. That's the big thing, we have to continue to have 100 percent ball security, that's going to be the key going forward, especially in this time of year and in the playoffs. I mean, you have to have 100 percent ball security. You're not going to win if you turn the ball over. Tom's done a decent job. There were a couple close ones but they didn't intercept it. It was a good job by him of taking care of the ball. You know, look, we've got to score more. Look, we have to play better on offense. We get that. We work very hard to put together a plan, we have to put together a better plan. But I think what's happened is we've played pretty good complimentary football. The defense has given us the ball in pretty good field position. I think the special teams played pretty well and helped us with field position. Eventually, we broke through and put together a drive where we were able to score. But you know, a lot has to do with the fact that our defense is playing at such a high level that we can get away with that right now. But that's not going to be the case going forward every single week. I'm not saying the defense isn't going to play well, I'm saying we have to score more than one touchdown. And that's what we're going to work hard to try to do this week."

Is RB Lamar Miller starting to feel better?

"Yeah, I think he's feeling better. You know, he ran before the game on Saturday night. We felt like it was in his best interest not to play in that game. And then we'll see how he looks when we get back in here on Wednesday."

What did you see from G Jeff Allen? Can you give us a comparison between what you're seeing from him and G Oday Aboushi?

"I'm not going to get into the comparison game, but I think Jeff plays tough, I think Aboushi plays tough, and I think Xavier (Su'a-Filo) plays tough. I think Greg Mancz has done - look, they can all do better, all of us can, starting with me, but I think that the guys up front are great to coach because they show up every week, they're tough, they work very hard to know the game plan, they're all doing the best job that they can. We just need to keep trying to get better."

What do the good red zone teams do that makes them successful?

"No penalties, no tackles for loss, no sacks, throw it to the open guy, make the right read, make the catch, make the play, block very well down there. There's just a myriad of things that good red zone teams do. And look, I'll say this, we've been a good red zone team in the past. It's not like we don't know what we're doing in the red zone anymore. It just looks that way because we haven't been good in the red zone. So, you're only as good as your last journey into the red zone and it hasn't been very good. We have to figure out how to stop committing penalties, how to stop getting tackles for loss in the running game. We got to design maybe some better plays. We like the plays that we have down there but maybe give them a little bit different picture and things like that. But we have to do a better job down there."

Is there less margin for error in the red zone and do you have to work quicker because of where you are on the field?

"No question. There's a lot less room to defend, so the window opens in the passing game and it closes just as fast as it opens. So the pressure down there is faster. There's less room to defend so they get to the passer quicker. Look, we know all these things. We've got to just do a better job of coaching it and get our players to execute it better."

CB A.J. Bouye had a lot of opportunities to make plays against the Bengals. How did you think he did under that pressure?

"He played a good game. He played, really, a good game. He's had a good year. He played well. I thought Kareem Jackson played well. But going back to A.J., he had some key pass breakups, a couple on third down, made a real nice play on third-and-1 when they tried to take a shot down field and he was in good leverage on the receiver and stayed that way. It was good. He's doing a good job. He's a very focused guy. Can't say enough about the way he has played this year."

You coached Raiders QB Matt McGloin at Penn State and now he is taking over as the Raiders starting quarterback. What can you tell us about him?

"Matt McGloin is a guy that's very important to me in my coaching career. I don't even know where to begin. I mean, this was a guy that when I got to Penn State, had played some. Had been a walk-on there. I don't know what the perception of him was when I got there but when I got there, everybody started with a clean slate because I didn't know about anybody there player-wise or anybody. So when we started spring practice, I mean, it was just obvious to me after about nine or 10 practices that this was the starting quarterback for that year. I think the guy is smart. I think he's accurate. I think he works very hard to improve. Look, the guy was fun to coach. He was a captain there. He's a big part of why that – you know, those players on that 2012 team are a big part of why Penn State is where they are now and he was a big part of that. Then to have a shot to make it in the pros, I knew that it was going to be hard for any team to cut him. That's the type of kid he is. He's from Scranton, Pennsylvania. Do you guys know anything about Scranton? I mean, they're born with a chip on their shoulder so to go into a pro football team and perform the way he did, especially in Oakland, a really talented team a few years ago and he made the team. Then Coach (Jack) Del Rio gets the job, obviously he likes him. He keeps him. So the guy has done a nice job. He's a great kid."

It seems like your red zone possessions have started at the eight or 10 yard line instead of closer to the goal line. Does that change your approach and what can you do differently?

"It's a good question. Look, there's different ways to approach the red area. Sometimes in the past here or wherever I've been, we've tried to score from the fringe area which is about the 30-35 yard line and then maybe try to score from the high red, which is about the 20-yard line. We've used different approaches here. Now, the one thing about it is that we've been in the red area quite a bit. So there's a positive there. The problem is, when you get in there, you have to score touchdowns. You can't kick field goals. Now, what's good about us is our defense is playing at such a high level. But again, at the end of the day, we've got to score touchdowns down there. You do not really want too many third-and-goals from the eight yard line or third-and-goal from the 10 yard line. Like, those are very difficult play calls. We've had a lot of those lately and we have to figure out how to stop that. What do we do better? Can we run it better? Can we throw it quickly better? Can we do something a little bit different to get us down to the goal line so we can put our goal line offense in and try to score? So, we're working hard on that right now and we're going to continue to work on it and try to get it improved."

What are your thoughts on the way S Quintin Demps is playing lately?

