NEXT WEEK (central time): Ind at Cin (Sun 12:00), Hou at Sea (Sun 3:05), Ten (bye), Jax (bye) NASHVILLE — The Tennessee Titans (3-3) travel this week to face the Cleveland Browns (0-6). Kickoff at FirstEnergy Stadium (capacity 67,431) is scheduled for 1 p.m. EDT/Noon CDT on Sunday, Oct. 22.

This is the firs of four consecutive games for the Titans against teams from the AFC North. Following a Week 8 bye, they will host consecutive contests against the Baltimore Ravens (Nov. 5) and Cincinnati Bengals (Nov. 12) before visiting the Pittsburgh Steelers (Nov. 16).

THE BROADCAST

The game will be televised regionally on CBS, including Nashville affiliat WTVF NewsChannel 5. Play-by-play announcer Spero Dedes and analyst Adam Archuleta will call the action.

The Titans Radio Network, including Nashville flagshi 104.5 The Zone, will carry the game across the Mid-South with the "Voice of the Titans" Mike Keith, analyst Dave McGinnis, gameday host Rhett Bryan and sideline reporter Jonathan Hutton.

TITANS LOOK FOR SECOND CONSECUTIVE WIN

The Titans will have a short week to prepare for Cleveland. They hosted the AFC South rival Indianapolis Colts on Monday Night Football last week and scored 21 points in the fourth quarter, ultimately prevailing by a fina score of 36-22. Marcus Mariota passed for 306 yards and a score, and Ryan Succop connected on fiv fiel goals in the win, which put the Titans in a three-way tie for firs place in the division with the Jacksonville Jaguars and Houston Texans.

Mariota returned to the starting lineup after missing the previous week at Miami due to a hamstring injury. In his return, the third-year signal caller recorded his fourth career 300-yard passing performance, completing 23 of 32 passes for 306 yards with one touchdown and one interception (99.2 passer rating). His 53-yard touchdown pass to rookie wide receiver Taywan Taylor broke a 22-22 tie with less than six minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, and as a result, Mariota was credited with his fift fourth-quarter comeback and game-winning drive in his firs 32 career starts.

Second-year running back Derrick Henry capped the evening with a 72-yard touchdown run in the game's fina minute. With a team-high 131 yards on 19 carries, Henry hit the 100-yard rushing mark for the firs time in his career.

DeMarco Murray added to the rushing total with 12 carries for 40 yards, including a three-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. He added 47 yards on four receptions.

Defensively, the Titans limited the Colts offense to 111 yards and a fiel goal in the second half. The Colts' lone touchdown in the second half was scored by their defense. The Titans got a turnover on a fumble recovery by linebacker Wesley Woodyard (caused by linebacker Avery Williamson) and held the Colts to only two third-down conversions on nine attempts (22 percent).

THE BROWNS

Last week the Browns were in Houston, where they fell to the Texans by a fina score of 33-17 in a game that marked the firs career start for second-year quarterback Kevin Hogan. The 2016 fifth-roun pick completed 20 of 37 passes for 140 yards with one touchdown and three interceptions. Rookie quarterback DeShone Kizer, a second-round pick from Notre Dame, started the firs fiv weeks of the season for the Browns and totaled 851 yards with three touchdowns and nine interceptions.

One of the Browns' two touchdowns against the Texans came courtesy of former Titans cornerback Jason McCourty, who returned his third interception of the season 56 yards for a score. McCourty was selected by the Titans in the 2009 NFL Draft and spent his firs eight seasons with the team before signing with the Browns during the 2017 offseason. Former Titans wide receiver Kenny Britt, a first-roun pick in the same draft class as McCourty, also plays for the Browns but was inactive the last two weeks with knee and groin injuries.

The Browns are in their second season under head coach Hue Jackson. Now in his 17th NFL campaign, Jackson served as the offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals for two seasons prior to joining the Browns. During the 2017 offseason, Jackson hired former Titans defensive coordinator Gregg Williams to fil the same role on his staff.

TITANS-BROWNS SERIES HISTORY

This week's game marks the 66th all-time meeting in the regular season between the Titans and Browns. In the previous 65 outings, the Browns own a 35-30 advantage, including separate nine- and six-game winning streaks by the Browns.

The Titans' nine-game losing streak against the Browns from 1970-74 is tied (Oakland, 1966-73) for the second-longest in franchise history.

Additionally, the clubs have played one playoff game, a 24-23 Wild Card win by the Oilers in 1988.

The two teams met for the firs time in 1970, when as a part of the AFL-NFL merger, the Browns moved from the NFL Century Division to the AFC Central, where they would compete with the Oilers/Titans as divisional foes for 32 seasons. The series was interrupted after the 1995 season as a result of the former Browns moving to Baltimore to begin play as the Ravens.

A new team was granted to Cleveland to begin play once again in 1999. The new version of the Browns kept the old team's name, records and logos and was once again a member of the AFC Central until divisional realignment in 2002 sent them to the AFC North and the Titans to the AFC South.

After the reincarnation of the Browns in 1999, the Titans won the next fiv meetings. Since then, however, the Browns have the advantage, taking out of eight games.

On Oct. 5, 2014, the Browns recorded an historic comeback against the Titans at Nissan Stadium, erasing a 25-point defici to win 29-28. It was the largest road comeback in NFL history.

The Titans and Browns most recently met in Week 6 of 2016 at Nissan Stadium. Titans quarterback Marcus Mariota passed for three touchdowns and a 132.6 passer rating, and the Titans defense accumulated six sacks to help the Titans win 28-26.

TITANS-BROWNS: THE LAST MEETING

Titans 28, Browns 26 2016 Week 6 • Sunday, Oct. 16, 2016 • 12:00 CDT • Nissan Stadium

GAME RECAP

For the firs time since 2013, the Titans posted back-to-back victories and matched their 2015 win total, holding off a late rally to topple the winless Cleveland Browns 28-26 at Nissan Stadium and move to 3-3 on the season.

The Titans hit the ground running on the opening drive, as quarterback Marcus Mariota sprinted 41 yards downfiel on the firs play of the game, and capped the drive with an 11-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Rishard Matthews.

The Tennessee defense, which tallied six sacks for the second-straight game, limited the Browns to two fiel goals in the firs quarter. The Titans capitlizated on the momentum early in the second stanza when Mariota connected with wide receiver Kendall Wright, who made a diving catch at the goal line, for a 48-yard touchdown.

Cleveland answered in the closing minute of the half, as quarterback Cody Kessler found receiver Terrelle Pryor, Sr. for a seven-yard score to close the gap to 14-13.

Mariota and Matthews connected again in the Titans' firs drive of the third quarter, this time for a 43-yard grab to set up a three-yard touchdown run by DeMarco Murray. The Titans furthered their lead early in the fourth quarter, constructing a 12-play, 80-yard drive—including three third-down catches by Wright to move the chains—and closing with a 15-yard touchdown from Mariota to tight end Anthony Fasano.

Despite trailing 28-13 with 6:43 to play, the Browns would not be deterred. Kessler directed Cleveland 75 yards for a score, findin Pryor again, but the two-point conversion attempt came up short. After recovering an onside kick, the Browns scored again with 27 seconds remaining. Their next onside kick attempt rolled out of bounds, however, effectively sealing the Titans' win.

Hue Jackson was named the 16th full-time head coach in Browns history on Jan. 13, 2016 after spending the previous four years with the Cincinnati Bengals, most recently as offensive coordinator, and helping the Bengals to the playoffs each of those seasons.

Jackson's résumé boasts 16 years of NFL coaching experience, including one season as head coach of the Oakland Raiders (2011) and four different stints as offensive coordinator. Ten of his 16 years in the league have come in the AFC North, where he has helped his teams advance to the playoffs seven times.

In his firs year with Cleveland, Hue Jackson helped the Browns finis second in the NFL with a 4.89 rushing average, the team's best mark since 1966. Linebacker Christian Kirksey finishe third in the NFL with 148 tackles, while left tackle Joe Thomas was selected to his 10th career Pro Bowl.

Under Jackson's leadership in 2014-15, Cincinnati's offense found success both through the air and on the ground. The Pro Football Writers of America voted Jackson as Co-Assistant Coach of the Year for his role in directing quarterback Andy Dalton to a career high, franchise record and AFC-best 106.3 rating in 2015. The Bengals' running game also saw strong seasons from Jeremy Hill and Giovani Bernard, as the team produced two 700-yard rushers for the firs time since 1988, and tight end Tyler Eifert hauled in 13 touchdowns—the most by a tight end in franchise history. Wide receiver A.J. Green topped 1,000 receiving yards in both years, and the offense ranked near the top of the AFC in yards per play (5.7) and points per game (26.2) in 2015 and running yards per game (134.1) in 2014.

Prior to his time in Cincinnati, Jackson spent one season as head coach of the Raiders, leading Oakland to an 8-8 record and a tie for firs in the AFC West. The 8-8 mark was the club's best record in eight years.

Before joining the Raiders, Jackson served as quarterbacks coach for Baltimore from 2008-09, helping the Ravens to the playoffs both years and guiding Joe Flacco to an NFL Rookie of the Year honor in 2008.

Jackson entered the NFL full time as running backs coach for the Redskins in 2002. After just two seasons, he was promoted to offensive coordinator. He also served as offensive coordinator for the Falcons in 2007, after spending three seasons as wide receivers coach for the Bengals.

Jackson spent 14 years coaching on the collegiate level, most notably as the offensive coordinator at USC. He was instrumental in recruiting and developing quarterback Carson Palmer, who went on to win the Heisman Trophy and be selected No. 1 overall in the 2003 NFL Draft.

The Los Angeles native attended University of the Pacifi in the mid-1980s, where he played quarterback and lettered in basketball.

LAST WEEK VS. THE COLTS

Titans 36, Colts 22 Week 6 • Monday, Oct. 16, 2017 • 7:30 p.m. CT • Nissan Stadium

GAME RECAP

In Week 6 of the 2017 season, the Titans returned to Monday Night Football for the firs time since 2014 as Tennessee hosted the AFC rival Indianapolis Colts. Tennessee snapped an 11-game losing streak against Indianapolis with a 36-22 victory. QB Marcus Mariota returned to game action after missing the previous contest with a hamstring injury.

The Titans got on the board 3:45 into the game as K Ryan Succop converted a 48-yard fiel goal on Tennessee's opening drive and in the process set an NFL record for most consecutive fiel goals made under 50 yards. Indianapolis responded as Colts K Adam Vinatieri kicked a 36-yard fiel goal on the following possession to tie the game, 3-3. Tennessee found its way into the red zone again in the firs quarter, but was forced to settle for another fiel goal as Succop extended the Titans lead, 6-3.

On the firs drive of the second quarter, Indianapolis took a 10-6 lead as Colts QB Jacoby Brissett tossed an eight-yard touchdown pass to Colts TE Jack Doyle. Succop converted his third fiel goal of the day as the Titans narrowed the score, 10-9. The Colts answered back with Vinatieri's second fiel goal of the day to increase Indianapolis' lead 13-9 to end the firs half.

In the third quarter, Mariota threw an interception on the Titans firs possession and Colts SLB John Simon returned it 26 yards for a touchdown. The extra point attempt failed as Indianapolis went up 19-9. Succop converted a pair of fiel goals from 48 yards and 23 yards as the Titans edged closer with a score of 19-15.

Tennessee scored its firs touchdown of the day in the fourth quarter on a three-yard rushing score by RB DeMarco Murray to give the Titans a 22-19 lead. After a big third-down stop by LB Jayon Brown, Indianapolis was held to a 52-yard fiel goal to tie the game at 22-22.

After two back-to-back firs down receptions by WR Eric Decker, Mariota hit WR Taywan Taylor for a 53-yard touchdown as Tennessee took the lead back, 29-22. RB Derrick Henry added a 72-yard insurance touchdown run as the Titans defeated the Colts by a score of 36-22.

NOTES FROM LAST WEEK'S GAME

MARIOTA RETURNS, HITS 300-YARD MARK: Quarterback Marcus Mariota returned to the starting lineup despite being listed as questionable on the injury report due to a hamstring injury. He was inactive in the previous game at Miami. In his return, Mariota recorded his fourth career 300-yard passing game, completing 23 of 32 passes for 306 yards with one touchdown and one interception. His passer rating for the game was 99.2.

2017 Regular Season Week 7

MARIOTA COMPLETES 71.9 PERCENT: Marcus Mariota completed 71.9 percent of his passes (23 of 32), hitting the 70-percent mark for the seventh time in his career. The Titans have won all seven games in which he accomplished the feat.

MARIOTA IN PRIMETIME: Marcus Mariota participated in his third career primetime game, and the Titans are now 2-1 in those games. His career primetime passing totals include 63 completions, 807 yards, three touchdowns and one interception on 89 attempts. His 105.4 passer rating in primetime games from 2015-2017 ranks fift in the NFL among all qualifying passers who have played in at least two primetime games in that period.

FOURTH-AND-ONE CONVERSION: On the firs play of the fourth quarter, the Titans faced a fourth-and-one at the Indianapolis 43-yard line. The offense stayed on the field and Marcus Mariota picked up the firs down with one yard on a quarterback sneak. It was the firs quarterback sneak of his three-year career.

GAME-WINNING DRIVE: With his go-ahead touchdown pass to Taywan Taylor in the fourth quarter, Marcus Mariota was credited with his fift career fourth-quarter comeback and his fift career game-winning drive in 32 career starts.

MURRAY FINDS THE END ZONE: Running back DeMarco Murray totaled 12 carries for 40 yards and a touchdown. He scored on a three-yard run in the fourth quarter to give him two rushing touchdowns in 2017 and 45 rushing touchdowns in his seven-year career.

MURRAY INVOLVED IN PASSING GAME: DeMarco Murray caught four passes for a season high of 47 receiving yards, his highest total since he had 52 receiving yards at Kansas City on Dec. 18, 2016. Murray's effort in the running and passing games gave him 87 scrimmage yards against the Colts.

HENRY HITS 100 YARDS FOR FIRST TIME: Derrick Henry led the team with a career-high 131 rushing yards on 19 carries, topping the 100-yard mark for the firs time in his two-year career. His previous career high was 92 rushing yards at Jacksonville on Sept. 17, 2017. Henry's 19 carries also set a career high (previously 16 against Jacksonville on Sept. 17, 2017).

HENRY ICES GAME WITH 72-YARD SCORE: With the Titans ahead 29-22 late in the fourth quarter, Derrick Henry took a handoff on third-and-fi e and raced 72 yards for a touchdown. The run was the longest of Henry's career (previously 25 yards at Seattle on Sept. 24, 2017) and the team's 12th-longest run in the "Titans era" (1999-present).

DECKER SETS SEASON HIGHS: Wide receiver Eric Decker led the team and set season highs with seven receptions and 88 receiving yards. Five of his seven catches resulted in firs downs.

FIRST CAREER TOUCHDOWN FOR TAYLOR: In the fourth quarter, rookie Taywan Taylor scored his firs career touchdown on a 53-yard pass from Marcus Mariota. Included in Taylor's seven receptions in 2017 are catches of 42 and 53 yards.

300 AND 100: With Marcus Mariota passing for 306 yards and Derrick Henry rushing for 131 yards, the Titans had a 300-yard passer and a 100-yard rusher in the same game for the firs time since Vince Young (387 passing yards) and Chris Johnson (154 rushing) accomplished the feat against the Arizona Cardinals on Nov. 29, 2009.

MOST OFFENSIVE YARDS IN NEARLY A YEAR: The Titans offense totaled 473 net yards against the Colts, including 168 rushing yards and 305 passing yards. It was the team's highest net total since accumulating 494 yards against the Jacksonville Jaguars on Oct. 27, 2016.

RUSHING OFFENSE: As a team, the Titans totaled 168 rushing yards on 34 carries against the Colts. They are averaging 132.0 rushing yards per contest to give them the NFL's sixth-ranked rushing attack through six weeks.

CASEY PLAYS IN GAME 100: Defensive tackle Jurrell Casey participated in his 100th career game. He became the firs defensive lineman in the "Titans era" (1999–present) to reach 100 games with the club and the fift defensive player to do so. The other four were linebacker Keith Bulluck, safety Michael Griffin, safety/special teams player Donnie Nickey (did not appear in every game on defense) and cornerback Jason McCourty.

WILLIAMSON AND WOODYARD COMBINE FOR TAKEAWAY: In the third quarter, inside linebackers Avery Williamson and Wesley Woodyard combined to force the team's firs turnover of the game. On a reception by tight end Jack Doyle, Williamson stripped the ball to record his second career forced fumble (firs of 2017), and Woodyard registered his third career fumble recovery (firs of 2017).

WOODYARD'S FOURTH-DOWN STOP: With the Titans ahead 29-22 and less than three minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, Wesley Woodyard provided a fourth-down stop for the Titans. On fourth-and-one at the Tennessee 13-yard line, Colts quarterback Jacoby Brissett sprinted toward the right sideline but was forced out of bounds by Woodyard short of the first-dow marker.

DEFENDING HILTON: The Titans defense limited Colts Pro Bowl wide receiver T.Y. Hilton to one reception for 19 yards. It was Hilton's lowest receiving yardage total since he had one catch for 15 yards at Carolina on Nov. 2, 2015.

THIRD-DOWN DEFENSE: The Titans defense limited the Colts offense to two third-down conversions on nine attempts. The 22.2 percent rate was the lowest by a Titans opponent since the Houston Texans converted 20.0 percent in the 2016 final (Jan. 1, 2017).

KERN PLAYS IN GAME 150: Punter Brett Kern played in his 150th career game. He has played in 128 consecutive games as a member of the Titans.

SUCCOP SETS NFL RECORD: With a 48-yard fiel goal in the firs quarter, Ryan Succop set a new NFL record by making his 47th consecutive fiel goal from inside 50 yards. He added four more fiel goals in the game to extend the streak to 51 consecutive fiel goals from inside 50 yards. His streak dates back to 2014. The previous NFL record of 46 straight fiel goals from inside 50 yards was set by Atlanta Falcons kicker Matt Bryant from 2013–2015.

SUCCOP TIES FOR SECOND IN TEAM HISTORY FOR FIELD GOALS IN A GAME: Ryan Succop made all fiv of his fiel goal attempts, hitting from 48, 32, 40, 48 and 23 yards. His fiv fiel goals tied for the secondhighest total of his career, and he became only the fourth player in franchise history to make at least fiv fiel goals in a game. He joined Rob Bironas (NFL record of eight fiel goals in a game on Oct. 21, 2007), Al Del Greco (fiv on Dec. 3, 2000) and Roy Gerela (fiv on Sept. 28, 1969).

18 POINTS IN A GAME: With fiv fiel goals and three extra points, Ryan Succop totaled 18 points in the contest. Only fiv players in franchise history (Billy Cannon, Rob Bironas, George Blanda, Earl Campbell and Lorenzo White) have scored more than 18 points in a game (several have scored 18 points).

SUCCOP 10TH IN FRANCHISE SCORING: With his firs fiel goal of the game, Ryan Succop passed Charlie Hennigan (306 points) for 10th place on the franchise's all-time scoring list.

BIG RETURN FOR JACKSON: Rookie Adoree' Jackson returned the opening kickoff 40 yards to help kickstart the Titans' firs scoring drive. It was the third kickoff return of at least 35 yards in Jackson's firs six NFL games.

EIGHT SCORING DRIVES: Excluding a kneel-down at the end of the firs half, the Titans scored on eight of their 10 possessions, totaling fiv fiel goals and three touchdowns.

MOST CLOCK USED ON A DRIVE SINCE 2012: The Titans' fina three possessions resulted in touchdowns after driving 87 yards, 75 yards and 87 yards, respectively. The firs of those lasted 15 plays to tie a season high for a scoring drive, and it used 8 minutes and 24 seconds of clock time. That made it the Titans' longest scoring drive in terms of time used since a 10-minute, 8-second series (16 plays, 73 yards) at Indianapolis on Dec. 9, 2012.

TITANS SCORE 21 IN FOURTH QUARTER: The Titans scored 21 points in the fourth quarter, their highest fourth-quarter total since Dec. 6, 2015, when they scored 21 in the fina quarter against Jacksonville.

FOUR PENALTIES: The Titans were penalized four times in the game, their lowest number since committing two penalties on Dec. 18, 2016 at Kansas City. In the firs half against the Colts, they were penalized only once, tying a season low for the firs half. They had one penalty in the firs two quarters of the season opener against the Oakland Raiders (Sept. 10).

TIME OF POSSESSION: The Titans possessed the ball for 35:53 against the Colts, their best total since holding the ball for 36:44 at Miami on Oct. 9, 2016.

TITANS ON MONDAY NIGHT: The win improved the franchise's all-time record on Monday Night Football to 22-17, including an 11-6 mark in the "Titans era" (1999-present). The Titans own fiv wins in their past six Monday night games.

INACTIVES: The Titans' inactive players were wide receiver Darius Jennings, cornerback Kalan Reed, safety Johnathan Cyprien, offensive lineman Corey Levin, wide receiver Corey Davis, outside linebacker Kevin Dodd and nose tackle Sylvester Williams. Cyprien (hamstring) and Davis (hamstring) were on the injury report leading up to the game.

Good evening. Obviously, a good win for us in front of our home fans on Monday night. Division win, which was important, really important. That was the whole objective, to get a division win. No other ultimatum, that was it, get the win. Came out relatively healthy with the exception of (Derrick) Morgan who had a little abdominal strain, don't think it's too serious, so we're pretty healthy after the game.

(on when he knew QB Marcus Mariota was going to play)

Over the weekend we had a good talk. I let him do a little bit more on Saturday night.

(on Marcus Mariota's performance tonight)

I thought it was very good. He did what we asked. He didn't go out in a fullout sprint to make a firs down, a couple of them. I thought he did exactly what we wanted, did not have to move around as much, which he's capable of doing. I thought he handled it just like we talked about.

(on staying patient after having to settle for field goals)

You can get frustrated, but there was a lot of football to go. I felt like our offense was moving the ball well, we didn't punt in the firs half. Obviously, you have to score. If you lose a game like that, you're going to regret not scoring on some of those early drives. There was a lot of football to go and we talked about it at halftime, that we've got to just finis drives, that was a key. And really, we talked about it at halftime, our defense needed to make some stops early, and they both played out like we talked about.

(on Marcus Mariota showing him the ability to take over a game)

Yeah, I think he did. He's as tough as I've been around and made some throws that were obviously – that one to Taywan (Taylor) was a big throw, a real big throw. He played well, just watching it from the sideline, I thought he played well.

(on Marcus Mariota playing smart and not running)

That was the plan. We were going to take a sack if we had to take a sack instead of exposing him to running. That's just being smart.

(on if sneaking Marcus Mariota in the Titans fourth-and-one play was meant to confuse the Colts defense since he hadn't been used in the run game)

We used that same set last week and ended up not going, we were trying to draw them offsides. It was an identical set. I don't know if they thought it was a no-play like we did last week, but it was the exact same thing. He's never run a quarterback sneak since he's been here, so that was a little bit of a surprise I'm sure for them.

(on Titans LB Wesley Woodyard stopping Colts QB Jacoby Brissett on the Colts fourth-and-one play)

Great play, just a great play. Just keeps going with his season with the way he's playing. I'm trying to think what happened after our fourth-and-one. I know we made ours and they didn't make theirs, and theirs not making was huge for us, get us to the point where we could run the ball at the end there.

(on converting on long first and third downs on RB DeMarco Murray's touchdown drive)

We kind of chipped, we kind of tried to chip back and get as much as we could on the first-and-20 We made some plays on firs downs, which we haven't been doing the last couple of games. That was a big factor in moving the ball like we did tonight.

(on defending Colts WR T.Y. Hilton)

I think Coach (Dick) LeBeau had a good plan like every team does, but I think our guys took it to heart. He's a game-wrecker, he can change the game. Whatever we can do to take him out of the game, we're going to do. If it was taking two of our guys to cover him, we were going to do that.

(on the Titans strong second half)

Made some adjustments in the second half, both offensively and defensively.

(on RB Derrick Henry's touchdown run)

I was pretty excited. Winning in this league, if you just watch this weekend, winning in this league is hard to do. When he did that, when he broke for the first I thought our offensive staff did a great job. They called a play to get him outside, hopefully keep him in bounds, hopefully get a firs down. When you can put points up, that pretty much ends it.

(on if he thought Derrick Henry would score on the play where he ultimately ran for a 72-yard touchdown)

No, I wasn't - I didn't think he would. I'm sure that's the last thing on his mind, I really do. You can talk about it after the fact, but at the time there was no way he was going in the end zone.

(on if there was a concerted effort to get Derrick Henry to ball at the start of the game)

No, just the same kind of rotation and just the way our personnel groups were set up. It was purposefully done, but I thought he did a great job when he had the chance.

(on if there was one play that stood out on the drive for the go-ahead touchdown)

Yeah, the slant-35-deuce four times in a row down there in the red zone. That's where we just kept getting four and five fiv and six yards. That one play where we kept running it over and over and over.

(on having success in the run game after struggling earlier in the

Yeah, it was. It was our guys just, they kept battling, they kept saying 'keep running it.' They came to the sideline, 'keep running it.' At some point we felt like we could hit them on the run game.

(on the Titans now having a winning-record in the AFC South and being tied for first in their division)

That was an important game, I told that to the players last night. These are the games we have to win. We have set a goal, that goal can only be achieved by winning these types of games and that's a fact. They know that, they know how big a game it was.

(on how WR Taywan Taylor's touchdown play developed)

Well, it was good because there were a couple others I wish he would've made earlier that might have made it a little easier. The play was designed to go to Delanie (Walker) and fortunately all four of their guys covered Delanie (Walker) and left Taywan (Taylor) kind of – they just jumped Delanie (Walker) on his out route, and left Taywan open on the deep one. That kind of tells you what people feel about Delanie. He's a target and there's a couple of times, even early in the game when Marcus (Mariota) overthrew him, he was triple-covered. They dropped coverage on Rishard (Matthews) trying to take Delanie (Walker) away. We missed a big play early in the firs corner that might have been a score.

(on if being forced to stay inside the pocket helped Marcus Mariota as a passer today)

Well, I think he had a relatively clean pocket for the most part. There were a couple of instances where he had to move and throw it away, but for the most part I thought our line did a good job of protecting him, which was important knowing his mobility was very limited.

(on WR Eric Decker having his best day so far as a Titan)

He made a lot of plays, he made a lot of good plays for us. Marcus (Mariota) got us into some plays, again they were check plays, that he caught some big plays, big firs downs for us on those cross routes. But Eric Decker played very well for us, probably his best game for us.

(on WR Rishard Matthews' performance today)

Rishard (Matthews) made some really good plays. I challenged those guys last night too. All we heard was about the Colts receivers, and I challenged our guys to make a difference in this game and I thought they did.

QB MARCUS MARIOTA

(on how good it felt to find a way to get a win)

Huge, huge, (I am) proud of the guys in the locker room. It was one of those where you have to kind of grind it out a little bit, have to trust the process. Coaches did a great job of doing some second half adjustments and we were just able to execute and finis the game.

(on if he had to do convincing that he was good to play)

It was group of people that shared the same interests, wanted what was best for the team and made a collected decision and it worked out.

(on if it was difficult not to run in some instances)

Yeah, it was a little different. That's part of it. It's a long season, you are going to have to play with some kind of nick or ding. I am just really happy for the guys. They did a great job of holding up in protection up front. Our receivers made a bunch of huge plays, just happy we were able to run the football and make some plays.

(on if that was the first quarterback sneak of his career)

No, I sneaked it a couple of times in high school. We were in gun all in college. This is the firs one that I have done in the pros.

(on if he thought the quarterback sneak caught Indianapolis off guard) Yeah, I think so it probably helped that we got that yard. So again that was one of those things the coaches made an adjustment. It was similar look we had run the week before and did a great job of calling it.

(on if he felt any effects of hamstring injury during the game) No, I felt good throughout.

(on keys to sustaining 87-yard scoring drive)

Converting on third down, you know I think that was probably the most important. And again, I think the guys did a great job up front of giving time. Receivers made some great catches whenever you are able to get into rhythm on offense and go down and score, you can lean on a defense after that, they get tired and get a little worn out. I think that's what we were able to accomplish.

(on the touchdown pass to Taywan Taylor)

You know, I thought it was a great call. We ended up getting a look that we had wanted in practice and Taywan (Taylor) just did the rest. A guy that is that electric, that fast and can do those types of things, he is a huge weapon for you.

(on the success of running game opening up the big passing play)

Yeah, I think that was a huge part of it. When you are able to run the football the way we do, it opens up a whole lot of things. That's got to be the standard, if we are able to do that run the football and convert third downs, I think we can be pretty good on offense.

(on what went through his mind on Derrick Henry's touchdown run)

Once we got past the firs level of defenders, I thought he could score. When he is in the open field he is tough to tackle. He got a good burst of speed and you saw it there. He's a great player for us, somebody that can make plays and he made a huge one for us there.

(on getting the best out of DeMarco Murray and Derrick Henry)

When you have the playmakers that we have, whether it's in the running back room, the receivers, tight ends, when you have guys all on the same page and clicking on all cylinders, this offense can be really good. So if we continue to focus on each other, focus on our job and go out there and execute what the coaches have for us, we can be successful.

(on the play of Eric Decker)

He is a special player. He find ways to get open. He did a great job tonight and feeling some of those soft zones. When you have a guy like that convert third downs, it's huge, that very important for the success of the offense.

(on how much he was chomping at bit to play in the game tonight)

I wanted to be out there last week. It was just unfortunate that I wasn't able to do that. I was happy to get the green light. Again it just comes out that everyone went out there and executed and we were able to make the plays we needed to.

(on if playing on Monday night lived up to his expectations

It was an awesome experience, one that I'll enjoy when you look back on it, it's cool. I think it is quite the spectacle, it's an awesome deal. The atmosphere is great, the fans were awesome and to be out there with the guys and get this win, it's huge.

OLB BRIAN ORAKPO

(on the Titans snapping an 11-game losing streak to Indianapolis)

It's a huge boost for us. We haven't beaten this team in a long, long time. Now we are back in the hunt. Back at 3-3, and that's two straight division wins for us. We haven't done some things in a long time. This is one of them, beating the Colts. And we now go on to the next with Cleveland coming up, but we are definitel going to enjoy this one. Because like I said, this team is tough to play. Any division game is tough to play. Beating this team was a huge boost for our confidence. We can finall move on. It's a whole new era with this Titans team, and that's one thing I'm very proud of.

(on the improvement of the Titans' defense)

When we play on all cylinders, we are a tough defense. We've shown it. We had a disappointing effort against Houston, and something that we regret. We know that ever won't happen again, and we've bounced back two weeks in a row. So, like I said, when we are on all cylinders, we communicate, we fl to the ball, and we hit, we are a tough defense.

(on the Titans playing and getting a win on Monday Night Football)

It's pretty fun. It's fun. I hate the Monday night traffic though. The trafficto the game. That's one thing I do hate. But, besides that, nothing gets better than Monday night. You are the only game on. Everybody gets to watch and see what your team is about, and see what you are all about. It's pretty fun to go out here with a great team win and our defense coming out in the second half and completely shutting them out. Huge, huge, huge team win.

DT JURRELL CASEY

(on Titans defense shutting down the Colts in the second half)

We didn't make any adjustments. We just settled down and started playing our game of football. That was the biggest thing.

(on the Titans playing at night under the lights with a national TV audience)

Definitel special, definitel special. You now it is a privilege to get these types of games and play in front of the crowd of this size. Everybody doesn't get to do it, to get the opportunity to do it was definitel a blessing. Nothing special to it, just go out there and do it. That's it.

ILB WESLEY WOODYARD

(on the Titans victory over the Colts)

That's the most important thing, getting that "W". You've got to make plays. That's something, that when we lose, we don't make enough plays. When we win, we make big plays. So, we've got to keep that going. That's our goal to win the division. We've just got to keep ourselves in the race, play your best football towards the end of the year and just take them one week at a time. And that's what we are doing.

(on making a key fourth down stop late in the game on the Colts' QB Jacoby Brissett)

This 31-year old still got a little wheels. You just have to make a play to get our team (defense) off the fiel and lucky be for me, I was blessed to be the one to make it.

(on Titans playing on Monday Night Football)

It's huge. As a child this is what you grow up dreaming about, playing on Monday Night Football. Year 10, and I've been searching for a Monday Night, since my firs year here. Finally got one and got a win. So hey, Monday Night people, we are coming back next year.

RB DeMARCO MURRAY

(on the run game)

It was great. Obviously, it started with the offensive line. We just kept pounding away, you know taking it one play at a time, one run at a time. You know it was tough early on, but we continued to just stay with it. (Terry) Robiskie kept calling the run game and the offensive line kept doing it. Derrick (Henry) and myself, you know, found a crease here and there and he popped one late. That was huge for us. It sealed the victory, so it was great for us.

(on quarterback Marcus Mariota)

It's gut wrenching you know. He's a guy who didn't have a lot of work last week but he made up in his mind a long time ago that he was going to play this game, and he knew we needed him. That's what our leader is for.

(on winning a division game)

It's great. Obviously, we're aware of the division, and you know it's a division win, which is always amazing. Like I said, we've got to enjoy this one and move on fast, but it's great to get back on track and get the W.

(on reestablishing an identity with the ground game)

That's what we pride ourselves on is being physical. It starts with the offensive line like I said. Tight ends blocking well downfield receivers blocking well, but we want to run the ball as much as we can and us as running backs we want to impose our will on them.

SELECT TITANS POSTGAME QUOTES

T TAYLOR LEWAN

(on how the line played)

I don't think he had one sack I don't think he even had a hit except for that penalty, so I'm just proud of the way these guys played. Monday Night Football, there's no other game on but us.

(on the return of Marcus Mariota)

The guy's a complete stud. I mean we've been saying it since day one. The guy's a franchise quarterback and he deserves everything he gets. I'm just happy to be his left tackle. I'm happy to be this organization's left tackle, and I'm happy to go out there with number 8 every Sunday and know that we have an opportunity to win no matter what, especially when he's playing.

(on Marcus Mariota's QB sneak for a first down)

I feel like it goes to what I just said. Marcus (Mariota) is a hell of a player and you never hear him complain once. He and I both had injuries this past week and the only reason why I say that is because I text Marcus and say 'hey what time are you going in?' My goal would be to go in before him every single morning and he beat my ass. It was like four to one. I beat him like the firs day and after that I was too tired. I was like 'oh this guy is killing it.' Just his work ethic, the kind of pro he is. The kind of guy he is, I can't say enough about Marcus Mariota. He's the bomb dot com.

WR TAYWAN TAYLOR

(on his touchdown catch)

It was a great play call by the coaches. I think he called it at the right time. We had the look we wanted on defense, so everybody did their job executing and I just tried to do a great job of finishin up the play and making the catch.

(on not getting frustrated with settling for field goals)

We are hard on ourselves to make every play, but that's what comes with the game, so we just try to stay locked in and have short-term memory and move on to the next play. I think we did a good job of that, so it was able to help give us momentum going forward the rest of the game.

(on the play of Marcus Mariota)

He's great. Marcus (Mariota) is always great. That's our leader. He's the soul of our offense and you know he's the engine that makes us run, so we just try to feed off him and feed off what he's doing and stay locked in because we know that no play is dead with Marcus and he can always fin a way to make a play, get out of the pocket and use his mobility. We just try to keep running and get open for him and make plays.

TE DELANIE WALKER

(on overcoming adversity early in the game)

We just kept our head down, kept to the grind and played our game. We can't really handle what the referees do. That's their job. Our job is to play football.

(on staying positive when drives ended in field goals)

You know, we've started off slow in previous weeks. We know what type of team we are. Once we get our groove, we get things going so it wasn't really no feeling in the huddle. We knew once we get a play going, we'll get back on track.

(on the play of Marcus Mariota coming back from injury)

That's Marcus Mariota. If he can play, he's gonna play. He's the leader of this team and today it showed by coming out there and playing.

Colts linebacker John Simon scores on a 26-yard interception return.

🐞 2017 Regular Season Week 7

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT/GENERAL MANAGER JON ROBINSON

Jon Robinson was hired as Titans general manager on Jan. 14, 2016 after spending two years as director of player personnel for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Nearly one year later, on Jan. 5, 2017, he was promoted to executive vice president/general manager.

"Jon has done great work since his arrival to our organization and this is a way to recognize that fact," controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk said upon promoting Robinson. "His leadership and football acumen helped change our culture and improve our team. He and Mike (Mularkey) deserve a great deal of credit for our turnaround this year and I am hopeful that will continue this coming year and into the future. This is an acknowledgement of his work and it puts him on equal footing with others in the league who direct football operations."

"This organization means the world to me and I am working on a daily basis to make it better," said Robinson. "I don't stand alone in this task of improving our team – from ownership, Mike and the coaches, the players who have bought in to our program, scouts and staff. We all have worked together to create a family and hopefully a culture of long-term success."

Early in the 2017 offseason, Robinson used free agency to address needs on defense and special teams. Most notably, he spearheaded deals for cornerback Logan Ryan (New England), safety Johnathan Cyprien (Jacksonville), nose tackle Sylvester Williams (Denver) and returner Eric Weems (Atlanta). In June, he led the charge to sign veteran wide receiver Eric Decker (New York Jets).

In the 2017 NFL Draft, Robinson spent first-roun picks on wide receiver Corey Davis (fift overall) and cornerback Adoree' Jackson (18th overall). It marked the firs time the franchise had a pair of first-roun draft selections since 1987. Davis and Jackson were the initial two players of a nine-player draft haul that also featured wide receiver Taywan Taylor and tight end Jonnu Smith in the third round.

In his firs season as an NFL general manager, Robinson's leadership and decision-making helped the Titans triple their win total from the previous season, finishin 9-7 after a 3-13 finis in 2015. The six-win improvement tied for the most in franchise history (1967 and 1974) and doubled the previous club benchmark for the most wins in the firs year under a new general manager (three by Bum Phillips in 1975).