"Demps is another guy in the secondary – you know, we were talking about corners before and I mentioned Kareem (Jackson) and obviously Johnathan Joseph there all the time. Robert Nelson at corner, by the way, too has come up and played good for us. I'll say this with Demps, he has had a good year for us. His interceptions, he's got good hands. He's very instinctive. He's a leader back there. What I've been impressed with is his tackling. He's really been a guy that's been kind of an eraser back there when a play has kind of broken free, run or pass, he's been able to tackle the guy and get the guy on the ground. I think that's been a big key that maybe goes unnoticed sometimes. He's done a nice job in all areas."

Even though you're playing to win on Sunday, how much does it benefit you guys that you've wrapped up the division and this game does not have any effect on that?

"Well, I think there is a point to that where your quality control guys in some sense can begin to maybe look ahead to whoever you think might be the opponent. The problem is you have three teams that it could be, so you're not going to – how much work are you going to get on three different teams? I mean, you're going to try to do the best you can. The first priority, though, right now for our quality control guys is to finish up their Tennessee breakdowns and make sure that those are correct. Our coaching staff is concentrated on Tennessee."

What would it mean to you guys to finish 10-6 and 6-0 in the division?

"It means a lot. I mean, I think it means a lot. To finish with a double-digit win season in this league is very difficult to do. To be 9-7, 9-7 and then have a chance to be 10-6, I think it's great. I don't think you can substitute winning. I don't think there's anything that is better than winning. I don't care where the game is played, what the game is about, winning is good for everything and everybody. So, I think for this organization, for these guys in the locker room, the work that they've put in, I think it's important that we go out there and we do the best we can, again, versus a very difficult team with Matt Cassel playing quarterback now. We're going to have to figure out what they're doing with him. We're not going to really know. Mike Mularkey's done a great job with that team this year. I know they had a tough day against Jacksonville but two big running backs, their offensive line with (Taylor) Lewan and Ben Jones and (Jack) Conklin playing well for them. This is going to be a big challenge for us. Our guys, they'll come in here Wednesday and we'll put together a plan and we'll go in there and try to play as hard as we can."

How do you explain your strong finishes in each of your three years?

"I don't know. I think that's probably a better question maybe for some of the players. I don't know. I just would say that – I talk to the players a lot about, and our coaches do too, about this being a progress league, being an improvement league. We just want them to go out there every day, individually, unit, team and try to improve. I think that's one thing that I learned in this league early on was you've got to be decent in September. You can't go 0-4, you can't go 0-6. Like, we get that, but you need to be playing your best football at the end. I'm not saying we're playing unbelievable football. Obviously, offensively we're not scoring 30 a game but we're winning. I think one of the keys is that you get into good position in December, you're playing meaningful games and hopefully you're playing good football at that time, and that's what we try to do."

TEXANS HEAD COACH BILL O'BRIEN

Bill O'Brien was named the third head coach in Houston Texans franchise history on January 3, 2014.

O'Brien, who owns 23 years of collegiate and NFL coaching experience, led the Texans to a second straight winning season in 2015 and their first AFC South Division championship since 2012. Houston became the first NFL team since 1950 to earn a trip to the postseason with four different starting quarterbacks winning at least one regular season game and set the franchise single-season record for sacks (45.0) in 2015. Under O'Brien in 2014, Houston's seven-win improvement led the NFL and made the Texans the sixth team since 1978 to post a winning season following a season in which it won two or less games.

Prior to Houston, O'Brien was head coach at Penn State from 2012-13 and led the storied program through one of the greatest periods of strife any major college program has endured.

O'Brien was named the Bear Bryant, Maxwell Football Club and ESPN National Coach of the Year as well as the Big Ten Coach of the Year by media and coaches.

From 2007-2011, O'Brien helped lead the New England Patriots to a pair of Super Bowl berths, rising from offensive assistant his first season to wide receivers coach in 2008 and then quarterbacks coach from 2009-10 prior to his promotion to offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach in 2011. That season, the Patriots ranked third in the NFL in scoring, second in total offense and advanced to Super Bowl XLVI.

O'Brien previously coached collegiately at Duke (2005-06), Maryland (2003-04), Georgia Tech (1995-2002) and Brown (1993-94).

CAREER RECORD: 27-21

BACKGROUND: O'Brien grew up in Andover, Mass. and graduated from St. John's Preparatory School in Danvers. He played linebacker and defensive end at Brown from 1990-92 and graduated with a double concentration in political science and organizational behavioral management.

PERSONAL: Born on October 23, 1969 in Dorchester, Mass. He and his wife, Colleen, have two sons: Jack, 12, and Michael, 9.

TITANS HEAD COACH MIKE MULARKEY

Mularkey became the 18th head coach in franchise history on Jan. 16, 2016 after serving as interim head coach for the final nine games of 2015. He enters his 22nd season coaching in the NFL following nine years in the NFL as a player. His coaching tenure includes two years (2004-05) as head coach of the Buffalo Bills and one year (2012) as head coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars. In five of his eight seasons as an offensive coordinator, Mularkey's teams went to the playoffs.

He joined the Titans as tight ends coach in 2014 and was promoted to assistant head coach/tight ends in 2015. In each of Mularkey's two seasons working with Titans' tight ends, Delanie Walker set the franchise record for single-season receiving yards by a tight end with 890 in 2014 and 1,088 in 2015, and Walker's 157 receptions over the two seasons ranked second among NFL tight ends.

Mularkey spent four seasons (2008-2011) with the Atlanta Falcons as offensive coordinator, and the Falcons advanced to the postseason three times, and two seasons with the Miami Dolphins (2006-07). Mularkey's head coaching tenure with the Bills was preceded by eight seasons (1996-2003) with the Pittsburgh Steelers. He served as the tight ends coach in his first five seasons in Pittsburgh, and his final three seasons were spent as offensive coordinator.