Within his firs four months on the job, Robinson made several key personnel decisions. On March 9, Robinson made his firs major acquisition, swapping fourth-round draft picks with the Philadelphia Eagles in exchange for running back DeMarco Murray. The trade provided major dividends in 2016, as Murray led the AFC and ranked third in the NFL with 1,287 rushing yards. Murray also ranked fourth in the NFL in scrimmage yards (1,664) and firs downs (84) and finishe tied for seventh in total touchdowns (12).

Around the same time, Robinson began to work the free agent market. Center Ben Jones and wide receiver Rishard Matthews highlighted the haul, and both were instrumental in helping to transform the Titans offense into the 11th-ranked unit in the NFL. Jones started all 16 games and keyed a rushing attack that ranked third in the league, while Matthews set career highs with 65 receptions (tied for the team lead), a team-high 945 receiving yards and a team-high nine touchdown receptions. The latter number tied for sixth in the NFL and tied for ninth in franchise history.

On April 14, 2016, two weeks before the NFL Draft, Robinson and the Titans dealt the firs overall pick to the Los Angeles Rams in one of the biggest trades in recent NFL history. The Titans gave up the No. 1 pick and a fourth-rounder in order to receive the 15th overall pick, two second-rounders and a third-rounder in 2016, plus the Rams' first and third-round picks in 2017. From 1990–2015, there were seven trades involving the No. 1 overall pick, but this was the firs since 2004, when the San Diego Chargers selected Eli Manning with the firs pick and dealt his rights to the New York Giants.

The Titans had their hands at one point or another on 17 selections in the 2016 draft due to fiv different trades (including one trade in 2015), and in the end, they ended up with a class of 10 players, including four of the top 45 picks. Robinson swung a draft-day trade with the Cleveland Browns to move back up to the eighth slot to choose Michigan State tackle Jack Conklin.

All 10 members of Robinson's firs draft class played in at least one game. They accumulated a total of 110 games played and 38 starts, including 16 starts at right tackle by Conklin. The eighth-overall pick capped his successful rookie campaign by being named first-tea. All-Pro by Associated Press. Other rookies in 2016 who made significan contributions included second-round running back Derrick Henry, third-round safety Kevin

Robinson arrived in Tennessee with a wide range of experience from working his way up on the personnel side of the NFL. From 2014–2015, he served as director of player personnel for the Buccaneers and oversaw both college and pro departments as the team rebuilt its roster. The 2015 Buccaneers draft class made a significan impact, including four rookie starters: quarterback Jameis Winston, tackle Donovan Smith, guard Ali Marpet and linebacker Kwon Alexander.

"Our goal here is to win, bottom line," Robinson said after accepting the new job. "That is a measuring stick that all franchises are measured by. Mike (Mularkey) and I have an aligned vision of what we want this team to look like. We want tough players, we want coachable players, we want smart players and most importantly we want players with a team-firs attitude. My role here is to insure we fin those players. I will coach the personnel staff on the type of players that we want and identify the guys that are true fit of what we are looking for in a Titan."

Prior to joining Tampa Bay, Robinson spent 12 years with the New England Patriots, including his last fiv years (2009-13) as the director of college scouting. In the fiv years heading up their college scouting, the Patriots added a number of key components to their roster that won the Super Bowl in 2014, including wide receiver Julian Edelman, defensive back Devin McCourty, tight end Rob Gronkowski, tackle Nate Solder and defensive end Chandler Jones. He joined the Patriots as an area scout in 2002, a role he served for four seasons. Robinson then spent two years (2006-07) as a regional scout, before being promoted to assistant director of college scouting in 2008 and then director of college scouting in 2009. In his time scouting for the Patriots the team won 10 division titles, four conference titles and two Super Bowls (2003, 2004).

"I was really most specificall on the college side as the college director (in New England). So my duties there were to organize all of the scouting of the college players in preparation for the draft and rookie free agency. When I got to Tampa, I was really exposed to everything as it relates to the day-to-day operations of running the football team, to the Monday meetings with the trainer and (general manager) Jason (Licht), working through the emergency list, the practice squad list, preparing for free agency, along with overseeing the college draft. It really opened my eyes to everything that goes on on a day-to-day basis, on a weekly basis, on a monthly basis that an NFL team has to prep for."

Robinson played three years at Southeast Missouri State as a defensive lineman after starting his college career at the Air Force Academy. Following his college career as a player, he spent one season (1998) coaching at his alma mater and three years (1999-2001) coaching at Nicholls State.

A native of Union City, Tenn., Robinson and his wife, Jaimie, have two daughters, Taylor and Bailey.

53 DAREN BATES - LINEBACKER

Previous Team: Oakland Raiders

Tennessee Titans vs. Cleveland Browns

5-11 • 225 • Auburn • 5th NFL Season

Daren Bates was signed by the Titans in the opening days of free agency. He spent 2016 with the Oakland Raiders following three seasons with the St. Louis Rams.

A linebacker with significan special teams experience, Bates totaled 31 special teams stops in 60 career NFL games prior to his arrival in Tennessee. He played in 16 games for the Raiders last season and registered seven special teams tackles and three stops on defense.

Following a career at Auburn University, where he led the Tigers with 104 tackles as a junior, Bates entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent with the St. Louis Rams. He is a native of Olive Branch, Miss.

37 JOHNATHAN CYPRIEN - SAFETY

Previous Team: Jacksonville Jaguars

6-0 • 223 • Florida International • 5th NFL Season

Johnathan Cyprien was signed by the Titans following four seasons and 60 games (all starts) with the Jacksonville Jaguars (2013-2016).

During his time in Jacksonville, Cyprien totaled 442 tackles. In three of his four years there, he finishe as one of the team's top two tacklers, including 2014, when he led the team with 111 tackles. His career totals also included two sacks, two interceptions, four forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and 15 passes defensed.

In 2016, Cyprien was a part of the NFL's sixth-ranked overall defense (fift in passing defense). He started all 16 games for the firs time in his career and posted a career-high 126 tackles, which ranked second on the

87 ERIC DECKER - WIDE RECEIVER

Previous Team: New York Jets

6-3 • 214 • Minnesota • 8th NFL Season

Eric Decker was signed by the Titans as a free agent late in the 2017 offseason. He spent the previous three seasons with the New York Jets after beginning his career with four campaigns as a member of the Denver

Prior to joining the Titans, Decker registered three 1,000-yard receiving seasons and three double-digit touchdown campaigns, appearing in 95 games (75 starts) with 385 receptions for 5,253 yards and 52 touchdowns.

From 2012-2016, Decker tied for fift in the NFL with 43 receiving touchdowns. From 2012-2015, only Decker, Calvin Johnson and Demaryius Thomas produced at least 70 receptions, 900 receiving yards and fiv touchdowns in every season.

2017 TITANS DRAFT REVIEW

Tennessee Titans vs. Cleveland Browns

WR COREY DAVIS | 6-3, 209, Western Michigan 1st round, 5th overall

College: In four seasons at Western Michigan, Davis played and started 50 games. He registered 332 career receptions for 5,285 yards and 52 touchdowns, setting the Mid-American Conference record in each category and becoming the only player in FBS history with 300 catches, 5,000 yards and 50 touchdowns. His 5,285 career receiving yards were the most in FBS history, and he ended his career ranked second all-time in FBS history with 52 career receiving touchdowns (60 by Jarett Dillard). Davis' 332 career receptions ranked fourth all-time in FBS annals.

CB ADOREE' JACKSON | 5-10, 186, Southern California 1st round, 18th overall

College: In three seasons at Southern California, Jackson started in 37 games. He posted 139 tackles, 29 passes defensed, six interceptions including one for a touchdown, six stops for loss, three fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles on defense and notched 39 receptions for 628 yards with six touchdowns and 15 carries for 92 yards on offense. Jackson tied the NCAA records for most career touchdowns on kick returns (8) and all runbacks (9). He owns the USC career records for kickoff return yardage (2,141 yards) and kickoff returns (79) and his 27.1 career kick return average is second in USC annals. Jackson ranks fifth on USC's all-time punt return list (578 yards) and his four career punt return touchdowns is tied for the school record.

WR TAYWAN TAYLOR | 5-11, 203, Western Kentucky 3rd round, 72nd overall

College: In four seasons at Western Kentucky, Taylor appeared in 52 games with 33 starts. He established Hilltopper career records with 253 receptions, 4,234 receiving yards and 41 receiving touchdowns, and he also set the single-season records with 98 receptions, 1,730 yards and 17 touchdowns, the latter of which he hit in both his junior and senior seasons. He was a two-time semifinalist for the Fred Biletnikoff Award, given to the nation's top wide receiver.

He also rushed for 2,073 career yards on 359 carries while racking up 14 total touchdowns.

Click For Complete Online Bio

Mike Mularkey was named head coach of the Titans on Jan. 16, 2016. He served as the interim head coach for the fina nine games of the 2015 sea-

In his firs full season as head coach, Mularkey helped the team to a 9-7 record, tripling the club's win total from the previous season. The six-win improvement tied for the most in franchise history (1967 and 1974), and Mularkey tied Sid Gillman (1974) for the highest win increase in franchise history among those in their firs full season as head coach. Mularkey became the seventh Titans/Oilers head coach to reach nine wins in his firs season.

The 2016 Titans defeated six teams with winning records in 2016— Detroit, Miami, Green Bay, Denver, Kansas City and Houston-to tie for the most such victories in the NFL, along with the Dallas Cowboys. Five of those wins were against playoff teams (all but Denver), which tied the Packers' total for the most in the league.

Under Mularkey's watch, fiv Titans players were voted to the Pro Bowl in 2016: tight end Delanie Walker, left tackle Taylor Lewan, running back DeMarco Murray, defensive tackle Jurrell Casey and outside linebacker Brian Orakpo. It was the team's most Pro Bowl selections since Mularkey's offense in 2016 showed considerable improvement. Among many statistical increases, the Titans improved from the 30th-ranked overall offense in 2015 to 11th in 2016. They were third in the NFL in rushing in Mularkey's firs full season at the helm, averaging 136.7 yards on the ground per game, and they also ranked third on third down (46.1 percent) in 2016. They were the NFL's most efficien team in the red zone (72.0 touchdown percent) and finishe seventh in the league in sacks allowed (28).

Including 2017, Mularkey has 23 years of NFL coaching experience, with fiv seasons as a head coach and eight as an offensive coordinator, with prior coaching stops in Jacksonville, Atlanta, Miami, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and Tampa Bay. In fiv of the eight seasons he was a coordinator Mularkey's team went to the playoffs. He joined the Titans in 2014 as tight ends coach and was elevated to assistant head coach prior to the start of the 2015 season.

As a former NFL tight end, Mularkey played a total of 114 games in nine seasons with the Minnesota Vikings and Pittsburgh Steelers. His experience as a player has molded his style as a position coach. Including his rookie preseason with the 49ers, Mularkey spent his career playing for three of the NFL's legendary coaches in Bill Walsh, Bud Grant and Chuck Noll. As an assistant coach Mularkey has served on the staffs of Sam Wyche, Bill Cowher, Nick Saban, Cam Cameron, Mike Smith and Ken Whisenhunt.

Mularkey joined the Titans after one season (2012) with the Jacksonville Jaguars as the franchise's fourth head coach, and four seasons (2008-11) with the Atlanta Falcons as offensive coordinator. Over the four-year time span with the Falcons, the team advanced to the postseason three times, ranked ninth in the NFL in total yards (354.8 per game), seventh in points (24.5), eighth in rushing yards (125.7), third in fewest turnovers (84), fourth in fewest sacks allowed (93), and sixth in third down conversions (44.2).

Prior to his time tight ends coach in 2007.

with the Falcons, Mularkey spent two seasons (2006-07) with the Miami Dolphins as the offensive coordinator in 2006, and

He joined the Dolphins after serving as head coach for the Buffalo Bills for two seasons (2004-05). In his firs season with the team, the Bills finishe 9-7, marking their only winning season over the last decade.

Eight seasons (1996-2003) with the Pittsburgh Steelers preceded Mularkey's time with the Bills. Mularkey served as the tight ends coach in his firs fiv seasons. He molded Mark Bruener into an outstanding run-blocking tight end, while Jerome Bettis eclipsed the 1,000-yard rushing mark for fiv straight years. His fina three seasons were spent as offensive coordinator, during which time he directed two top-fiv offenses (3rd, 2001 and 5th, 2002) and earned Assistant Coach of the Year in 2001 from the Pro Football Writers of America.

Mularkey entered the coaching ranks in 1993, overseeing the offensive line at Concordia College. He transitioned into the NFL in 1994, where he began as a quality control coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers before being promoted to tight ends coach the following season (1995).

Selected in the ninth round by the San Francisco 49ers in 1983, Mularkey was waived following his firs training camp. He was signed by the Vikings, where he played for six seasons, before finishin his career with three years at Pittsburgh. He totaled 102 receptions and 1,222 career vards.

A graduate of Northeast High School in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mularkey played quarterback and earned a scholarship to the University of Florida. He was a three-year letterman at tight end for the Gators from 1979-82. He and his wife, Betsy, have two sons -- Patrick and Shane.

NISSAN STADIUM

In 2015, the Titans and Nissan North America announced the formation of a 20year, exclusive naming-rights partnership that rebranded

Nashville's downtown stadium as Nissan Stadium.

Nissan Stadium hosts all Titans home football games, Tennessee State University football games, the Music City Bowl, the CMA Music Festival and numerous other events.

The procurement of naming rights to Nissan Stadium fi the automotive company's 'Fewer, Bigger, Better' marketing strategy, which has included ongoing sponsorships of NBC's 'The Voice,' the Heisman House college football program and a major advertising presence in this year's Super Bowl. Nissan is also now the officia automotive partner of the Tennessee Nissan's ever-growing footprint in Tennessee includes vehicle and powertrain manufacturing facilities in Smyrna and Decherd respectively, along with its North American headquarters in Franklin.

The Nissan Smyrna Plant began operations in 1983 and employs more than 8,400 people. In 2014, the Smyrna plant assembled more than 648,000 vehicles, making it the highest volume automotive assembly plant in North America. Nissan also has a major manufacturing presence in Canton, Miss., along with research and development groups in California, Arizona and Michigan. In total, the company employs more than 22,000 employees in the U.S.

One component of the Titans-Nissan partnership is assisting charitable organizations throughout Middle Tennessee in an array of community outreach programs. A centerpiece of this is the annual "Taste of Titans" charitable event, for which Nissan serves as presenting sponsor. During the course of a 20-year relationship, a total of more than $1 million resulting from these annual events is anticipated to be distributed to local non-profi

Nissan Stadium is a city-owned venue that has housed the Titans since 1999. The naming rights agreement includes the opportunity for Nissan branding on the exterior of the stadium, as well as stadium signage and other unique displays inside the stadium. LP Building Products has held the naming rights to the stadium since 2006 and that exclusivity now shifts to

Marcus Mariota (6-4, 222) is in his third NFL season. The Titans selected him with the No. 2 overall selection in the 2015 NFL Draft, and since that time, he arguably has had the best beginning to a career of any quarterback in team annals.

From 2015-2016, Mariota passed for 6,244 yards and 45 touchdowns, while throwing only 19 interceptions. His 93.8 passer rating during that time ranks sixth in NFL history for a player's firs two NFL campaigns, trailing only Kurt Warner (107.9), Dan Marino (104.5), Nick Foles (101.0), Russell Wilson (100.6) and Ben Roethlisberger (98.3).

Mariota's 16 games with at least two touchdown passes in his firs two NFL seasons tied for third all-time in the NFL, equaling Peyton Manning and Russell Wilson and trailing only Dan Marino (22) and Derek Carr (17).

Mariota won 11 games as a starting guarterback from 2015-2016. Among all quarterbacks in franchise history in their firs two NFL seasons, only Vince Young (17) has had more wins as a starter.

In 2016, Mariota started 15 games. He was 276-of-451 passing for 3,426 yards, 26 touchdowns and nine interceptions. His 95.6 passer rating ranks third in franchise history for a single season, behind only Warren Moon's 96.8 in 1990, when he was the Associated Press Offensive Player of the Year, and Steve McNair's 100.4 in 2003, when he was the NFL's Co-MVP. Only two quarterbacks with the franchise have had more touchdown passes in a season than Mariota in 2016: George Blanda (36 in 1961 and 27 in 1962) and Moon (33 in 1990).

Consistently a dual-threat, Mariota added 349 rushing yards and two rushing touchdowns in his second season. In doing so, he became the seventh player in NFL history with at least 6,000 passing yards and 600 rushing yards (601) in his firs two seasons, joining Jeff Garcia, Cam Newton, Robert Griffin, Wilson, Andrew Luck and Blake Bortles.

During his rookie season, Mariota started 12 games, missing four total contests due to injuries. He completed 230 of his 370 passes for 2,818 yards, 19 touchdowns-all franchise rookie records-while throwing only 10 interceptions. At the time, his 91.5 passer rating ranked third in franchise history.

Mariota also set a franchise rookie record by completing 62.2 percent of his passes. That was the fifth-highes percentage by a rookie quarterback in NFL history and the eighth-highest completion percentage in a season by any quarterback in Titans/Oilers history.

On the ground, Mariota accounted for 252 yards and a pair of touchdowns on 34 carries. He finishe second in franchise history in rushing yards by a rookie quarterback, trailing only Young's 2006 total of 552 rushing yards. Mariota's total included an 87-yard touchdown run against Jacksonville (Dec. 6), which was the fifth-longes rushing play in franchise history.

Mariota joined Manning (1998) as the only rookie quarterbacks in NFL history to complete three touchdown passes in four different games, and he became the lone NFL rookie to ever record two games with four touchdown passes and no interceptions (Sept. 13 at Tampa Bay and Nov. 8 at New

He entered the NFL following a historic career at the University of Oregon. He concluded his three seasons as the school's starting guarterback by winning the Heisman Trophy and leading his team to the College Football Playoff Championship Game.

Mariota broke nearly every major passing record at Oregon, totaling 10,796 career passing yards and 105 touchdown passes. The three-time

During his Heisman season in 2014, Mariota directed the Ducks to a Rose Bowl victory over Florida State. His totals for the year included 4,454 passing yards, 42 touchdown passes and only four interceptions. He also rushed for 770 yards and 15 touchdowns and even caught a touchdown pass. His 58 total touchdowns in a season (passing, rushing and receiving) shattered Matt Barkley's (2011) previous Pac-12 record of 41 touchdowns.

The 6-foot-4-inch, 222-pound signal caller became the fifth Heisman Trophy winner to be drafted by the Oilers/Titans, joining Billy Cannon, Earl Campbell, Mike Rozier and Eddie George. Derrick Henry became the sixth Heisman winner drafted by the club when he was selected in 2016.

At the 2015 NFL Scouting Combine, he finished among the top three quarterbacks in the 40-yard dash, vertical jump, broad jump, three-cone drill and 20-yard shuttle. His 4.52-second 40-yard dash gave him the fastest quarterback time at the Combine since Griffin's 4.41 in 2012.

Mariota is a native of Honolulu, Hawaii.

2017 Season Highlights:

- > Against Oakland (9/10), completed 25 of 41 passes for 256 yards (78.9 passer rating). His attempt total tied for the third-highest number of his career, and his completion total tied for the fourth-highest number of his career. He scored on a 10-yard rushing attempt in the first quarter (fifth career rushing touchdown) and totaled 26 yards on three carries in the game.
- ➤ At Jacksonville (9/17), completed 15 of 27 passes for 215 yards with one touchdown and one interception (78.5 passer rating). He completed a 32-yard touchdown pass to rookie tight end Jonnu Smith in the fourth quarter. He also rushed six times for 24 yards.
- ➤ Against Seattle (9/24), completed 20 of 32 passes for 225 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions (104.3 passer rating). He completed a 55-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Rishard Matthews and a 24-yard touchdown pass to Jonnu Smith. He also rushed seven times for 27 yards. It was his 11th career game with a passer rating of at least 100 and his 17th career game with at least two touchdown passes. His 55-yard touchdown pass to Rishard Matthews in the third quarter was his third-longest career pass. During the final three quarters, he was 17-of-22 for 192 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions, amounting to a passer rating of 133.1.
- > At Houston (10/1), recorded his first career game with two or more rushing touchdowns. He reached the end zone twice in the second quarter, first on a 34-yard run. It was the third-longest rushing attempt of his career. On the next drive, he scored on a two-yard rushing attempt to become the first Titans quarterback to rush for two touchdowns in a game since Steve McNair at New England on Oct. 5, 2003. He totaled 39 rushing yards on four attempts against the Texans. The performance gave him seven career rushing touchdowns and a career high of three in 2017. He completed six of 10 passes for 96 yards with two interceptions.
- > At Miami (10/8), he was inactive with a hamstring injury.
- ➤ Against Indianapolis (10/16), returned to the starting lineup and recorded his fourth career 300-yard passing game, completing 23 of 32 passes for 306 yards with one touchdown and one interception (99.2 passer rating). His passer rating for the game was 99.2. It was the seventh time in his career with a completion percentage of at least 70 percent, and the team's record in those games improved to 7-0. On the first play of the fourth quarter, facing a fourth-and-one at the Indianapolis 43-yard line, Mariota picked up the first down with one yard on a quarterback sneak. It was the first quarterback sneak of his three-year career. With his go-ahead, 53-yard touchdown pass to Taywan Taylor in the fourth quarter, he was credited with his fifth career fourth-quarter comeback and his fifth career game-winning drive.

HIGHEST PASSER RATING IN YEARS 1-2

From 2015–2016, Marcus Mariota completed 506 of 821 passes for 6,244 yards, 45 touchdowns and 19 interceptions, compiling a passer rating of 93.8.

Mariota's 93.8 passer rating set a franchise record for a player's firs two NFL seasons. Additionally, it ranks sixth in NFL history for a player's firs two NFL campaigns (minimum 500 attempts), trailing only Kurt Warner (107.9), Dan Marino (104.5), Nick Foles (101.0), Russell Wilson (100.6) and Ben Roethlisberger (98.3).

The top all-time NFL passer ratings in a player's first two NFL seasons (through 2016; minimum 500 attempts):

CONSECUTIVE GAMES W/ TWO TD PASSES

Over an eight-game stretch in 2016, Marcus Mariota completed at least two touchdown passes. In doing so, he broke Pro Football Hall of Famer Warren Moon's franchise record for the most consecutive games with multiple touchdown passes. Moon set the record in 1987.

Mariota became the second NFL quarterback in his firs or second year to record a streak of eight or more games in a season with two or more touchdown passes. The only previous player to accomplish the feat was Dan Marino (10) in 1984. Among all NFL players, Mariota's streak of games with multiple touchdown passes was the longest such streak since a nine-game run by Tom Brady to start the 2015 campaign.

Besides Mariota and Moon, only one other signal caller for the franchise, Billy Volek in 2004, had as many as fiv consecutive games with multiple touchdown passes with the team.

Quarterback Matt Cassel (6-4, 228) is in his 13th NFL season and his second campaign with the Titans. He was signed during the 2016 offseason to give the team an experienced, veteran leader to back up starting quarterback Marcus Mariota.

In his firs season with the Titans, Cassel appeared in four total games, including a win as the starter in the season final versus Houston (Jan. 1).

Cassel spent 11 previous seasons with the New England Patriots, Kansas City Chiefs, Minnesota Vikings, Buffalo Bills and Dallas Cowboys. His career totals prior to arriving in Tennessee included 17,003 passing yards, 101 touchdown passes, 77 interceptions and a passer rating of 79.3.

In 2015, Cassell played for the Buffalo Bills and the Dallas Cowboys. With the Cowboys, he started seven games and completed 119 of 204 passes for 1,276 yards, five touchdowns and seven interceptions.

Cassel began his NFL career in 2005 as a seventh-round draft pick of the Patriots. He spent four seasons there, including 2008, when he went 10-5 as a starter after Tom Brady suffered a season-ending knee injury in the opener. He passed for 3,693 yards and 21 touchdowns.

In 2009, he was traded to Kansas City, where he would spent the next four seasons. In 2010, he was named to the Pro Bowl after setting career highs with 27 touchdown passes and a 93.0 passer rating as the starting quarterback for the Chiefs. He helped guide the Chiefs to the AFC West title.

Cassel went to Minnesota in 2013 and started a total of nine contests with the Vikings over two years. The Vikings traded him to Buffalo in March 2015, and then the Bills dealt him to the Cowboys in September.

A native of Northridge, Calif., Cassel played in 25 career games at Southern Cal as a backup to Heisman Trophy winners Carson Palmer and Matt Leinart. While he was there, the Trojans won back-to-back national titles in 2003 and 2004.

2017 Highlights:

- > At Houston (10/1), played the entire second half in place of Marcus Mariota, who exited the game with a hamstring injury. He completed four of 10 passes for 21 yards with two interceptions.
- > At Miami (10/8), started for Marcus Mariota (hamstring) and completed 21 of 32 passes for 141 yards. He completed an 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Phillip Supernaw.

Tight end Delanie Walker (6-0, 248) is in his 12th NFL season and his fift campaign with the Titans. He was signed as an unrestricted free agent on March 14, 2013 after spending the firs seven years of his career with the San Francisco 49ers.

In Walker's time with the Titans, he has put his name among the top players in franchise history at his position. From 2013–2016, he totaled 282 receptions for 3,349 yards and 23 touchdowns. All three numbers put him second in club history behind only Frank Wycheck (482 receptions for 4,958 yards and 27 touchdowns).

Walker posted at least 60 receptions in each of his firs four seasons in Tennessee. Prior to his arrival, Wycheck was the only Titans/Oilers tight end to reach the plateau in a campaign. Walker also recorded the top three single-season receiving yardage totals in franchise history among tight ends from 2014–2016.

In 2016, Walker tied for the team lead with 65 catches for 800 yards and a career-high seven touchdowns, and he was named to his second consecutive Pro Bowl. He ranked sixth in receiving yards among NFL tight ends, and he was second in the AFC behind only Kansas City's Travis Kelce. Also among tight ends, his reception total tied for eighth in the NFL, and his touchdown total tied for third.

In 2015, Walker set new team records among tight ends with 94 receptions and 1,088 receiving yards. He broke his own receiving yardage record (890 in 2014) and Wycheck's reception record (70 in 1998 and 2000) for franchise tight ends. On the team's all-time single-season receptions list, regardless of position, Walker tied wide receiver Kendall Wright (94 receptions in 2013) for the fifth-highes total. Walker's 94 receptions tied Jason Witten (94 catches in 2009 and 2010) for the 10th-highest total in NFL history by a tight end.

In 2014, Walker's team-leading 890 receiving yards set a then-career high and set a new standard among Titans/Oilers tight ends, eclipsing Wycheck's 768 receiving yards in 1998. Walker's 63 receptions in 2014 at the time also led the team, set a career high, and tied for fourth in team annals.

Appearing in 15 games with 11 starts in 2013, he totaled 60 receptions for 571 yards and six touchdowns. He set then-career highs in all three categories. Also, he became the only tight end in franchise history other than Wycheck to reach 60 receptions in a single season. Wycheck accomplished the feat fiv times from 1997 through 2001, including 70 receptions in both 1998 and 2000 to establish the record for Titans/Oilers tight ends. Walker's six touchdown receptions tied for fourth place in franchise history among tight ends and were the most since Wycheck's six in 1996.

Prior to his arrival in Tennessee, the former sixth-round pick appeared in 99 career regular-season games with the 49ers (40 starts) and totaled 123 receptions for 1,465 yards (11.9 avg.) and eight touchdowns. A regular contributor on special teams, Walker posted 61 special teams tackles as well as 31 kickoff returns for 528 yards during his time in San Francisco.

In 2012, Walker played an integral role in the 49ers' second consecutive playoff season, as he teamed with Vernon Davis to form one of the NFL's top tight-end duos. He saw action in all 16 regular-season games (four starts) and set a career high with 344 yards and three touchdowns (matched career high) on 21 receptions. His average of 16.4 yards per catch was the highest among all NFL tight ends with 20 or more catches.

During the 2012 playoffs, he appeared in all three games and started in Super Bowl XLVII. In the Super Bowl, he recorded three receptions for 48 yards.

Walker was a sixth-round pick in the 2006 NFL Draft. As a rookie, he appeared in only seven games with one start. Then, in 2007, he played in all 16 contests and set a career high with 10 starts. It began a string of six seasons (2007-12) during which he missed a total of four games. In 2010, he set his career high with 29 receptions.

A native of Pomona, Calif., Walker spent two seasons (2002-03) at Mt. San Antonio (Calif.) Community College before joining the University of Central Missouri Mules for his fina two collegiate campaigns (2004-05). As a wide receiver at Central Missouri, he caught 113 passes for 1,347 yards in 20 games. The 49ers selected him with the 175th overall pick in the 2006 NFL Draft.

2017 Highlights:

- > Against Oakland (9/10), led the Titans with seven receptions and 76 receiving yards. Both totals were the best of Walker's career in a Week 1
- > At Jacksonville (9/17), from Jacksonville's one-yard line in the third quarter, he took a handoff from quarterback Marcus Mariota and scored his first career rushing touchdown. He also paced the club as a receiver with four catches for 61 yards.
- Against Seattle (9/24), posted 31 yards on three receptions.
- > At Houston (10/1), tied for the team lead with three receptions and led the team with 51 receiving yards. On a 21-yard reception in the second quarter, he reached the 5,000-yard career receiving mark. He became the eighth active NFL tight end to accomplish the feat, joining Jason Witten, Antonio Gates, Greg Olsen, Vernon Davis, Jimmy Graham, Rob Gronkowski and Benjamin Watson. He also became the 10th player in franchise history to reach 300 receptions with the team and the first since Nate Washington in 2014. Only one other tight end—Frank Wycheck (482)—reached 300 catches with the organization.
- > At Miami (10/8), caught three passes for 25 yards.
- > Against Indianapolis (10/16), totaled four receptions for 17 yards.

SEASON RECEPTIONS BY NFL TIGHT ENDS

In 2015, Titans tight end Delanie Walker set a new standard for franchise tight ends, accumulating 94 receptions.

Additionally, Walker became the ninth tight end in NFL history to reach 90 catches in a season. Previously, eight tight ends in history produced 16 total 90-catch seasons. Tony Gonzalez (five) Jason Witten (four) and Todd Christensen (two) all have multiple 90-reception campaigns. Dallas Clark, Jimmy Graham, Ben Coates, Martellus Bennett and Rob Gronkowski are the others to reach the mark.

Walker's 94 catches in a season put him in a tie for the 10th-most in NFL history, equaling Witten's 2009 and 2010 numbers.

As a rookie, Conklin started all 16 games at right tackle, becoming the team's firs player to start all 16 games at left or right tackle as a rookie since Michael Roos in 2005. He was a key cog in a line that helped the Titans finis 11th overall in offense, third in rushing and tied for seventh in fewest sacks allowed.

Conklin was named an alternate for the Pro Bowl and was named first team Associated Press All-Pro. He became the firs Titans player to receive first-tea All-Pro honors since running back Chris Johnson in 2009 and the firs Titans rookie to receive the honor since defensive end Jevon Kearse in 1999. Conklin joined Dallas guard Zack Martin (2014) as the only rookie offensive linemen since the AFL-NFL merger to be named first-tea AP All-Pro.

Conklin became the firs draft pick by new general manager Jon Robinson. The Titans, who initially had the firs pick in the draft but traded with the Los Angeles Rams back to the 15th spot, made a deal with the Cleveland Browns to jump up to the eighth spot to select Conklin. The Titans gave up a third-round pick and a second-rounder in 2017 in the trade and also got back a sixth-rounder.

The Michigan State product was a walk-on for the Spartans but went on to become the firs Michigan State offensive lineman to be selected in the firs round since 1989 (Tony Mandarich) and also the highest drafted Spartan since wide receiver Charles Rogers (No. 2) in 2003.

A native of Plainwell, Mich., Conklin was a three-year starter at left tackle for the Spartans. He started 38 of his 39 career games (35 at left tackle, three at right tackle) and recorded more than 235 career knockdowns. Three of his career starts at left tackle came in bowl games (2014 Rose, 2015 Cotton, 2016 College Football Playoff Semifina at Cotton Bowl).

In his fina season on campus, Conklin was named second-team All-American by The Associated Press and was on numerous All-Big Ten teams.

of his career in which he did not play. His season totals included 25 tackles, 1.5 sacks, one tackle for loss, 18 quarterback pressures and a pass defensed.

Through his firs fiv seasons, Klug (pronounced KLOOG) never missed a game. In 2015, he set a career high with 19 quarterback pressures and recorded four sacks, which was the second-highest total of his career. He added 26 tackles, one pass defensed and one forced fumble.

Prior to 2014, Klug saw time at defensive end and defensive tackle in the defense's previous 4-3 scheme.

As a rookie in 2011, Klug emerged as one of the top young pass-rushing defensive tackles in the NFL, compiling a team-high seven sacks. The total tied for sixth place in sacks among all NFL rookies, tied for fourth among all NFL defensive tackles, and led all rookie defensive tackles. Playing in all 16 games (one start), Klug also totaled 32 tackles, 10 quarterback pressures, two tackles for loss, four passes defensed and two forced fumbles.

During a four-year career at lowa, Klug appeared in 40 games with 26 consecutive starts to end his career. He tallied 140 tackles, 31 tackles for loss, 9.5 sacks, eight quarterback pressures, eight passes defensed, four forced fumbles and a fumble recovery.

As a senior in 2010, the Caledonia, Minn., native led the Hawkeyes with 13 tackles for loss and 5.5 sacks. He totaled 57 tackles en route to earning second-team All-Big Ten honors from the league's coaches and media. His honors also included the Roy J. Carver Most Valuable Player Award on defense, the Iron Hawk Award and the Hayden Fry "Extra Heartbeat" Award.

2017 Highlights:

- > Against Oakland (9/10), recorded three tackles.
- > At Jacksonville (9/17), posted one tackle.
- > At Houston (10/1), registered four tackles and one quarterback pressure.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), tallied a pair of tackles.

Derrick Morgan (6-3, 261) is in his eighth NFL season. He was selected by the Titans with the 16th overall draft choice in the 2010 NFL Draft, and in March 2015, he was re-signed as an unrestricted free agent.

Through the 2016 campaign, Morgan ranked 10th in franchise history with 36.5 career sacks.

In 2016, Morgan started 15 games and set a career high with nine sacks, which ranked sixth among AFC linebackers. He also led the team and set a career high with 56 quarterback pressures, more than doubling his previous career high of 27 quarterback pressures in 2014.

Morgan's 2015 campaign came to an end when he was placed on injured reserve on Dec. 17 with a shoulder injury. Prior to the injury, he appeared in 10 games and registered 34 tackles, 4.5 sacks, 13 quarterback pressures, six tackles for loss, two passes defensed and a forced fumble.

In 2014, Morgan produced at the time the biggest numbers of his career after switching from a 4-3 defensive end to a 3-4 outside linebacker. He started all 16 games for the second time in his career and led the squad with 6.5 sacks. His 27 quarterback pressures and 13 tackles for loss tied for the team lead and set new career highs. Also, his nine passes defensed and two forced fumbles set career highs.

In 2013, Morgan played in 15 games with 14 starts at defensive end and ranked second on the team with six sacks, eight quarterback pressures and three tackles for loss (tied). His totals also included 54 tackles, one pass defensed, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery.

In 2012, Morgan started all 16 games for the firs time in his career and led the Titans with 6.5 sacks and 19 quarterback pressures. He also set a career high with 68 tackles and added five tackles for loss, five passes defensed, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

Morgan played in 15 games in 2011 and led the Titans with 20 quarterback pressures. He added 47 tackles, 2.5 sacks, three tackles for loss and two passes defensed.

As a rookie, an ACL tear ended his season after only four games.

In three seasons at Georgia Tech, the Coatesville, Pa., native totaled 115 tackles, 19.5 sacks, 29.5 tackles for loss, fiv passes defensed, six fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles in 39 games. He started the fina 27 consecutive games of his college career at left defensive end. Prior to entering the NFL after his junior season, he was named the ACC Defensive Player of the Year with an ACC-high 12.5 sacks.

2017 Highlights:

- > Against Oakland (9/10), totaled four tackles, one sack, a team-high two tackles for loss and a team-high five quarterback pressures. In the second quarter, he sacked Derek Carr for a seven-yard loss to help force a punt.
- > At Jacksonville (9/17), totaled four tackles, one sack and one pass defensed. He recorded his second consecutive game with a sack, dropping Blake Bortles for a five-yard loss on third down in the third quarter. The sack tied Morgan with former Titans defensive end Kyle Vanden Bosch (38.5) for ninth on the team's all-time sack list.
- > Against Seattle (9/24), registered three tackles and seven quarterback pressures.
- ➤ At Houston (10/1), led the defense with five quarterback pressures and added two tackles and a sack. In the fourth quarter, he sacked Texans quarterback Tom Savage for an eight-yard loss. The play moved him ahead of former defensive end Kyle Vanden Bosch (38.5 career sacks) for ninth place on the team's all-time sack list.
- At Miami (10/8), registered two tackles and three quarterback pressures.
- > Against Indianapolis (10/16), posted one tackle.

#98 · OLB BRIAN ORAKPO

Outside linebacker Brian Orakpo (6-4, 257) completed his eighth NFL season and his second campaign with the Titans in 2016. He was signed as an unrestricted free agent on March 13, 2015.

In his firs two years in Tennessee, Orakpo was one of two Titans (DaQuan Jones) to start all 32 games, and he led the team over that period with a total of 17.5 sacks. His teammates voted him a defensive captain in both 2015 and 2016.

In 2016, he led the defense with 10.5 sacks, the second-highest total of his career. He ranked second on the team with a career-high 49 quarterback pressures and added 55 tackles, four tackles for loss, fiv passes defensed and one forced fumble. At the conclusion of the year, he was named to his fourth career Pro Bowl (firs with the Titans).

In 2015, Orakpo started all 16 games for the firs time since 2011. His seven sacks tied for the team lead, and he led the squad with 37 quarter-back pressures and 12 tackles for loss.

Orakpo spent the previous six years as a member of the Washington Redskins, who selected him in the firs round (13th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft. During his time in Washington, Orakpo was named to the Pro Bowl three times (2009, 2010 and 2013). His career totals in Washington included 40 sacks, 255 tackles, one interception, 17 passes defensed, six forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries in 71 starts. He recorded eight multi-sack games.