He was named Assistant Coach of the Year in 2001 from the Pro Football Writers of America. Mularkey first coached in the NFL with Tampa Bay (1994-95).

CAREER RECORD: 26-46

2016 WEEK 4: Houston 27 vs. Tennessee 20

71,815 • NRG Stadium • Houston, Texas • Oct. 2, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans bounced back with a 27-20 divisional win against the Tennessee Titans at NRG Stadium. After an early 14-0 start in the first quarter, Houston was tied or within one score for the remaining three quarters of a close game.

Houston's defense, without J.J. Watt for the first time since Week 17 of the 2010 season, faced Marcus Mariota for the first time in the series matchup. Mariota was limited to just 13 completions on 29 attempts, passing for 192 yards while throwing one interception. Running back DeMarco Murray rushed for 95 yards on 25 carries and scored both Titan touchdowns.

Jadeveon Clowney, who started opposite defensive end opposite Christian Covington, had two tackles, one for a loss, one sack, and two quarterback hits. Brian Cushing returned to the starting lineup after missing the past three games. Cushing finished with four tackles.

Brock Osweiler was 25-of-37 for 254 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. Rookie Will Fuller V led all Texans receivers with seven catches with 81 yards receiving. Fuller scored two touchdowns, one on offense and the other on a 67-yard punt return. Lamar Miller had 19 carries for 82 yards rushing and also caught three passes for 26 yards.

The Texans opened the game with scoring drives on their first three possessions to take a 17-3 lead over the Titans. After struggling to find the endzone in Week 3, Osweiler responded with touchdown passes to C.J. Fiedorowicz and Fuller on the first two drives. Houston's offense recorded 178 net yards in the first quarter and tied a franchise-high 10 first downs in its fast start.

Osweiler led the offense on a third scoring drive to start the second quarter. Nick Novak, who connected on 2-of-3 field goal attempts on the day, successfully booted a 53-yarder.

The Titans responded with a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter, both scoring runs by Murray. Quintin Demps picked off Mariota in the second quarter to give Houston possession at its 41-yard line, but the Texans turned it over on the next play. Osweiler's pass, intended for DeAndre Hopkins, was picked off by cornerback Jason McCourty. Murray rushed for his second touchdown on the ensuing drive. The Texans and Titans were tied 17-17 with 2:32 left in the first half. Novak added a 45-yard field goal with 0:11 remaining and the Texans took a 20-17 lead heading into halftime.

Ryan Succop kicked a 26-yard field goal to cap off a drive that took 7:56 off the clock in the third quarter. Osweiler threw his second interception of the day on Houston's following possession, but the Titans were unable to convert the takeaway into points. On the ensuing punt return, Fuller displayed his speed on a 67-yard return for a touchdown. The Texans took a 27-20 lead with 1:12 left in the third quarter.

With the win, the Texans improve to 3-1 on the season and will head to Minnesota to face off against the Vikings in Week 5.

AT AN EARLY AGE

WR DeAndre Hopkins has registered 310 receptions for 4,364 yards and 23 touchdowns in 63 career games (all starts) since joining the Texans as a first-round draft pick in 2013.

In Week 11 against the New York Jets (11/22/15), Hopkins became the third-youngest player in NFL history to reach 200 career catches and 3,000 career receiving yards, doing so when he was 23 years, 169 days old. Below are the only two players in NFL history who accomplished those feats at a younger age than Hopkins:

YOUNGEST NFL PLAYERS TO REACH 200 CAREER CATCHES

Larry Fitzgerald (Arizona, 2004-06) - 23 years, 87 days old
David Boston (Arizona, 1999-2001) - 23 years, 126 days old
DeAndre Hopkins (Houston, 2013-15) - 23 years, 169 days old

YOUNGEST NFL PLAYERS TO REACH 3,000 CAREER REC. YARDS

Larry Fitzgerald (Arizona, 2004-06) - 23 years, 108 days old
David Boston (Arizona, 1999-2001) - 23 years, 118 days old
DeAndre Hopkins (Houston, 2013-15) - 23 years, 169 days old

Hopkins reached each of those milestones in the fewest amount of games played in Texans history, doing so in his 42nd career game. Andre Johnson held the previous record to 200 catches at 43 games, while it took Johnson 48 games to reach 3,000 yards receiving. Hopkins also became the second player in NFL history (Isaac Bruce, 1995) to post at least 1,500 receiving yards and 10 touchdowns at age 23 or younger.

NOT YOUR AVERAGE JOE

WR DeAndre Hopkins holds the best career yards per catch average in franchise history at 14.1, bettering Andre Johnson's mark of 13.4 yards per reception from 2003-14.

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans defense dominated in the 19-12 win over the Kansas City Chiefs, forcing three turnovers and recording four sacks on Alex Smith. Houston, who recorded three defensive fumble recoveries in the first half for the first time in franchise history, did not allow a touchdown the victory.

J.J. Watt notched his first sacks (1.5) of 2016, as well as five tackles, two quarterback hits, and a fumble recovery. Two other players had sacks, John Simon (1.5) and Benardrick McKinney (1.0), who also had a team-high eight tackles with one for a loss and a quarterback hit.

The Texans held Smith to just 186 yards through the air. Charcandrick West and Spencer Ware rushed for 61 and 57 yards, respectively. Jeremy Maclin led the Chiefs receivers with six catches for 68 yards.