As a rookie in 2009, he earned Pro Bowl honors and set a Redskins rookie record with 11 sacks, which also led all NFL rookies.

For each of his firs three seasons in Washington, Orakpo led or tied for the team lead in sacks, but he missed most of the 2012 and 2014 seasons with pectoral injuries.

In 2013, he earned his third Pro Bowl selection, as he registered 10 sacks, 60 tackles, one interception return for touchdown, 18 quarterback hits. 16 tackles for loss and two fumble recoveries.

A native of Houston, Texas, Orakpo was drafted by the Redskins out of the University of Texas, where he finishe his college career with 22 sacks. He was as a multiple award winner in college, including the Nagurski (nation's top defensive player), Lombardi (nation's top lineman) and the Hendricks (nation's top defensive end). He was a part of the Texas team that won the National Title at the conclusion of the 2005 season.

2017 Highlights:

- ➤ Against Oakland (9/10), registered five tackles, one quarterback pressure, one forced fumble and one pass defensed.
- > At Jacksonville (9/17), totaled four tackles, one sack, one forced fumble and four quarterback pressures. In the second quarter, he recorded a stripsack against Jaguars quarterback Blake Bortles, and the fumble was recovered by linebacker Erik Walden. Orakpo was credited with his first sack of the season, and the forced fumble was the ninth of his career.
- > Against Seattle (9/24), recorded two tackles, one tackle for loss, a team-high 10 quarterback pressures and one pass defensed.
- > At Houston (10/1), recorded five tackles and four quarterback pressures
- ➤ At Miami (10/8), registered three tackles, including one tackle for loss, and tied for the team lead with four quarterback pressures.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), posted one tackle.

Linebacker Avery Williamson (6-1, 246) is in his fourth NFL season in 2016. He was selected by the Titans in the fift round (151st overall) of the 2014 NFL Draft.

During his firs three campaigns, Williamson accumulated a team-high 393 tackles, increasing his total from 107 tackles as a rookie, to 137 tackles in 2015, and finall to 149 stops in 2016. The next closest three-year tackle total to his during that time was 332 (Wesley Woodyard).

In 2016, Williamson started all 16 games for the firs time in his career, and his 149 tackles were the most by a member of the Titans since Stephen Tulloch's 169 stops in 2010. In addition, he posted two sacks, six tackles for loss, nine quarterback pressures, one interception and one forced fumble.

Williamson started 15 games in 2015 and led the team in tackles for the firs time. He became the firs defender in the "Titans era" (1999–present) to begin his career with two consecutive 100-tackle seasons. His 2015 statistics also included 3.5 sacks, 13 quarterback pressures and an interception.

In 2014, Williamson had one of the most productive seasons of any Titans defensive rookie in recent memory. Even though he did not record his firs start until Week 5, he produced 107 tackles to rank third on the team in 2014 and record the highest tackle total by a rookie in the "Titans era" (1999–present). He added three sacks, eight quarterback pressures, eight tackles for loss, four passes defensed, two fumble recoveries and seven stops on special teams.

During a four-year career at Kentucky, Williamson played in 49 games with 21 starts. He finishe his career with 296 total tackles, including double-digit tackles in 12 career contests. After primarily serving on special teams in his firs two years, he went over the 100-tackle mark as a junior and senior.

As a senior in 2013, he was a team captain and led the squad in tackles for the second consecutive season. His 102 tackles tied for fourth place in the SEC, and he was named All-SEC second team by Associated Press.

The Milan, Tenn., native grew up as a Titans fan.

2017 Highlights:

- > Against Oakland (9/10), tied for the team lead with 10 tackles. He reached 400 career tackles in the contest.
- > At Jacksonville (9/17), finished second on the team with nine tackles and batted a Blake Bortles pass that was then intercepted by teammate Curtis Riley.

- Against Seattle (9/24), tallied eight tackles in his 50th career game.
- At Houston (10/1), posted eight tackles and a quarterback pressure.
- At Miami (10/8), led the team with 10 tackles.
- > Against Indianapolis (10/16), tallied six tackles and a forced fumble. In the third quarter, he and Wesley Woodyard combined to force a turnover. On a reception by tight end Jack Dovle, he stripped the ball to record his second career forced fumble (first of 2017), and Woodyard recovered for the Titans.

Cornerback Adoree' Jackson (5-11, 185) was selected by the Titans with the 18th overall pick in the firs round of the 2017 NFL Draft.

In three seasons at Southern California, Jackson appeared in 39 games with 36 starts. Although he was a starter at cornerback, he was a three-way threat, contributing as a returner and on offense. He scored 15 total touchdowns during his career in four different ways: via reception (6), interception (1), punt return (4) and kickoff return (4).

Jackson's career defensive totals with the Trojans included 139 tackles, 29 passes defensed, six interceptions, six stops for loss, three fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles.

As a return specialist, Jackson notched 79 kickoff returns for 2,141 yards with four touchdowns and 46 punt returns for 578 yards with four touchdowns. He tied two NCAA records with his eight career touchdowns on kick/punt returns and nine touchdowns on all runbacks. He also set Southern California career records for kickoff returns and kickoff return yards.

As a junior in 2016, Jackson was awarded the Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back. Additionally, he was a consensus All-American, the 2016 Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year, a team captain and the team MVP (the firs Trojan to repeat as team MVP since 2004-05), and he earned first-tea All-Pac-12 honors at two different positions (defensive back and return specialist). He started all 13 games at cornerback and led the team with fiv interceptions, 11 passes defensed and two fumble recoveries. He scored twice on kickoff returns, twice on punt returns and once on offense.

A native of East St. Louis, Ill., Jackson also made his name as a world-class track athlete. He was a long jumper and sprinter on USC's track team in 2015 and 2016, winning the Pac-12 outdoor long jump title both years (and placing second in the Pac-12 100 meters in 2016) and earning All-American status both years after twice placing fift in the NCAA long jump. He also placed 10th in the long jump in the U.S. Olympic Trials.

2017 Highlights:

- > Against Oakland (9/10), started in his NFL regular season debut and posted five tackles and a team-high two passes defensed. He also returned a kickoff 35 yards and a punt five yards.
- ➤ At Jacksonville (9/17), registered six tackles, one tackle for loss and one pass defensed. In the third quarter, he returned a punt 46 yards to help set up a Titans touchdown two plays later. It was the longest punt return for the Titans since Dexter McCluster's 48-yard return against the Houston Texans on Oct. 26, 2014. He totaled two punt returns for 55 yards.
- ➤ Against Seattle (9/24), posted five tackles and two passes defensed on defense and returned five punts for 51 yards (10.2 avg.), including a 22-yard punt. He added two kickoff returns for 27 yards.
- > At Houston (10/1), registered three tackles and one pass defensed and added 71 yards on three kickoff returns. In the fourth quarter, he returned a kickoff 48 yards, which was the team's longest kickoff return since Leon Washington recorded a 52-yarder against the Indianapolis Colts on Dec. 28, 2014.

Punter Brett Kern (6-2, 214) is in his 10th NFL season and his eighth full campaign with the Titans in 2016. He was claimed off waivers by the Titans during the 2009 season.

During his time in Tennessee, Kern has placed his name at the top of most of the franchise's leaderboards at his position. At the end of the 2016 campaign, he ranked as the team's all-time career 39.9). He punted 612 times in a Titans uniform from 2009–2016, second all-time for the franchise behind Craig Hentrich's 861 punts. Kern owns the top fiv net punting seasons in franchise history and seven of the team's top 10 net punting seasons.

In 2016, Kern punted 77 times for a 44.2-yard gross average and a 38.6-yard net average. He placed 41.6 percent of his punts inside the opponent's 20-yard line (32 of 77), which ranked second in his career (42.2 in 2009).

In 2015, Kern continued his annual assault on the team's all-time punting records and accomplished a first-of-its-kin NFL feat, becoming the firs punter in league history to record 80 or more punts, a net average of 40 yards, and one or zero touchbacks in a single season. His season totals included 88 punts (tied for fift place in franchise history), a 47.4-yard gross average (second in franchise history), a 40.3 net average (third in franchise history), a career-high 34 punts inside the 20 (third in franchise history) and only one touchback (career low).

In 2014, Kern launched a career-high 88 total punts for a gross average of 46.8 yards and a net average of 40.8 yards, which broke his own single-season team record (40.4-yard net average in 2012).

Kern produced one of the best punting seasons in team history in 2012. He set franchise records with a gross punting average of 47.6 yards and a net punting average of 40.4 yards (he broke the mark in 2014).

Kern's 2011 statistics included 86 punts for a gross average of 43.6 yards. His net average of 39.4 yards set a then-career high and then-franchise record, narrowly beating out Craig Hentrich's previous franchise record of 39.2 net yards per punt in 1998.

Kern was claimed by the Titans off waivers from the Denver Broncos on Oct. 27, 2009. He spent the entire 2008 season and the firs six games of 2009 campaign in Denver, totaling 73 punts and a 46.5-yard average in 22 games with the Broncos.

In 2008, Kern ranked fift in the league with a 46.7-yard punting average that marked the third-best season total by a Bronco in club history. At the time, his punting average was the best in NFL history by a rookie. He was named to the All-Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly/PFWA and The Sporting News.

词 2017 Regular Season Week 7

The Grand Island, N.Y., native was originally signed by the Broncos as a rookie free agent on April 28, 2008, following four seasons at the Universitiy of Toledo.

2017 Highlights:

- Against Oakland (9/10), averaged 47.0 gross yards (40.8 net) on four punts with two punts placed inside the 20.
- ➤ At Jacksonville (9/17), averaged 41.7 gross yards (40.3 net) on three
- > Against Seattle (9/24), punted six times for an average of 56.8 yards per punt, which set a new career high for the 10th-year veteran and ranked fourth in franchise history (minimum four punts). His previous high was a 56.0-yard average against the Oakland Raiders on Nov. 23, 2008, when he was a member of the Denver Broncos. Kern's net average against the Seahawks was 48.2 yards, which ranked eighth in franchise history. He placed two of his punts inside the 20.
- > At Houston (10/1), for the second consecutive week, had a net punting average that ranked in the top 10 in franchise history for a single game performance (minimum four punts). He punted fiv times for a gross average of 49.2 yards and a net average of 48.4 yards with one punt placed inside the 20. The net average ranked eighth in franchise history.
- > At Miami (10/8), punted 10 times for 549 yards for an average of 54.9 yards per attempt, the sixth-highest single-game gross average in franchise history. His net punting average of 50.2 set a career high and set the franchise's single-game record, topping Greg Montgomery's previous mark of a 49.8-yard net average against the San Diego Chargers on Sept. 19, 1993 (statistic tracked since 1976). It gave him three of the franchise's top 10 single-game net averages in a three-week span. Kern became the firs NFL player to punt at least 10 times and finis a game with a net punting average of at least 50 yards. His 10 punts tied his career high and marked the 14th time in franchise history a player had 10 or more punts in a game. He placed four punts inside the 20, including one that pinned Miami on its three-yard line. In the third quarter, with the line of scrimmage at the Tennessee one-yard line, he unleashed a 71-yard punt, his longest since a 71-varder at Houston on Oct. 2, 2016.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), played in his 150th career game and recorded one punt for 44 yards, which he placed inside the 20-yard line.

Kicker Ryan Succop (6-2, 218) is in his ninth NFL season and his fourth campaign with the Titans. He was signed by the Titans as a free agent on Sept. 1, 2014.

In 2016, Succop made 22 of his 24 fiel goal attempts, with his only misses coming from 51 and 58 yards. His 91.7 percent rate was the best single-season performance of his career and the third-best percentage in franchise history (92.3 by Rob Bironas in 2010 and 92.3 by Al Del Greco in 1998). Succop's percentage ranked third in the NFL in 2016 behind only Justin Tucker (97.4) and Matt Bryant (91.9). Succop finishe 2016 with a franchise-record streak of 36 successful fiel goals from inside 50 yards, dating back to 2014. Del Greco previously held the team record with 24 consecutive made fiel goals from inside 50

During his second season in Tennessee, Succop connected on 14 of his 16 fiel goal attempts and 29 of his 31 extra point attempts to total 71 points. His 87.5 percent success rate on fiel goals set a personal best and ranked as the sixth-highest figur in franchise history.

In 2014, he set a then-career high by making 86.4 percent of his fiel goal attempts. He was 19-of-22 and also connected on all 27 of his extra point attempts.

Succop's previous fiv seasons were spent with the Kansas City Chiefs, who chose him with the last pick of the 2009 NFL Draft (256th over-

In his career with the Chiefs, he posted four 100-point seasons and made 81.0 percent (119-147) of his fiel goal attempts. Over his fina three years there (2011-13), 52 percent of his kickoffs resulted in touchbacks, a number that ranked 11th in the NFL during that span.

In 2013, he tallied career highs for points (118) and touchbacks (47). He also posted the second-best percentage of his career for fiel goals made inside of 50 yards, connecting on 87.5 percent (21-24) of those attempts. During his Chiefs career, he produced fiv game-winning kicks.

A native of Hickory, N.C., Succop played in 50 games for the University of South Carolina Gamecocks, hitting 49 of 69 fiel goals (71.0%) and converting 104 of 106 PATs. His 251 points made up the second-highest total in school history.

뉷 2017 Regular Season Week 7

2017 Highlights:

- ➤ Against Oakland (9/10), made three of four fiel goal attempts, connecting from 23, 26 and 52 yards and missing from 52 yards. With his 52-yard miss, he had a streak of 19 successful fiel goals of any distance snapped. The 19-kick streak tied for the fifth-longes streak in franchise history, only one off the club record of 20 (accomplished three times by Rob Bironas and once by Al Del Greco).
- > At Jacksonville (9/17), made a 40-yard fiel goal in the firs quarter, a 41-yard fiel goal in the second quarter and a 26-yard fiel goal in the third quarter. He recorded two consecutive games with at least three fiel goals for the firs time since he was a member of the Kansas City Chiefs in 2013 (three fiel goals against Cleveland on Oct. 27 and three at Buffalo on Nov. 3).
- > Against Seattle (9/24), made all four of his fiel goal attempts from 24, 37, 47 and 35 yards. His 10 fiel goals in the firs three games made up the highest number of fiel goals he has made in the firs three games of a season during his nine years in the NFL. It also ranked as the most by any player in franchise history in the firs three weeks of a season, topping Al Del Greco's previous benchmark of eight fiel goals in the firs three weeks of 1996. He also set a career high with seven touchbacks on kickoffs (seven attempts), the most by a Titans/Oilers player in a single game from 1991–2017.
- > At Houston (10/1), made both extra point attempts.
- > At Miami (10/8), made a 45-yard fiel goal in the second quarter.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), with a 48-yard fiel goal in the firs guarter, he set a new NFL record by making his 47th consecutive fiel goal from inside 50 yards. He added four more fiel goals in the game to extend the streak to 51 consecutive fiel goals from inside 50 yards. He began the streak on Dec. 14, 2014. The previous NFL record of 46 straight fiel goals from inside 50 yards was set by Atlanta Falcons kicker Matt Bryant from 2013-2015. Against the Colts, he made all fiv of his fiel goal attempts (48, 32, 40, 48 and 23 yards) to tie for the second-highest total of his career, and he became only the fourth player in franchise history to make at least fiv fiel goals in a game. He joined Rob Bironas (NFL record of eight fiel goals in a game on Oct. 21, 2007), Al Del Greco (fiv on Dec. 3, 2000) and Roy Gerela (fiv on Sept. 28, 1969). With fiv fiel goals and three extra points, he totaled 18 points in the contest. Only fiv players in franchise history (Billy Cannon, Rob Bironas, George Blanda, Earl Campbell and Lorenzo White) previously scored more than 18 points in a game (several scored 18 points). With his firs fiel goal of the game, he passed Charlie Hennigan (306 points) for 10th place on the franchise's all-time scoring list.

He helped Brett Kern become the first punter in league history to record 80 or more punts, a net average of 40 yards, and one or zero touchbacks in a single season. He also served as the long snapper for kicker Ryan Succop, who went 14-of-16 and whose 87.5 percent success rate on field goals was the sixth-best in franchise
- ➤ In 2014, he played in all 16 games for the third consecutive year and tied for third on the team with a career-high 10 special teams tackles. He helped Brett Kern set a new team record for single-season net punting average.
- > In 2013, Brinkley saw action in all 16 games and posted six special
- ➤ In 2012, his consistency helped Brett Kern set the franchise records for both gross and net punting average in 2012.
- The Kearney, Mo., native spent four seasons as Missouri's long snapper after joining the team as a preferred walk-on. Appeared in 50 career games during his time at Missouri.

TITANS TIDBITS

LB DAREN BATES

> For the My Cause, My Cleats campaign in 2016, Bates wore specially designed cleats featuring the words "American Heart Association." Bates was raising awareness for the organization's life-saving mission. His mother, Weslyn Bates, was a heart transplant recipient and lived some wonderful years following her surgery. She sadly passed away in 2015 at the age of 56.

LS BEAU BRINKLEY

- > Brinkley's father, Mike, was an All-American defensive end and long snapper at Missouri Valley College. Beau learned to long snap when he was just seven years old.
- > Brinkley raced four-wheelers in the Extreme Dirt Track Racing Series while growing up in Missouri. He traveled the country competing in both motor cross and flat track competitions and won a flat track regional title in 2005.
- ➤ In June 2015, Brinkley participated in the Nashville Sports Council Golf Tournament at Gaylord Springs Golf Course. On the par-3 eighth hole, he sunk a hole-in-one to win a barrel of Jack Daniel's whiskey.

LB JAYON BROWN

- ➤ He went to the same California high school, Long Beach Poly, as new Titans teammate Jurrell Casey. Brown's older brother, Juwan, was Jurrell's teammate there
- > Former Long Beach Poly and New England Patriots star Willie McGinest is a close friend of the Brown family.
- > He has two older brothers who played college football. Jason played linebacker at Idaho, while Juwuan was a defensive lineman at Southern Oregon.

- > Byard credits his mother, Artina Stanley, for much of his success. Following a divorce when Byard was in ninth grade, his mother moved with the children from Philadelphia to Atlanta. Although it was a financial struggle, Stanley worked long hours to make sure her children received what they needed. Byard claims he and his older brother "had to grow up really fast" as they helped their mother with taking care of the younger kids in the family. > The Titans had an inside track in their scouting of Byard. Titans general manager Jon Robinson received glowing reports on Byard from his friend
- and MTSU defensive coordinator Steve Ellis. When Robinson was a linebackers coach at Nicholls State, Ellis was one of his pupils, and the two remained close through the years. Additionally, Patrick Callaway, a newly-hired scouting assistant for the Titans, was Byard's high school teammate. > Byard says his football role models are Ed Reed, Brian Dawkins and
- Troy Polamalu.
- > Byard has three brothers and three sisters and is the second oldest of the group.

OLB JOSH CARRAWAY

- Carraway is interested in raising more awareness for heart disease. His mother, Valerie Taylor, passed away from the disease when Josh was just seven years old.
- Carraway's father, Glenn, was on the first basketball team at UT San Antonio and he played pro ball briefly in Mexico. Josh grew up playing basketball and is a huge fan of Dallas Mavericks legend Dirk Nowitzki.

DT JURRELL CASEY

- Casey was voted the 2016 Tennessee Titans Walter Payton Man of the Year, which recognizes players for excellence on and off the field. Casey is a fixture at Tennessee Titans community events and also serves as the spokesperson for United Way of Metropolitan Nashville. In 2016, Casey and his wife, Ryann, established The Casey Fund, a non-profit dedicated to raising money for established re-entry programs, inner-city youth programs, mentoring and halfway houses. Then, prior to Thanksgiving, the Caseys hosted a food giveaway for 200 underprivileged families in the Nashville area. Casey also hosts a free youth football skills camp for linemen in his hometown of Long Beach, Calif.
- > More information about The Casey Fund is available online at thejurrellcasey.com/the-casey-fund.
- Casey has a strong partnership with Project Return Tennessee.
- > Family members and friends call him "Tut-Tut," a nickname he earned from his aunt as a small child because she said he walked like a turtle.

> In 2015, Cyprien started the CypSquad ARY Foundation which benefits different programs for at-risk youth in the South Florida area

WR COREY DAVIS

- ➤ Davis and his six siblings survived a tough economic upbringing in Wheaton, III. While he has always maintained a loving relationship with his parents, Olasheni Timson and Michelle Davis, he made the decision as a high school junior to move into the home of Robin and Dan Graham, who became his legal guardians. Dan, Corey Davis' youth football coach, was an offensive lineman for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. His son, Ryan Graham, played youth and high school football with Davis and currently plays quarterback at Northern Illinois.
- ➤ His brother, Titus, played football at Central Michigan and was signed by the Chargers as a rookie free agent in 2015. Titus also spent time with the Jets and Bills before signing with the Bears during the 2017 offseason.

 ➤ One of Davis' favorite quotes is "Never die easy" by Walter Payton, who

WR ERIC DECKER

- ➤ Decker and his wife, Jessie, are co-founders of the Decker's Dogs Foundation. Decker's Dogs aims to rescue, care and train service dogs for military veterans returning home with disabilities. For more information on the foundation, please visit ejdeckerfoundation.com.
- > Eric and Jessie have teamed up with STOMP Out Bullying to educate students, teachers and parents about the dangers of bullying.
- ➤ Decker played outfield for the Minnesota Golden Gophers' baseball team and was drafted twice in the Major League Baseball Draft—by the Milwaukee Brewers in 2008 (38th round) and the Minnesota Twins in 2009 (27th round).

OLB KEVIN DODD

➤ Dodd says that his grandmother Mamae Charles served as an inspiration in his life and her guidance in the early years helped him reach his football dreams. She passed away when he was in sixth grade and to this day he plays to honor her life.

WR HARRY DOUGLAS

- > Douglas' brother, Toney, is an eight-year NBA veteran. Toney was originally drafted by the L.A. Lakers as the 29th overall pick in the 2009 NBA Draft and has played for New York, Houston, Miami, Golden State, Sacramento, New Orleans and Memphis. Harry tries to attend as many of Toney's games as possible.
- > In his spare time, he enjoys date nights with his wife, Kierra; bowling; traveling; discovering new restaurants; watching movies; playing cards; and keeping his niece, nephew and godchildren.

RB DAVID FLUELLEN

> Fluellen's favorite personal moment in sports growing up was his first touchdown when he was eight years old. He strip-sacked the quarterback, picked up the fumble and ran it in.

FB JALSTON FOWLER

- > Fowler lists his mother, Dana, as the person that inspires him the most. When his brother, Joe, was accidentally shot and killed at a friend's house in 2007, she stayed strong and kept the family together.
- > Fowler's nickname is "Nudie." His father gave it to him as a baby becuase he was always running around the house naked. Fowler has nicknamed his son, Jalston Jr., "Toodie."

RB DERRICK HENRY

- ➤ In high school, Henry broke the 51-year-old national high school rushing record with 12,124 yards after compiling 4,261 rushing yards as a senior.
- ➤ Henry says his grandmother Gladys Henry has served as a key inspirational piece during his career. He has a portrait tattoo of her on his chest.
- > Henry has been growing out his hair since he was in elementary school.

CB ADOREE' JACKSON

- > Jackson was a long jumper and sprinter on USC's track team in the springs of 2015 and 2016, winning the Pac-12 outdoor long jump title both years (and placing second in the Pac-12 100 meters in 2016) and earning All-American status both years after twice placing fifth in the NCAA long jump. He also placed 10th in the long jump in the U.S. Olympic Trials.
- > Jackson lists his parents as the people that inspire him the most. "They've always steered me in the right direction. All of their experiences and guidance helped get me where I'm at." Adoree's mother, Vianca, is an amazing inspiration having survived breast cancer.
- > Jackson is a Reese's Peanut Butter Cups enthusiast. He names creator Harry Burnett Reese as a historical person he would have loved to meet. "He's a genius. That's by far and away my favorite candy. I eat that like it ain't nothing."

WR DARIUS JENNINGS

- > Jennings helps out with "Next One Up," an organization helping inner city high school athletes in his hometown of Baltimore, Md.
- ➤ He worked as a camp counselor at his alma mater The Gilman (Md.) School, helping middle school children with classwork and activities.

DL AUSTIN JOHNSON

- > When Johnson was drafted by the Titans, he became a teammate once again of DaQuan Jones, a former Penn State defensive lineman who was drafted by the Titans in 2014. The two remained close, and Jones was among Johnson's family and friends surrounding him on draft night.
- ➤ Johnson was a broadcast journalism major at Penn State.
- > The son of Austin and Tammy Johnson, he has two older sisters, Brandi and Erika, and one younger sister, Kennedy. Kennedy is a forward on the Michigan State women's basketball team.

C BEN JONES

- > Jones switched from jersey #61 to #60 prior to his senior season at Georgia, to honor his father, Steve, a former collegiate star, who was killed in a helicopter crash when he was 10 years old.
- > Jones' pregame ritual consists of walking barefoot on the field "to get a feel for the turf." The routine began before one game with his brother in high school and after enjoying success that night, it has continued ever since
- > When he was 10 years old, Jones suffered a blow to the head with a baseball bat. The impact caused a blood clot to develop on his brain and fractured his skull. The injury kept him out of all athletic activity for a year,

TITANS TIDBITS: THE BEST OF TITANS OFF-THE-FIELD HIGHLIGHTS

proving to be a challenging time for an active and athletic boy. Although it was a tough period in his life, Ben says this time turned him into the man he is today. As soon as he was cleared for activities, Jones threw himself into being the best athlete he could be.

> During the 2017 offseason, Jones and his wife, Alex, hosted the Ben Jones Celebrity Clay Shoot to benefit The Ronald McDonald House in Nashville. The event raised $85,000. Ben and Alex have a passion for helping children and have seen first-hand the blessings provided by the Ronald McDonald House to friends and family with sick children.

> Jones' brother, Clay, played baseball for the University of Alabama and then was drafted by the Detroit Tigers.

DL DaQUAN JONES

a 2017 Regular Season Week 7

- > Jones majored in Criminology at Penn State and spent a portion of his 2013 summer as an intern observing the Spring Township Police Department near State College.
- > Jones entered the Penn State program after being rated the second-best offensive lineman in the nation.
- > He lists his father, Steve, as the most inspirational person in his life. Steve raised DaQuan as a single father and one of his father's greatest traits is that he works extremely hard in everything he does. Steve works as an executive chef at Cornell University.
- > Jones is in the process of launching his own non-profit organization called "Create Your Legacy."

G/T DENNIS KELLY

- > Kelly's brother, Tim, played football at Eastern Illinois and is currently an offensive quality control coach for the Houston Texans.
- > Kelly's favorite football player growing up was former Titans great Jevon Kearse.
- > Kelly claims that the biggest influence on his life and career has been his entire family. "We're a Southside [Chicago] Irish family, so we share a really tight bond and they've inspired me to get to where I am today."
- > Kelly went back to school during the 2014 offseason to earn his degree in organizational leadership from Purdue.
- > He is an avid professional wrestling fan that does not let the opportunity pass him by whenever a live WWE show is in town. He lists the Undertaker as the one person in the world he would like to have dinner with.

P BRETT KERN

- > Kern's father, Cal, is a former professional soccer goalie.
- ➤ Kern is an avid golfer that sports a +1 handicap. He picked the game up late in his high school years and caddied for three summers at Inverness Golf Club while in college. The course is located in Toledo, Ohio, and has hosted PGA and NCAA Championships. In 2011, Kern competed in The Vinny, a local golf fundraising tournament hosted by singers Vince Gill and Amy Grant, and finished fourth in the event.

- > Lewan has a mustache tattooed on his right index finger and a stick figure tattooed on the outside edge of his right hand that he calls his "right-hand man."
- > One of Lewan's close friends is Carolina Panthers defensive end Craig Roh. The two played together as high school seniors and then went to Michigan at the same time.
- ➤ At the 2014 NFL Scouting Combine, Lewan ran the 40-yard dash in 4.87 seconds, beating all other offensive linemen in his class and clocking the fourth-fastest time among offensive linemen from 2010-14. He also ranked among the top offensive linemen at the 2014 combine in the broad jump (first at nine feet, nine inches), vertical jump (tied for third at 30.5 inches) and three-cone drill (fourth at 7.39 seconds).

QB MARCUS MARIOTA

- In 2016, Mariota launched of his Motiv8 Foundation, which serves the communities of Middle Tennessee, Eugene and Honolulu. The Foundation was a major sponsor in the inaugural Polynesian Bowl. The game featured the top players in the nation including 15 of the top 16 Polynesian players in the ESPN 300. The non-profit also participated with First Hawaii Bank's bobble head charity fundraiser that netted the Motiv8 Foundation $115,000 for local programs in Hawaii. The Foundation held its inaugural golf tournament at Oahu Country Club raising money for local programs and sold out in just four days. The Foundation also held its inaugural golf tournament in Oregon at the Springfield Golf Club with all monies raised going to programs in Oregon.
- He is the oldest son of Toa and Alana Mariota. His younger brother, Matthew, is a tight end at Oregon.
- Mariota credits much of his athletic success to playing soccer in his youth. By the time he was eight years old, he was wearing a soccer jersey with the number 8, and he has kept the jersey number ever since then.
- During his time in Eugene, Ore., Mariota became a fixture at the Boys and Girls Club of Emerald Valley, spending time on a weekly basis with kids at the center. For his efforts in the community, he was awarded with the inaugural Play It Forward Award at the 63rd Annual Oregon Sports Awards in June 2015.

WR RISHARD MATTHEWS

- ➤ Matthews' father, Andre, is a retired U.S. Marine Corps master sergeant.
 ➤ In October 2015, Matthews' half-brother Christopher Ruiz was killed while serving as a retired Marine working as a private defense contractor in Afghanistan. Ruiz served in the Marines for 10 years, and served overseas in Operation Iraqi Freedom. He was in Afghanistan training locals to fight for their country, when he was killed. Ruiz was one of six U.S. Airmen and five other civilian contractors killed in the crash of an Air Force C-130 as it tried to put down at the Jalalabad Airfield on Oct. 2.
- > Matthews wears a bracelet with the words "Forever by my side." It has his fallen brother's name on it, along with the Marines logo. He wears the bracelet every day.

CB BRICE McCAIN

➤ In 2014, McCain played with the Pittsburgh Steelers and worked with current Titans defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau. McCain kept his notes from playing in LeBeau's defense and referenced them when making the transition to Tennessee.

OLB DERRICK MORGAN

- > Morgan is a 2016 graduate of the University of Miami's Executive MBA for Artists and Athletes program.
- Morgan helped deliver his daughter at home in April 2015.
- > Morgan credits his mother, Pamela Sweigart, as his primary role model in life. He also says that she should be credited with his football success, since, even as a single parent, she managed to take him to every practice and every game during his youth.

RB DeMARCO MURRAY

- ➤ Murray led his high school basketball team to a 2005 state title. He was considered a top-30 basketball recruit in the state as well.
- > He started the DeMarco Murray Foundation with the mission to provide families with seriously and chronically ill children with daily encouragement and life changing experiences. More information is available at DeMarcoMurray.com.

> Murray hosted his first youth football camp in Middle Tennessee in June 2016, welcoming 150 players to the two-day event at D1 Sports Training in Franklin.

OLB BRIAN ORAKPO

- > Orakpo annually hosts The Brian Orakpo Leukemia Golf Classic to raise money for the National Capital Area Chapter of the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.
- > Orakpo is a good friend with former Titans safety Michael Griffin. The two played together for three seasons at the University of Texas and Griffin was an integral part in helping recruit Orakpo to Nashville.

LB NATE PALMER

- > Palmer was the high school basketball teammate of current N.Y. Knicks point guard Derrick Rose for two seasons.
- > Palmer names his father, Nathan Sr., as the biggest influence on him as he never made excuses and successfully started his own trucking business in Chicago.
- > During college, Palmer held summer jobs at the Boys and Girls Club in Champaign and later as a busboy and food expediter at the Bloomington (III.) Country Club.

CB KALAN REED

- > The Titans selected Reed with the 253rd pick in the draft making him "Mr. Irrelevant," an unofficial title bestowed upon the last person selected in the NFL Draft.
- > Reed lived in Nashville from the time he was two-years old until he was six. He started playing football in Antioch, Tenn., with the Flatrock Vols pee-wee team and played during halftime of a Titans game when he was five-years old.
- > Reed's cousin, Maurice Kelly, played safety with the Seattle Seahawks and is currently the VP of Player Development for the organization. Reed's mother, Keyaschei, once worked in the Memphis Grizzlies ticket office.

DB CURTIS RILEY

> While out of college in 2011, Riley worked at Family Dollar in Orlando to help his mother pay the bills.

CB LOGAN RYAN

- > While taking wedding photos in the St. Lucian town of Soufriere, Logan and his wife, Ashley, came across a bunch of stray dogs. One dog in particular followed them through the streets and impacted the couple. When the newlyweds flew back home, they were determined to help in any way possible. The couple donated money to @helpaws, a St. Lucian-based dog rescue, and encouraged all friends and family that instead giving wedding gifts to make donations. The company later reached out and based on a picture the couple posted on social media, they found the particular dog, named her Logan, and part of the donation paid for her spay.
- ➤ During the 2017 offseason, Ryan and N.Y. Giants cornerback Eli Apple hosted their first #ThursdayNightLights Football Camp on June 29. The free event for ages 8-18 was funded by the two Eastern High School grads. The night was filled with football, celebrity guests, music, and took place on the high school field where both players put in countless hours to get to where they are today.
- > In June 2017, Ryan surprised his big brother, Jordan, by paying off his student loans for his 29th birthday. Logan cut a check for $82,000 to the American Education Services to cover Jordan's loans from earning his engineering degree from Drexel University. "My man got accepted to college, graduated with honors, and now works as an engineer. He did everything the right way and still lived with a ridiculous amount of student loan debt. The system is broke and makes no sense. I'm fortunate and blessed to be able to take care of that for him."
- ➤ When Ryan decided to leave Rutgers and enter the NFL Draft after his redshirt junior season in 2012, he made a promise to his parents that after his rookie year, he would return to school and earn his degree. Ryan kept his promise and graduated in the spring of 2014 with a degree in labor relations and a minor in psychology. "I committed to Rutgers, not only as a football player, but as a student, so I was going to make sure I finished that end too. It's a big accomplishment in my life. I held my word to my parents and stuck with it and I'm fortunate. It took a lot of work, but I was able to go back and finish and walk in graduation."

C BRIAN SCHWENKE

- > Schwenke was an avid surfer during the time he spent living in Hawaii as a result of his father's job in the Navy.
- ➤ His father, Brian Sr., was a SERE (Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape) trainer in the Navy from 1990–2002.
- > Schwenke enjoyed swimming with whale sharks on his honeymoon in Cabo in 2014. He also has enjoyed traveling to Europe, including visits to Ireland, Amsterdam, Brussels, Prague, Vienna and Budapest.
- > He owns three dogs: an English bulldog named Vinny, a Dogo Argentino named Nala, and a golden doodle named Calli.

S DA'NORRIS SEARCY

- > Searcy wore No. 21 at North Carolina because his grandmother was born in 1921.
- > Searcy has tattoos of a cross and angel wings to represent his grand-mother and great grandmother.
- > He spent time last year learning how to disc jockey and is interested in pursing being a DJ.

WR TAJAÉ SHARPE

- > Sharpe's grandmother, Cozy Little, is a breast cancer survivor having beat the disease in 2013.
- > Sharpe was so excited to get into football mode that he brought his own football to the first day of the Titans rookie minicamp. He says he usually goes to sleep with it and carries one around as much as he can, just because.
- > Sharpe's family members nicknamed him "Show," which is short for "Showtime."

CB LeSHAUN SIMS

- > He was commonly referred to as "Swis" in college because for his first college game the name on the back of his jersey was upside down. The nickname stuck.
- > Prior to Sims, no prior student-athlete from Andre Agassi Prep in Las Vegas, Nev., had ever earned an athletic scholarship. When he was a high school freshman, the Stars played eight-man football in the public charter school's first year with a football team. They moved to 11-man football during his sophomore year, and by his senior season, the team won a league title.
- Sims is a movie buff who lists "Training Day" among his all-time favorites.

TE JONNU SMITH

- > Smith credits his mother, Karen, for his successes. Jonnu's father passed away as a result of a tow truck accident when he was four years old and his mother raised all six children by herself. "My mother is my rock. It was tough, but we always got what we needed—not necessarily what we wanted all the time—but what we needed. She was so strong all the time."
- > Smith endured a lot of challenges as a youngster in Philadelphia and after his brother was arrested and one of his friends was killed on the streets, a decison needed to be made. His family didn't have the financial means to just uproot, so for his own safety Jonnu moved in with his mother's sister and brother-in-law, Darla and Mike Kirkland, in Ocala, Fla. He started playing high school football and even though he was far from a touted recruit, he earned a scholarship to Florida International where his play took off.
- > Smith's best friend Willie "Quasim" Jefferson tragically died from a gun shot in October 2016. Jonnu gave his son the middle name Quasim in honor of him.

G/T QUINTON SPAIN

➤ Spain has hosted a Football Skills Camp the last two years in his hometown of Petersburg, Va. During his camp on July 1, 2017, Petersburg Mayor Sam Parham gave Spain a proclamation and officially declared it Quinton Spain Day.

K RYAN SUCCOP

- > Succop was given the title "Mr. Irrelevant" after being selected with the final pick (256th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft.
- > Succop caddied for his friend, Wesley Bryan, at the 2016 Nashville Golf Open, a Web.com event at Nashville Golf & Athletic Club. Succop and Bryan went to school together at the University of South Carolina,

🐞 2017 Regular Season Week 7

TITANS TIDBITS: THE BEST OF TITANS OFF-THE-FIELD HIGHLIGHTS

- > Succop registered 104 career goals and was a four-time all-conference and two-time all-state soccer selection at Hickory (N.C.) High School.
- > Succop handled both the kicking and punting duties during his sophomore and junior seasons at South Carolina.

TE PHILLIP SUPERNAW

- > Supernaw was actually born in Nashville, but moved to the Houston area at an early age and attended high school in Katy, Texas.
- > A member at Vanderbilt Legends Club in Franklin, Tenn., the golf enthusiast plays whenever he can during the offseason and is a 2.0 handicap

QB ALEX TANNEY

- > Tanney started at shooting guard as a freshman and sophomore at Monmouth (III.). He stopped playing the sport collegiately to concentrate more on his football career.
- > Tanney was a long distance runner at high school and ran a 4:20 mile.
- > Tanney posted a Trick Shot Quarterback video on YouTube that went viral in 2011 when he was at Monmouth. The video has been viewed more than four million times and features Tanney making incredible throws in a variety of off-the-field situations.
- > Tanney's two older brothers are in the sports industry. Matt is the Athletics Director at Western Illinois University and Mitch is the Director of Analytics for the Denver Broncos.

WR TAYWAN TAYLOR

- > Taylor's football life has taken him south on Interstate 65. A native of Louisville, which is approximately a three-hour drive from Nashville, he attended Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green, Ky., a one-hour commute from Nashville on the same highway.
- > He played the role of Daddy Warbucks in an elementary school production of "Annie."
- Taylor lists his football role model as Randy Moss.

S BRYNDEN TRAWICK

➤ Trawick's father, George, was the head basketball coach at DeVry University in the early 1990s. He coached in the highest-scoring men's basketball game in NCAA history, regardless of division classification. On Jan. 12, 1992, Troy State University defeated DeVry 258–141 in a game that is considered to have established several unbreakable records.

TE DELANIE WALKER

- > Walker was named the Tennessee Titans Community Man of the Year in 2013 and 2015, due in large part to his tireless work with Mothers Against Drunk Driving. He teamed with MADD to help raise awareness of the dangers of drinking and driving after losing his aunt and uncle in a horrific accident near New Orleans after Super Bowl XLVII. The morning after San Francisco's loss to Baltimore at the Superdome, an alleged drunk driver killed Alice and Bryan Young only hours after Walker hugged Alice and Bryan at the team's postgame party. In addition to his work with MADD, Walker is an ambassador with the Tennessee Governor's Highway Safety Office's "Booze It and Lose It" campaign.
- > In April 2017, Walker took part in an eight-day overseas trip to the Middle East to visit U.S. servicemen and women as part of a United Service Organization tour. The group was on their USO tour, and visiting an Army base in Kuwait, when Syrian president Bashar al-Assad launched a chemical attack against civilians in his country on April 4. The NFL players traveled to another region in the Middle East the following day, unsure if their scheduled visit with Marines and Air Force airmen would be allowed to proceed. The group was eventually cleared for the visit, but before they could leave one base, military police boarded their bus and forced the players to delete any pictures and videos taken at the base from their cameras and cell phones.
- > During the 2016 offseason, Walker spearheaded a benefit dinner and auction for his foundation called "Carving It Up with Delanie Walker." He also launched "Delanie Walker's Imagination Station" at Fall-Hamilton Elementary School in collaboration with Scholastic Book Fairs to provide a new fully-furnished reading room for students.
- > Over the years, Walker has owned quite a selection of cars, ranging from classics to newer models. After his playing days are over, he envisions owning a car restoration shop.
- > Having grown up in a tough neighborhood, Walker knows first-hand how difficult it is to overcome obstacles in order to achieve one's goals. During his time in San Francisco, he visited delinquent youths across the Bay Area, making it a point to share his story and give positive reinforcement to those who can relate to him. "It's very important that people know about what I've been through. You can grow up in the worst neighborhood and still make it to the NFL. That's why I want kids, especially in the Bay Area, to understand that you can overcome those situations, because I did."

> On Feb. 14, 2015, Walker was inducted into the Central Missouri Athletic Hall of Fame.

OLB AARON WALLACE

- > Wallace is one-quarter Chinese on his mother's side of the family. One of his "bucket list" items is to walk on the Great Wall of China.
- ➤ His father, Aaron Wallace Sr., was a three-time All-Southwest Conference selection at linebacker for Texas A&M (1986-89) and was selected in the second round of the 1990 NFL Draft by the Oakland Raiders. Aaron Sr. went on to play eight seasons in the NFL, collecting 21 sacks in 102 career games.
- Fig. His mother, Sandra Broussard, is on the board of a foundation in San Diego called the Berry Good Food Foundation, which promotes nutritional education and organic food.
- > He aspires to be a strength and conditioning coach following his playing career

QB BRANDON WEEDEN

➤ Weeden was a star pitcher in high school and was the first player chosen by the New York Yankees (second round, 71st overall) in the 2002 MLB Draft. He was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers after the 2003 season and then selected in the Rule 5 Draft by the Kansas City Royals. He played his last season of professional baseball in 2006 with the Class-A High Desert Mavericks of the California League.

WR ERIC WEEMS

> After competing in Super Bowl LI as a member of the Atlanta Falcons, Weems presented his alma mater, Seabreeze (Fla.) High School, with a golden football to commemorate his participation.

NT SYLVESTER WILLIAMS

> After high school, Williams, who only played one season of football in high school, worked the night shift at Modine Manufacturing Company in Jefferson City, Mo., making radiator parts for large trucks before enrolling in college.

LB AVERY WILLIAMSON

- > Williamson grew up in the West Tennessee town of Milan, which is approximately a two-hour drive from Nashville. He lists Eddie George, Steve McNair and Jevon Kearse as his favorite Titans as a child.
- > One of Williamson's "bucket list" items is to see the pyramids in Egypt.
- ➤ In 2013, he was chosen to represent the Kentucky football program on a one-week educational/service trip in Ethiopia.

LB WESLEY WOODYARD

- > Woodyard has been a captain in his first three seasons with the Titans. He joined Hall of Fame running back Floyd Little as the only players in Broncos franchise history to serve as a captain in each of their first five years with the club. In 2004, Woodyard also became the first-ever Kentucky freshman to serve as a team captain.
- > Woodyard is the co-founder of The 16Ways Foundation which recognizes an emotional need for at-risk youth. The Foundation works on a national level to develop and implement workshops, seminars, camps, and other activities. These events are designed to build self-esteem, promote responsibility for one's own actions and overcoming obstacles, and demonstrate the importance of academics, knowledge of career options, professional development, community involvement, and mental and physical fitness among youth of all socio-economic backgrounds. The Foundation's primary focus is to work with at-risk youth between the ages of 8 and 18 and a secondary focus on adults in employment transition.
- > During the 2016 and 2017 offseasons, Woodyard's 16Ways Foundation hosted a youth football and cheer camp, as well as a charity golf outing in Lexington, Ky.
- > Woodyard was a three-time nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year while with the Broncos in 2010-11 and 2013.

TITANS ONLINE COVERAGE

Titans Online offers comprehensive written and video content on the Titans. Senior writer and editor Jim Wyatt enters his third season covering the Titans for the team's website. The Nashville native began covering the Titans as a writer for The Tennessean in 1999 and became the full-time beat writer in 2001. He has been named Tennessee Sportswriter of the Year six times by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association and twice has been named as one of the top beat writers in the country by the Associated Press Sports Editors.

Additionally, Titans Online and its accompanying mobile app deliver daily videos to keep fans up to date on the team. Wyatt, the "Voice of the Titans" Mike Keith and broadcast coordinator Amie Wells provide daily coverage from Saint Thomas Sports Park and Nissan Stadium.

Fans can follow the Titans throughout the season on the club's social media platforms, including Facebook (@titans), Twitter (@Titans), Instagram (@Titans) and Snapchat (nfl itans).

GAMEDAY MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA RELATIONS CONTACTS

Titans Media Relations (Press Box Seats 1-7): (615) 565-4450

Robbie Bohren, Senior Director of Media Relations

Dwight Spradlin, Assistant Director of Media Relations

Jared Puffer, Media Relations Manager (Field Contact)

Kim Smith, Media Relations Assistant

Lindsey Brown, Media Relations Seasonal Assistant (Media Will Call) Visiting Team Media Relations (Press Box Seats 29-32): (615) 565-4452

DIRECTIONS TO NISSAN STADIUM

FROM AIRPORT TO NISSAN STADIUM (APPROXIMATELY 15 MINUTES): Take I-40 West toward Nashville/Memphis to I-24 West (before downtown). Exit at James Robertson Parkway (Exit 48). Turn left at first light (Interstate Drive). Turn right on Woodland Street. Nissan Stadium will be on the left. Follow signs to parking lot ("M" lot on northwest corner/river side of stadium).

NISSAN STADIUM MEDIA WILL CALL/MEDIA ENTRANCE

The media will call window and media entrance are located in the northwest corner of Nissan Stadium near Gate 6. The media will call window opens three hours prior to kickoff.

FIELD MEDIA VESTS

All members of the media with field access during the game must wear a media vest. Still and video photographers will be issued tan vests, while team-affiliated video photographers (coaches' shows, etc.) will be issued green vests. All vests must be obtained prior to each game at the vest check-in table in the field level concourse. All vests must be returned at the conclusion of the game to Titans personnel or a designated vest receptacle.

NISSAN STADIUM PRESS BOX INTERNET ACCESS

Wireless internet access is available free of charge in the Nissan Stadium press box. The login information will be available upon arrival in the press box. A limited number of ethernet lines and pool phone lines also are available. Accessing the wireless network works the same in the Nissan Stadium press box as it does in most areas with free connectivity. Titans staff may be able to assist in a limited manner, but you should first contact your company's I.T. department with any questions.

FROM NISSAN STADIUM PRESS BOX TO LOCKER ROOMS

Take the press box elevator (Level 3) to field level (Level 1). The Titans interview room is immediately on the right, and the Titans locker room (blue line) is straight ahead. Turn left and continue straight along the concourse to reach the visiting team's locker room and interview room (white line).

POSTGAME POLICIES

Reporters with press box credentials will be allowed on the field during pre-game activities but not during the game itself. Press box credentials do NOT provide access to the field at the two-minute warning in the fourth quarter. Media will be allowed to gather in the Titans interview room to watch the end of the game or remain in the press box to make the short walk down to the field level at the conclusion of the game. All media members will have field access once all of the players and coaches have exited the field. Interviews with Titans players are not permitted on the field following the game. The press conference will begin approximately 10 minutes following the conclusion of the game and will be held in the interview room across from the Titans locker room. Key players also will be brought to the interview room. The press conference audio will be played live over the press box speakers.

POSTGAME QUOTES

Quotes from each team's head coach and key players will be transcribed and distributed throughout the Nissan Stadium press box following the game. The quotes also will be available at www.TitansOnline.com.

POOL REPORTS

Pool reporters are assigned by the Pro Footbal Writers of America. They are the only reporters allowed in the officials' locker room. Requests for pool reports must be made in advance. Pool reports will be recorded, transcribed and then distributed in the press box.

EXITING NISSAN STADIUM

FROM NISSAN STADIUM PRESS BOX TO STADIUM EXIT: Cross the press box catwalk to the third floor lobby. Take the stairs or elevator one floor down to Level 2. Exit through the doors and walk right to get to the "M" lot.

FROM NISSAN STADIUM TO AIRPORT (APPROXIMATELY 15 MINUTES): Take I-24 East toward Chattanooga to I-40 East toward Knoxville. The airport is at Exit 2164

NISSAN STADIUM PARKING AND MEDIA ENTRANCE

The media will call window and media entrance are located in the northwest corner of Nissan Stadium near Gate 6. The media will call window opens three hours prior to kickoff.

MIKE MULARKEY TRANSCRIPT

(opening statement)

Good evening. Obviously, a good win for us in front of our home fans on Monday night. Division win, which was important, really important. That was the whole objective, to get a division win. No other ultimatum, that was it, get the win. Came out relatively healthy with the exception of (Derrick) Morgan who had a little abdominal strain, don't think it's too serious, so we're pretty healthy after the game.

(on when he knew QB Marcus Mariota was going to play)

Over the weekend we had a good talk. I let him do a little bit more on Saturday night.

(on Marcus Mariota's performance tonight)

I thought it was very good. He did what we asked. He didn't go out in a full-out sprint to make a first down, a couple of them. I thought he did exactly what we wanted, did not have to move around as much, which he's capable of doing. I thought he handled it just like we talked about.

(on staying patient after having to settle for field goals)

You can get frustrated, but there was a lot of football to go. I felt like our offense was moving the ball well, we didn't punt in the first half. Obviously, you have to score. If you lose a game like that, you're going to regret not scoring on some of those early drives. There was a lot of football to go and we talked about it at halftime, that we've got to just finish drives, that was a key. And really, we talked about it at halftime, our defense needed to make some stops early, and they both played out like we talked about.

(on Marcus Mariota showing him the ability to take over a game)

Yeah, I think he did. He's as tough as I've been around and made some throws that were obviously – that one to Taywan (Taylor) was a big throw, a real big throw. He played well, just watching it from the sideline, I thought he played well.

(on Marcus Mariota playing smart and not running)

That was the plan. We were going to take a sack if we had to take a sack instead of exposing him to running. That's just being smart.

(on if sneaking Marcus Mariota in the Titans fourth-and-one play was meant to confuse the Colts defense since he hadn't been used in the run game)

We used that same set last week and ended up not going, we were trying to draw them offsides. It was an identical set. I don't know if they thought it was a no-play like we did last week, but it was the exact same thing. He's never run a quarterback sneak since he's been here, so that was a little bit of a surprise I'm sure for them.

(on Titans LB Wesley Woodyard stopping Colts QB Jacoby Brissett on the Colts fourth-and-one play)

Great play, just a great play. Just keeps going with his season with the way he's playing. I'm trying to think what happened after our fourth-and-one. I know we made ours and they didn't make theirs, and theirs not making was huge for us, get us to the point where we could run the ball at the end there.

(on converting on long first and third downs on RB DeMarco Murray's touchdown drive)

We kind of chipped, we kind of tried to chip back and get as much as we could on the first-and-20. We made some plays on first downs, which we haven't been doing the last couple of games. That was a big factor in moving the ball like we did tonight.

(on defending Colts WR T.Y. Hilton)

I think Coach (Dick) LeBeau had a good plan like every team does, but I think our guys took it to heart. He's a game-wrecker, he can change the game. Whatever we can do to take him out of the game, we're going to do. If it was taking two of our guys to cover him, we were going to do that.

(on the Titans strong second half)

Made some adjustments in the second half, both offensively and defensively.

(on RB Derrick Henry's touchdown run)

I was pretty excited. Winning in this league, if you just watch this weekend, winning in this league is hard to do. When he did that, when he broke for the first, I thought our offensive staff did a great job. They called a play to get him outside, hopefully keep him in bounds, hopefully get a first down. When you can put points up, that pretty much ends it.

(on if he thought Derrick Henry would score on the play where he ultimately ran for a 72-yard touchdown)

No, I wasn't – I didn't think he would. I'm sure that's the last thing on his mind, I really do. You can talk about it after the fact, but at the time there was no way he was going in the endzone.

(on if there was a concerted effort to get Derrick Henry to ball at the start of the game)

No, just the same kind of rotation and just the way our personnel groups were set up. It was purposefully done, but I thought he did a great job when he had the chance.

(on if there was one play that stood out on the drive for the go-ahead touchdown)

Yeah, the slant-35-deuce four times in a row down there in the red zone. That's where we just kept getting four and five, five and six yards. That one play where we kept running it over and over and over.

(on having success in the run game after struggling earlier in the game)

Yeah, it was. It was our guys just, they kept battling, they kept saying 'keep running it.' They came to the sideline, 'keep running it.' At some point we felt like we could hit them on the run game.

(on the disparity in the NFL this year)

Every week somebody can win. It's just a matter of what records, it's every week. It's a challenge to win in this league. It's hard to win, it is. It's hard to win in this league.

(on the Titans now having a winning-record in the AFC South and being tied for first in their division)

That was an important game, I told that to the players last night. These are the games we have to win. We have set a goal, that goal can only be achieved by winning these types of games and that's a fact. They know that, they know how big a game it was.

(on how WR Taywan Taylor's touchdown play developed)

Well, it was good because there were a couple others I wish he would've made earlier that might have made it a little easier. The play was designed to go to Delanie (Walker) and fortunately all four of their guys covered Delanie (Walker) and left Taywan (Taylor) kind of – they just jumped Delanie (Walker) on his out route, and left Taywan open on the deep one. That kind of tells you what people feel about Delanie. He's a target and there's a couple of times, even early in the game when Marcus (Mariota) overthrew him, he was triple-covered. They dropped coverage on Rishard (Matthews) trying to take Delanie (Walker) away. We missed a big play early in the first corner that might have been a score.

(on K Ryan Succop's consistency)

That's what he's here for. He's done a pretty good job of it.

(on if the hamstring injury impacted Marcus Mariota's ability to throw)

No, not that I'm aware of. I asked him a couple of times. I hate asking - guys forget all about it until you ask them and then you're reminding them, 'Hey, I've got something hurt.' So, I try not to ask them as much. There was never a time where he said it was bothered.

(on if being forced to stay inside the pocket helped Marcus Mariota as a passer today)

Well, I think he had a relatively clean pocket for the most part. There were a couple of instances where he had to move and throw it away, but for the most part I thought our line did a good job of protecting him, which was important knowing his mobility was very limited.

(on WR Eric Decker having his best day so far as a Titan)

He made a lot of plays, he made a lot of good plays for us. Marcus (Mariota) got us into some plays, again they were check plays, that he caught some big plays, big first downs for us on those cross routes. But Eric Decker played very well for us, probably his best game for us.

(on WR Rishard Matthews' performance today)

Rishard (Matthews) made some really good plays. I challenged those guys last night too. All we heard was about the Colts receivers, and I challenged our guys to make a difference in this game and I thought they did.

(on Derrick Henry bouncing back after a slow game against the Dolphins)

Derrick (Henry) had been effective. He knows his role and he has done an outstanding job for us. It was fun for him to watch him finish the game of like that for us tonight.

TITANS-RAIDERS: GAME SUMMARY

Titans 16, Raiders 26 Week 1 • Sunday, Sept. 10, 2017 • 12 p.m. CT • Nissan Stadium

GAME RECAP

The Titans kicked off the 2017 NFL season with a Week 1 matchup at home against the Oakland Raiders and fell by a score of 26-16. The highly anticipated contest featured the return of Titans quarterback Marcus Mariota and Raiders quarterback Derek Carr, who each suffered almost identical season-ending injuries in Week 16 of the 2016 season.

The Raiders' offense came out strong as Carr connected with wide receiver Amari Cooper for an eight-yard touchdown on Oakland's opening drive. However, as Mariota and the Titans offense took the field for the first time, Tennessee responded right back with a 10-yard rushing touchdown by the third-year signalcaller to tie the game at seven.

Three field goals were kicked in the second quarter, two by Oakland and one by Tennessee. Oakland began the second quarter in possession of the ball and converted a 20-yard field goal. At the two minute warning, the Titans offense failed to capitalize in the red zone and settled for a 23-yard field goal. With two seconds remaining in the first half, Oakland K Giorgio Tavecchio nailed a 52-yarder to put the Raiders up 13-10 at the break.

In the third quarter, safety Brynden Trawick committed a roughing the kicker penalty, repeating fourth down and putting the Raiders in field goal range. Oakland capitalized on the Titans' mistake as Tavecchio converted his second 52-yarder of the day.

Oakland tacked on another touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 19-yard pass from Carr to wide receiver Seth Roberts. Oakland and Tennessee also kicked one field goal apiece, making the final score 26-16

TITANS-JAGUARS: GAME SUMMARY

Titans 37, Jaguars 16 Week 2 • Sunday, Sept. 17, 2017 • 1 p.m. ET • EverBank Field

GAME RECAP

The Titans traveled to Jacksonville in Week 2 of the 2017 season to take on the Jaguars for the first contest of the year between the AFC South rivals. Tennessee scored a 31 points in the second half to secure a 37-16 road victory and even its record at 1-1.

Tennessee began the game with control of the ball but quickly went three-and-out on the opening drive. Jacksonville capitalized on its first possession, engineering a 51-yard scoring drive that culminated in a field goal to put the Jaguars up 3-0. The Titans offense returned to the field as QB Marcus Mariota completed back-to-back 10 and 16-yard passes to WR Eric Decker. An eight-yard third down conversion pass from Mariota to TE Delanie Walker helped edge the Titans closer to the end zone, but Tennessee was forced to settle for a 40-yard field goal by K Ryan Succop

On second-and-16 in the second quarter, Jaguars QB Blake Bortles was strip-sacked by LB Brian Orakpo, and LB Erik Walden recovered the ball. However, less than two minutes later Mariota threw his lone interception of the day to Jaguars LB Telvin Smith. The Jacksonville offense took the field again only to see Bortles throw an interception to DB Curtis Riley. The Titans then battled back from a second-and-30 to convert a 41-yard field goal just before halftime

On Jacksonville's second half opening drive, Bortles was picked off by safety Da'Norris Searcy, marking a turnover for Jacksonville on three straight possessions. In the third quarter, Succop converted a 26-yard field goal, running back Derrick Henry ran in a 17-yard touchdown and Walker recorded his first career rushing touchdown.

The fourth quarter saw rookie TE Jonnu Smith record his first career touchdown on a 32-yard screen pass from Mariota. RB Leonard Fournette added a one-yard touchdown for Jacksonville, and the Titans responded on the following possession with a three-yard touchdown by FB Jalston Fowler. Bortles connected with WR Allen Hurns for one final touchdown, but Tennessee ran out the clock and secured a 37-16 victory in Jacksonville.

TITANS-SEAHAWKS: GAME SUMMARY

Titans 33, Seahawks 27 Week 3 • Sunday, Sept. 24, 2017 • 12 p.m. CT • Nissan Stadium

SAME RECAP

The Titans returned home in Week 3 of the 2017 season to host the Seattle Seahawks for the first time since 2005. Tennessee improved to 2-1 on the season with a 33-27 victory at home.

The first quarter saw eight straight punts from both teams, four from Tennessee and four from Seattle. LBs Jayon Brown and Wesley Woodyard made crucial third down stops that halted the Seattle offense

QB Marcus Mariota completed a third down conversion pass on a 17-yard toss to WR Eric Decker to close out the first quarter. On the first play of the second quarter, Mariota ran the ball in for a touchdown but it was called back due to a holding penalty on Decker. Tennessee was forced to settle for a 24-yard field goal by K Ryan Succop to put the Titans on the board, 3-0.

The Tennessee defense took the field and forced Seattle's fifth consecutive threeand-out. After a late hit by Sherman on Mariota that caused an on-field scuffle the Titans offense lengthened the lead to 6-0 on a 37-yard field goal by Succo

In the second quarter, CB Adoree' Jackson returned a punt 80 yards for a score, but the touchdown was nullified due to a penalty. Seahawks QB Russell Wilson hit WR Doug Baldwin for a four-yard touchdown, but Tennessee responded with another field goal to put the Titans back on top 9-7 heading into halftime.

In the third stanza, Mariota connected with both WR Rishard Matthews for a 55-yard score and TE Jonnu Smith for a 24-yard touchdown, increasing the Titans lead to 23-14. RB DeMarco Murray also ran in a 75-yard score, which tied for his second-longest career rush, to increase the margin to 30-14.

In the fourth quarter, Seattle added a pair of touchdowns by both TE Luke Willson and WR Paul Richardson, but failed to execute a two point conversion. Succop converted his fourth field goal of the day as Tennessee sealed a 33-27 home victory.

TITANS-TEXANS: GAME SUMMARY

Titans 14, Texans 57 Week 4 • Sunday, Oct. 1, 2017 • 12 p.m. CT • NRG Stadium

In Week 4 of the 2017 season, the Titans traveled to Houston to face the defending AFC South champions and fell to the Texans by a score of 57-14.

QB Marcus Mariota threw an interception to S Andre Hal on the Titans opening drive and the Texans capitalized by scoring on a two-yard rush by rookie QB Deshaun Watson. On the following Houston possession, the Texans raised the lead to 14-0 on an eight-yard pass from Watson to wide receiver DeAndre Hopkins. The Texans added a third touchdown on the first play of the second quarter, a 16-yard score from Watson to WR Will Fuller V to increase the lead to 21-0. Mariota put the Titans on the board in the second stanza with a 34-yard rushing touchdown, cutting Houston's lead to 21-7.

DT Jurrell Casey manufactured a third-down sack on Watson but Houston K Ka'imi Fairburn was able to convert a 50-yard field goal to put Houston up 24-7. The Titans cut the lead to 10 points on a Mariota two-yard touchdown run. After rookie CB Adoree' Jackson was called for defensive pass interference, Houston took over at the Tennessee one-yard line as Watson ran in his second rushing touchdown of the day. Fairburn missed the extra point as Houston extended its lead to 30-14.

After Mariota threw his second pick to Hal, S Kevin Byard returned the favor by intercepting Watson in the red zone to halt Houston's drive and end the first half. Houston opened the second half with an eight-minute, 14-play scoring drive, which culminated in Fuller's second score as Houston went up 37-14. In the third quarter, QB Matt Cassel took over as Mariota exited the game with a hamstring injury.

Texans RB Lamar Miller added an eight-yard receiving touchdown in the fourth as Houston extended the lead to 44-14. Cassel turned the ball over on three straight possessions, first on an interception to Texans S Marcus Gilchrist, then on a pick six to LB Dylan Cole and finally he fumbled the ball while being sacked. Houston converted another field goal in the fourth and finished the game with a 57-14 victo

TITANS-DOLPHINS: GAME SUMMARY

Titans 10, Dolphins 16 Week 5 • Sunday, Oct. 8, 2017 • 1 p.m. ET • Hard Rock Stadium

GAME RECAP

In Week 5 of the 2017 season the Titans went on the road to face the Miami Dolphins and were defeated in Florida by a score of 16-10.

With QB Marcus Mariota battling a hamstring injury, QB Matt Cassel made his first start of the season. Cassel was 21-of-32 passing for 141 yards and one touchdown.

In the first quarter, RB DeMarco Murray fumbled the ball on second-and-13 to give possession back to Miami at the Tennessee 42-yard line. After a third down pass break up by CB Adoree' Jackson on what would have been a Dolphins touchdown, Miami was forced to settle for a 41-yard field goal by K Cody Parkey to get on the board first,

On the following drive Cassel completed a 59-yard touchdown pass to TE Delanie Walker, however the score was nullified due to an offensive pass interference call on TE Jonnu Smith. Two snaps later, Cassel was sacked by Dolphins LB Kiko Alonso and fumbled the ball. Dolphins S Reshad Jones scooped up the ball and returned it for a 38-yard touchdown and put Miami ahead 10-0 late in the first quarte

In the second quarter, Jackson forced Dolphins RB Jay Ajayi to fumble the ball. It was recovered by S Kevin Byard to set up a 45-yard field goal by K Ryan Succop and put Tennessee on the board, 10-3.

The third stanza saw WR Rishard Matthews make a 17-yard, third down catch to keep the chains moving. WR Eric Decker caught two back-to-back seven-yard passes, followed by a nine-yard rush by Murray. TE Phillip Supernaw registered his first career touchdown, an 11-yard reception, and Succop converted the extra point attempt as the Titans tied the game 10-10.

In the fourth quarter, Dolphins WR Jarvis Landry tacked on a six-yard touchdown but the extra point attempt failed. Tennessee couldn't manufacture a comeback and eventually fell to the Dolphins by a final score of 16-10

TITANS-COLTS: GAME SUMMARY

Titans 36, Colts 22

Week 6 • Monday, Oct. 16, 2017 • 7:30 p.m. CT • Nissan Stadium

In Week 6 of the 2017 season, the Titans returned to Monday Night Football for the first time since 2014 as Tennessee hosted the AFC rival Indianapolis Colts. Tennessee snapped an 11-game losing streak against Indianapolis with a 36-22 victory. QB Marcus Mariota returned to game action after missing the previous contest with a hamstring injury.

The Titans got on the board 3:45 into the game as K Ryan Succop converted a 48yard field goal on Tennessee's opening drive and in the process set an NFL record for most consecutive field goals made under 50 yards. Indianapolis responded as Colts K Adam Vinatieri kicked a 36-yard field goal on the following possession to tie the game, 3-3. Tennessee found its way into the red zone again in the first quarter, but was forced to settle for another field goal as Succop extended the Titans lead, 6-3.

On the first drive of the second quarter, Indianapolis took a 10-6 lead as Colts QB Jacoby Brissett tossed an eight-yard touchdown pass to Colts TE Jack Doyle. Succop converted his third field goal of the day as the Titans narrowed the score, 10-9. The Colts answered back with Vinatieri's second field goal of the day to increase Indianapolis' lead 13-9 to end the first half

In the third quarter, Mariota threw an interception on the Titans first possession and Colts SLB John Simon returned it 26 yards for a touchdown. The extra point attempt failed as Indianapolis went up 19-9. Succop converted a pair of field goals from 48 yards and 23 yards as the Titans edged closer with a score of 19-15.

Tennessee scored its first touchdown of the day in the fourth quarter on a three-yard rushing score by RB DeMarco Murray to give the Titans a 22-19 lead. After a big thirddown stop by LB Jayon Brown, Indianapolis was held to a 52-yard field goal to tie the game at 22-22.

After two back-to-back first down receptions by WR Eric Decker, Mariota hit WR Taywan Taylor for a 53-yard touchdown as Tennessee took the lead back, 29-22. RB Derrick Henry added a 72-yard insurance touchdown run as the Titans defeated the Colts by a score of 36-22.

LAST WEEK'S GAME CLIPS

CASSEL CAN'T RESCUE TITANS; LATEST ON MARIOTA

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 8, 2017

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. – On Friday, after taking first-team reps throughout the week, quarterback Matt Cassel had a hunch he'd start for the Titans here on Sunday.

Cassel officially got the word on Saturday.

Against the Dolphins, Cassel tried to lead the Titans on a day when regular starter Marcus Mariota watched from the sideline.

But the Titans never really got in sync on offense in a 16-10 loss to the Dolphins. The team struggled on third down, couldn't run the ball consistently, and Cassel was sacked six times in the contest.

"I don't think we were able (to get into a rhythm) most of the day," Cassel said. "We've got to be better in situational football, especially on third down to extend drives, and I think that's something we have to continue to get better at.

"(The Dolphins) did a good job today. They rushed me pretty well and we weren't really able to establish the run game real well. We knew it was going to be a tight game, but at the same time we'd love to get into more of a rhythm. On third down opportunities we have to convert more to keep ourselves on the field."

Cassel completed 21-of-32 passes for 141 yards, with a touchdown – an 11-yard completion to tight end Phillip Supernaw. The Titans couldn't sustain drives most of the day, however, largely because they went just 2-of-13 on third down (15 percent).

The Titans managed just 69 yards on the ground with running backs DeMarco Murray(14-58) and Derrick Henry (4-9). In a win here last season, the Titans racked up 235 yards on the ground.

"I have to do a better job," Cassel said, "(and) we all have to do a better job offensively to be more successful."

Titans coach Mike Mularkey said the inconsistencies on offense "aren't all on Matt." He thought he managed the game well.

What appeared to be a 59-yard touchdown pass to tight end Delanie Walker was called back because of a penalty. Later, officials ruled Cassel fumbled on what appeared to be an incomplete pass. The Dolphins picked the ball up, and returned it for a touchdown.

"We all have to rally around Matt and do a better job for Matt," Mularkey said. "You can give them credit for their third down defense against us, but I know I can go down each play on third down and look at something we did that didn't help matters."

Just how much longer Cassel will be needed remains to be seen.

Mularkey said Mariota wasn't real close to playing in Sunday's game.

Mariota was limited in practices during the week with a hamstring injury, and spent most of his week rehabbing the injury.

Mularkey said Mariota remains "day to day" and when asked about Mariota's availability for next Monday against the Colts, he replied: "I feel better about that one than this one."

Mariota watched Sunday's game from the sideline, and communicated with Cassel.

"He was a great teammate today, and was talking about what they were doing, especially when we got to the 2-minute situation where we were thinking we were going to get in at the end of the game," Cassel said. "He is a great support factor and he was trying to do everything he could to help us win."

FRUSTRATED TITANS LOSE 16-10 TO DOLPHINS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 8, 2017

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. – The Titans couldn't get in sync on offense on Sunday, and they paid for it.

The Titans lost 16-10 to the Miami Dolphins here at Hard Rock Stadium. The loss dropped the Titans to 2-3 on the season.

Matt Cassel started at quarterback for the Titans, in place of Marcus Mariota.

Mariota, who suffered a hamstring injury against the Texans, was among the team's inactives. He watched from the sideline in a baseball cap and t-shirt.

Cassel completed 21-of-32 passes for 141 yards in the game. He was sacked six times.

The Titans struggled to get going on offense most of the contest, and the defense couldn't get some key stops late.

The Dolphins took a 3-0 lead on a 41-yard field goal by kicker Cody Parkey.

A bad sequence for the Titans changed the game early.

Late in the first quarter, a 59-yard touchdown pass from Cassel to tight end Delanie Walker was called back because of an offensive pass interference penalty on tight end Jonnu Smith.

Two plays later, Cassel was hit as he threw the ball, and it initially looked like it would be ruled an incomplete pass. But officials instead ruled Cassel fumbled the ball forward, and the Dolphins were awarded a touchdown — a 38-yard fumble recovery by safety Reshad Jones to make it 10-0.

Safety Kevin Byardrecovered a fumble forced by cornerback

Adoree Jackson early in the third quarter, and the Titans cashed it in for three points – a 45-yard field goal by kicker Ryan Succop – to make it 10-3.

Succop's made field goal was his 46th in a row from inside 50 yards, and it tied an NFL record.

The Titans tied the game at 10-10 on an 11-yard touchdown catch by tight end Phillip Supernaw. Cassel completed three passes to Eric Decker on the drive, and also found receiver Rishard Matthews open for a 17-yard completion.

But the Dolphins reclaimed the lead on a six-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jay Cutler to receiver Jarvis Landry. The Dolphins missed the extra point, which made it was 16-10 with 10:33 left in the fourth quarter.

The Titans face the Colts next Monday at Nissan Stadium.

MARIOTA OUT, CASSEL IN FOR TITANS TODAY VS. DOLPHINS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 8, 2017

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. – Matt Cassel will start at quarterback today for the Titans vs. the Dolphins.

Marcus Mariota is among the team's inactives.

Mariota was limited in practices this week because of a hamstring injury. He said on Friday he's spent a lot of time rehabbing, and his "first and foremost (my) goal is just to get healthy."

Brandon Weeden, signed earlier in the week, will be Cassel's back-up.

Mariota scored on two touchdown runs against the Texans – he turned on the jets on his 34-yard touchdown run, and he sprinted to the pylon – and made it – on a two-yard touchdown later in the game. Unfortunately, Mariota suffered a hamstring injury on his second score, and as a result he didn't finish last Sunday's game.

On the season, Mariota has completed 66-of-110 passes for 792 yards, with three touchdowns and three interceptions.

Cassel joined the Titans prior to the 2016 season, and he started the final game of the year after Mariota suffered a fractured fibula in Week 16 at Jacksonville. The Titans beat the Texans that day, as Cassel completed 16-of-26 passes for 150 yards, with a touchdown and an interception. In relief of Mariota on Sunday, Cassel was just 4-of-10 for 21 yards against the Texans, with two interceptions.

During his career, Cassel has played in 104 games, with 80 starts while playing for the Patriots, Chiefs, Vikings, Bills, Cowboys and the Titans.

TITANS' LOSS VS. DOLPHINS COMES WITH ASTERISK BUT STILL COUNTS, HURTS

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN OCTOBER 8, 2017

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. — This was not the Tennessee Titans. Quarterback Marcus Mariota stood on the sideline in sweats; left tackle Taylor Lewan barely played because of a knee injury; and, be honest, did you forget first-round receiver Corey Davis is still on the team?

That wasn't the real Titans going down 16-10 Sunday at Miami in a professional football game so hard to watch that it should have been stopped at halftime, or at least moved to Thursday night. But this is the Titans' real record: 2-3. And this is the Titans' real situation: urgent.

It's not desperate. Not yet. Mariota's hamstring could allow him to return as soon as the Titans' next game, on "Monday Night Football" on Oct. 16 at home against Indianapolis. Lewan played briefly after suffering his injury Sunday, so the presumption is it's not serious. Davis' hamstring someday might allow him to return as well. The schedule is forgiving in many spots from here.

And the Dick LeBeau defense that looked so lost in a 57-14 dismantling a week earlier at Houston did as he vowed. It responded – against an admittedly inept Dolphins offense led by Jay Cutler and coming off a shutout loss to New Orleans – and gave the Titans a chance to win. It could not, however, stop Jay Ajayi from running off tackle and killing the clock at the end.

And as long as Matt Cassel is at the controls of this offense, it is going to have to scrounge for every point. It got three in the first half Sunday at Hard Rock Stadium, on a drive of minus-3 yards after the Titans forced a turnover.

It put together one nice drive in the second half, mixing runs and short passes to travel 69 yards for a touchdown. It was capped in a way the perfectly sums up this afternoon and football and had me thinking of a Titans fan reacting while watching at home.

First-and-goal from the 1, Titans tight end Phillip Supernaw called for a false start.

"Supernaw!"

First-and-goal from the 6, Supernaw called for another false start.

"SUPERNAW!"

First-and-goal from the 11, Cassel lofts touchdown pass to Supernaw.

"Supernaw? Supernaw!"

That tied it at 10, and the Titans had chances from there, but the Dolphins got the field position in their favor in an incredible exhibition for both punters, Tennessee's Brett Kern and Miami's Matt Haack. Vanderbilt favorite son Cutler was booed all day by Miami fans, who were screaming for Matt Moore.

But Cutler made a few key passes on the Dolphins' lone impressive drive of the day, with Jarvis Landry sneaking free for the winning touchdown. Their other touchdown was a 38-yard return of a Cassel fumble, a very close call on a play that looked like an incomplete pass, two plays after Cassel's 59-yard touchdown bomb to tight end Delanie Walker was waved off by offensive pass interference on Jonnu Smith.

That was a crucial, tough-luck sequence. But the Titans still had their chances. The last one was squandered when Dennis Kelly, who did what he could in Lewan's place, could not stay in front of rusher Charles Harris on a third-and-9. That was one of many hard hits on Cassel, maybe the hardest. Certainly the most important.