The Texans posted 351 yards of total net offense in the win, 254 yards passing and 97 yards rushing. Rookie Will Fuller V had his second 100-yard performance in as many weeks, with four catches for 104 yards. Six plays later, the Texans would regain possession after Watt recovered a fumbled snap. Hopkins caught a 27-yard touchdown pass on the next play to give Houston an early 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

The Chiefs were held to just one field goal in the first half. Watt's sack on Smith for a loss of four yards led to the 53-yard kick to cap off a four-play drive, minus-2 yard drive. The Chiefs trailed 7-3 at the start of the second quarter.

Lamar Miller's nine-yard gain extended a Texans' drive on fourth-and-1. Nick Novak added a 32-yard field goal as Houston took a 10-3 lead with 4:16 left in the second quarter.

Houston's defense forced fumbles on the final two Kansas City drives of the first half. With less than two minutes remaining, Quintin Demps forced a fumble on running back Charcandrick West. Kevin Johnson scooped up the ball and returned it 52 yards to the Chiefs 14-yard line. Novak's 32-yard kick extended the Texans lead to ten points.

WEEK 4: Houston 27 vs. Tennessee 20

71,815 • NRG Stadium • Houston, Texas • Oct. 2, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans bounced back with a 27-20 divisional win against the Tennessee Titans at NRG Stadium. After an early 14-0 start in the first quarter, Houston was tied or within one score for the remaining three quarters of a close game.

Houston's defense, without J.J. Watt for the first time since Week 17 of the 2010 season, faced Marcus Mariota for the first time in the series matchup. Mariota was limited to just 13 completions on 29 attempts, passing for 192 yards while throwing one interception. Running back DeMarco Murray rushed for 95 yards on 25 carries and scored both Titan touchdowns.

Jadeveon Clowney, who started opposite defensive end opposite Christian Covington, had two tackles, one for a loss, one sack, and two quarterback hits. Brian Cushing returned to the starting lineup after missing the past three games. Cushing finished with four tackles.

Brock Osweiler was 25-of-37 for 254 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. Rookie Will Fuller V led all Texans receivers with seven catches with 81 yards receiving. Fuller scored two touchdowns, one on offense and the other on a 67-yard punt return. Lamar Miller had 19 carries for 82 yards rushing and also caught three passes for 26 yards.

The Texans opened the game with scoring drives on their first three possessions to take a 17-3 lead over the Titans. After struggling to find the endzone in Week 3, Osweiler responded with touchdown passes to C.J. Fiedorowicz and Fuller on the first two drives. Houston's offense recorded 178 net yards in the first quarter and tied a franchise-high 10 first downs in its fast start.

Osweiler led the offense on a third scoring drive to start the second quarter. Nick Novak, who connected on 2-of-3 field goal attempts on the day, successfully booted a 53-yarder.

The Titans responded with a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter, both scoring runs by Murray. Quintin Demps picked off Mariota in the second quarter to give Houston possession at its 41-yard line, but the Texans turned it over on the next play. Osweiler's pass, intended for DeAndre Hopkins, was picked off by cornerback Jason McCourty. Murray rushed for his second touchdown on the ensuing drive. The Texans and Titans were tied 17-17 with 2:32 left in the first half. Novak added a 45-yard field goal with 0:11 remaining and the Texans took a 20-17 lead heading into halftime.

Ryan Succop kicked a 26-yard field goal to cap off a drive that took 7:56 off the clock in the third quarter. Osweiler threw his second interception of the day on Houston's following possession, but the Titans were unable to convert the takeaway into points. On the ensuing punt return, Fuller displayed his speed on a 67-yard return for a touchdown. The Texans took a 27-20 lead with 1:12 left in the third quarter.

With the win, the Texans improve to 3-1 on the season and will head to Minnesota to face off against the Vikings in Week 5.

WEEK 6: Houston 26 vs. Indianapolis 23 (OT)

71,891 • NRG Stadium • Houston, Texas • Oct. 16, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans defeated the Indianapolis Colts in an exhilarating 26-23 overtime win to improve to 4-2 and maintain their lead in the AFC South. Despite trailing 23-9 with seven minutes remaining, Houston rallied with a late fourth-quarter comeback scoring two touchdowns on back-to-back drives to send the game into overtime. Nick Novak's 33-yard field goal gave the Texans the win over their division rival.

Lamar Miller rushed for 149 yards on 24 carries and added three catches for 29 yards. He also scored two touchdowns, one rushing and one receiving in the win.

Brock Osweiler completed 25-of-39 for 269 yards for two touchdowns and one interception on the night. C.J. Fiedorowicz led all receivers with six catches for 85 yards and one touchdown.

Houston's defense was led by Benardrick McKinney with 12 tackles, one sack, one tackle for loss, and two quarterback hits. Whitney Mercilus and Andre Hal also recorded sacks. Robert Nelson, recently promoted from the practice squad, intercepted Andrew Luck.

Luck was 21-of-32 for 252 yards for one touchdown and one interception. Frank Gore rushed for 106 yards on 22 carries.

In the first half, Texans struggled to move the ball offensively and were held to just a field goal. Houston was forced to punt on its first four drives, while the Colts scored 13 unanswered points to take an early lead.

Houston's defense held the Colts to a three-and-out on their opening offensive series. After beginning their second possession at the 50-yard line, the Colts scored first with a 41-yard field goal. Luck followed up with a 22-yard touchdown pass to tight end Jack Doyle on the Colts next drive. Viniateri's 37-yard field goal gave the Colts a 13-0 lead with 6:55 left in the second quarter.

Novak's 27-yard field goal capped off the Texans lone scoring drive of the first half, an 11-play, 66-yard drive. The Texans trailed 13-3 at halftime.