The Titans still can be the team they believe they are, the team we saw for stretches against Jacksonville and Seattle. But hey, the 1987 Washington Redskins probably wouldn't have won the Super Bowl that season without a 3-0 record from their "scab" players during an in-season strike. They all count.

And the Titans might look back at this time of tight hamstrings and lost opportunities with regret when it's all over. Considering the Texans' steady climb behind rookie Deshaun Watson, the margin for error is slim. The need for a win is urgent.

TITANS' MIKE MULARKEY: BACKUP QB MATT CASSEL 'MANAGED THE OFFENSE WELL'

BY JASON WOLF THE TENNESSEAN OCTOBER 9, 2017

MIAMI – The Titans didn't do much on offense with Marcus Mariota sitting out, stumbling to a 16-10 loss to the Dolphins on Sunday at Hard Rock Stadium.

Backup quarterback Matt Cassel struggled to move the ball, completing 21 of 32 pass attempts for 141 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown pass to Phillip Supernaw. Cassel also had a long touchdown pass to Delanie Walker wiped out by an offensive pass interference penalty, and a fumble returned for a touchdown.

"I think he managed the offense well," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said. "I think there's some throws I know he'd like to have back. There's some throws that I'd like to see our guys make plays for him. I'd like to see us protect a little better. ... Overall, it's the first time he started and played a game since last year."

The Titans gained 20 or fewer yards on 13 of 15 possessions. They went three-and-out on eight drives and had negative yardage on three. Cassel was sacked six times.

Mariota, who missed the game with a strained hamstring, has not played a full 16-game schedule in any of his three NFL seasons because of injury. The Titans are 1-5 in games that Mariota has missed.

"I've got to do a better job," Cassel said. "We've all got to do a better job offensively in order to be more successful on Sundays."

Could Mariota return against the Colts?

Maybe.

Mularkey disputed an NFL Network report that said Mariota was expected to miss two to four weeks since he was hurt running for a touchdown in the first half of a loss to the Texans on Oct. 1 in Houston.

DeMarco Murray donates $50K to Vegas police, shooting victims

Titans running back DeMarco Murray will donate $50,000 to the Las Vegas Police Department and families of shooting victims, he said Sunday.

Last weekend, a gunman firing from a hotel window killed at least 58 people and injured more than 500 at a country music festival on the Las Vegas strip.

"I'm from there, it's my home, and it's very tragic what happened to the families," Murray said. "Luckily, we had first responders come out and immediately help out injured people, people who were deceased. That's my hometown and I just felt that try to help out as much as I can, whether that's financially or speaking to them. It's a place I obviously hold close to my heart."

TITANS PUNTER BRETT KERN AMONG BEST FROM LOSS VS. DOLPHINS

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN OCTOBER 8, 2017

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. — The best and worst from the Titans' 16-10 loss to the Miami Dolphins on Sunday at Hard Rock Stadium.

BEST

BRETT KERN: The Titans punter came in tied for third in the NFL at 50.0 yards per punt, and he was on fire right away - on a day he knew he'd be used extensively. He started out with a 60-yard bomb, and for an encore, he lofted a 48-yard punt that went out of bounds at the Dolphins' 3-yard line. Later, pinned at the back of his end zone with the snap coming from the 1, Kern flipped the field with a 71-yard rocket. It was 10 punts for 549 yards for him, four placed inside the 20, and nine punts for 459 yards for Miami's Matt Haack, with five inside the 20. If you like punting, this was the game for you.

MOST OF THE TITANS' DEFENSIVE EFFORT: It was a big disappointment to let the Dolphins run out the clock late because this was largely an impressive response from the Titans after giving up 57 points last week. Miami managed 178 total yards and was 5-for-15 on third downs after a late surge. The Titans' defense gave up a touchdown and a field goal, and just one substantial drive. Cornerback Adoree' Jackson forced a fumble that was recovered by safety Kevin Byard, and cornerback Tye Smith grabbed a tipped interception. This was all enough to win most games.

WORST

WATCHING THIS GAME: At halftime, the teams had combined for 142 yards (80 for the Titans), and they had combined for two conversions on 14 third downs (the Titans were 1-for-8). The Titans' lone scoring drive was a beauty, four plays for minus-3 yards. The second half was slightly more interesting, which means it got to the level of watching a documentary on the making of cheese.

THE TITANS' OFFENSE: Don't put it all on Cassel (21-for-32, 141 yards, one touchdown). The offensive line struggled, mostly without left tackle Taylor Lewan, giving up six sacks. Running back DeMarco Murray lost a fumble that gave the Dolphins three points. And this team badly needs more help downfield.

JUDGMENT CALLS FROM OFFICIALS: They went against the Titans in a crucial juncture at the end of the first quarter. It appeared they took the lead when Cassel delivered a perfect deep pass to tight end Delanie Walker, who broke a tackle and rumbled in for a 59-yard touchdown - or so it appeared. Officials called tight end Jonnu Smith for offensive interference, though it had nothing to do with the play. So it could have been 7-3, but two plays later it was suddenly 10-0 Dolphins. Cassel was crushed by Kiko Alonso, coming free on a blitz. It appeared Cassel's arm was moving forward and throwing an incomplete pass. A few Dolphins thought so and came onto the field for the next play. Some Titans said a whistle blew. But that and the extra Dolphins on the field were ignored and Reshad Jones ran the ball in for a 38-yard touchdown. Upon review, the call stood, meaning the replay official couldn't find enough evidence to overturn it. Two killers in a span of three plays for the Titans. Both of them very arguable.

TITANS' MIKE MULARKEY DISPUTES NFL NETWORK REPORT ON MARCUS MARIOTA'S INJURY

BY JASON WOLF THE TENNESSEAN OCTOBER 8, 2017

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. — Could Marcus Mariota miss multiple games?

The Titans' franchise quarterback could return from a strained hamstring to face the Colts (2-3) on "Monday Night Football" next week at Nissan Stadium, coach Mike Mularkey said Sunday. He disputed a report from NFL Network that Mariota originally was expected to need two to four weeks to recover from an injury he suffered Oct. 1 at Houston.

"You can listen to NFL Network or you can listen to me," Mularkey said after the Titans' 16-10 loss to the Dolphins on Sunday at Hard Rock Stadium. "When I say day to day, I tell you like it is."

Mariota was expected to be a gametime decision against the Dolphins but was "not real close" to playing, Mularkey said. The game against the Colts will be two weeks from the day Mariota was injured.

Matt Cassel started against the Dolphins and completed 21 of 32 pass attempts for 141 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Phillip Supernaw to tie the score 10-10 midway through the third quarter. He also had a fumble returned for a touchdown.

The Titans gained 20 or fewer yards on 13 of 15 possessions. They went three-and-out on eight drives and had negative yardage on three. Cassel was sacked six times.

"I think he managed the offense well," Mularkey said about Cassel. "I think there's some throws I know he'd like to have back. There's some throws that I'd like to see our guys make plays for him. I'd like to see us protect a little better. ... Overall, it's the first time he started and played a game since last year."

The Titans signed veteran Brandon Weeden on Tuesday to serve as Cassel's backup.

On the long end of the timetable presented by NFL Network, Mariota could be out through the Titans' Week 8 bye, missing three games, including an Oct. 22 visit to the Browns, and return to face the Ravens on Nov. 5 in Nashville.

Is there a chance he plays against the Colts next Monday?

"I feel better about that one than this one," Mularkey said. "I held out hope, but I feel better about that one."

TITANS GOING NOWHERE IF MARCUS MARIOTA DOESN'T RETURN OUICKLY

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. -- It was painful to watch the Tennessee Titans try to muster an offense without Marcus Mariota. This team wasn't built for it, and Sunday's 16-10 loss to the Miami Dolphins proved its season will go downhill fast if the quarterback can't get healthy quickly and stay that way.

The Dolphins played poorly, but the Titans did even less offensively. They wasted a strong defensive and special-teams day because there were no answers to spark their offense outside of a 69-yard touchdown drive to start the second half.

The Titans' Matt Cassel looked hesitant, weak-armed and unable to intimidate a Dolphins defense that appeared to salivate every time he dropped back to pass. The Dolphins' first-quarter, strip-sack touchdown, which could just as easily have been ruled an incomplete pass, was a perfect example of a quarterback holding the ball too long in the pocket. It was the difference in an ugly, low-scoring game.

Mariota has the ability to scramble for several yards on that play, or at least use his mobility to get out of the pocket and make a throw downfield or out of bounds.

The Titans' 188 total offensive yards were their lowest output since their 2013 season finale. They averaged 3.2 yards per play and went 2-of-13 on third downs. They wasted a great performance by the defense, which allowed just 178 total yards.

"Might be one of the worst thirddown games I can remember. Obviously, we couldn't get in a rhythm," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said. "I thought we were going to be able to turn that game around but just could not be consistent with our play offensively."

Cassel finished 21-of-32 for 141 yards and the second-half touchdown. It was a mix of checkdowns and intermediate throws. He also was the primary reason for the Titans' six sacks, frequently holding the ball too long.

Penalties made Cassel's job even harder. Left tackle Taylor Lewan's knee injury forced reserve Dennis Kelly into action, making the offensive line look ordinary, but Cassel's limitations had the biggest impact on Tennessee's offense.

DeMarco Murray had a rough start before finishing the day OK (14 carries, 58 yards, a lost fumble) while facing seven- and eight-man boxes, but the Dolphins weren't going to let the Titans' run game beat them. The Indianapolis Colts will have the same game plan next Monday night.

"We gotta run the ball better," Murray said. "Early on, trying to do too much, trying to make plays, me individually, I need to get downhill and take what's there."

There's not much reason for offensive optimism as long as Cassel is under center. It brings up the puzzling question of why the Titans didn't do more to upgrade their backup quarterback position this offseason. Cassel, 35, is a smart veteran who can provide guidance, but he's not a quarterback who should see meaningful playing time. Colin Kaepernick, a quarterback with a similar skill set as Mariota. would have seemed like a reasonable option, but the Titans were not interested when they worked out four quarterbacks this week and signed veteran Brandon Weeden.

So it appears they'll stick with what they've got until Mariota returns: Cassel and, if needed, Weeden.

The showdown against the Colts becomes a battle of two teams with injured franchise quarterbacks trying to find a way. Mariota appears a little closer to a return, and it's more important for Tennessee to get him back. A loss would send Tennessee to 2-4 and into the AFC South cellar.

Mariota threw stationary passes of about 15 to 20 yards in practice this past week, but he will need to show more mobility to play next Monday. It's too early to figure out if he'll be able to go, but this loss certainly increased the Titans' urgency.

DEMARCO MURRAY: HOMETOWN LAS VEGAS WILL BE ON MIND IN SUNDAY GAME

Tennessee Titans running back DeMarco Murray is donating $25,000 to the Las Vegas Police Department and another $25,000 to families of the victims in last week's mass shooting on the Las Vegas Strip.

Las Vegas natives Kris Bryant and Bryce Harper may be trying to outdo each other between the lines, but they're working together to provide help for the victims of the Sunday's shooting.

Murray, who grew up in Las Vegas, says the community is still near and dear to him. He said the city will be on his mind Sunday when the Titans play in Miami.

"When I heard about the terror and devastation in my hometown of Las Vegas, I couldn't believe it," Murray said this weekend. "I was shocked, sickened and scared for the families and friends of the victims. I want to help and do whatever I can to take away their pain from such a horrific experience.

"Las Vegas is a special city not just to me, my family and friends, but this whole world. It's a shame ... for the city to have to endure such an attack. I pray for the victims and their families and hope our great country can work diligently towards keeping our people safe and eliminate these kinds of attacks in the future."

TITANS' FAILURE TO ADEQUATELY ADDRESS BACKUP QB SPOT PROVING COSTLY

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. -- Nobody pays attention to the backup quarterback until something goes wrong.

Well, something went wrong and now the Tennessee Titans are left in a stage of offensive hopelessness. It's their own fault, a lack of proper preparation and a consequence of settling for comfort.

The result is having to count on 35-year-old Matt Cassel, a veteran who excels at providing mentorship but who is past his prime as a player. Six quarters into the 2017 Cassel experiment, it's clear the Titans didn't properly address the backup quarterback position.

This goes back to March, when the Titans decided to give Cassel a two-year, $5.25 million contract. It was safe, familiar and uninspiring. In turn, that's exactly how the Titans' offense looks as Mariota has to miss time with a hamstring injury.

Whether injury prone or just unlucky, Mariota has proven to be a safe bet to miss at least a game or two every season. So it would make sense to prepare for that in a league in which one game could be the difference between winning the AFC South and eating potato chips at the crib while the Houston Texans claim the division for the third consecutive season.

It's at least puzzling that the Titans didn't take a harder look at free-agent Colin Kaepernick, who seems to be a good fit in a Titans offense with plenty of read-option and runpass option plays. Kaepernick appears to be a much better fit than Cassel, a pure pocket passer with little mobility.

Yet the Titans didn't have interest in Kaepernick this offseason despite him likely being an upgrade to their quarterback room. Even when Mariota suffered his hamstring injury against the Texans, Kaepernick wasn't one of the four quarterbacks the Titans brought in to work out.

Yes, there would have been a lot of media attention and maybe even outrage from a fan base with plenty of folks who would disagree with his protest centered on his stance against police brutality and racial injustice. But I thought this was the NFL, where winning is truly the most important thing.

And if Kaepernick was never going to happen, why not allocate a draft pick or a little more money on a higher-profile backup as a protection for your franchise quarterback's nicks and bruises?

It's not hard to predict that the Indianapolis Colts' Jacoby Brissett, the Minnesota Vikings' Case Keenum and even the Oakland Raiders' EJ Manuel, all quarterbacks replacing injured starters on potential playoff teams, would have won Sunday's game for the Titans if in the place of Cassel and given adequate preparation.

Kaepernick, Keenum, Manuel, Landry Jones, Geno Smith, Nick Foles, Blaine Gabbert and Robert Griffin III were free agents this offseason. Brissett became available via trade. Nathan Peterman and Josh Dobbs were among Day 3 draft options available.

But familarity with Cassel, and a lesser, thinly reasonable connection with Brandon Weeden, led the Titans to their backup quarterback conundrum.

Tennessee's offense is largely dependent upon the health of Mariota -- which is true about most teams' starting quarterbacks -- but the backup position should have been a higher priority for a franchise that has seen each of the past two seasons end with Mariota injured.

Cassel can't make all the throws anymore, he doesn't have the awareness to find the hot route or get rid of the ball consistently, and defenses don't respect him, often putting eight in the box to stop running backs DeMarco Murray and Derrick Henry.

"That's not all on Matt," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said. "We've got to do some things to help Matt, even coaching-wise we've got to do a better job."

If you've got to change your scheme more to help Cassel, why couldn't they do that for someone with more talent?

That oversight could cost the Titans in the end, especially if Mariota has to miss more time whether next Monday against the Colts or in the future with a different injury.

MIKE MULARKEY FEELS BETTER ABOUT MARCUS MARIOTA'S CHANCES TO PLAY VS. COLTS

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. -- Quarterback help may be on the way for the Tennessee Titans.

After missing Sunday's 16-10 loss against the Miami Dolphins, there's a reasonable chance Marcus Mariota (hamstring) can return for the Titans' game against the Indianapolis Colts next Monday night.

"I feel better about that one than this one," coach Mike Mularkey said with a smile after the game. Mariota's potential return is one of the only things worth a smile regarding the Titans' offense Sunday.

Mularkey refuted an NFL Network report that stated Mariota would need to miss two to four weeks with his hamstring injury. He seemed optimistic about his chances for the Colts showdown if Mariota showed some more mobility.

"You can listen to NFL Network or you can listen to me," Mularkey said. "When I say day-to-day, I'm going to tell you like it is." Mularkey said Mariota didn't get "real close" to playing Sunday, saying their franchise quarterback's lack of mobility against a strong defensive front and the road environment had an impact on the decision. He did note the decision would have been a lot harder if it was a playoff game.

Mariota threw 15- to 20-yard stationary throws in practice last week, but he'll need to be able to move around in the pocket to avoid a rush and make quick movements without worry of re-injury in order to play against the Colts.

Left tackle Taylor Lewan suffered a knee injury in the Titans' loss to the Dolphins and will have an MRI back in Tennessee to determine the severity. Lewan, who said his knee checked out OK structurally but trainers concluded there was some looseness in his knee, tried to return but he said his mobility and power was affected too much. Mularkey said he doesn't believe the injury is serious and Lewan agreed.

"I don't think it'll be an issue," said Lewan, who noted it was more movement limitations than pain.

TAYLOR LEWAN TO HAVE MRI ON INJURED KNEE

BY TERRY MCCORMICK TITANINSIDER.COM OCTOBER 8, 2017

Tennessee Titans left tackle Taylor Lewan suffered a knee injury in Sunday's 16-10 loss to the Miami Dolphins on Sunday.

Lewan will have an MRI on his knee on Monday, Coach Mike Mularkey announced after the game.

Lewan sustained the injury on the first series of the game when he was rolled up on by quarterback Matt Cassel as he was hit on the play after delivering a pass.

Lewan was out for a couple of series, and was replaced by Dennis Kelly. He then returned, but was called for back-to-back penalties (both of which happened to be declined). He then went back to the sideline and Kelly finished up the rest of the way in his place.

The Titans offensive line struggled all the way around, as Cassel was sacked six times in the game and Tennessee was limited to 69 yards rushing in the game.

Linebacker Wesley Woodyard left the game for a series after suffering from cramps. He went inside to get an I.V., and returned to the game in the fourth quarter.

- Signed by Oakland Raiders as a free agent on March 14, 2016.
- Signed by the Titans as an unrestricted free agent on March 11, 2017.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/0 - Tennessee): Has led or tied for the team lead in special teams tackles twice in 2017 (vs. SEA, at MIA).

- Against Oakland (9/10), saw action as a reserve on special teams in his Titans debut.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), played as a reserve on special teams.
- Against Seattle (9/24), saw action as a reserve on special teams and tied for the team lead with a special teams tackle.
- At Houston (10/1), played as a reserve on special teams.
- At Miami (10/8), saw action as a reserve on special teams and led the team with three special teams tackles.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), played as a reserve on special teams.

2016 (16/0, 1/0 - Oakland): In his first year with the team played in all 16 games as a reserve and registered seven stops on special teams.

- At New Orleans (9/11), made his Raiders debut, seeing action exclusively as a special teams player and recorded one tackle on the unit.
- At San Diego (12/18), led the team with two special teams tackles, his sixth and seventh of the season.
- At Houston (1/7), in his first career postseason appearance, earned limited playing time on defense while serving primarily as a contributing member of the special teams unit. Recorded a special teams tackle.

2015 (15/0 - St. Louis): Appeared in 15 games as a reserve primarily on special teams. Finished the season with three tackles, a fumble recovery and a pass defensed on defense. Ranked third on the team with 10 special teams tackles.

- At Arizona (10/4), recorded a season-high two tackles while adding his second career fumble recovery.
- At Cincinnati (11/29), earned his first career pass defensed.

2014 (14/0 - St. Louis): Saw action in 14 games, mostly on special teams. Notched a tackle on defense and 10 stops on special teams.

 At Washington (12/7), recorded his first tackle of the season with a solo stop. • Against N.Y. Giants (12/21), blocked a Josh Brown field goal.

2013 (15/0 - St. Louis): Played in 15 games as a rookie on special teams and collected four special teams tackles and a fumble recovery for a score.
At Houston (10/13), grabbed his first career fumble recovery, which he PRO: Beau Brinkley was signed by the Titans as an undrafted free agent following the 2012 NFL Draft and has handled all of the team's long snapping duties in every game since then. His consistency helped Brett Kern set the franchise records for both gross and net punting average and helped Titans kickers Rob Bironas (2012-13) and Ryan Succop (2014-16) combine to make 86.1 percent of their field goals in Brinkley's first five campaigns.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Brinkley was the team's long snapper for every punt, field goal and extra point attempt for his fifth consecutive season.
- In 2014, he set a career high and tied for third on the squad with 10 special teams stops.
- As a rookie in 2012, Brinkley played in every game and contributed six special teams tackles.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Brinkley's father, Mike, was an All-American defensive end and long snapper at Missouri Valley College. He taught Beau the skill of long snapping when he was just seven years old. Beau's football idol growing up was Kansas City Chiefs long snapper Kendall Gammon.
- Brinkley raced four-wheelers in the Extreme Dirt Track Racing Series while growing up in Missouri. He traveled the country competing in both motor cross and flat track competitions and won a flat track regional title in 2005.
- In June 2015, Brinkley participated in the Nashville Sports Council Golf Tournament at Gaylord Springs Golf Course. On the par-3 eighth hole, he sunk a hole-in-one to win a barrel of Jack Daniel's Tennessee whiskey.

PRO: The Titans selected Jayon Brown in the fifth round of the 2017 NFL Draft. The 6-foot, 226-pound defender was identified as an immediate candidate to participate in subpackages and to be a key contributor on special teams. He possesses tremendous speed for the position and excels at covering tight ends and running backs. At UCLA, he was a two-year starter and led the team in tackles during his junior and senior campaigns.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, led UCLA with 119 tackles, which tied for 16th on the school's all-time single-season leaderboard.
- He stepped into UCLA's starting lineup on a full-time basis as a junior when Myles Jack went down with a knee injury. He went on to total 21 starts in his final two campaigns with the Bruins.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- He went to the same California high school, Long Beach Poly, as new Titans teammate Jurrell Casey. Brown's older brother, Juwan, was Jurrell's teammate there.
- He likes spending as much time as possible with his dog, "a mutt named Lou," and also enjoys puzzles and watching movies.
- Former Long Beach Poly and New England Patriots star Willie McGinest is a close friend of the Brown family.
- He has two older brothers who played college football. Jason played linebacker at Idaho, while Juwuan was a defensive lineman at Southern Oregon.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

 The Long Beach, Calif., native was selected by the Titans in the fifth round (155th overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft.

PRO: The Titans selected Kevin Byard with the first pick of the third round in the 2016 NFL Draft. The 5-foot-11-inch, 212-pound defender earned a reputation in college as a sideline-to-sideline, ball-hawking safety who plays with tremendous intelligence and effort. The Middle Tennessee State product made an immediate impact as a rookie in 2016 by finishing fifth on the team with 63 tackles and ranking second on the squad with 10 special teams tackles.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

 In 2016, Byard saw action in all 16 games with seven starts and compiled 63 tackles, a sack, five tackles for loss, three quarterback pressures, four passes defensed and 10 special teams tackles. His seven starts were the most by a Titans rookie safety since Michael Griffin (10) in 2007.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Byard credits his mother, Artina Stanley, for much of his success. Following a divorce when Byard was in ninth grade, his mother moved with the children from Philadelphia to Atlanta. Although it was a financial struggle, Stanley worked long hours to make sure her children received what they needed. Byard claims he and his older brother "had to grow up really fast" as they helped their mother with taking care of the younger kids in the family.
- The Titans had an inside track in their scouting of Byard. Titans general manager Jon Robinson received glowing reports on Byard from his friend and MTSU recruiting coordinator Steve Ellis. When Robinson was a linebackers coach at Nicholls State, Ellis was one of his pupils, and the two remained close through the years. Additionally, Patrick Callaway, a newlyhired scouting assistant for the Titans, was Byard's high school teammate.
- Byard says his football role models are Ed Reed, Brian Dawkins and Troy Polamalu.
- Byard has aspirations to travel the world, and his bucket list includes setting foot on every continent.
- Byard has three brothers and three sisters and is the second oldest of the group.

Captain: 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017

Pro Bowl: 2015, 2016

PRO: The Titans used their third-round pick in the 2011 NFL Draft on University of Southern California defensive tackle Jurrell Casey. In his first six pro seasons, Casey became regarded as one of the top interior defensive linemen in the NFL, a force against both the run and pass. During that timespan, he played in all but two games and ranked fifth among all defensive tackles with 33 total sacks (Geno Atkins, Gerald McCoy, Ndamukong Suh and Marcell Dareus). In 2013, he tied for second among NFL defensive tackles with a career-high 10.5 sacks and set a career high with 90 tackles. He was named to the Pro Bowl following the 2015 and 2016 campaigns, becoming the first Titans defensive player to make consecutive Pro Bowls since Albert Haynesworth from 2007–2008.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Casey was voted to his second consecutive Pro Bowl after setting a career high with 29 quarterback pressures.
- With five sacks in 2016, he became the first player for the team in the "Titans era" (1999–present) to register four consecutive seasons with at least five sacks
- In 2015, he was named to the Pro Bowl after tying for the team lead with seven sacks. He finished second on the team with 11 tackles for loss and a career-high 28 quarterback pressures.
- In 2013, Casey was named Associated Press second-team All-Pro after putting together one of the best seasons by a defensive tackle in franchise history. His 10.5 sacks set a career high and made up the second-highest total by a franchise defensive tackle since sacks became an official statistic in 1982, finishing behind only Ray Childress' 13 sacks in 1992. Only Jason Hatcher of the Dallas Cowboys (11) finished with more sacks than Casey among defensive tackles in 2013. Casey's season totals also included a career-high 90 tackles and a career- and team-high 10 quarterback pressures.
- In 2012, he notched 80 tackles to lead the defensive line and added three sacks.
- As a rookie in 2011, Casey recorded 74 tackles, which led the team's defensive linemen, and tied for second on the defense with five tackles for loss
- Casey totaled nine sacks and 22 tackles for loss during his three seasons at Southern California. In 2010, Casey's junior year, he was named firstteam All-Pac-10.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Casey was voted the 2016 Tennessee Titans Walter Payton Man of the Year, which recognizes players for excellence on and off the field. Casey is a fixture at Tennessee Titans community events and also serves as the spokesperson for United Way of Metropolitan Nashville. In 2016, Casey and his wife, Ryann, established The Casey Fund, a non-profit dedicated to raising money for established re-entry programs, inner-city youth programs, mentoring and halfway houses. Then, prior to Thanksgiving, the Caseys hosted a food giveaway for 200 underprivileged families in the Nashville area. Casey also hosts a free youth football skills camp for linemen in his hometown of Long Beach, Calif.
- More information about The Casey Fund is available online at thejurrellcasey.com/the-casey-fund.
- · Casey has a strong partnership with Project Return Tennessee.
- Family members, friends and teammates call him "Tut-Tut," a nickname he earned from his aunt as a small child because she said he walked like a turtle.
- · Casey has nine brothers and sisters.
- When he was in high school, his older brother, Jurray, was convicted of first-degree murder. Despite the turmoil it caused, Jurrell credits his brother for helping him re-focus on becoming a better football player and student.

• Casey calls his mother, Collette Burns, a cafeteria worker in the Long Beach Unified School District, "the inspiration in my life" for how hard she worked to provide for Jurrell and his siblings.

JACK CONKLIN TACKLE • 6'6" • 308 LBS • COLLEGE: MICHIGAN STATE ACQUIRED: 1ST ROUND - 2016 • NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 2/2 HOMETOWN: PLAINWELL, MICH. GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 22/22 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: With the eighth overall selection in the 2016 NFL Draft, the Titans selected former Michigan State tackle Jack Conklin. The 6-foot-6-inch, 308-pounder played primarily on the left side in college but possesses the versatility and physical prowess to play right tackle at the pro level. He was the first draft pick by a general manager (Jon Robinson) and head coach (Mike Mularkey) who vowed to acquire "tough, physical, smart and accountable" players. Conklin made an immediate impact in his first season with the Titans by starting all 16 games and being named first-team All-Pro at right tackle. After choosing to forgo his senior season, Conklin became the third offensive lineman drafted by the Titans in the first round in a four-year span, joining Chance Warmack (2013) and Taylor Lewan (2014). He became the first Michigan State offensive lineman to be selected in the first round since 1989 (Tony Mandarich, No. 2 overall by Green Bay) and also the highest drafted Spartan since wide receiver Charles Rogers (No. 2) in 2003.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- As a rookie in 2016, Conklin was named first-team Associated Press All-Pro at right tackle. He started all 16 games on the right side and was a part of an offensive front that blocked for the NFL's third-ranked rushing attack which averaged 136.7 rush yards per game.
- Became the first franchise rookie to earn first-team All-Pro honors since Jevon Kearse in 1999.
- In his final season at Michigan State, Conklin was named second-team All-American by The Associated Press and was on numerous All-Big Ten teams.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- After not receiving a single Division I scholarship offer, Conklin began his time at Michigan State as a preferred walk-on in 2012. He impressed enough in his redshirt season to earn a scholarship in the spring of 2013.
- At Plainwell (Mich.) High School, Conklin's head coach was his father, Darren Conklin, who once was a walk-on at Michigan under Wolverines head coach Bo Schembechler.
- His mother, Jennifer Jackson, was an All-American swimmer at the University of Michigan.
- Conklin's grandfather, Ron Jackson, was a professional baseball player.
 He played first base for the Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox.
- Conklin is involved with a pediatric cancer organization called DC Strong, founded by his childhood friend Dustin Colyer, who overcame Wilms' tumor kidney cancer.
- Conklin traveled to Australia in 2015 to participate in Michigan State's study abroad International Summer Sports Program.
- Conklin hopes to one day own his own farm.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Plainwell, Mich., native was selected by the Titans in the first round (eighth overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft.

84 DAVIS

WIDE RECEIVER • 6'3" • 209 LBS • COLLEGE: WESTERN MICHIGAN ACQUIRED: 1ST ROUND - 2017 • NFL EXPERIENCE: ROOKIE

HOMETOWN: WHEATON, ILL.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 2/1 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans selected Corey Davis with the fifth-overall pick in the 2017 NFL Draft, which was obtained in a 2016 trade with the Los Angeles Rams. The 6-foot-3-inch, 209-pound wide receiver brings a complete skill set to his position, excelling in route running, making plays after the catch, and blocking. His 5,285 receiving yards at Western Michigan set an all-time FBS record, and he became the second player in FBS history to record 52 career receiving touchdowns. Davis became the highest drafted player from Western Michigan and the first first-rounder from the school since Jason Babin in 2004. The fifth pick was the highest selection ever used by the Titans/Oilers on a wide receiver by 11 slots, topping the 1998 choice of Kevin Dyson with the 16th pick.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Davis set an FBS all-time record with 5,285 career receiving yards.
- In 2016, Davis was a consensus All-American selection after tying for the FBS lead with 19 touchdown receptions, ranking seventh nationally with 1,500 receiving yards, and ranking eighth with 97 catches.
- Davis set Western Michigan records for single-season touchdown receptions (19), single-game receiving yards (272), touchdown receptions in a bowl game (three), career receptions (332), career touchdown receptions (52) and career receiving yards (5,285).

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Davis and his six siblings survived a tough economic upbringing in Wheaton, III. While he has always maintained a loving relationship with his parents, Olasheni Timson and Michelle Davis, he made the decision as a high school junior to move into the home of Robin and Dan Graham, who became his legal guardians. Dan, Corey Davis' youth football coach, was an offensive lineman for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. His son, Ryan Graham, played youth and high school football with Davis and currently plays quarterback at Northern Illinois.
- His brother, Titus, played football at Central Michigan and was signed by the Chargers as a rookie free agent in 2015. Titus also spent time with the Jets and Bills before signing with the Bears during the 2017 offseason.
- One of Davis' favorite quotes is "Never die easy" by Walter Payton, who used the saying as the title to his autobiography.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

 The Wheaton, Ill., native was selected by the Titans in the first round (fifth overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (2/1): Appeared in his first career NFL game against Oakland (9/10/17). Made his first career NFL start at Jacksonville (9/17/17).

- Against Oakland (9/10), played as a reserve at wide receiver in his NFL debut and finished second on the team with six receptions for 69 yards. In the team's "Titans era" (1999-2017), his reception total ranks second among all rookies in Week 1 games. Only Tajaé Sharpe had more, with seven catches (9/11/16). Only Sharpe (76 yards) and Kenny Britt (85 yards on 9/10/09) had more receiving yards than Davis in a rookie Week 1 debut. Registered his first career reception and extended the Titans' opening touchdown drive with a leaping 23-yard catch down the right sideline on third-and-eight in the first quarter.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), made his first career start at wide receiver and caught one pass for four yards before leaving the game in the second quarter with an injury.
- Against Seattle (9/24), was inactive.
- At Houston (10/1), was inactive.

- At Miami (10/8), was inactive.
- · Against Indianapolis (10/16), was inactive.

COLLEGE:

• In four seasons at Western Michigan (2013-16), Davis played and started 50 games. He registered 332 career receptions for 5,285 yards and 52 touchdowns, setting the Mid-American Conference record in each category and becoming the only player in FBS history with 300 catches, 5,000 yards and 50 touchdowns. His 5,285 career receiving yards were the most in FBS history, and he ended his career ranked second all-time in FBS history with 52 career receiving touchdowns (60 by Jarett Dillard). Davis' 332 career receptions ranked fourth all-time in FBS annals.

AS A SENIOR (2016), played and started 13 games and set career highs with 97 receptions, 1,500 receiving yards and 19 touchdowns. He helped his team win the MAC and go undefeated until a Cotton Bowl loss. He had five games of 100-plus yards and six games of two or more receiving touchdowns. Tied for the FBS lead (Carlos Henderson) with 19 touchdown receptions. His receiving yardage total ranked seventh in FBS, while his reception total was eighth. Caught seven or more passes in seven games. He was the only player in 2016 in FBS with four halves of at least 130 yards and one touchdown. Named a Biletnikoff Award semifinalist and earned All-American honors from Associated Press (first-team), FWAA (first-team), Phil Steele (first-team), USA Today, Sporting News and Sports Illustrated. Named Mid-American Conference Offensive Player of the Year PRO: The Titans signed Eric Decker late in the 2017 offseason to bolster the wide receiving corps and provide experience and production both outside and in the slot. The 6-foot-3-inch, 214-pounder spent the first four seasons of his career as a member of the Denver Broncos after being drafted in the third round of the 2010 NFL Draft. Prior to joining the Titans, Decker spent three seasons with the N.Y. Jets. The University of Minnesota product has three 1,000-yard receiving seasons and three double-digit touchdown campaigns on his résumé. He also has a knack for finding the end zone having registered 52 career touchdowns through 2016. Decker enjoyed his greatest statistical success in 2013, when he posted career highs with 87 receptions for 1,288 yards to go along with 11 receiving scores.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In his first seven NFL seasons (2010-16), appeared in 95 games with 75 starts and posted 385 receptions for 5,253 yards and 52 touchdowns.
- Since the start of 2012, Decker ranks tied for fifth in the NFL with 43 receiving touchdowns.
- Of his 41 touchdowns since 2012, 33 have come inside the red zone, the second most in the league behind only Brandon Marshall.
- Joined Calvin Johnson and Demaryius Thomas as one of just three players in the league to have produced at least 70 receptions, 900 receiving yards and five touchdowns in each of the seasons between 2013-16, despite averaging 33 fewer targets per season than the other two.
- In 2015, Decker finished with 80 receptions for 1,027 yards, his first 1,000-yard effort as a Jet and third in a span of four seasons, to go along with 12 touchdowns.
- In 2013, Decker started all 16 regular season games for the Broncos and set career highs with 87 receptions and 1,288 receiving yards, which ranked second on the team. Also finished third on the squad with 11 touchdowns.
- In 2012, Decker set then career-highs with 85 receptions, 1,064 receiving yards and 13 receiving touchdowns—ranking second in the NFL in the final category.
- In 2011, Decker led the Broncos in receptions (44) and receiving yards (612) in his first year as a starter for the Broncos while totaling the second most receiving touchdowns (8) in team history by a player in his first or second season.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Decker and his wife, Jessie, are co-founders of the Decker's Dogs Foundation. Decker's Dogs aims to rescue, care and train service dogs for military veterans returning home with disabilities. For more information on the foundation, please visit ejdeckerfoundation.com.
- Eric and Jessie have teamed up with STOMP Out Bullying to educate students, teachers and parents about the dangers of bullying.
- Decker played outfield for the Minnesota Golden Gophers' baseball team and was drafted twice in the Major League Baseball Draft—by the Milwaukee Brewers in 2008 (38th round) and the Minnesota Twins in 2009 (27th round).
- Decker wears No. 87 for a couple reasons: He was the 87th overall player selected in the 2010 NFL Draft; and he was born in '87.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Cold Spring, Minn., native was originally selected by the Denver Broncos in the third round (87th overall) of the 2010 NFL Draft.
- Signed by the New York Jets as an unrestricted free agent on March 13,

- · Waived by the Jets on June 7. 2017.
- · Signed by the Titans as a free agent on June 19, 2017.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/3 - Tennessee): Has led the team in receptions once in 2017 (vs. IND). Has led the team in receiving yards once in 2017 (vs. IND). Saw action in his 100th career regular season game at Miami (10/8/17). Collected his 400th career reception at Miami (10/8/17). Has tied for the team lead in receiving yards once in 2017 (at MIA).

- Against Oakland (9/10), started at wide receiver in his Titans debut and snared three catches for 10 yards.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), played as a reserve at wide receiver and snared three receptions for 32 yards. Returned an onside kick for 22 yards in the fourth quarter. Kept the Titans' opening scoring drive alive with a 10-yard grab on third-and-two in the first quarter.
- Against Seattle (9/24), saw action as a reserve at wide receiver and snagged four catches for 49 yards. Extended the Titans' opening scoring drive with a 17-yard grab on third-and-15 late in the first quarter.
- At Houston (10/1), started at wide receiver and registered two catches for 13 yards.
- At Miami (10/8), played as a reserve at wide receiver in his 100th career regular season game. Caught four passes and tied for the team lead with 34 receiving yards. On his third reception of the game, a seven-yard grab, recorded his 400th career reception becoming the 30th active NFL player to reach the mark.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), started at wide receiver and led the team with seven receptions and 88 receiving yards. Helped set up the Titans' second score with a 27-yard catch in the first quarter. Converted a thirdand-six with an eight-yard reception during a scoring drive in the third quarter.

2016 (3/3 - N.Y. Jets): Started three games at wide receiver and caught nine passes for 194 yards with two touchdowns. Was inactive for two games before being placed on injured reserve on Oct. 12, 2016.

- At Buffalo (9/15), brought in six receptions for a game-high 126 yards, including one touchdown.

2015 (15/13 - N.Y. Jets): Saw action in 15 games with 13 starts as he registered his first 1,000-yard receiving season as a member of the Jets. Collected 80 receptions for 1,027 yards and 12 touchdowns. Was inactive for one contest. Combined with Brandon Marshall to set a new Jets record for touchdown receptions among the team's top wide receivers in a single season (26), as the pair also led all NFL wide receiver duos in receptions (189), while finishing second in combined yards (2,529). The Decker/ Marshall combo each scored a touchdown in the same game nine times, besting the NFL mark of seven set in 1998 by Vikings receivers Cris Carter and Randy Moss.

- At Indianapolis (9/21), before exiting the game with an injury in the fourth quarter, snagged eight passes for 97 yards. Caught his second touchdown of the season on a six-yard strike to open the scoring.
- At New England (10/25), reeled in five receptions on third down, four of which resulted in first downs, while totaling his third-highest yardage output of the season with 94 yards.
- At Oakland (11/1), caught six passes for 60 yards while also hauling in a touchdown reception in the third guarter from Geno Smith.
- Against Jacksonville (11/8), led the team with six receptions for 79 yards while adding a touchdown on a seven-yard catch to take an early lead in the first quarter.

- Against Buffalo (11/12), led all receivers in receptions (six) and receiving yards (85), adding a 31-yard touchdown (his longest of the season) midway through the fourth quarter.
- At N.Y. Giants (12/6), logged his first 100-yard performance of the season after catching eight passes for 101 yards. Along with Brandon Marshall (12 receptions for 131 yards), the pair became the first tandem in Jets history to each surpass 100 receiving yards in a road win since 1986.
- Against Tennessee (12/13), scored on a 16-yard pass in the first quarter of the game, giving the Jets a 7-0 lead.
- 2014 (15/15 N.Y. Jets): Started 15 games and led the team with 74 receptions, 962 receiving yards and five touchdowns (five). His catches and receiving yards were the most by a Jets receiver since 2007.

OUTSIDE LINEBACKER • 6'5" • 277 LBS • COLLEGE: CLEMSON ACQUIRED: 2ND ROUND - 2016 • NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 2/2

HOMETOWN: GREENVILLE, S.C.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 10/1 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans selected Kevin Dodd in the second round of the 2016 NFL Draft. The 6-foot-5-inch, 277-pounder transitioned to a 3-4 outside linebacker with the Titans after playing defensive end at Clemson. He appeared in nine games with one start as a rookie. In college, Dodd played behind pro talent in his first three seasons before bursting on the scene as a redshirt junior in 2015. In his final collegiate campaign the Greenville, S.C., native tallied 12 sacks and 23.5 stops for loss.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Dodd appeared in nine games as a rookie in 2016, tallying his first career start and first career sack at Detroit on Sept. 18.
- Dodd enjoyed a stellar junior campaign at Clemson when he started all 15 games, ranked second in the nation with 23.5 tackles for loss and finished in the top 10 nationally with 12 sacks.
- Dodd had a spectacular showing in the National Championship Game against Alabama when he produced a career-high five tackles for loss and three sacks, both of which set Clemson single-game postseason records.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Dodd attended the first round of the 2016 NFL Draft in Chicago. After not being selected he returned home, and when the second round started he got the call from the Titans on a car ride to dinner with friends. Dodd states not being selected in the first round will serve as motivation during his career.
- Dodd says that his grandmother Mamae Charles served as an inspiration in his life and her guidance in the early years helped him reach his football dreams. She passed away when he was in sixth grade and to this day he plays to honor her life.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Greenville, S.C., native was selected by the Titans in the second round (33rd overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft.

SEASON RECAPS:

PRO: The Titans selected Jalston Fowler in the fourth round of the 2015 NFL Draft, and the fullback has played in all 32 games in his first two NFL campaigns. The 5-foot-11-inch, 254-pounder possesses a big, athletic frame and low center of gravity as a runner, and is a threat out of the backfield as a receiver. He adds an element of versatility to the Titans squad having served as a fullback, running back, H-back, tight end and on special teams during his time with the Alabama Crimson Tide.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Fowler played in all 16 games with six starts at fullback. Helped block for the NFL's third-ranked rushing attack which averaged 136.7 rush yards per game, including DeMarco Murray's AFC-leading 1,287 rushing yards.
- As a rookie in 2015, he played in all 16 games and scored a rushing touchdown and a receiving touchdown. Eight of his 12 touches resulted in first downs.
- Fowler won two national championships (2011, 2012) as a member of the Alabama football team.
- In 2014, Fowler's final year at Alabama, he helped open holes for a pair of Crimson Tide running backs to each amass more than 900 rushing yards.
 Derrick Henry collected 990 yards on 172 carries with 11 touchdowns and T.J. Yeldon posted 979 yards on 194 rushes with 11 scores.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Fowler lists his mother, Dana, as the person that inspires him the most.
 When his brother, Joe, was accidentally shot and killed at a friend's house in 2007, she stayed strong and kept the family together.
- Fowler's nickname is "Nudie." The moniker was given to him by his father because that's how he referred to him when he was a newborn in the hospital.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

 The Mobile, Ala., native was selected by the Titans in the fourth round (108th overall) the 2015 NFL Draft.

RUNNING BACK • 6'3" • 247 LBS • COLLEGE: ALABAMA ACQUIRED: 2ND ROUND - 2016 • NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 2/2 HOMETOWN: YULEE, FLA.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 21/2 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans selected Heisman Trophy winner Derrick Henry in the second round of the 2016 NFL Draft out of the University of Alabama. The 6-foot-3-inch, 247-pounder is a powerful, downhill runner who displays tremendous speed and balance. He has the uncanny ability to find the end zone, having scored 45 combined touchdowns in three seasons with the Crimson Tide. As a rookie in 2016, he scored five touchdowns, sharing time in the backfield with veteran DeMarco Murray. At Alabama, he set numerous school and SEC records while leading his team to a National Championship in 2015.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Henry rushed for 490 yards and five touchdowns to become the third rookie for the franchise in the "Titans era" to score at least five touchdowns in a season, joining Vince Young (seven rushing touchdowns in 2006) and Chris Johnson (nine rushing and one receiving in 2008).
- Despite playing just three seasons and not seeing extensive action in his first campaign at Alabama, Henry finished his career as the school's all-time rushing leader with 3,591 yards.
- As a senior in 2015, Henry claimed the Heisman Trophy and led his team to the College Football Playoff National Championship. He also won the Doak Walker and Maxwell Award and was selected as the Walter Camp Player of the Year after rushing for an Alabama and Southeastern Conference record 2,219 yards.
- Henry's career high in rushing at Alabama was 271 yards at Auburn on Nov. 28, 2015.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- In high school, Henry broke the 51-year-old national high school rushing record with 12,124 yards after compiling 4,261 rushing yards as a senior.
- Henry sealed an Iron Bowl victory with an epic, career-best 271 rushing yards against the Tigers. He put the Crimson Tide on his back by carrying the ball a school-record 46 times. His 271 rushing yards were 11 more yards than Auburn had in total offense (260). He ended the game with 14 consecutive rushes to run out the clock.
- Henry says his grandmother Gladys Henry played a key inspirational role in his development. He has a portrait tattoo of her on his chest.
- Henry has been growing out his hair since he was in elementary school.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Yulee, Fla., native was selected by the Titans in the second round (45th overall) the 2016 NFL Draft.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/0): Leads the team with 318 rushing yards. Has led the team in rushing yards twice in 2017 (at JAX, vs. IND). Collected his forst career 100-yard rushing performance with 131 yards against Indianapolis (10/16/17).

- Against Oakland (9/10), played as a reserve at running back and rushed six times for 25 yards.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), saw action as a reserve at running back and led the team with a then career-best 92 rushing yards on 14 carries with a touchdown. Posted 87 of his rushing yards in the second half. Kept the Titans' second scoring drive alive with a two-yard run on third-and-one in the second quarter. Gave the Titans a 16-3 lead with a punishing 17-yard touchdown run up the middle with 6:36 left to play in the third quarter. Extended the Titans' final touchdown drive with a three-yard plunge on third-and-one in the final quarter.

- Against Seattle (9/24), played as a reserve at running back and carried the ball 13 times for 54 yards. Caught one pass for 10 yards. Set up the Titans' fourth quarter field goal with a career-long 25-yard run down to the Seattle 36-yard line.
- At Houston (10/1), saw action as a reserve at running back and carried the ball six times for seven yards. Kept the Titans' second touchdown drive alive with a three-yard run on third-and-one in the second quarter.
- At Miami (10/8), played as a reserve at running back and rushed four times for nine yards.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), saw action as a reserve at running back and led the team with a career-best 131 rushing yards on a career-high 19 rushes with a touchdown. Caught one pass for 14 yards out of the backfield. Sealed the Titans' win with a 72-yard touchdown rumble down the left sideline on third-and-five with 47 second left to play in the game.

2016 (15/2): Played in 15 games with two starts at running back as a rookie and ranked second on the team with 490 rushing yards on 110 carries with five touchdowns. Became the third rookie for the franchise in the "Titans era" to score at least five touchdowns in a season. Hauled in 13 receptions for 137 yards. Did not play in one contest after suffering an injury in pregame warmups. Led the team in rushing yards twice (at CHI, vs. HOU). Tied for the team lead in receptions once (vs. JAX). Appeared in his first career NFL game and started at running back against Minnesota (9/11/16). Posted his first career touchdown against Jacksonville (10/27/16).

- Against Minnesota (9/11), made his NFL debut and started in a tworunning back set. Carried the ball five times for three yards and caught two passes for 41 yards. Set up the Titans' opening field goal by hauling in his first career reception and reversing field for a 29-yard gain in the first quarter.
- At Detroit (9/18), played as a reserve at running back and rushed nine times for 40 yards. Caught one pass for nine yards. Extended the Titans' first scoring drive with a five-yard jaunt on third-and-one late in the opening stanza.
- At Miami (10/9), started at running back as the team opened the game in a two-running back set. Rushed seven times for 54 yards with a long rush of 22 yards. Set up the Titans' second touchdown with a 22-yard dash up the middle in the second quarter.
- Against Jacksonville (10/27), played significant snaps as a reserve at running back and rushed 16 times for 60 yards with his first career touchdown. Tied for the team lead with four receptions for 37 yards. Increased the Titans lead to 17-0 with his first career rushing touchdown on a six-yard run off right end in the second quarter. Kept the Titans' final scoring drive alive with a two-yard rumble on third-and-one on the first play of the fourth quarter.
- At San Diego (11/6), did not play after being injured in pregame warmups.
- At Chicago (11/27), played as a reserve at running back and led the team with 60 rushing yards on eight carries with a touchdown. Evened the score at 7-7 with an 11-yard touchdown run off left tackle with four seconds left to play in the first quarter.
- At Kansas City (12/18), played as a reserve at running back and carried the ball nine times for 58 yards with two touchdowns. Carried the ball five times for 41 yards during the Titans' initial touchdown drive that was punctuated by his four-yard touchdown run with 11:58 left to play in the second quarter. Cut the Chiefs' lead to 17-16 with his second touchdown of the afternoon, a one-yard jaunt, with 3:12 left to play in the fourth quarter.
- Against Houston (1/1), played as a reserve at running back and led the team with a career-best 65 rushing yards on 15 carries with a touchdown.
 Caught one pass for three yards. Kept the Titans' final touchdown drive alive with a 14-yard run on third-and-one in the third quarter. Gave the Titans a 21-7 advantage with a two-yard touchdown jaunt with 4:44 left to play in the third stanza.

COLLEGE:

- In three seasons at Alabama (2013-15), Henry played in 39 games and totaled 602 carries for a school-record 3,591 yards and 42 rushing touchdowns and added 285 yards on 17 career receptions with three receiving scores. Henry won numerous awards including the Heisman Trophy, the Doak Walker Award, Walter Camp Award, and Maxwell Award. During Alabama's victory over Clemson in the 2016 College Football Playoff National Championship, he broke Shaun Alexander's record for most career rushing yards in Alabama history.
- · As a junior (2015), claimed the Crimson Tide's second Heisman Trophy and led his team to the College Football Playoff National Championship. Also won the Doak Walker and Maxwell Award and was selected as the Walter Camp Player of the Year. Named a unanimous first team All-American and first team All-SEC by the league's coaches and the Associated Press. Selected as the SEC Offensive Player of the Year by both outlets. Rushed for a school- and Southeastern Conference record 2,219 yards, which led the nation and was the fifth most in a single-season by an FBS player in college football history. Averaged 147.9 yards per game, which was second in the country. His 28 rushing touchdowns were a national best and an SEC record, snapping Tim Tebow and Tre Mason's old mark of 23. Led the SEC in rushing in conference games with a 179.2 yards per game average, including 13 touchdowns. Had multiple rushing touchdowns in nine games and set the Alabama single-season record with 10 100-yard rushing games and four 200-yard games, which broke Bobby Humphrey's school record (3) set in 1986. Only the third running back in SEC history (Herschel Walker and Bo Jackson) to have four 200vard games in a single season. Set the school record with 11 consecutive games with a rushing touchdown and finished his career 20 straight, which was the most in the SEC history. Caught 11 passes for 91 yards. Accounted for a team-high 109 first down rushes on a school-record 395 carries. Was a five-time SEC Offensive Player of the Week (Wisconsin, Georgia, Texas A&M, Mississippi State and Auburn).
- At Auburn (11/28), produced a Heisman-worthy performance as he rushed his way past the Tigers on the Plains to the tune of a careerhigh 271 yards on the ground on a school-record 46 carries. Scored a touchdown on his 46th and final carry on a 25-yard jaunt that capped 14 straight rushes to end the game. Earned Walter Camp National Player of the Week honors and SEC Player of the Week accolades.
- Against Clemson (1/11), rushed for 158 yards and three touchdowns as the Crimson Tide claimed a 45-40 victory to win the national championship.
 Carried 36 times, including a 50-yard touchdown scamper in the first quarter and then sealed the win with a one-yard plunge with 1:07 remaining in the game.
- As a sophomore (2014), finished the year with 990 rushing yards on 172 carries with 11 rushing touchdowns. Had five receptions for 133 yards and two receiving touchdowns. Played in all 14 games with two starts and had 21 explosive rushes of 12 yards or more while converting 47 first downs, including four on third down. Three of his five receptions were explosive, taking screen passes 29, 41 and 52 yards.
- As a freshman (2013), as a true freshman saw action in 12 games and totaled 382 rushing yards on 35 carries for a 10.9 yards per carry average. Rushed 10 times (28.6 percent) for 12 yards or more while converting 17 first downs. Took his one pass reception to the end zone for a 61-yard catch and run in the Sugar Bowl. Contributed three tackles on special teams. Registered two 100-yard game (111 vs. Arkansas and 100 vs. Oklahoma).
- · Majored in communications at Alabama.

CORNERBACK • 5'11" • 185 LBS • COLLEGE: SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ACQUIRED: 1ST ROUND - 2017 • NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): ROOKIE HOMETOWN: EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 6/6 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans added the versatile and electric Adoree' Jackson with the 18th overall pick in the first round of the 2017 NFL Draft. His presence adds youth and athleticism in the secondary, and he is also an established weapon on special teams. The 5-foot-11-inch, 185-pound cornerback possesses game-breaking speed, but is also a proven and willing tackler. Jackson's ability to play in all three phases of the game in college may be his most impressive trait. During his three-year stint at Southern California, he scored 15 total touchdowns in four different ways: via reception (6), interception (1), punt return (4) and kickoff return (4).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Jackson was awarded the 2016 Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back
- Jackson tied two NCAA records with eight career touchdowns on kick returns and nine touchdowns on all runbacks. He also owns Southern California career records with 2,141 kickoff return yards and 79 kickoff returns.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Jackson was a long jumper and sprinter on USC's track team in the springs of 2015 and 2016, winning the Pac-12 outdoor long jump title both years (and placing second in the Pac-12 100 meters in 2016) and earning All-American status both years after twice placing fifth in the NCAA long jump. He also placed 10th in the long jump in the U.S. Olympic Trials.
- Jackson lists his parents as the people that inspire him the most.
 "They've always steered me in the right direction. All of their experiences and guidance helped get me where I'm at." Adoree's mother, Vianca, is an amazing inspiration having survived breast cancer.
- Jackson is a Reese's Peanut Butter Cups enthusiast. He names creator Harry Burnett Reese as a historical person he would have loved to meet. "He's a genius. That's by far and away my favorite candy. I eat that like it ain't nothing."

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The East St. Louis, III., native was selected by the Titans in the first round (18th overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/6): Leads the team with seven passes defensed. Has led or tied for the team lead in passes defensed twice in 2017 (vs. OAK, at JAX). Appeared in his first career NFL game and made his first career start against Oakland (9/10/17).

- Against Oakland (9/10), started at cornerback in his NFL debut and posted five tackles and a team-high two passes defensed. Returned one kickoff for 35 yards and one punt for five yards. Broke up a pass intended Amari Cooper late in the first quarter. Halted a Raiders' drive by defending a third-and-three pass intended for Michael Crabtree in the third quarter.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), started at cornerback and collected six tackles, including a stop for loss and a pass defensed. Teamed with Wesley Woodyard to stuff Leonard Fournette for a one-yard loss on a rush off right end in the opening quarter. Set up the Titans first touchdown of the afternoon with an electric 46-yard punt return in the third quarter.
- Against Seattle (9/24), started at cornerback and notched five tackles and two passes defensed. Returned five punts for 51 yards and two kickoffs for 27 yards. Broke up a pass intended for Doug Baldwin in the first quarter.
 Knocked down a pass intended for Amara Darboh in the fourth quarter.
- At Houston (10/1), started at cornerback and tallied three tackles and a pass defensed. Brought back three kickoffs for 71 yards and one punt for three yards. Broke up a deep pass intended for Will Fuller ${\sf V}$ on the first play of the fourth quarter.

- At Miami (10/8), started at cornerback and totaled two tackles, a forced fumble and a pass defensed. Returned two punts for 14 yards and one kickoff for 21 yards. Stuffed Jay Ajayi for no gain on a short pass in the first quarter. Broke up a deep pass intended for Jakeem Grant in the end zone in the first quarter. Forced an Ajayi fumble that was recovered by Kevin Byard in the second quarter.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), started at cornerback and recorded two tackles. Brought back two kickoffs for 46 yards with a long return of 40 yards to kickstart the Titans' opening scoring drive.

COLLEGE:

- In three seasons at Southern California, posted 139 tackles, 29 passes defensed, six interceptions including one for a touchdown, six stops for loss, three fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles on defense. Notched 39 receptions for 628 yards with six touchdowns and 15 carries for 92 yards on offense. As a return specialist, notched 79 kickoff returns for 2,141 yards with four touchdowns and 46 punt returns for 578 yards with four touchdowns on special teams. In his career, he has scored 15 touchdowns in four different ways: via reception (6), interception (1), punt return (4) and kickoff return (4). Registered 37 career starts (34 at cornerback, 1 at safety, 1 at wide receiver and 1 concurrently at cornerback and wide receiver).
- Tied the NCAA records for most career touchdowns on kick returns (8) and all runbacks (9). Owns the USC career records for kickoff return yardage (2,141 yards) and kickoff returns (79) and his 27.1 career kick return average is second in USC annals. Ranks fifth on USC's all-time punt return list (578 yards) and his four career punt return touchdowns is tied for the school record.

AS A JUNIOR (2016), started all 13 games at cornerback, and collected 55 tackles, a team-best 11 deflections, a team-high five interceptions, a team-best two fumble recoveries and two tackles for loss on defense. Returned 26 kickoffs for 767 yards with two touchdowns and 20 punts for 315 yards with two touchdowns on special teams. Notched seven carries for 51 yards and two receptions for 76 yards with a touchdown while playing 18 plays on offense. Ranked second nationally in punt return touchdowns (2, first in Pac-12), second in kickoff return touchdowns (2, first in Pac-12), third in punt returns (15.8, first in Pac-12), sixth in kickoff returns (29.5, first in Pac-12), 18th in interceptions (0.4, third in Pac-12) and 19th in passes defended (1.2, third in Pac-12).

- Won the 2016 Thorpe Award and was among four finalists for the Hornung Award and four finalists for the Lott IMPACT Trophy. Was named a 2016 consensus All-American first teamer by AP (cornerback), Football Writers (punt returner), Football Coaches (all-purpose player), Walter Camp (defensive back; second team kick returner), Sporting News (cornerback), ESPN (all-purpose player), Sports Illustrated (all-purpose player; second team returner), Phil Steele (punt returner; second team all-purpose player and third team defensive back and kick returner) and a second teamer by USA Today (returner).
- Was the 2016 Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year and made the All-Pac-12 first team at two positions (defensive back and return specialist).
- As a team captian, was named USC's 2016 Most Valuable Player (the first Trojan to repeat as team MVP since 2004-05 and only the ninth to win the honor twice since the award was first presented in 1967), as well as USC's Special Teams Player of the Year and Defensive Perimeter Player of the Year.

- At Washington (11/12), intercepted two passes from Washington's quarterback Jake Browning, helping the Trojans win their fifth straight game and upset the #4 ranked Huskies.
- Against Notre Dame (11/26), scored three touchdowns (a 55-yard punt return, 97-yard kickoff return in which he hurdled an Irish defender and 52-yard pass reception) to become the first Trojan since records were available in 1953 to have scored punt and kick runbacks in a game. Earned Pac-12 Special Teams Player of the Week after finishing the game with three punt returns for 66 yards and four kickoff returns for 161 yards. Also added two tackles and two deflections on defense, and a 52-yard reception and a 12-yard rush for a first down among his five offensive snaps.
- AS A SOPHOMORE (2015), started 12 games at cornerback, one contest at safety and one game at wide receiver. Notched 35 tackles, eight pass deflections, a forced fumble and an interception for a touchdown on defense. Registered 27 receptions for 414 yards with two touchdowns and seven carries for 36 yards on offense. Recorded 30 kickoff returns for 690 yards and 24 punt returns for 251 yards with two touchdowns on special teams. He was the only player nationally with at least 400 receiving yards, 600 kickoff return yards, 200 punt return yards and 30 tackles. Ranked second nationally in punt returns touchdowns (2, first in Pac-12) and 25th in punt returns (10.5, third in Pac-12).
- Was named to the 2015 All-Pac-12 first team (defensive back) and second team (return specialist), AP All-Pac-12 first team (defensive back) and Phil Steele All-Pac-12 first team (defensive back) and second team (punt returner). He was also named USC's MVP.
- At Arizona State (9/26), tallied two tackles along with 184 all-purpose yards on just five touches (three receptions for 131 yards, including taking a swing pass a then career-long 80 yards for a touchdown to open the game's scoring and also grabbing a 45-yard catch on third-and-6 to keep a touchdown drive alive, and two punt returns for 53 yards, including 45-yarder where he juked, jumped and slipped defenders.
- At California (10/31), notched two tackles and returned his first career interception for a 46-yard touchdown.
- Against UCLA (11/28), started at safety and collected a team-best six tackles and two pass deflections. Also returned three kickoffs for 53 yards and two punts for 46 yards, including a 42-yard touchdown return.
- AS A FRESHMAN (2014), made quite an impact on defense, offense and special teams as a cornerback, wide receiver and returner. Appeared in all 13 games with 10 starts at cornerback and one start concurrently at wide receiver. Recorded 49 tackles, including four stops for losses, 10 passes defensed, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery on defense. Added 10 receptions for 138 yards with three touchdowns and one carry for five yards on offense. Posted 23 kickoff returns for 684 yards with two touchdowns and two punt returns for 12 yards.
- Was named Sporting News Freshman All-American first team, USA Today Freshman All-American first team and ESPN.com True Freshman All-American first team.
- Was named the 2014 Pac-12 Defensive Freshman of the Year and made All-Pac-12 honorable mention (all-purpose player).
- At Utah (10/25), posted four tackles, including a stop for loss, a pass deflection, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery on the same play. Added two kickoffs for 127 yards with a school record-tying 100-yard return for a touchdown
- Against Notre Dame (11/29), became the first Trojan to start on offense (wide receiver) and defense (cornerback) in a game since at least the late 1960s when starting records were first reliably kept during the twoplatoon era. Posted three tackles, a pass deflection and caught a 16-yard touchdown.
- Against Nebraska (12/27), made seven tackles and a pass deflection, caught three passes for 73 yards with a 71-yard touchdown and returned three kickoffs for 130 yards with a Holiday Bowl-record 98-yard touchdown.
- Majored in communications with a real estate minor at Southern California.

PRO: The Titans selected Austin Johnson in the second round of the 2016 NFL Draft. The 6-foot-4-inch, 314-pound defensive lineman has the bulk and power to secure the middle of the defense as a nose tackle but also the versatility and movement skills to play other positions along the front. At Penn State, he appeared in 38 games with 28 starts over three seasons, including starts in every game during his final two campaigns. He gained the reputation there as a tenacious and relentless fighter in the trenches.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- As a rookie in 2016, Johnson appeared in 10 games. His totals included 15 tackles and a half sack.
- Johnson's 78 tackles as a junior in 2015 ranked second among defensive linemen in FBS and were the most by a Penn State defensive lineman since Jimmy Kennedy (87) in 2002.
- Against San Diego State on Sept. 26, 2015, he returned a fumble 71 yards for his first career touchdown (high school or college).

TITANS TIDBITS:

- When Johnson was drafted by the Titans, he became a teammate once again of DaQuan Jones, a former Penn State defensive lineman who was drafted by the Titans in 2014. The two remained close, and Jones was among Johnson's family and friends surrounding him on draft night.
- · Johnson was a broadcast journalism major at Penn State.
- The son of Austin and Tammy Johnson, he has two older sisters, Brandi and Erika, and one younger sister, Kennedy. Kennedy is a forward on the Michigan State women's basketball team.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Galloway, N.J., native was selected by the Titans in the second round (43rd overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft.

SEASON RECAPS:

PRO: The Titans signed Ben Jones early in the 2016 free agency period to bring veteran leadership and experience to the center position and he provided just that in his first campaign with the club. The 6-foot-3-inch, 308-pounder was originally selected by the Houston Texans in the fourth round (99th overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft. The University of Georgia product is a versatile player, having started contests at center and both guard spots in his first four seasons with the Texans.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Jones has started games at center, left guard and right guard during his NFL career and has opened holes for three 1,000-yard rushers.
- In 2016, Jones centered all 16 games in his first campaign with the Titans and was a part of an offensive front that blocked for the NFL's third-ranked rushing attack which averaged 136.7 rush yards per game.
- In 2015, Jones transitioned to his natural position of center and started all 16 games and the playoff contest for the Texans.
- In 2014, Jones started all 16 contests at left guard.
- As a rookie in 2012, Jones started the final 10 games of the season at right guard and was named the Texans Rookie of the Year.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Jones switched from jersey #61 to #60 prior to his senior season at Georgia, to honor his father, Steve, a former collegiate star, who was killed in a helicopter crash when he was 10 years old.
- Jones' pregame ritual consists of walking barefoot on the field "to get a feel for the turf." The routine began before one game with his brother in high school and after enjoying success that night, it has continued ever since
- When he was 10 years old, Jones suffered a blow to the head with a baseball bat. The impact caused a blood clot to develop on his brain and fractured his skull. The injury kept him out of all athletic activity for a year, proving to be a challenging time for an active and athletic boy. Although it was a tough period in his life, Ben says this time turned him into the man he is today. As soon as he was cleared for activities, Jones threw himself into being the best athlete he could be.
- During the 2017 offseason, Jones and his wife, Alex, hosted the Ben Jones Celebrity Clay Shoot to benefit The Ronald McDonald House in Nashville. The event raised $85,000. Ben and Alex have a passion for helping children and have seen first-hand the blessings provided by the Ronald McDonald House to friends and family with sick children.
- Jones' brother, Clay, played baseball for the University of Alabama and then was drafted by the Detroit Tigers.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- A native of Brent, Ala., Jones was originally selected by the Houston Texans in the fourth round (99th overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft.
- Signed by the Titans as an unrestricted free agent on March 10, 2016.

PRO: Seeking a big, physical and versatile defensive lineman, the Titans selected Penn State's DaQuan Jones in the fourth round of the 2014 NFL Draft. The 6-foot-4-inch, 322-pounder played as a reserve as a rookie but earned a full-time role as a 3-4 defensive end in his second and third seasons, starting all 32 games during that period. Jones offers an impressive combination of size, athleticism, intelligence and power. He was a leader at State College, as one of the senior players to stay with the program during a time of turmoil.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Jones joined Brian Orakpo as the only two Titans to start every game from 2015–2016.
- Against Houston in the 2016 season finale (1/1/17), recovered a Tom Savage fumble in the end zone for his first career touchdown.
- In 2015, Jones was one of four members of the team to start all 16 games, holding down a spot at defensive end for the duration of the campaign. He totaled 67 tackles, 15 quarterback pressures, two tackles for loss and a fumble recovery.
- As a rookie in 2014, Jones played in seven games with one start. He posted his first career sack against Indianapolis on Dec. 28.
- As a senior at Penn State, Jones was named first-team All-Big Ten Conference after finishing fifth on the team with a career-high 56 tackles and a career-best three sacks.
- Jones was named Penn State's Outstanding Senior Player and the recipient of the team's Reid-Robinson Award.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Jones majored in criminal justice at Penn State and spent a portion of his 2013 summer as an intern observing the Spring Township Police Department near State College.
- Jones entered the Penn State program after being rated the second-best offensive lineman in the nation during his playing days at Johnson City High School. He switched to the other side of the ball and made an immediate impact as a true freshman.
- Jones lists his father, Steve, as the most inspirational person in his life.
 Steve raised DaQuan as a single father and one of his father's greatest traits is that he works extremely hard in everything he does. Steve works as an executive chef at Cornell University.
- Jones is in the process of launching his own non-profit organization called "Create Your Legacy."

PRO: The Titans acquired Dennis Kelly in a trade with the Philadelphia Eagles during the 2016 training camp. The 6-foot-8-inch, 321-pounder provides quality depth along the offensive front, having logged starts at right tackle, right guard, left guard and tight end during his NFL career. The 2012 fifth-round pick spent his first four NFL campaigns as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles and appeared in 30 games with 15 starts from 2012-15.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Kelly's brother, Tim, played football at Eastern Illinois and is currently an offensive quality control coach for the Houston Texans.
- Kelly's favorite football player growing up was former Titans great Jevon Kearse.
- Kelly claims that the biggest influence on his life and career has been his entire family. "We're a Southside [Chicago] Irish family, so we share a really tight bond and they've inspired me to get to where I am today."
- Kelly went back to school during the 2014 offseason to earn his degree in organizational leadership from Purdue.
- Kelly is an avid professional wrestling fan that does not let the opportunity pass him by whenever a live WWE show is in town. He lists the Undertaker as the one person in the world he would like to have dinner with.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- A native of Chicago Heights, Ill., Kelly was originally selected by the Philadelphia Eagles in the fifth round (153rd overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft.
- Traded by the Eagles to the Titans in exchange for wide receiver Dorial Green-Beckham on Aug. 16, 2016.

PRO: Brett Kern is a strong-legged punter that has shown a keen ability to down his kicks inside the opponents' 20-yard line. He was rewarded during the 2015 offseason with a new multi-year contract with the Titans. The 10th-year pro enters 2017 as the franchise's all-time leader in gross punting average and net punting average and ranks second in career punts, trailing only Craig Hentrich (861). He is coming off arguably the best three-season run of his career, having placed 41.6 percent of his punts inside the 20 in 2016, which ranked second in his career. In 2015, the 6-foot-2-inch, 214-pounder totaled a 47.4-yard gross average (second in franchise history), a 40.3 net average (third in franchise history), a career-high 34 punts inside the 20 (third in franchise history) and only one touchback (career low). In 2014, he broke his own franchise record for single-season net punting, averaging 40.8 net vards per attempt. He initially set the record in 2012 (40.4), the same year he set the club's single-season gross punting mark (47.6). Kern joined the Titans franchise during the 2009 season when he was claimed off waivers from the Denver Broncos.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Kern placed 41.6 percent of his punts inside the opponent's 20-yard line (32 of 77), which ranked second in his career (42.2 in 2009). His 38.6-yard net punting average in 2016 ranked ninth in team history.
- In 2015, Kern continued his assault on the team's all-time punting records. He launched a career-high tying 88 punts becoming the second-leading punter in franchise history, placed a career-high 34 punts inside the 20 (third in franchise history) and only one touchback (career low). He also accomplished a first-of-its-kind feat, becoming the first punter in NFL history to record 80 or more punts, a net average of 40 yards, and one or zero touchbacks in a single season. He owns the top five net punting seasons in franchise history and six of the team's top eight net punting seasons.
- In 2014, Kern booted 88 total punts for a gross average of 46.8 yards and a net average of 40.8 yards, which broke his own single-season team record (40.4-yard net average in 2012).
- In 2013, Kern punted 78 times for 3,386 yards (43.4 avg.). He placed a career-best 32 punts inside the 20-yard line with a career-low two kicks as touchbacks.
- Kern arguably had his most productive season in 2012 when he ranked fifth in the AFC with a franchise record and career-best 47.6 gross punt average. He also finished ninth in the AFC with a then-franchise record and career-high 40.4 net punting average.
- In 2009, Kern's combined average of 45.5 yards per punt with the Titans and Broncos ranked eighth in the NFL. He also downed a combined 27 punts inside the opponents' 20-yard line.
- In 2008, Kern ranked fifth in the league with a 46.7-yard punting average and was named to the All-Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly/PFWA and the Sporting News.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- · Kern's father, Cal, is a former professional soccer goalie.
- Kern is an avid golfer that sports a +1 handicap. He picked the game up late in his high school years and caddied for three summers at Inverness Golf Club while in college. The course is located in Toledo, Ohio, and has hosted PGA and NCAA Championships. In 2011, Kern competed in The Vinny, a local golf fundraising tournament hosted by singers Vince Gill and Amy Grant, and finished fourth in the event.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Grand Island, N.Y., native was originally signed by the Denver Broncos as a rookie free agent on April 28, 2008.
- · Claimed by the Titans off waivers from the Broncos on Oct. 27, 2009.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (5/0 - Tennessee): Ranks second in the NFL with a 51.5 gross avg and a 46.9 net avg. Has registered 12 punts of 50 or more yards in 2017. Posted a career-best 56.8 gross punt average against Seattle (9/24/17). Notched a career-high 50.2 net punt average at Miami (10/8/17). Played in his 150th career game against Indianapolis (10/16/17).

- Against Oakland (9/10), punted four times for 188 yards (47.0 avg.) with two kicks placed inside the 20-yard line. Boomed a 53-yard punt that went out out of bounds at the Oakland 14-yard line in the first quarter.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), punted three times for 125 yards (41.7 avg.).
- Against Seattle (9/24), punted six times for 341 yards for a career-best 56.8 gross punt average. Boomed three punts of 60 or more yards and placed two kicks inside the 20-yard line. Flipped field position by nailing a 62-yard punt to the Seattle two-yard line in the first quarter.
- At Houston (10/1), punted five times for 246 yards (49.2 avg.) with one kick placed inside the 20-yard line. Flipped field position with a 54-yard punt to the Texans' 14-yard line in the third stanza.
- At Miami (10/8), tied a career-high with 10 punts for a career-best 549 yards (54.9 avg.) while setting a single-game career mark with a 50.2 net avg. Placed four punts inside the 20-yard line. PRO: The Titans traded for defensive lineman David King at the end of the 2017 preseason to provide depth and flexibility on the defensive line. Following his four-year career at Oklahoma, King was originally drafted in the seventh round (239th overall) of the 2013 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. With 10 career games on his resumé, King has also spent time with the Cincinnati Bengals, Seattle Seahawks and Kansas City Chiefs.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- During his sophomore season at Oklahoma, King's mother, Gladys King, passed away. Gladys raised King in a single-parent home. King credits his aunts, cousins, teammates and coaches at Oklahoma for helping him overcome this tragedy.
- Due to his hard work on the field and in the classroom, King earned scholarships dating back to middle school. He was granted a scholarship at Houston PREP, an institution with a mission to help underprivileged children get into private schools. "We had meetings every Saturday, we were involved in community service and I took summer classes. Going to [Houston PREP] helped tremendously and it opened many doors in my life," King said.

DEFENSIVE LINE • 6'3" • 278 LBS • COLLEGE: IOWA

ACQUIRED: 5TH ROUND - 2011 • NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 7/7

HOMETOWN: CALEDONIA, MINN.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 99/8 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans used their fifth-round pick in the 2011 NFL Draft on lowa's Karl Klug (pronounced KLOOG). A largely unheralded selection at the time, Klug proceeded to assemble one of the top seasons in franchise history by a rookie defensive lineman and has become one of the team's most consistent contributors on the defensive line. He never missed a game in his first five seasons. A blue-collar athlete who plays with tremendous effort and quickness, he led the Titans in 2011 with seven sacks, which also tied for sixth among all NFL rookies and tied for fourth among all NFL defensive tackles. His 3.5 sacks during his second season gave him more total sacks (10.5) than any other Titans defender during that time period.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, he played in his 94th consecutive game to begin his career before missing the final two contests of the season with an Achilles injury.
- In 2015, Klug set a career high with 19 quarterback pressures and recorded four sacks, which was the second-highest total of his career.
- Against the N.Y. Jets on Sept. 29, 2013, he strip-sacked Geno Smith for a 16-yard loss and recovered the loose ball in the end zone for his first career touchdown.
- In 2012, Klug played in all 16 games for a second consecutive season. His 3.5 sacks gave him a team-high 10.5 total sacks from 2011–2012.
- As a rookie in 2011, Klug compiled a team-high seven sacks. The total tied for sixth place in sacks among all NFL rookies, tied for fourth among all NFL defensive tackles, and led all NFL rookie defensive tackles.
- During his four-year career at Iowa, Klug appeared in 40 games with 26 consecutive starts to end his career. Tallied 140 tackles, including 31 stops for loss, 9.5 sacks, eight quarterback pressures, eight passes defensed, four forced fumbles and a fumble recovery.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Klug has an identical twin brother, Kevin, who played linebacker at Minnesota State University, Mankato. As high school teammates, Kevin played fullback, opening holes for Karl, the team's running back. Kevin now owns and operates Klug Fitness, a mobile fitness business in Nashville. He also has toured with with Lady Antebellum and Sam Hunt as a personal trainer. Karl and Kevin's older sister, Kelsey, is the "best hair stylist in LaCrosse, Wis.," according to the twins.
- Klug's small hometown of Caledonia calls itself the "Wild Turkey Capital of Minnesota" and "The Heart of Quilt Country."
- Klug arrived on lowa's campus as an undersized defender who weighed only 207 pounds at the time.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Caledonia, Minn., native was selected by the Titans in the fifth round (142nd overall) of the 2011 NFL Draft.