On Houston's first possession of the third quarter, Miller scored on a one-yard run, his first rushing touchdown of his Texans career. The tandem of Miller and Alfred Blue rushed for three consecutive first downs on the drive. Novak missed the extra point attempt on the 10-play, 82-yard drive. Houston trailed 13-9 with 7:06 left in the third quarter.

A key third-quarter sack by Mercilus on fourth-and-1 stopped the Colts drive in the red zone. The Texans took over at their 13-yard line but the drive was short-lived after a holding call on Hopkins followed by an interception by Osweiler. The pass, intended for Hopkins, was picked off by Vontae Davis.

Two plays later, Luck rushed for a 14-yard touchdown to extend the Colts lead to two scores. Viniateri added a 36-yard field goal on the next series. Houston trailed 23-9 in their biggest deficit of the game with 7:12 left in the game.

Late in the fourth quarter, Houston's offense gained momentum with three consecutive passes from Osweiler to Hopkins. Miller scored on a 10-yard catch-and-run to end a 12-play, 75-yard drive. The Texans trailed 23-16 with 2:37 left in the game.

Houston's defense held the Colts to three-and-out on their ensuing possession. A sack by Hal followed by a tackle for loss by Mercilus gave the Texans another chance with less than two minutes remaining.

Houston picked up two first downs after Miller rushed for 16 yards and Fiedorowicz added an 11-yard reception. Fiedorowicz scored on a 26-yard touchdown just three plays later. The Texans tied the game 23-23 with 0:49 left in regulation.

The Texans defense held the Colts offense on third down after a quarterback hit by Jadeveon Clowney to send the game into overtime. Indianapolis won the coin toss and received the ball first. On third-and-3, McKinney's sack on Luck ended the drive and forced the overtime punt.

Jaelen Strong's first catch of the game came on the Texans first and only possession of overtime. Strong hauled in a 36-yard reception from Osweiler to get the Texans into field goal range. Novak kicked the game-winner just two plays later from 33 yards.

The Texans will play another primetime matchup in Week 7 as they travel to Denver to face the Broncos on Monday Night Football.

GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 8: Houston 20 vs. Detroit 13 71,882 • NRG Stadium • Houston, Texas • Oct. 30, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans defeated the Detroit Lions 20-13 and head into the bye week with a 5-3 record. Houston has won all five games at home this season, where they remain undefeated.

Houston's defense kept a red-hot Matthew Stafford and Lions offense scoreless until the fourth quarter. Despite orchestrating two scoring drives late in the game, Stafford was unable to lead a comeback effort at NRG Stadium. The Texans run defense held Detroit to just 58 yards on the ground in the win.

The Texans never trailed as Brock Osweiler led two touchdown drives to give the team a 14-0 lead in the first half. Osweiler was 20-of-29 for 186 yards, one touchdown, and one interception. DeAndre Hopkins caught four passes for 44 yards, while C.J. Fiedorowicz added 43 yards and a touchdown. Lamar Miller, who entered the game with a shoulder injury, rushed for 56 yards and a score. Alfred Blue contributed nine carries for 41 yards.

Stafford completed 27-of-41 passes for 240 yards and one touchdown. The Texans defense was stout on third down, as the Lions covered just 3-of-11 attempts. Jadeveon Clowney recorded a sack, one quarterback hit, and one tackle for loss, while John Simon had a team-high 8 tackles.

After a scoreless first quarter where Matt Prater missed a 49-yard kick for the Lions, the Texans took an early 14-0 lead, scoring on back-to-back drives. Ryan Griffin converted two third downs, catching passes for 23 and 12 yard gains on the possession. Osweiler was 5-of-7 for 56 yards on the scoring drive, which ended in a 6-yard touchdown pass to Fiedorowicz.

On Houston's next offensive series, a key Blue run on fourth down extended the drive. Hopkins' amazing one-handed grab moved the Texans down to the 1-yard line. Miller would then punch it in, giving Houston a 14-0 lead with 7:04 left in the first half.

The Texans were deep in Lions territory with 0:39 seconds remaining in the first half, but Osweiler's pass, intended for Hopkins, was intercepted by cornerback Johnson Bademosi. The Lions would capitalize, as Stafford orchestrated a five-play, 52-yard scoring drive that ended in a 47-yard field goal. The Texans headed into halftime with a 14-3 lead over Detroit.

Nick Novak kicked a 33-yard field goal with 5:51 left in third quarter to extend the Texans lead 17-3.

After three plays to Theo Riddick to start the drive, Stafford orchestrated his first touchdown drive of the game. After a defensive pass interference flag, the Lions gained 13 yards and a fresh set of downs. One play later, Riddick caught a one-yard touchdown pass and Detroit moved within one score, trailing 17-10 with 14:50 left in the game.

The Texans would respond, ripping off a nine-play drive that took 6:05 off the clock. That drive ended in Novak's second field goal of the day, giving Houston a 20-10 lead.

Despite starting their ensuing possession at their own 45-yard line, the Lions were unable to add another touchdown. Houston's defense held the Lions to a 34-yard field goal. The Lions trailed 20-13 with 2:57 remaining in the game.

Detroit attempted an onside kick after the score, but cornerback Robert Nelson recovered for the Texans at the Lions 44-yard line.

The (5-3) Texans now head into their bye week, but will travel to Jacksonville in Week 10.

GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 11: Houston 20 at Oakland 27

76,473 • Estadio Azteca • Mexico City • Nov. 21, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans dominated for most of the Monday Night game in Mexico City but ultimately fell 27-20 after a fourth-quarter comeback by the Oakland Raiders.