TAYLOR LEWAN TACKLE • 6'7" • 309 LBS • COLLEGE: MICHIGAN

ACQUIRED: 1ST ROUND - 2014 • NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 4/4

HOMETOWN: CAVE CREEK, ARIZ.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 48/43 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

Pro Bowl: 2016

PRO: With the 11th overall selection in the 2014 NFL Draft, the Titans selected former Michigan left tackle Taylor Lewan (pronounced leh-WAHN). The 6-foot-7-inch, 309-pound lineman possesses the measurables, athleticism and commitment to be a mainstay in the lineup for years to come. An outgoing personality off the field, he is tenacious and aggressive on it. At Michigan, he was a four-year starter, anchoring the line at left tackle for 48 career starts. Lewan became the first offensive tackle selected by the Titans/Oilers in the first round since tackle Brad Hopkins (13th overall) in 1993.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Lewan was named to his first career Pro Bowl after starting all 16 games at left tackle and blocking for the NFL's third-ranked rushing attack which averaged 136.7 rush yards per game.
- In 2015, Lewan started 15 games at left tackle in his second NFL campaign.
- Lewan was named the Big Ten Conference Offensive Lineman of the Year in 2012 and 2013.
- At the conclusion of the 2011 season, during which Lewan helped pave the way for a pair of 1,000-yard rushers (Denard Robinson and Fitzgerald Toussaint), the Wolverines scored an overtime victory over Virginia Tech in the Sugar Bowl.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Lewan chose to wear jersey number 77 at Michigan and then at the prolevel because of the legacy of Wolverine tackles who have donned the number, including Jake Long and Jon Jansen.
- His father, Dave, was a defensive lineman at the University of Minnesota.
- Lewan has a mustache tattooed on his right index finger and a stick figure tattooed on the outside edge of his right hand that he calls his "right-hand man"
- One of Lewan's close friends is former Carolina Panthers defensive end Craig Roh. The two played together as high school seniors and then went to Michigan at the same time.
- At the 2014 NFL Scouting Combine, Lewan ran the 40-yard dash in 4.87 seconds, beating all other offensive linemen in his class and clocking the fourth-fastest time among offensive linemen from 2010-14. He also ranked among the top offensive linemen at the 2014 combine in the broad jump (first at nine feet, nine inches), vertical jump (tied for third at 30.5 inches) and three-cone drill (fourth at 7.39 seconds).

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• A native of Cave Creek, Ariz., Lewan was selected by the Titans in the first round (11th overall) of the 2014 NFL Draft.

PRO: The Titans used the second overall pick in the 2015 NFL Draft on Oregon guarterback Marcus Mariota. In his first two NFL seasons, Mariota passed for 6,244 yards and 45 touchdowns, while throwing only 19 interceptions. His 93.8 passer rating during that time ranked sixth in NFL history for a player's first two NFL campaigns, trailing only Kurt Warner (107.9), Dan Marino (104.5), Nick Foles (101.0), Russell Wilson (100.6) and Ben Roethlisberger (98.3). As a rookie, the 6-foot-4-inch, 222-pound signal caller validated his draft selection by posting the third-highest passer rating in franchise history (91.5) and the fifth-highest rookie completion percentage in NFL history (62.2). He was the first player in franchise history to open his rookie season in Week 1 as the starting quarterback. He became the second rookie quarterback in NFL history (Peyton Manning) to complete three touchdown passes in four different games and the only NFL rookie to record two games with four touchdown passes and no interceptions. Mariota was the fifth Heisman Trophy winner to be drafted by the Oilers/Titans (Derrick Henry became the sixth in 2016), joining Billy Cannon, Earl Campbell, Mike Rozier and Eddie George.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Mariota completed 276 of 451 passes for 3,426 yards and ranked fourth in the AFC and 10th in the NFL with a 95.6 passer rating and sixth in the AFC and tied for 10th in the NFL with 26 touchdown passes. He was named first alternate for the Pro Bowl but was unable to play because of injury.
- Mariota's 16 games with at least two touchdown passes in his first two NFL seasons tied for third all-time in the NFL, equaling Peyton Manning and Russell Wilson and trailing only Dan Marino (22) and Derek Carr (17).
- Mariota was named AFC Offensive Player of the Month for November 2016 after completing 86 of 130 passes for 1,124 yards with 11 touchdowns and two interceptions for a 115.0 passer rating, in addition to rushing for 89 yards and a score.
- During his rookie season, Mariota completed 230 of his 370 passes for 2,818 yards, 19 touchdowns—all franchise rookie records—while throwing only 10 interceptions. His 91.5 passer rating ranks third in franchise history behind only Steve McNair's 2003 MVP season (100.4) and Pro Football Hall of Famer Warren Moon's 1990 AP Offensive Player of the Year campaign (96.8).
- Mariota set a franchise rookie record by completing 62.2 percent of his passes. That was the fifth-highest percentage by a rookie quarterback in NFL history and the eighth-highest completion percentage in a season by any quarterback in Titans/Oilers history.
- Mariota joined Peyton Manning (1998) as the only rookie quarterbacks in NFL history to complete three touchdown passes in four different games, and he became the lone NFL rookie to ever record two games with four touchdown passes and no interceptions (Sept. 13 at Tampa Bay and Nov. 8 at New Orleans).
- Mariota's 252 rushing yards in 2015 included an 87-yard touchdown run against Jacksonville (Dec. 6), which was the fifth-longest rushing play in franchise history.
- Prior to Mariota in 2015, the last NFL player to record touchdowns of at least 40 yards passing, rushing and receiving in the same season was Walter Payton in 1983.
- At the 2015 NFL Scouting Combine, he finished among the top three quarterbacks in the 40-yard dash, vertical jump, broad jump, three-cone drill and 20-yard shuttle. His 4.52-second 40-yard dash gave him the fastest quarterback time at the Combine since Robert Griffin III's 4.41 in 2012.
- Mariota earned a 36-5 starting record as a starter at Oregon. He completed at least one touchdown pass in all 41 games during his three seasons there, which ranks second in NCAA history. He became one of four players in FBS history to pass for over 10,000 yards (10,796) and run for over 2,000 yards (2,237) in a career (Dan LeFevour, Robert Griffin III and Colin Kaepernick).

- Mariota was awarded the Heisman Trophy on Dec. 13, 2014. He became the first winner from the University of Oregon and the first player born in Hawaii to receive the honor. In the balloting, he received 2,534 total points, or 90.9 percent of the total points possible. Only one player in Heisman history—Ohio State quarterback Troy Smith in 2006—garnered a higher percentage. Mariota received 788 first-place votes, while the runner-up, Wisconsin running back Melvin Gordon, received 1,250 total points and 37 first-place votes. Alabama wide receiver Amari Cooper finished third with 1,023 points and 49 first-place votes. The point total is reached by a system of three points for a first place vote, two for a second and one for a third.
- As a junior in 2014, Mariota led Oregon to an appearance in the College Football Playoff Championship Game after completing 304 of 445 passes for 4,454 yards with 42 touchdown passes and only four interceptions. He also rushed for 770 yards and 15 touchdowns and even caught a touchdown pass. His 58 total touchdowns in a season (passing, rushing and receiving) shattered the previous Pac-12 record of 41 (Matt Barkley, 2011).

TITANS TIDBITS:

- In 2016, Mariota launched of his Motiv8 Foundation, which serves the communities of Middle Tennessee, Eugene and Honolulu. The Foundation was a major sponsor in the inaugural Polynesian Bowl. The game featured the top players in the nation including 15 of the top 16 Polynesian players in the ESPN 300. The non-profit also participated with First Hawaii Bank's bobble head charity fundraiser that netted the Motiv8 Foundation $115,000 for local programs in Hawaii. The Foundation held its inaugural golf tournament at Oahu Country Club raising money for local programs and sold out in just four days. The Foundation also held its inaugural golf tournament in Oregon at the Springfield Golf Club with all monies raised going to programs in Oregon.
- He is the oldest son of Toa and Alana Mariota. His younger brother, Matthew, is a tight end at Oregon.
- Mariota credits much of his athletic success to playing soccer in his youth. By the time he was eight years old, he was wearing a soccer jersey with the number 8, and he has kept the jersey number ever since then.
- During his time in Eugene, Ore., Mariota became a fixture at the Boys and Girls Club of Emerald Valley, spending time on a weekly basis with kids at the center. For his efforts in the community, he was awarded with the inaugural Play It Forward Award at the 63rd Annual Oregon Sports Awards in June 2015.

He joined former Vikings quarterback Fran Tarkenton, who passed for four touchdowns on Sept. 17, 1961. Became the first quarterback in NFL history to record six total touchdown passes within the first two games of his career. His 129.9 passer rating was the highest rating by any Super Bowl-era quarterback (since 1966) in his first two career starts. Was named NFL Offensive Rookie of the Month for September after completing 61 of 96 passes for 833 yards with eight touchdowns for a 110.3 passer rating. Was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 13 of 15 passes for 209 yards with four touchdown passes to record a perfect passer rating of 158.3 at Tampa Bay (9/13/15). He is the first player since at least 1933 with a perfect passer rating in his first game (minimum 10 attempts) and the first player in the Super Bowl era (since 1966) with a perfect rating in his first start (minimum 10 attempts). Received his second AFC Offensive Player of the Week honor after connecting on 28 of 39 passes for 371 yards with four touchdowns in leading the Titans to a 34-28 overtime victory against New Orleans (11/8/15). Broke his own franchise rookie record with 371 passing yards at New Orleans (11/8/15), topping the 367 yards he recorded against the Indianapolis Colts (9/27/15). Rushed for a career-high 112 yards against Jacksonville (12/6/15), the most by a quarterback in franchise history in a single game. His 87-yard touchdown run against Jacksonville (12/6/15) was the longest run in franchise history by a quarterback and the fifth-longest run overall for the team. Since 1960, only two quarterbacks

- have recorded a run longer than Mariota's 87-yarder (Terrelle Pryor 93-yard touchdown on 10/27/13 and Colin Kaepernick 90-yard touchdown run on 12/20/14). Led the team in rushing twice in 2015 (vs. BUF, vs. JAX).
- At Tampa Bay (9/13), started at quarterback in his NFL debut. Named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 13 of 15 passes for 209 yards with four touchdowns for a perfect passer rating of 158.3. He is the first player since at least 1933 with a perfect passer rating in his first game (minimum 10 attempts) and the first player in the Super Bowl era (since 1966) with a perfect rating in his first start (minimum 10 attempts). He also became the first quarterback in franchise history to start the opening game of his rookie season. Gave the Titans a 7-0 lead with a 52-yard touchdown toss to Kendall Wright with 13:10 left to play in the first quarter. Made the score 21-0 with a 12-yard touchdown toss to Bishop Sankey with 6:49 left to play in the first stanza. Connected with Harry Douglas for a four-yard touchdown on third-and-four in the second quarter. Posted his fourth touchdown pass of the afternoon with a one-yard strike to Walker on third-and-one with 48 seconds remaining in the first half.
- At Cleveland (9/20), started at quarterback and completed 21 of 37 passes for 257 yards with two touchdowns passes for a 96.3 passer rating. Rushed three times for 19 yards. Got the Titans on the scoreboard with a 19-yard touchdown pass to Fasano with 1:36 remaining in the third quarter. Cut the Browns' lead to 21-14 with a 13-yard touchdown strike to Dorial Green-Beckham on fourth-and-six with 6:42 left to play in the game.
- Against Indianapolis (9/27), started at quarterback and completed 27 of 44 passes for 367 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions. Cut the Colts' lead to 14-10 with a seven-yard touchdown pass to Kendall Wright with 19 seconds remaining in the second quarter. Gave the Titans a 24-14 advantage with a three-yard touchdown toss to Dorial Green-Beckham in the corner of the end zone with 9:36 left to play in the third stanza.
- Against Buffalo (10/11), started at quarterback and completed 21 of 32 passes for 187 yards with an interception. Led the team with 47 rushing yards on five carries.
- Against Miami (10/18), started at quarterback and connected on 21 of 33 passes for 219 yards with a touchdown and two interceptions. Cut the Dolphins' lead to 24-10 with a three-yard touchdown toss to Dexter McCluster on the final play of the third guarter.
- At New Orleans (11/8), returned to the lineup as the starter at quarterback. Named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 28 of 39 passes for franchise rookie record 371 yards with four touchdowns in leading the Titans to a 34-28 overtime victory. Connected on all six passes for 62 yards and a touchdown during the game-winning overtime drive. With four touchdown passes, improved his season total to 13 and broke the franchise's single-season rookie record for touchdown passes. Cut the Saints' lead to 14-10 by lobbing up a pass to Delanie Walker that was deflected, caught and turned into a 61-yard touchdown pass with a minute left to play in the opening stanza. Found Walker for a two-yard touchdown pass in the back of the end zone with 8:08 remaining in the second quarter. Connected with Justin Hunter on an eight-yard touchdown pass and then hooked up with Delanie Walker for a two-point conversion to even the score at 28-28 with 7:06 left to play in the fourth guarter. Extended the Titans' game-winning touchdown drive with a nine-yard pass to Dorial Green-Beckham on third-and-two in overtime. Gave the Titans a 34-28 overtime victory with a five-yard touchdown pass to Anthony Fasano with 9:50 left to play in the extra session.
- Against Carolina (11/15), started at quarterback and completed 16 of 24 passes for 185 yards with an interception. Rushed five times for 24 yards.
- At Jacksonville (11/19), started at quarterback and completed 22 of 35 passes for 231 yards. Rushed five times for 29 yards with his first career rushing touchdown. Gave the Titans a 13-9 lead with a 23-yard touchdown run with 5:22 left to play in the third quarter.
- Against Oakland (11/29), started at quarterback and completed 17 of 37 passes for 218 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions. Gave the Titans an early 6-0 lead with a 20-yard touchdown pass to Craig Stevens with 5:53 left to play in the opening stanza. Cut the Raiders' lead to 17-14 with a 13-yard touchdown pass to Harry Douglas and a two-point conversion connection with Dorial Green-Beckham with 6:22 left to play in the third quarter. Gave the Titans a 21-17 lead with a one-yard touchdown toss to Jalston Fowler with less than five minutes to play in the fourth quarter. During the fourth quarter, broke Vince Young's franchise record for the most passing yards during a rookie season.
- Against Jacksonville (12/6), started at quarterback and completed 20 of 29 passes for 268 yards with three touchdowns and an interception for a 118.2 passer rating. Rushed nine times for a career-best 112 yards with a touchdown. Became the only player in NFL history to pass for at least 250 yards with three touchdowns and rush for more than 100 yards in the same game. His 112 rushing yards are the most by a quarterback in franchise history in a single game. Gave the Titans a 7-0 lead with a 10-yard touchdown pass to Craig Stevens with 4:15 remaining in the first quarter. Increased the Titans' lead to 14-6 with a seven-yard touchdown pass to Walker on third-and-seven in the second stanza. Gave the Titans a 28-19 lead with a 47-yard touchdown pass to Green-Beckham on the first play of the fourth quarter. Helped the Titans recapture the lead at 35-32 with a record-breaking 87-yard touchdown run on third-and-seven midway through the fourth quarter. The 87-yard touchdown run was the longest run in franchise history by a quarterback, the third longest run by a quarterback in NFL history and the fifth-longest run overall for the team.

- At N.Y. Jets (12/13), started at quarterback and completed 21 of 39 passes for 274 yards with an interception. Collected his first career reception which resulted in a 41-yard touchdown. Scored the Titans only touchdown with a 41-yard touchdown reception down the right sideline from Antonio Andrews with 4:09 left to play in the third quarter. Converted the two-point conversion with a pass to Dexter McCluster. He became the first player since Walter Payton in 1983 to record touchdowns of at least 40 yards passing, rushing and receiving in the same season.
- At New England (12/20), started at quarterback and completed three of six passes for 32 yards before leaving the game in the second quarter with an injury.

COLLEGE:

- At Oregon, Mariota broke nearly every major passing record for the school, totaling 10,796 career passing yards and 105 touchdown passes. The three-time All-Pac-12 selection started every game over his three collegiate seasons (2012-14), earned a 36-5 record, completed at least one touchdown pass in every game, and is one of four players in FBS history to pass for 10,000 yards and rush for 2,000 yards (2,237) in a career, joining Dan LeFevour, Robert Griffin III and Colin Kaepernick.
- His career passing statistics included 1,167 attempts, 779 completions, 10,796 yards, 105 touchdowns, 14 interceptions and an efficiency rating of 171.8. Additionally, he rushed 337 times for 2,237 yards and 29 touchdowns and recorded two touchdown receptions.
- He became one of four players in FBS history to pass for over 10,000 yards (10,796) and run for over 2,000 yards (2,237) in a career. He set University of Oregon records for career total offense (13,033 yards), passing yards (10,796), completions (779), touchdown passes (105), rushing yards by a quarterback (2,237), completion percentage (66.8), total touchdowns (136) and total points accounted for (816). He was the 14th player in conference history to eclipse the 10,000-yard barrier in total offense, and he ended his career ranked seventh all-time in Pac-12 career passing yards.
- He completed at least one touchdown pass in all 41 games in which he played, good for second in NCAA history behind Marshall's Rakeem Cato (46).
- From 2012 to 2013, Mariota set the Pac-12 record with 353 consecutive passes without an interception. He became the only player in league history to put together multiple interception-free streaks of 200 attempts or more.
- Mariota became the Pac-12's first quarterback ever to be named firstteam All-Conference three times.
- As a junior (2014), started all 15 games en route to the team's appearance in the College Football Playoff Championship Game. Completed 304 of 445 pass attempts for 4,454 yards (third in FBS) with 42 touchdowns (second) and four interceptions. Rushed 135 times for 770 yards and 15 touchdowns. Had the nation's top passer efficiency rating at 181.7.
- Became the Ducks' first Heisman Trophy winner and the first Heisman winner from the state of Hawaii. Also became Oregon's second unanimous first-team All-American of all time. Additional honors included Player of the Year by the Associated Press and the Walter Camp Football Foundation, the Maxwell Award, the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award and the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award. Named Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Year and 2015 Rose Bowl Offensive MVP.
- His 58 total touchdowns—42 passing, 15 rushing and one receiving—set the single-season conference record, breaking Matt Barkley's (USC) mark of 41 from 2011. His passing touchdowns also marked a new conference best.
- Led the Ducks to No. 2 in the final Associated Press rankings. Directed the third-overall rated offense in the country (547 yards per game) and the 10th-ranked passing offense (312.5).
- Against Florida State (1/1/15), recorded a season-high 26 completions (36 attempts) for 338 yards, scoring two touchdowns through the air and

- one on the ground in the College Football Playoff Semifinal Rose Bowl victory.
- Against Ohio State (1/12/15) in the inaugural College Football Playoff Championship game, completed 24 passes for 333 yards and two touchdowns, including a 70-yard touchdown toss. Added 39 rushing yards.
- As a sophomore (2013), started all 13 games and was 245-of-386 passing (65.8 percent) for 3,665 yards, 31 touchdowns and four interceptions. Rushed 96 times for 715 yards and nine touchdowns.
- Named first-team All-Pac-12 for the second consecutive season and named Oregon's Most Inspirational Player in a vote of his teammates. Led the Pac-12 in passing efficiency (167.7), passing yards per completion (14.96 avg.) and total points responsible for (240) while ranking seventh in the country in the former two categories and tied for ninth in the latter. Nationally, rated ninth in total offense (336.9), 12th in touchdown passes (31) and 14th in passing yards per game (281.9). Became the first player in school history to eclipse 4,000 yards of total offense in a single season (4,380) and was one of three league players to surpass the previous Pac-12 season record in 2013. Set school records for most points responsible for, completions (245) and most total touchdowns (40), and finished second on the single-season passing yards ledger (3,665). Broke Pac-12 and Oregon pinnacles for consecutive pass attempts without an interception in both a single season (285) and a career (353). Extended his streak of tossing at least one touchdown pass in every game of his career (26).
- As a redshirt freshman (2012), started all 13 games and was 230-of-336 passing for 2,677 yards with 32 touchdowns and six interceptions. Rushed 106 times for 752 yards and five touchdowns. Won honorable mention All-American and Pac-12 Offensive Freshman of the Year honors and became the Pac-12's first freshman quarterback to earn first-team all-league honors in 23 years. Recorded at least one touchdown pass in every game and set a conference freshman record for most touchdown passes in a season. Led the conference and ranked seventh in the country in passing efficiency (163.23). Led the league in completion percentage (68.45), falling just short of the NCAA freshman record of 69.5 percent (Sam Bradford, Oklahoma, 2007). Finished second on Oregon's single-season total offensive yards list (3,429) and ninth in passing yards (2,677). The Ducks' second-leading rusher (752) also ran for more yards in one year than any other quarterback in school history, including a single-game best 135 yards at Arizona State.
- Also in 2012, threw only one interception over his final seven games, a stretch that included 119 consecutive pass attempts without an interception.
- · Redshirted in 2011.
- The second-team academic all-conference choice graduated from Oregon in December 2014 with a degree in general science.

- · Splits time between Nashville and Honolulu, Hawaii.
- Attended Saint Louis (Honolulu, Hawaii) High School, where as a senior he threw for 2,597 yards on 165-of-255 passing (64.7%), including 32 touchdowns against only five interceptions. Guided the Crusaders to an 11-1 record and a state title. Also rushed the ball 60 times for 455 yards (7.6 yards per carry) and seven scores.
- Rated a four-star recruit by 247Sports.com and garnered three stars from both Rivals.com and Scout.com. Rated the No. 6 recruiting prospect in the state of Hawaii and No. 12 overall quarterback in the nation by Rivals.com. Named PrepStar Magazine All-West Region, Interscholastic League of Honolulu Offensive Player of the Year and first-team All-ILH. Played in the NUC All-World Gridiron Classic, a high school all-star bowl in Columbia, S.C.
- List of favorites: (movie) "The Longest Yard"; (TV show) "The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air"; (actor) Dwayne Johnson; (pregame playlist) The Green, Drake; (video game) "FIFA"; (food) steak, Kalua pork; (guilty pleasure) Cookies 'n' Cream Pizookie from BJ's Restaurant & Brewhouse; and (athlete as a child) Emmitt Smith.
- Born Marcus Ardel Taulauniu Mariota on Oct. 30, 1993 in Honolulu, Hawaii.

HOMETOWN: SANTA ANA, CALIF.
1 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans signed Rishard Matthews early in the 2016 free agency period to bring veteran experience and big-play potential to the wide receiver position. The 6-foot, 217-pounder is coming off his most successful season in 2016 in which he recorded career highs with 65 receptions, 945 receiving yards and nine touchdowns. Matthews spent his first four NFL campaigns with the Miami Dolphins after being drafted by the team in the seventh round of the 2012 NFL Draft. The University of Nevada product is a versatile player, having lined up outside and in the slot.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Matthews set career highs with 65 receptions (tied for team lead), a team-high 945 receiving yards and a team-high nine touchdown receptions.
- His nine touchdowns in 2016 more than doubled his previous career total of eight touchdowns in his first four NFL seasons, all of which he spent in Miami. His 2016 total tied for sixth in the NFL and tied for second in the AFC. In franchise history, Matthews' nine touchdown catches tied for ninth all-time.
- In 2015, Matthews set career-highs with 43 catches, 662 receiving yards and four touchdown receptions despite playing in just 11 games for the Miami Dolphins.
- In 2013, Matthews appeared in all 16 games with the Dolphins and hauled in 41 receptions for 448 yards with two touchdowns.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Matthews' father, Andre, is a retired U.S. Marine Corps master sergeant.
- In October 2015, Matthews' half-brother Christopher Ruiz was killed while serving as a retired Marine working as a private defense contractor in Afghanistan. Ruiz served in the Marines for 10 years, and served overseas in Operation Iraqi Freedom. He was in Afghanistan training locals to fight for their country, when he was killed. Ruiz was one of six U.S. Airmen and five other civilian contractors killed in the crash of an Air Force C-130 as it tried to put down at the Jalalabad Airfield on Oct. 2.
- Matthews wears a bracelet with the words "Forever by my side." It has his fallen brother's name on it, along with the Marines logo. He wears the bracelet every day.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Santa Ana, Calif., native was originally selected by the Miami Dolphins in the seventh round (227th overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft.
- Signed by the Titans as an unrestricted free agent on March 11, 2016.

PRO: The Titans signed Brice McCain as a free agent early in the 2016 offseason to add competition and experience to the cornerback position. The 5-foot-9-inch, 190-pounder is a veteran defensive back that has seen time outside and as a nickel corner during his seven NFL seasons. Prior to arriving in Tennessee, the University of Utah product spent his first five NFL campaigns as a member of the Houston Texans. McCain has also seen action with the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Miami Dolphins.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, McCain tied for second on the team with 12 passes defensed and two interceptions in his first season with the Titans.
- In 2015, McCain saw action in 14 games in his only season in Miami and tallied 39 tackles, one interception and 10 passes defensed.
- In 2014, McCain played in 14 games for the Pittsburgh Steelers and registered a career-best three interceptions to go along with 25 tackles and six passes defensed.

TITANS TIDBITS:

 In 2014, McCain played with the Pittsburgh Steelers and worked with current Titans defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau. McCain kept his notes from playing in LeBeau's defense and referenced them when making the transition to Tennessee.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Terrell, Texas, native was originally selected by the Houston Texans in the sixth round (188th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft.
- Re-signed by the Texans as an unrestricted free agent on March 20, 2013.
- · Released by the Texans on March 11, 2014.
- · Signed by the Pittsburgh Steelers as a free agent on April 1, 2014.
- Signed by the Miami Dolphins as an unrestricted free agent on March 11, 2015
- Released by the Dolphins on Feb. 16, 2016.
- Signed by the Titans as a free agent on March 2, 2016.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/0 - Tennessee): Has tied for the team lead in special teams tackles once in 2017 (at HOU).

91 MORGAN

OUTSIDE LINEBACKER • 6'4" • 261 LBS

COLLEGE: GEORGIA TECH • ACQUIRED: 1ST ROUND - 2010

NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 8/8 • HOMETOWN: COATESVILLE, PA.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 97/86 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: Derrick Morgan was drafted by the Titans with the 16th overall pick in the 2010 NFL Draft, and since then, he has become a consistent presence on the defense, first as a defensive end and more recently as a 3-4 outside linebacker. His 36.5 sacks from 2010–2016 led the Titans. Morgan combines with Brian Orakpo to make a formidable duo as the team's starting outside linebackers. The 6-foot-4-inch, 261-pounder put together the best season of his career in 2016, registering nine sacks, 56 quarterback pressures and 50 tackles. Morgan is an explosive defender equally adept at rushing the passer and stopping the run. The Georgia Tech product has a reputation as a gritty player with a non-stop motor, and he has the ability to play on either side of the defensive line or at outside linebacker.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, tallied a team-leading 56 quarterback pressures. Morgan also recorded a career-high 9.0 sacks, which ranked second on the team and tied for ninth in the AFC.
- In 2015, Morgan recorded 4.5 sacks in the first four games of the season.
 Since 1982, Morgan's sack total tied for the fourth-best mark for the franchise in a season's first four games. However, Morgan later battled a shoulder injury and was limited to 10 games before being placed on injured reserve.
- In his first season at outside linebacker in 2014, Morgan led the team with 6.5 sacks and tied for the team lead and set career-best marks with 26 quarterback pressures and 13 tackles for loss. He also posted a careerhigh 82 tackles, nine passes defensed and two forced fumbles.
- In 2013, Morgan finished second on the Titans with six sacks and eight quarterback pressures.
- In 2012, Morgan led the team with 6.5 sacks and 19 quarterback pressures, while also posting a career-high 66 tackles.
- In 2011, Morgan appeared in 15 games and led the team with 20 quarterback pressures. He also tallied 47 tackles, 2.5 sacks, three tackles for loss and two passes defensed.
- As a rookie in 2010, saw action in four games and amassed 10 tackles and 1.5 sacks before being placed on season-ending injured reserve.
- In 2009, Morgan's junior year, he won Conference Defensive Player of the Year honors after leading the ACC with 12.5 sacks and finishing second in the conference with 18.5 tackles for loss.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Morgan is a 2016 graduate of the University of Miami's Executive MBA for Artists and Athletes program.
- Morgan helped deliver his daughter at home in April 2015.
- Morgan changed his jersey number from 90 to 91 during the 2012 offseason. He is familiar with the number 91, having worn it during his three seasons at Georgia Tech. Former Titans defensive lineman Jason Jones wore 91 in Morgan's first two seasons with the club.
- Morgan credits his mother, Pamela Sweigart, as his primary role model in life. He also says that she should be credited with his football success, since, even as a single parent, she managed to take him to every practice and every game during his youth.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

 The Coatesville, Pa., native was selected by the Titans in the first round (16th overall) of the 2010 NFL Draft.

Pro Bowl: 2013, 2014, 2016

PRO: Early in the 2016 offseason, the Titans acquired running back DeMarco Murray in a trade with the Philadelphia Eagles. The 6-foot-1-inch, 220-pounder brings stability and veteran leadership to the Titans' running back corps. A three-time Pro Bowler, Murray is known for his physical, downhill running style, but he is also a skilled pass catcher out of the backfield. He started all 16 games at running back in his first season with the Titans, and led the AFC and ranked third in the NFL with 1,287 rushing yards. The University of Oklahoma product enjoyed a stellar 2014, capturing the NFL's rushing title and earning NFL Offensive Player of the Year honors. A former third-round draft choice of Dallas in 2011, Murray spent his first four seasons with the Cowboys before joining the Philadelphia Eagles for the 2015 campaign.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Murray was named to his third career Pro Bowl after ranking third in the NFL with 1,287 rushing yards and finishing fourth in the NFL with 1,664 yards from scrimmage.
- Murray earned the 2014 NFL rushing title after leading the league and setting Cowboys franchise records in rushing yards (1,845) and scrimmage yards (2,261). His 1,845 yards were 484 more than the next closest rusher (Pittsburgh running back Le'Veon Bell).
- Murray set an NFL record by rushing for 100-plus yards in each of the Cowboys first eight games in 2014, breaking Hall of Famer Jim Brown's previous record of six-consecutive games to start a season set in 1958.
- In 2014, Murray became the fastest player in Dallas history and fifthfastest player in league annals to reach the 1,000-yard mark, doing so in just eight games.
- Murray garnered Pro Bowl honors in 2013 after completing his first-career 1,000-yard campaign, totaling 1,121 yards and nine touchdowns.
- As a rookie in 2011, Murray rushed for a Dallas Cowboys franchise record 253 yards against St. Louis (10/23/11), the ninth-highest single-game total in NFL history and the second-most by a rookie back.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- He started the DeMarco Murray Foundation with the mission to provide families with seriously and chronically ill children with daily encouragement and life changing experiences. More information is available at DeMarcoMurray.com.
- Murray hosted his first youth football camp in Middle Tennessee in June 2016, welcoming 150 players to the two-day event at D1 Sports Training in Franklin. He hosted the same camp this past offseason.
- Murray led his high school basketball team to a 2005 state title. He was considered a top-30 basketball recruit in the state as well.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Las Vegas, Nev., native was originally selected by the Dallas Cowboys in the third round (71st overall) the 2011 NFL Draft.
- Signed by the Philadelphia Eagles as an unrestricted free agent on March 12, 2015.
- Traded from the Philadelphia Eagles along with their 2016 fourth-round selection to the Titans for their 2016 fourth-round selection.

SEASON RECAPS:

Led or tied for the team lead in receptions five times in 2016 (at DET, vs. OAK, at MIA, at SD, at CHI). Recorded a career-best two receiving touchdowns against Minnesota (9/11/16).

- Against Minnesota (9/11), made his Titans debut as the starter at running back and led the team with 42 rushing yards on 13 carries. Hauled in five receptions for 35 yards and a career-high two receiving touchdowns. Extended the Titans' lead to 10-0 by hauling in a pass and flipping into the end zone for a six-yard touchdown with 41 seconds remaining in the first half. Concluded the Titans scoring with a four-yard touchdown catch with less than a minute remaining in the fourth quarter.
- At Detroit (9/18), started at running back and led the team with 89 rushing yards on 12 carries. Led the team with seven receptions for 56 yards. Murray's 145 scrimmage yards were the most by a Titans running back since Chris Johnson totaled 170 scrimmage yards (150 rushing, 20 receiving) at St. Louis on Nov. 3, 2013. Flipped field position with a 67-yard run up the middle to the Lions' 26-yard line in the second quarter.
- Against Oakland (9/25), started at running back and led the team with 114 rushing yards on 16 carries with a touchdown. Led the team with five catches for 41 yards. It was his 22nd career 100-yard rushing game and first with the Titans. Kickstarted the Titans' touchdown drive with a 36-yard jaunt off left end in the third quarter. Cut the Raiders' lead to 17-10 with a five-yard touchdown run with 5:51 left to play in the third quarter.
- At Houston (10/2), started at running back and led the team with 95 rushing yards on 25 carries with two touchdowns. Grabbed two passes for 24 yards. Cut the Texans' lead to 17-10 with a two-yard touchdown plunge with 11:21 remaining in the second quarter. Evened the score at 17-17 with a one-yard touchdown run on third-and-one with 2:28 left to play in the first half.

Captain: 2015, 2016, 2017

Pro Bowl: 2009, 2010, 2013, 2016

PRO: The Titans entered the 2015 NFL free agency period looking to add pass rushing talent from the outside linebacker spot in their 3-4 defensive alignment. The club found just that when they signed Brian Orakpo as an unrestricted free agent on March 13, 2015. The 6-foot-4-inch, 257-pounder arrived in Tennessee as a three-time Pro Bowl selection, having registered 40 career sacks and 156 quarterback pressures in six seasons (2009-14) with the Washington Redskins. In his first campaign with the Titans, he tied for the team lead with seven sacks, and in 2016, he earned his fourth Pro Bowl berth while leading the team with 10.5 sacks and ranking second on the squad with 49 quarterback pressures. The University of Texas product was originally drafted by the Redskins in the first round (13th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Orakpo was named to his fourth Pro Bowl after leading the team and tying for sixth in the AFC in sacks with 10.5. He also ranked second on the team with 49 quarterback pressures.
- In 2015, Orakpo started all 16 games in his first season with the Titans and tied for the team lead with seven sacks. He also led the squad with 12 tackles for loss and 37 quarterback pressures.
- In 2013, Orakpo earned his third career Pro Bowl berth after leading the Redskins with 10 sacks.
- Orakpo led or tied for the team lead in sacks in each of his first three seasons with the Redskins.
- In 2009, Orakpo was selected to his second consecutive Pro Bowl after leading the squad with 8.5 sacks.
- In 2009, Orakpo earned a Pro Bowl berth and was named to the PFW/ PFWA All-Rookie Team after setting a Redskins rookie record and leading all NFL rookies with 11 sacks.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Orakpo annually hosts The Brian Orakpo Leukemia Golf Classic to raise money for the National Capital Area Chapter of the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.
- Orakpo is a good friend with former Titans safety Michael Griffin. The two played together for three seasons at the University of Texas and Griffin was an integral part in helping recruit Orakpo to Nashville.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Houston, Texas, native was selected by the Washington Redskins in the first round (13th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft.
- Signed by the Redskins as their franchise player on March 27, 2014.
- Signed by the Titans as an unrestricted free agent on March 13, 2015.

SEASON RECAPS:

PRO: The Titans clamied Nate Palmer off waivers during the 2016 offseason to bring experience and versatility to the linebacker position. The 6-foot-2-inch, 248-pounder spent his first three NFL seasons with the Green Bay Packers. The Illinois State product played in 24 games with 12 starts from 2013-15, while missing the entirety of his second season with an injury. In his first season with the Titans, he led the team in special teams stops with 12. Palmer has played both inside and outside linebacker during his NFL career and brings great flexibility to the linebacker corps.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Palmer notched a team-leading 12 special teams tackles.
- In 2015, he played in a career-best 16 games with 10 starts for Green Bay and collected career-highs with 80 tackles, a sack, two quarterback pressures and three passes defensed.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Palmer was the high school basketball teammate of NBA point guard Derrick Rose for two seasons.
- Palmer names his father, Nathan Sr., as the biggest influence on him as he never made excuses and successfully started his own trucking business in Chicago.
- During college, Palmer held summer jobs at the Boys and Girls Club in Champaign and later as a busboy and food expediter at the Bloomington (III.) Country Club.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Chicago, III., native was originally selected by the Green Bay Packers in the sixth round (193rd overall) of the 2013 NFL Draft.
- · Released by the Packers April 8, 2016.
- · Claimed off waivers by the Titans from the Packers on April 11, 2016.