The Raiders scored 14 unanswered points in the final quarter to come from behind in a closely-contested game at Estadio Azteca. Despite two turnovers in the first half, the Texans were tied 10-10 heading into the lockerroom. Houston allowed just three points off those turnovers, and added a takeaway of its own on the night, and held Oakland to just seven net yards of rushing in the first half.

On the night, Brock Osweiler was 26-of-39 for 243 yards, one touchdown, and one interception. He also added two carries for 19 yards.

Both Millers, Lamar and Braxton, scored touchdowns in the loss. Lamar Miller rushed for 104 yards on 24 carries while Braxton Miller caught five passes for 25 yards and his first career NFL score. C.J. Fiedorowicz led the receivers with six receptions and 82 yards receiving.

Raiders quarterback Derek Carr completed 21-of-31 for 295 yards and had three touchdowns and one interception. The Texans defense held the Raiders to just 30 net yards rushing and 4-of-11 on third down conversions. Benardrick McKinney led the defense with eight tackles and a tackle for loss.

On the opening drive of the game, DeAndre Hopkins had a catch-and-run that was ruled a touchdown but later overturned. The Texans would settle for a 32-yard field goal after converting 3-of-4 third downs on the drive. Houston took an early 3-0 lead after the 13-play, 61-yard drive that lasted 6:26.

The Raiders offense got on the board later in the first half. Running back Jalen Richard caught a 17-yard touchdown pass from Carr, giving the Raiders a 7-3 lead with 14:54 left in the second quarter.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Raiders regained possession after a muffed return by Tyler Ervin. Oakland took over at the Houston 19-yard line. The Texans defense held Oakland to a 19-yard field goal after two consecutive goal-line stops. The Raiders extended their lead, 10-3.

The Texans would respond, putting together a nine-play, 75-yard drive that ended with the first NFL touchdown scored by rookie Braxton Miller on a 12-yard pass from Osweiler. The Texans and Raiders tied 10-10 with 7:59 left in the second quarter.

The Texans and Raiders were all tied at 10 at halftime.

On the first play of the third quarter, A.J. Bouye intercepted Carr's pass, intended for Amari Cooper. It was just Carr's fourth interception on the season. Osweiler and the offense capitalized, adding a one-yard touchdown run by Lamar Miller to cap off a 13-play, 65-yard drive.

The Raiders were held to a field goal in the third quarter. Janikowski kicked a 20-yard field goal and the Raiders trailed 17-13.

Nick Novak added his second kick of the day, a 19-yard field goal, and to give the Texans a 20-13 lead, but it was short-lived. Carr threw a deep pass to fullback Jamize Olawale who scored on a 75-yard touchdown pass just one play later.

The Texans were within scoring range to take the lead at the Oakland 15-yard line, but were unable to convert a fourth-and-inches. After a short pass to Latavius Murray on second down that led to a 39-yard gain, Carr threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to Amari Cooper. Oakland took a 27-20 lead with 4:43 remaining.

The Texans, who fall to 6-4 on the season, will return to NRG Stadium for their Week 12 game against San Diego Chargers.

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans fell 21-13 to the San Diego Chargers for their first home loss of the 2016 season. Despite a late comeback, Houston dropped its second consecutive game as it came off a short week following the Monday night game in Mexico City.

Four turnovers and penalties plagued the Texans. Houston, flagged eight times in the first half, committed nine penalties for 58 yards on the day.

Brock Osweiler was 22-of-37 for 246 yards with one rushing touchdown and three interceptions. DeAndre Hopkins had a team-high five catches for 70 yards. The Texans rushed for 114 yards, led by Lamar Miller who had 19 carries for 57 yards. Miller also added three receptions for 18 yards.

San Diego quarterback Philip Rivers completed 22-of-30 passes for 242 yards, three touchdowns, and one interception. Dontrelle Inman led all San Diego receivers with six catches for 119 yards and one touchdowns.

The Texans defense held the Chargers to 67 yards rushing. Benardrick McKinney led the team with 12 tackles, including eight solo, one sack, two quarterback hits, and one tackle for loss. Quintin Demps' interception was Houston's lone takeaway of the day.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Texans took an early lead after a one-yard quarterback plunge by Osweiler. Will Fuller's 33-yard catch on third down was the key play of the drive, giving Houston the ball on the six-yard line. Osweiler's run capped off a 10-play, 72-yard drive. Houston led 7-0 with 11:11 remaining in the second quarter.

The Chargers scored touchdowns on back-to-back drives in the second quarter. Rivers responded with a 52-yard touchdown pass to Inman, tying the game at seven.

A turnover ended Houston's next offensive series. Osweiler's pass, intended for Hopkins, was picked off by cornerback Casey Hayward. Gordon rushed for a 19-yard gain on third-and-1 to set up the Chargers next score. Rivers threw a 21-yard touchdown pass to Tyrell Williams on the next play.

After missing a 54-yard field goal, the Chargers headed into halftime with a 14-7 lead.

Both teams had turnovers in the third quarter. On the Texans second possession after halftime, Lamar Miller's 20-yard gain was negated after a fumble. San Diego took over at its 21-yard line but the drive was cut short when the Texans forced a takeaway of their own. Demps intercepted Rivers on third down.

Nick Novak added a 19-yard field goal and the Texans trailed 14-10 with 14:09 in the fourth quarter.

Rivers added his third touchdown of the day as he connected with Hunter Henry.

With less than two minutes remaining, the Texans looked to mount their comeback. On fourth-and-three from deep in Houston territory, Osweiler scrambled 21 yards for a first down. Novak added his second field goal of the day, a 45-yarder, to finish a nine-play, 60-yard drive that took just 2:03.

Jonathan Grimes recovered the ensuing onside kick for Houston. With 0:12 remaining, Osweiler attempted two Hail Mary passes but did not succeed as the final play of the game ended in an interception.

77,867 • Lambeau Field • Green Bay, Wis. • Dec. 4, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans fell 21-13 to the Green Bay Packers on Sunday at Lambeau Field.

Despite Aaron Rodgers leading the Packers on two fourth-quarter scoring drives, the Texans responded with a touchdown of their own late in the game, a DeAndre Hopkins catch-and-run score, but it wouldn't be enough to emerge victorious at Lambeau.

Brock Osweiler threw two touchdown passes and was 22-of-35 for 202 yards in the loss. Seven different receivers caught a pass, with Hopkins and Ryan Griffin scoring touchdowns. The Texans rushed for 123 yards, led by Jonathan Grimes who had five carries for a team-high 43 yards on the ground.

Outside linebacker Whitney Mercilus had the lone sack of the day as well as four tackles, one quarterback hit, two tackles for loss, and a fumble recovery. The Texans defense was without Jadeveon Clowney, who didn't travel with the team to Green Bay.

Rodgers completed 20-of-30 passes for 209 yards and two touchdowns. Jordy Nelson led the Packers receivers with eight catches for 118 yards and a touchdown.

Both teams exchanged fumbles in the first quarter, but neither was able to convert the takeaway into points. After a scoreless first quarter, Green Bay converted a short field into the first score of the day. The Texans turned the ball over on downs near mid-field after an unsuccessful fourth-and-1 attempt.

After Rodgers threw a 9-yard touchdown pass to Randall Cobb, Green Bay took a 7-0 lead with 8:02 left in the second quarter.

The score held and the the Texans headed into halftime trailing 7-0. On the first possession of the second half, Osweiler's 24-yard pass to Will Fuller V on third-and-9 kept the Texans drive alive. Osweiler also connected on throws to C.J. Fiedorowicz and Hopkins. On fourth-and-1, Osweiler's six-yard pass to Griffin resulted in Houston's first touchdown of the day. Houston and Green Bay were tied 7-7 with 7:32 left in the third quarter.

Green Bay scored 14 unanswered points on back-to-back drives in the fourth quarter. The Texans pinned the Packers deep in their own territory, forcing them to start their drive at the 2-yard line. Rodgers orchestrated a 12-play, 98-yard drive that ended in a 32-yard touchdown to Jordy Nelson. The Packers followed up with a three-yard touchdown run by fullback Aaron Ripkowski on their next possession.

Green Bay took a 21-7 lead with 4:18 left in the fourth quarter.

Osweiler and the Texans marched down the field with completions to Fuller V, Grimes, and Griffin. Hopkins caught a 44-yard touchdown pass to move the Texans within one score again. After a missed extra point attempt, the Texans trailed 21-13.

Houston attempted an onside kick with less than two minutes remaining, but Green Bay recovered.

The Texans fall to 6-6 with the loss and head to Indianapolis to face the Colts next Sunday.

GAME SUMMARY

In a game featuring two teams tied for first place in the AFC South, the Texans responded with a key 22-17 win to snap their three-game losing streak and sweep the Indianapolis Colts for the first time in franchise history.

Houston's defense forced three turnovers and had 13 quarterback hits on Andrew Luck. Both safeties, Quintin Demps and Andre Hal, intercepted the Colts quarterback. Jadeveon Clowney recorded a strip sack while Whitney Mercilus had the ensuing fumble recovery. Nick Novak was 5-for-5 on field goals, including three converted off of Indianapolis turnovers.

Lamar Miller scored a touchdown and rushed for 107 yards on 21 carries, eclipsing the 1,000 yard mark on the season for just the second time in his career. Brock Osweiler completed 14-of-24 passes for 147 yards on the day. He threw passes to eight different receivers in the win.

Indianapolis took an early 3-0 lead after Adam Vinatieri's 32-yard field goal on their first offensive series of the day.

Houston responded with a field goal of its own after the Texans defense forced its first turnover of the game. The Colts second offensive drive ended when Demps intercepted Luck's pass, intended for tight end Dwayne Allen. Demps added a 15-yard return and Novak's 21-yard kick tied the game 3-3 with 4:00 remaining in the first quarter.

On the next offensive series, Osweiler responded with a scoring drive extended by three big conversions on third down: a 22-yard catch by DeAndre Hopkins, a 19-yard run by Akeem Hunt, and then 6-yard sliding catch by C.J. Fiedorowicz for a first-and-goal. Lamar Miller's two-yard touchdown run capped off a 12-play, 80-yard drive. The Texans took a 10-3 lead with 2:26 left in the first half.

The Colts scored their first touchdown of the day on the next drive. After a defensive pass interference call, Frank Gore scored on an 18-yard touchdown catch.

Luck and the Colts, looking to score on back-to-back drives, turned the ball over at the Texans 3-yard line. Clowney's strip sack resulted in a fumble recovery for Mercilus and a big stop for the Texans defense late in the third quarter. Novak successfully added a 41-yard field goal, to give Houston a 19-10 lead with 11:58 left in the final quarter.

GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 15: Houston 21 vs. Jacksonville 20

71,803 • NRG Stadium • Houston, Texas • Dec. 18, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

The Texans, led by backup quarterback Tom Savage, rallied from a 13-point deficit to defeat the Jacksonville Jaguars 21-20 at NRG Stadium.

The Texans, who trailed for most of the game, took the lead with a late fourth-quarter touchdown run by Lamar Miller, who had 22 carries for 63 yards on the day. Savage completed 23-of-36 passes for 260 yards. DeAndre Hopkins had a season-high eight catches and led the Texans with 87 yards receiving. Nick Novak was a perfect 4-of-4 with field goals from 39, 45, 43 and 27 yards.

The Texans defense, playing without injured starters Whitney Mercilus and Johnathan Joseph, held Jacksonville to just 150 net yards of offense. Benardrick McKinney led the team with seven tackles, one sack, two quarterback hits, and one tackle for loss. Jadeveon Clowney also recorded one sack, two quarterback hits, three tackles for loss, and one pass defensed. Houston defensive unit held Blake Bortles to just 12-of-28 through the air for 92 yards and one interception.

The Jaguars took an early 13-0 lead, after Brock Osweiler threw interceptions on back-to-back possessions. Osweiler was then replaced by Savage in the second quarter. Osweiler completed 6-of-11 for 48 yards before exiting the game.

The Jaguars scored ten points off Osweiler's two interceptions, including a one-yard touchdown run by Bortles. Savage then entered the game with 8:31 left in the second quarter. His first offensive series stalled after an unsuccessful fourth-and-goal attempt.

Houston's first points of the game came on a safety when Jacksonville was called for offensive holding enforced from its own endzone.

With less than two minutes remaining in the first half, Savage led the Texans on a six-play, 40-yard scoring drive with back-to-back passes to Ryan Griffin and Hopkins. Novak's 39-yard field goal cut the Jaguars lead to one possession.

The Texans trailed 13-5 at halftime.

Novak added a 45-yard field goal in the third quarter. On the ensuing kickoff, Marquise Lee returned it 100 yards for the score, giving the Jaguars a 20-8 lead.

The Texans pulled ahead with 2:51 remaining in the fourth quarter. Savage completed passes to Will Fuller V, Griffin, and Lamar Miller for 10, 8, and 10 yards, consecutively, on the scoring drive. Miller's one-yard touchdown run capped off a 8-play, 52-yard drive, giving Houston a one point lead.

Houston's defense kept Bortles and the Jaguars offense scoreless in the final quarter. Safety Quintin Demps intercepted Bortles on Jacksonville's final possession of the game. Savage ended the Week 15 win in victory formation as the Texans improved to 8-6 on the season.

Houston will host its final home game of the regular season on Saturday night with a primetime Christmas Eve game against the Cincinnati Bengals.

GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 16: Houston 12 vs. Cincinnati 10

71,836 • NRG Stadium • Houston, Texas • Dec. 24, 2016

GAME SUMMARY

Christmas came early for the Texans, who locked up the AFC South with a 12-10 win over the Cincinnati Bengals on Saturday night at NRG Stadium. A missed last-second field goal sealed the victory in front of a home crowd.

With the Titans falling to the Jaguars on the road earlier in the afternoon, Houston needed to win to earn their second-consecutive division title and playoff appearance.

Tom Savage made his first career NFL start against Cincinnati. The third-year quarterback and the Texans offense didn't gain much momentum until after halftime. After a scoreless first half, Savage led the Texans on three scoring drives, two field goals and one touchdown. Savage completed 18-of-29 for 176 yards and threw no interceptions. DeAndre Hopkins caught three passes for 43 yards, while C.J. Fiedorowicz made four catches for 42 yards.

Alfred Blue also got his first start of the season with Lamar Miller out with an ankle injury. Blue scored his first touchdown of the year on a 24-yard run in the fourth quarter. He finished the night with 21 carries for 73 yards in the win.

The Texans defense was led by A.J. Bouye with nine tackles and three passes defended. Andy Dalton, sacked three times, was 28-of-41 for 268 yards, one touchdown, and one interception. Whitney Mercilus recorded two sacks, two quarterback hits, and two tackles for loss. Jadeveon Clowney had one sack, one quarterback hit and one tackle for loss. Quintin Demps had the lone takeaway for the Texans, picking off Dalton's for his third interception in as many weeks.

Nick Novak was 2-for-2, connecting on field goals from 25 and 22 yards. Novak has now made 16 consecutive field goals, tying the second-longest streak in Texans history.

It was a battle of the defenses in the first half, with each team punting six times. The Bengals took a 3-0 lead heading into the locker room after Bengals kicker Randy Bullock connected on a 43-yard field goal as time expired in the second quarter.

After a scoreless first half, the Texans scored on back-to-back possessions to start the third quarter.

Savage orchestrated an 11-play, 68-yard drive resulting in a field goal to open the second half. Novak's 25-yard kick tied the game 3-3 with 9:05 remaining in the third quarter.

Three defensive penalties resulted in first downs for Houston's offense, two defensive pass interference calls on Adam Jones and a roughing the passer call for first down. Akeem Hunt's 24-yard catch-and-run moved the Texans to the Cincinnati six-yard line. Novak's 22-yard field goal gave Houston its first lead with 13:31 left in the fourth quarter, but it would be short-lived.

Dalton, after being intercepted by Demps, returned to the field and threw his first touchdown pass of the day. On third-and-five, Dalton's pass to Brandon LaFell resulted in an 86-yard touchdown. The Bengals took a 10-6 lead with 10:45 left in the game.

Savage kicked off the ensuing drive with three consecutive first downs: Will Fuller V had a 19-yard gain followed by an 11-yard run by Savage, and then a 21-yard catch by Hopkins to move the Texans to the Cincinnati 24-yard line. On the next play, Blue's 24-yard touchdown run gave Houston a lead they would never relinquish.

Bullock missed the 43-yard field goal attempt as time expired and Houston earned the 2016 AFC South title in back-to-back seasons.

The Texans will finish their 2016 regular season on the road against the Tennessee Titans.