SEASON RECAPS:

HOMETOWN: BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 5/0 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: Kalan Reed was selected by the Titans with the final pick in the seventh round of the 2016 NFL Draft. The 5-foot-11-inch, 192-pounder saw action in four games as a rookie and collected a tackle on defense and a special teams stop on coverage units. Reed was a three-year starter at Southern Mississippi and has a knack for finding the end zone having returned three of his eight collegiate interceptions for touchdowns. His youth and athleticism adds to an already-competitive defensive back unit, and he also will compete for playing time on special teams coverage units.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

 In 2015, Reed was named first-team All-Conference USA after notching a school record 19 passes defensed, including a career-high four interceptions, two which he returned for touchdowns.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- The Titans selected Reed with the 253rd pick in the draft making him "Mr. Irrelevant," an unofficial title bestowed upon the last person selected in the NFL Draft. Reed was flown to California in early June for Irrelevant Week, which includes media events, fundraisers, and a banquet at which the honoree is given the Lowsman Trophy — as opposed to the Heisman Trophy.
- Reed lived in Nashville from the time he was two years old until he was six. He started playing football in Antioch, Tenn., with the Flatrock Vols pee-wee team and played during halftime of a Titans game when he was five years old.
- Reed's cousin, Maurice Kelly, played safety with the Seattle Seahawks and is currently the VP of Player Engagement for the organization. Reed's mother, Keyaschei, once worked in the Memphis Grizzlies ticket office.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Birmingham, Ala., native was selected by the Titans in the seventh round (253rd overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft.
- Waived by the Titans on Sept. 3, 2016 and signed to the team's practice squad a day later.
- Signed by the Titans from their practice squad to the active roster on Nov. 28. 2016.

- Against Denver (12/11), made his NFL debut as a reserve on special teams.
- At Jacksonville (12/24), played as a reserve at cornerback after LeShaun Sims left the game in the third quarter with an injury and posted a tackle.
- Against Houston (1/1), registered a special teams tackle on coverage units.

COLLEGE:

- In four seasons at Southern Mississippi (2012-15), finished his collegiate career having played in 48 games with 39 starts. Registered 152 career tackles, eight interceptions (three returned for touchdowns), 35 passes defensed and 8.5 tackles for loss.
- As a senior (2015), named first-team All-Conference USA after starting all 14 games and registering 56 tackles, which was fourth-best on the team. Added a single-season school record 19 pass breakups and four interceptions, four tackles for loss for 14 yards, two fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles. Selected to play in the NFLPA Collegiate Bowl. Against Austin Peay (9/12), recorded his first interception on the season and returned it 76 yards for a touchdown. At Western Kentucky (12/5), registered an interception off Brandon Doughty and returned for a 40-yard touchdown in the Conference-USA Championship game.
- As a junior (2014), started all 12 games and recorded 34 tackles, a tackle for loss, two interceptions and a team-high nine pass breakups.
- As a sophomore (2013), started 10 games at cornerback and tallied 41 total tackles with 2.5 tackles for loss, an interception, five passes defensed, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. Named to the 2013-14 C-USA Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll.
- As a freshman (2012), jumped into the fold right away appearing in all 12 games with three starts. Posted 21 tackles on the year with one tackle for loss and two pass breakups. Named to the 2012-13 C-USA Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll. Against Marshall (10/20), collected his first career interception and returned it 19 yards for a touchdown.
- Majored in sports management at Southern Mississippi.

- · Single, splits time between Nashville and Birmingham, Ala.
- Attended Briarwood Christian (Birmingham, Ala.) High School and helped the Lions reach the State Playoffs final three years of high school, including the State Championship as a junior.
- As a senior (2011), recorded 29 tackles, two interceptions and seven pass break ups.
- Also played basketball and was a member of the track & field team. Won State Championship in track in the 110-meter hurdles 300-meter hurdles and long jump as a senior, while taking second in the 110m hurdles and long jump as a junior.

26 RYAN

CORNERBACK • 5'11" • 195 LBS • COLLEGE: RUTGERS
ACQUIRED: UNRESTRICTED FREE AGENT (NEW ENGLAND) - 2017
NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 5/1 • HOMETOWN: VOORHEES, N.J.
GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 70/46 (PLAYOFFS: 10/5)

Super Bowl: 2014, 2016

PRO: The Titans entered the 2017 NFL free agency period looking to add leadership and experience to their secondary. The club found just that when they signed two-time Super Champion Logan Ryan as an unrestricted free agent on March 11, 2017. The 5-foot-11-inch, 195-pounder arrived in Tennessee having collected 14 total interceptions in four seasons (2013-16) with the New England Patriots. The Rutgers product was originally drafted by the Patriots in the third round (83rd overall) of the 2013 NFL Draft

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Ryan is a two-time Super Bowl champion, having captured the title with the New England Patriots in 2014 and 2016.
- In 2016, Ryan posted 92 tackles, two interceptions, a sack, 11 passes defensed, three quarterback pressures and a forced fumble. He started all three postseason games and collected 22 tackles, an interception, a sack, four passes defensed and a quarterback hit.
- In 2015, Ryan collected 82 tackles, a team-high four interceptions and 14 passes defensed.
- In 2013, Ryan led all rookies and finished tied for the AFC lead with five interceptions.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- While taking wedding photos in the St. Lucian town of Soufriere, Logan and his wife, Ashley, came across a bunch of stray dogs. One dog in particular followed them through the streets and impacted the couple. When the newlyweds flew back home, they were determined to help in any way possible. The couple donated money to @helpaws, a St. Lucian-based dog rescue, and encouraged all friends and family that instead giving wedding gifts to make donations. The company later reached out and based on a picture the couple posted on social media, they found the particular dog, named her Logan, and part of the donation paid for her spay.
 During the 2017 offseason, Ryan and N.Y. Giants cornerback Eli Apple
- hosted their first #ThursdayNightLights Football Camp on June 29. The free event for ages 8-18 was funded by the two Eastern High School grads. The night was filled with football, celebrity guests, music, and took place on the high school field where both players put in countless hours to get to where they are today.
- In June 2017, Ryan surprised his big brother, Jordan, by paying off his student loans for his 29th birthday. Logan cut a check for $82,000 to the American Education Services to cover Jordan's loans from earning his engineering degree from Drexel University. "My man got accepted to college, graduated with honors, and now works as an engineer. He did everything the right way and still lived with a ridiculous amount of student loan debt. The system is broke and makes no sense. I'm fortunate and blessed to be able to take care of that for him."
- When Ryan decided to leave Rutgers and enter the NFL Draft after his redshirt junior season in 2012, he made a promise to his parents that after his rookie year, he would return to school and earn his degree. Ryan kept his promise and graduated in the spring of 2014 with a degree in labor relations and a minor in psychology. "I committed to Rutgers, not only as a football player, but as a student, so I was going to make sure I finished that end too. It's a big accomplishment in my life. I held my word to my parents and stuck with it and I'm fortunate. It took a lot of work, but I was able to go back and finish and walk in graduation."

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Voorhees, N.J., native was originally selected by the New England Patriots in the third round (83rd overall) of the 2013 NFL Draft.
- Signed by the Titans as a unrestricted free agent on March 11, 2017.

B1 SMITH

TIGHT END • 6'3" • 248 LBS • COLLEGE: FLORIDA INTERNATIONAL ACQUIRED: 3RD ROUND - 2017 • NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): ROOKIE HOMETOWN: OCALA, FLA.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 6/5 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans selected Jonnu Smith in the third round (100th overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft. The 6-foot-3-inch, 248-pounder was a prolific passer catcher in his four seasons at Florida International. Smith concluded his career as FIU's all-time leader for tight ends in receptions and receiving yards and his 18 career receiving touchdowns ranked third in the school's record books. Smith has shown ability to flash after the catch and has the speed to attack all three levels of the field. The tight end is also known for his strength and willingness to block in the run game.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Smith finished his career as Florida International's all-time leader for tight ends in receptions and receiving yards. Smith ended his career ranking fourth on the school's career receptions list and fifth on the program's receiving yardage list. His 18 career receiving touchdowns rank third in school annals.
- As a sophomore (2014), led all college tight ends with 61 receptions, 710 receiving yards and eight touchdown catches.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Smith credits his mother, Karen, for his successes. Jonnu's father passed away as a result of a tow truck accident when he was four years old and his mother raised all six children by herself. "My mother is my rock. It was tough, but we always got what we needed—not necessarily what we wanted all the time—but what we needed. She was so strong all the time."
 Smith endured a lot of challenges as a youngster in Philadelphia and after
- his brother was arrested and one of his friends was killed on the streets, a decison needed to be made. His family didn't have the financial means to just uproot, so for his own safety Jonnu moved in with his mother's sister and brother-in-law, Darla and Mike Kirkland, in Ocala, Fla. He started playing high school football and even though he was far from a touted recruit, he earned a scholarship to Florida International where his play took off.
- Smith's best friend Willie "Quasim" Jefferson tragically died from a gun shot in October 2016. Jonnu gave his son the middle name Quasim in honor of him.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Philadelphia, Pa., native was selected by the Titans in the third round (100th overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/5): Leads the team with two receiving touchdowns. Has led the team in receptions once in 2017 (at MIA). Registered his first career receiving touchdown at Jacksonville (9/17/17). Appeared in his first career NFL game and made his first career start against Oakland (9/10/17).

- Against Oakland (9/10), started at tight end in his NFL debut.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), started at tight end and snared two receptions for 30 yards, including his first career receiving touchdown. Gave the Titans a 30-3 lead with a 32-yard touchdown on a screen pass with 9:57 remaining in the fourth quarter.
- Against Seattle (9/24), started at tight end and caught a 24-yard touchdown pass. Helped block for Titans' ball carriers to collect 195 rushing yards on 35 carries (5.6 avg.). Increased the Titans lead to 23-14 with a 24-yard touchdown catch on a wheel route with 3:50 left to play in the third quarter.
- At Houston (10/1), started at tight end.
- At Miami (10/8), started at tight end and led the team with five catches for 21 yards.
- · Against Indianapolis (10/16), played as a reserve at tight end and snared one catch for 10 yards.

COLLEGE

• In four seasons at Florida International (2013-16), Smith appeared in 43 career games and tallied 178 receptions for 2,001 yards with 18 touchdowns.

AS A SENIOR (2016), started in 11 games for the Panthers and was a second team, All-Conference USA honoree. Caught 42 passes for 506 yards and four touchdowns. Became the fifth player in Florida International history to register over 2,000 yards receiving during a career (2,001 yards). Finished his career registering at least one reception in every game he played (43-straight – second-most in school history).

- Against Indiana (9/1), opened the season with a season-high eight catches for 83 yards.
- At Charlotte (10/15), hauled in his first touchdown reception of the season

Tackles - 1 (2015)

PRO: A powerful right-footed kicker in his ninth NFL campaign, Ryan Succop joined the Titans prior to the start of the 2014 regular season. Succop arrived in Tennessee after five seasons with the Kansas City Chiefs, where he posted four 100-plus point seasons and connected on 81 percent of his field goal attempts. In his first three seasons (2014-16) with the Titans, the University of South Carolina product made good on 88.7 percent of his field goals. His percentage increased every year during that period, including a 91.7 percent success rate in 2016 that qualified as the third-highest in franchise history.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Succop's 91.7 percent field goal rate (22 of 24) was the best single-season performance of his career and the third-best percentage in franchise history (92.3 by Rob Bironas in 2010 and 92.3 by Al Del Greco in 1998). Succop's percentage ranked third in the NFL in 2016 behind only Justin Tucker (97.4) and Matt Bryant (91.9).
- Succop finished the 2016 season with a franchise-record streak of 36 successful field goals from inside 50 yards, dating back to 2014.
- At Kansas City on Dec. 18, 2016, he became the first kicker in NFL history to defeat his former team by converting a game-winning, comefrom-behind field goal of 50 or more yards (53) as time expired. It tied for the second-longest game-winning field goal in franchise history.
- In 2015, Succop set a then-career-best by connecting on 87.5 percent of his kicks (14 of 16 field goals) and recording 43 touchbacks, the secondmost of his career.
- In 2014, Succop played in all 16 games in his first season with the Titans and connected on a then career-high 86.4 percent of his field goals. He converted 19 of 22 field goals and all 27 extra point attempts for 84 points.
- Succop has appeared in two postseason contests, making all three field goals attempted and all six extra points for 15 points.
- In 2013, posted 118 points, setting a new single-season career-high for points, passing his old mark of 104 set in his rookie season in 2009.
- Set a Chiefs franchise record for most points in a postseason game, accounting for 14 points in the Chiefs 2013 AFC Wild Card Game at Indianapolis (1/4/14).
- In 2009, Succop converted 86.2 percent of his field goals (25 of 29), tying as the highest make percentage by a rookie since the AFL-NFL merger (min. 20 attempts). He also led all NFL rookies with 104 points.
- Succop was named All-Rookie from Pro Football Weekly/PFWA and was voted the Chiefs' 2009 Mack Lee Hill Award winner by his peers for his rookie success.
- Succop set a career high and a Chiefs franchise single-game record by converting all six field goals he attempted at New Orleans (9/23/12).

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Succop was given the title "Mr. Irrelevant" after being selected with the final pick (256th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft.
- Succop caddied for his friend, Wesley Bryan, at the 2016 Nashville Golf Open, a Web.com event at Nashville Golf & Athletic Club. Succop and Bryan went to school together at the University of South Carolina,
- Succop registered 104 career goals and was a four-time all-conference and two-time all-state soccer selection at Hickory (N.C.) High School.
- Succop handled both the kicking and punting duties during his sophomore and junior seasons at South Carolina.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Hickory, N.C., native was originally selected by the Kansas City

Chiefs in the seventh round (256th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft.

- · Released by the Chiefs on Aug. 30, 2014.
- Signed by the Titans as a free agent on Sept. 2, 2014.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/0 - Tennessee): Ranks second in the NFL with 62 points and 16 field goals made. Has made 51 consecutive successful field goals from inside 50 yards, dating back to 2014, which is an NFL record. Named AFC Special Teams Player of the Month for September after leading the NFL with 38 points and 10 field goals. Set the NFL record with his 47th consecutive field goal make under 50 yards against Indianapolis (10/16/17). Has tied for the team lead in special teams tackles once in 2017 (vs. OAK).

- Against Oakland (9/10), made three of four field goals (23, 26, 52) with a 52-yard miss. Connected on his lone extra point try. Tied for the team lead with a special teams tackle, his first tackle since 2013. Evened the score at 10-10 with a 23-yard field goal with 43 seconds left to play in the first half. Cut the Raiders' lead to 16-13 with a 26-yard field goal on the final play of the third quarter. Made good on a 52-yard field goal to cut the Raiders' lead to 23-16 with 4:49 left to play in the game. The kick extended his streak to 19 successful field goals of any distance before missing another attempt from 52 yards. The 19-kick streak tied for the fifth-longest streak in franchise history, only one off the club record of 20 (accomplished three times by Rob Bironas and once by Al Del Greco).
- At Jacksonville (9/17), connected on all three field goals (40, 41, 26) and all four extra point chances. Tied the score at 3-3 with a 40-yard field goal with 2:16 left to play in the first quarter. Gave the Titans a 6-3 halftime advantage with a 41-yard field goal as time expired in the secnd quarter. Gave the Titans a 9-3 lead with a 26-yard field goal early in the third quarter.
- Against Seattle (9/24), made good on all four field goals (24, 37, 47, 35) and all three extra point tries. Posted a career-high seven touchbacks. Gave the Titans a 3-0 lead with a 24-yard field goal early in the second quarter. Extended the Titans' lead to 6-0 with a 37-yard field goal with 5:51 left to play in the second quarter. Gave the Titans a 9-7 halftime lead with a 47-yard field goal as time expired in the second quarter. Gave the Titans a 33-20 lead with a 35-yard field goal with 10:00 left to play in the fourth quarter. His 10 field goals rank as the most by any player in franchise history in the first three weeks of a season, topping Al Del Greco's previous benchmark of eight field goals in the first three weeks of 1996.
- At Houston (10/1), connected on both extra point chances, but did not attempt a field goal. Registered two touchbacks on three kickoffs.
- At Miami (10/8), made his lone field goal (45) and his only extra point chance. Cut the Dolphins' lead to 10-3 with a 45-yard field goal with 9:37 remaining in the second quarter. With the field goal, Succop registered his 46th consecutive made field goal on attempts under 50 yards, tying the NFL record set by Atlanta Falcons kicker Matt Bryant from 2013-2015.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), connected on all five field goals (48, 32, 40, 48, 23) and all three extra point chances. Notched a special teams tackle on coverage units. Set the NFL record with his 47th consecutive field goal make under 50 yards when he nailed a 48-yard field goal with 11:15 left to play in the first quarter. Gave the Titans a 6-3 lead with a 32-yard field goal late in the first stanza. Cut the Colts' lead 10-9 with a 40-yard field goal with 4:10 left to play in the first half. Got the Titans to within 19-12 with a 48-yard field goal in the third quarter. Booted a 23-yard field goal with 4:35 left to play in the third quarter to cut the Indianapolis lead to 19-15.

2016 (16/0 - Tennessee): Connected on a career-best 91.7 percent of his field goals (22 of 24) and 39 of 41 extra points for 105 points. His 91.7 percent rate was third among all NFL kickers with at least 20 attempts and was the third-best percentage in franchise history. Recorded his fifth career season with at least 100 points and his first such season with the Titans. Tallied a career-best 58 touchbacks. Finished the 2016 campaign by making his last 16 field goal attempts.

- At Houston (10/2), made good on both field goals (48, 26) and both extra point attempts. Boomed four touchbacks on kickoffs. Cut the Texans' lead to 14-3 with a 48-yard field goal with 2:36 left to play in the first quarter. Evened the score at 20-20 with a 26-yard field goal midway through the third quarter.
- Against Indianapolis (10/23), connected on both field goals (48, 44) and two extra point chances. Gave the Titans a 23-20 lead with a 48-yard field goal with 6:02 left to play in the game. Cut the Colts' lead to 34-26 with a 44-yard field goal with 43 seconds left to play in the game. The two scores extended his streak to 25 consecutive made field goals on attempts inside 50 yards, which broke Al Del Greco's franchise record of 24 straight that was set from 1995–1996.
- Against Jacksonville (10/27), made good on all three field goals (32, 22, 33) and three of four extra point tries. Gave the Titans an early 3-0 lead with a 32-yard field goal with 3:31 left to play in the first quarter. Concluded the first half scoring with a 22-yard field goal as time expired to give the Titans a 27-0 halftime lead. Nailed a 33-yard field goal and increased the Titans lead to 36-8 with 12:32 left to play in the game.

PRO: The Titans signed Phillip Supernaw late in the 2015 offseason to add competition and depth to the tight end position. He responded with the first season of his career in which he appeared in all 16 games, becoming one of the team's special teams leaders. In 2016, Supernaw played in 15 games with two starts at tight end and collected career-highs with four receptions and 62 receiving yards. The 6-foot-5-inch, 255-pounder was originally signed as a rookie free agent by the Houston Texans following the 2012 NFL Draft. The Ouachita Baptist product spent parts of his first two seasons with the Texans before splitting time with the Baltimore Ravens and Kansas City Chiefs during the 2014 campaign.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Supernaw collected career-highs with four receptions and 62 receiving yards and tied for third on the Titans with eight special teams tackles.
- In 2015, Supernaw ranked second on the Titans with 14 special teams tackles.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Supernaw's father is country music singer Doug Supernaw. Doug Supernaw has released four studio albums: Red and Rio Grande (1993), Deep Thoughts from a Shallow Mind (1994), You Still Got Me (1995), and Fadin' Renegade (1999), as well as a compilation album, 1997's The Encore Collection. Between 1993 and 1996, he charted 11 singles on the Billboard Hot Country Singles & Tracks charts, including "I Don't Call Him Daddy," a number one single in late 1993.
- Supernaw was actually born in Nashville, but moved to the Houston area at an early age and attended high school in Katy, Texas.
- A member at Vanderbilt Legends Club in Franklin, Tenn., the golf enthusiast plays whenever he can during the offseason and is a 2.0 handicap.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

13 TAYLOR

WIDE RECEIVER • 5'11" • 203 LBS • COLLEGE: WESTERN KENTUCKY ACQUIRED: 3RD ROUND - 2017 • NFL EXPERIENCE: ROOKIE

HOMETOWN: LOUISVILLE, KY.

GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 6/2 (PLAYOFFS: 0/0)

PRO: The Titans selected Taywan Taylor (first name pronounced TAYwahn) with their first of two third-round picks in the 2017 NFL Draft. A shifty route-runner with exceptional burst and run-after-catch ability, he has the ability to play in the slot or on the outside. At Western Kentucky, he broke every major single-season and career receiving record and accounted for 34 touchdown receptions over his final two campaigns. He joins first-rounder Corey Davis to give the Titans one of the NFL's most dynamic rookie receiving duos. Taylor became the first Western Kentucky player drafted by the Titans since the team arrived in Tennessee.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- The most prolific wide receiver in Western Kentucky history, Taylor accumulated 253 career receptions for 4,234 yards and 41 touchdowns in four seasons, setting team records in each category.
- In 2016, he had the best single season of any receiver in Western Kentucky history, setting Hilltopper records with 98 catches (ranked fifth in the nation), 1,730 receiving yards (third) and 17 touchdowns (tied for third).

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Taylor's football life has taken him south on Interstate 65. A native of Louisville, which is approximately a three-hour drive from Nashville, he attended Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green, Ky., a one-hour commute from Nashville on the same highway.
- He played the role of Daddy Warbucks in an elementary school production of "Annie."
- · Taylor lists his football role model as Randy Moss.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Louisville, Ky., native was selected by the Titans in the third round (72nd overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/2): Collected his first career receiving touchdown with a 53-yard catch against Indianapolis (10/16/17). Appeared in his first career NFL game against Oakland (9/10/17). Made his first career NFL start at Miami (10/8).

- Against Oakland (9/10), played as a reserve wide receiver in his NFL debut and caught two passes for 14 yards.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), saw action as a reserve at wide receiver and caught a game-long 42-yard reception. Rushed the ball twice for 16 yards. Collected his first career special teams tackle on coverage units. Set up the Titans second touchdown of the day with a diving 42-yard catch down the left sideline in the third quarter.
- Against Seattle (9/24), played as a reserve at wide receiver and snared two receptions for 16 yards.
- At Houston (10/1), saw action as a reserve at wide receiver and carried the ball once for six yards.
- At Miami (10/8), started his first career NFL contest and rushed once for five yards.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), started at wide receiver and snared two receptions for 61 yards with a touchdown. Gave the Titans a 29-22 lead with a 53-yard touchdown catch with 5:29 left to play in the game.

COLLEGE:

In four seasons at Western Kentucky (2013-16), Taylor appeared in 52 games with 33 starts. He established Hilltopper career records with 253 receptions, 4,234 receiving yards and 41 receiving touchdowns, and he also set the single-season records with 98 receptions, 1,730 yards and 17 touchdowns, the latter of which he hit in both his junior and senior seasons. He authored 19 100-yard receiving performances. Taylor helped lead the team to a pair of Conference USA titles and three consecutive bowl championships. He was a two-time semifinalist for the Fred Biletnikoff Award, given to the nation's top wide receiver.

AS A SENIOR (2016), broke his own single-season records for receptions and receiving yards and tied his touchdown reception record, finishing the season with 98 receptions for 1,730 yards and 17 touchdowns. Posted nine games with at least 100 yards receiving, second-most nationally, while his 11 games of catching at least one touchdown pass led the nation. His 1,730 receiving yards ranked third nationally, and his 98 receptions ranked fifth. His 17.6-yards-per-catch average was the highest in the nation among receivers with at least 75 receptions, and his 978 yards on deep passes also led the nation. He was a team captain, Biletnikoff Award semifinalist and first-team All-Conference USA.

- Against Houston Baptist (10/1), recorded a career-long 80-yard touchdown reception
- At Middle Tennessee (10/15), matched his career high with 12 receptions and set his career high with 197 receiving yards, including a 45-yard touchdown reception.

Against North Texas (11/12), caught six passes for 166 yards and three touchdowns to match his career high. His touchdown receptions were 75 yards, 64 yards and four yards.

• Against Old Dominion (10/22), posted 10 receptions for 123 yards and three touchdowns.

AS A JUNIOR (2015), became the second 1,000-yard receiver in program history and set Western Kentucky single-season records for receiving yards (1,467), receptions (86) and touchdown catches (17). His 1,467 yards were the second-most in C-USA history, while his 17 touchdown receptions were fourth-most. The consensus first-team All-Conference USA selection also was named second-team All-American by ProFootballFocus.com. Ranked third nationally and led the conference in receiving yards, while his 104.8 yards per game ranked No. 10 nationally. Had 100 receiving yards or more in eight games, tied for the most in C-USA. Ranked third in the league in touchdowns scored, average 7.3 points per game, and he was the only player in the country to catch a touchdown pass in 11 games (four others field at 10)

- At LSU (10/24), had a season-high 10 receptions for 103 yards and a touchdown.
- At Indiana (9/19), recorded 196 yards on nine receptions. His yardage total was the second-highest in program history and the most since WKU became an FBS program in 2009.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2014), started seven games while appearing in all 13. Finished second on the team with 767 yards and was third in touchdown receptions with seven. His 45 receptions were fourth-most for the Hilltoppers, and he led all primary pass catchers with a 17.0 yards-percatch average, the best average among receivers with over 40 receptions in the league. Had 50 yards in seven of 13 games to go along with a pair of 100-yard performances. Led the team with 13 receptions of 20 yards or longer. Of his seven touchdowns, five went for 45 yards or longer. Taylor's seven touchdowns also tied for fifth-most in a single season in program history. Earned All-Conference USA honorable mention.

- Against Bowling Green (8/29), led the team and set a then-career high with 185 yards on 12 catches in the season opener. The 185 yards were also the sixth-most in a single game in program history.
- At Marshall (11/28), caught Brandon Doughty's season-long pass of 75 yards for a touchdown.

AS A FRESHMAN (2013), saw action in 11 games, earning seven starts. Caught 24 passes for 270 yards, second among freshman wideouts and sixth overall on the team.

- Against Kentucky (8/31), caught four passes for 23 yards in his debut.
- At Louisiana-Monroe (10/3), posted three receptions and led the team with a season-high 75 yards.
- Received his degree in elementary education from Western Kentucky.in May 2017.

PERSONAL:

 Attended Pleasure Ridge Park (Louisville, Ky.) High School, where he helped lead the team to a 14-1 season as a senior in 2012 by posting a team-high 52 receptions for 1,169 yards. He scored 18 total touchdowns, including 14 touchdown receptions. The team advanced to the Class 6A state title game before losing for the first time all season. He earned All-

District honors from the Greater Louisville Football Coaches Association and also was named Honorable Mention All-State by the Courier-Journal.

OUTSIDE LINEBACKER • 6'2" • 250 LBS • COLLEGE: MIDDLE TENNESSEE STATE ACQUIRED: FREE AGENT - 2017

NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 10/1 • HOMETOWN: DUBLIN, GA. GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 135/86 (PLAYOFFS: 12/9)

Super Bowl: 2010

PRO: The Titans signed Erik Walden late in the 2017 offseason to bolster their pass rush and provide experience and production at outside linebacker. The 6-foot-2-inch, 250-pounder arrived in Tennessee coming off an 11-sack campaign with the Indianapolis Colts in 2016. The 10th-year veteran was originally selected by the Dallas Cowboys in the 2008 NFL Draft and has also spent time with the Kansas City Chiefs, Miami Dolphins, and Green Bay Packers. The Middle Tennessee State product has biggame experience having played in 12 career postseason contests, while also winning a Super Bowl title with the Packers in 2010.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Walden led the Colts and set a career best with 11 sacks, his first career double-digit sack season.
- In 2012, Walden played in 15 games for the Packers and tallied 69 tackles, three sacks and his first two career interceptions.
- In 2011, Walden became a full-time starter for the first time in his career, opening the first 15 games at outside linebacker for the Packers and posting a career-high 86 tackles to go along with three sacks, two passes defensed and a fumble recovery that he returned for his first career touchdown.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Walden, a two-time All-Sun Belt Conference selection at Middle Tennessee State, finished his career as the school's all-time sack leader with 22.5 sacks and set the school's single-season mark with 11.5 sacks as a junior in 2006.
- Walden took advantage of his second career starting assignment late in 2010 campaign, earning NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors for his Week 17 performance against Chicago when he recorded a career-high three sacks and a career-best 16 tackles.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Dublin, Ga., native was originally selected by the Dallas Cowboys in the sixth round (167th overall) of the 2008 NFL Draft.
- Waived by the Cowboys on Aug. 30, 2008.
- Claimed off waivers by the Kansas City Chiefs on Aug. 31, 2008.
- · Waived by the Chiefs on Nov. 18, 2008.
- · Claimed off waivers by the Miami Dolphins on Nov. 19, 2008.
- · Waived by the Dolphins on Sept. 4, 2010.
- Signed by the Dolphins as a free agent on Sept. 13, 2010.
- Released by the Dolphins on Sept. 28, 2010.
- · Signed by the Green Bay Packers as a free agent on Oct. 27, 2010.
- Signed by the Indianapolis Colts as an unrestricted free agent on March 13, 2013.
- Signed by the Titans as a free agent on July 28, 2017.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (6/0 - Tennessee): Has led the team in sacks once in 2017 (vs. SEA). Has tied for the team lead in quarterback pressures once in 2017 (at MIA).

- Against Oakland (9/10), saw action as a reserve outside linebacker in his Titans debut and posted three tackles and two quarterback pressures.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), played as a reserve at outside linebacker and collected a tackle and fumble recovery. Recovered the fumble following Brian Orakpo's strip-sack of Blake Bortles in the second quarter.
- Against Seattle (9/24), saw action as a reserve outside linebacker and notched four tackles, a sack and two quarterback pressures. Halted a Seahawks' drive by dropping Russell Wilson for a nine-yard sack on thirdand-10 in the second quarter.

- At Houston (10/1), played as a reserve at outside linebacker and tallied three tackles.
- At Miami (10/8), saw action as a reserve at outside linebacker and totaled three tackles and four quarterback pressures. Combined with Avery Williamson to stuff Jay Ajayi for no gain on a rush off right guard in the third quarter. Teamed with DaQuan Jones to stuff Jay Ajayi for a one-yard loss on a rush off left guard in the fourth quarter.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), saw significant action as a reserve at outside linebacker and recorded two tackles and a quarterback pressure.

2016 (16/16 - Indianapolis): Started all 16 games at outside linebacker for the first time in his career and led the team with 11 sacks while adding 46 tackles, nine tackles for loss, 17 quarterback hits and three forced fumbles.

- Against Detroit (9/11), started at outside linebacker and posted three solo tackles, a sack and two quarterback hits. Logged the team's first sack of the season on a Lions third down in the third quarter to force a punt.
- Against San Diego (9/25), totaled four tackles, two sacks and two forced fumbles starting at outside linebacker. Contributed with a sack-forced fumble of Philip Rivers with the Chargers driving in the Colts red zone late in the second quarter. Added his second sack of the game in the fourth quarter, which held the Chargers to a field goal. It was his first multiplesack game dating back to Nov. 29, 2015. On San Diego's final play of the game, Walden dropped Travis Benjamin and forced a fumble which was recovered by teammate D'Qwell Jackson. The game ended on the turnover. It was the first time in his career that he totaled two forced fumbles in a single game.
- At Jacksonville (10/2), started at outside linebacker and finished with four solo tackles, a sack, a tackle for loss and two quarterback hits.

82 WALKER

TIGHT END • 6'2" • 248 LBS • COLLEGE: CENTRAL MISSOURI ACQUIRED: UNRESTRICTED FREE AGENT (SF) - 2013 NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 12/5 • HOMETOWN: POMONA, CALIF. GAMES PLAYED/GAMES STARTED: 165/89 (PLAYOFFS: 4/2)

Pro Bowl: 2015, 2016

PRO: The Titans targeted Delanie Walker early in the 2013 free agency period to bring physicality, versatility and leadership to the offense. He has delivered that and more, becoming one of the NFL's top play-making tight ends. The tight end brings a unique element to the offense and poses match-up problems for defenses with his ability to line up in the backfield, on the line, in the slot and as a wideout. The 6-foot-2-inch, 248-pounder spent the first seven years of his career with the San Francisco 49ers after being selected in the sixth round of the 2006 NFL Draft. His first four seasons in Tennessee arguably resulted in the best four-year stretch in franchise history by a player at his position. During that time period, his 282 receptions and 3,349 receiving yards (to go with 23 touchdowns) set a franchise high for a tight end in any consecutive four-year period, and his reception and yardage totals ranked fourth in the NFL in that timespan. In 2015, he set the single-season franchise records among tight ends with 94 receptions and 1,088 receiving yards, leading to his first career Pro Bowl invitation.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Walker was named to his second consecutive Pro Bowl after tying for the team lead with 65 receptions and finishing second on the squad with 800 receiving yards and a career-high seven receiving touchdowns.
- In 2015, Walker was named to his first Pro Bowl. He set new team records among tight ends with 94 receptions and 1,088 receiving yards, and he caught six touchdown passes for the second time in three years (2013). He broke his own receiving yardage record (890 in 2014) and Frank Wycheck's reception record (70 in 1998 and 2000) for franchise tight ends.
- On the team's all-time single-season receptions list, regardless of position, Walker tied wide receiver Kendall Wright (94 receptions in 2013) for the fifth-highest total in 2015. Walker's 94 receptions tied Jason Witten (94 catches in 2009 and 2010) for the 10th-highest total in NFL history by a tight end.
- In 2014, Walker's team-leading 890 receiving yards set a career high and marked the highest total in franchise history by a tight end, eclipsing Frank Wycheck's 768 receiving yards in 1998. Walker's 63 receptions in 2014 also led the team, set a career high, and tied for fourth in team annals.
- In 2013, Walker's first season in Tennessee, he totaled 60 receptions for 571 yards and six touchdowns, setting career highs in all three categories. Also, he became the only tight end in franchise history other than Titans Ring of Honor member Frank Wycheck (1997–2001) to reach 60 receptions in a single season. Walker's six touchdown receptions tied for fourth place in franchise history among tight ends and were the most since Wycheck's six in 1996.
- In 2012, Walker played an integral role in the 49ers' second consecutive playoff season, as he teamed with Vernon Davis to form one of the NFL's top tight-end duos. He saw action in all 16 regular-season games with four starts and set a career high with 344 yards and three touchdowns (matched career high) on 21 receptions. His average of 16.4 yards per catch was the highest among all NFL tight ends with 20 or more catches.
- During the 2012 playoffs, Walker appeared in all three games and started in Super Bowl XLVII. In the Super Bowl, he recorded three receptions for 48 yards.
- In 2010, he played in 14 games with eight starts and tallied a then-careerbest 29 receptions for 331 yards.

TITANS TIDBITS:

· Walker was named the Tennessee Titans Community Man of the Year in 2013 and 2015, due in large part to his tireless work with Mothers Against Drunk Driving. He teamed with MADD to help raise awareness of the dangers of drinking and driving after losing his aunt and uncle in a horrific accident near New Orleans after Super Bowl XLVII. The morning after San Francisco's loss to Baltimore at the Superdome, an alleged drunk driver killed Alice and Bryan Young only hours after Walker hugged Alice and Bryan at the team's postgame party. In addition to his work with MADD, Walker is an ambassador with the Tennessee Governor's Highway Safety Office's "Booze It and Lose It" campaign.

- In April 2017, Walker took part in an eight-day overseas trip to the Middle East to visit U.S. servicemen and women as part of a United Service Organization tour. The group was on their USO tour, and visiting an Army base in Kuwait, when Syrian president Bashar al-Assad launched a chemical attack against civilians in his country on April 4. The NFL players traveled to another region in the Middle East the following day, unsure if their scheduled visit with Marines and Air Force airmen would be allowed to proceed. The group was eventually cleared for the visit, but before they could leave one base, military police boarded their bus and forced the players to delete any pictures and videos taken at the base from their cameras and cell phones.
- During the 2016 offseason, Walker spearheaded a benefit dinner and auction for his foundation called "Carving It Up with Delanie Walker." He also launched "Delanie Walker's Imagination Station" at Fall-Hamilton Elementary School in collaboration with Scholastic Book Fairs to provide a new fully-furnished reading room for students.
- Walker was one of five finalists for the NFL's 2015 Byron "Whizzer" White Award, which recognizes community service.
- During the 2015 and 2016 offseasons, the Delanie Walker Gives Back Foundation (delaniewalker.org) hosted a Celebrity Go-Karting Challenge, raising more than $75,000 to benefit the foundation. Walker launched the non-profit to provide inner-city and low-income children with the educational opportunities and resources to reach their full potential and beat the odds. Proceeds from the go-karting event will help fund community outreach programs such as Back to School COOL, Delanie's Imagination Stations, and College Bound. Walker's offseason also includes hosting a youth football camp.
- Over the years, Walker has owned quite a selection of cars, ranging from classics to newer models. His collection has included a 1964 Chevy Impala, 1972 Buick Skylark, 1989 Camaro IROC-Z28, 2008 Mercedes-Benz CL63 AMG and 2010 F250 truck. Walker's passion for cars can be traced back to his childhood, where he would spend countless hours refurbishing old autos with the help of his friend's father, who was a mechanic. "Growing up we didn't have much money, so we would buy cars from the junkyard and fix them up. We'd spend all day taking off parts and replacing them, just like new. The most important lesson I learned was 'the way you take it off is the way you put it back on." Walker admits that cars these days have become more advanced and that he is only comfortable working on models that are pre-1990. After his playing days are over, he envisions owning a car restoration shop.
- Having grown up in a tough neighborhood, Walker knows first-hand how difficult it is to overcome obstacles in order to achieve one's goals. During his time in San Francisco, he visited delinquent youths across the Bay Area, making it a point to share his story and give positive reinforcement to those who can relate to him. "It's very important that people know about what I've been through. You can grow up in the worst neighborhood and still make it to the NFL. That's why I want kids, especially in the Bay Area, to understand that you can overcome those situations, because I did."

- For a 248-pound tight end, Walker makes a lot of tacklers miss. His speed on the field can be linked to his success on the track as a high school senior. Despite lettering only one year, he won the Division III 100m (10.6) and long jump (21-5) titles, while also serving as a member of the winning 4x100m relay team at the 2002 Miramonte League Meet. Delanie's younger brother, Anthony, competed in the 400m and 4x400m at the collegiate level, and has his hopes set on making the Olympic team one day.
- On Feb. 14, 2015, Walker was inducted into the Central Missouri Athletic Hall of Fame.

Pro Bowl: 2010

PRO: The Titans signed Pro Bowl returner Eric Weems during the 2017 offseason to add veteran presence and leadership to the special teams unit. Originally signed as an undrafted rookie free agent with the Atlanta Falcons in 2007, Weems' extensive special teams experience is evident through his decorated nine-year career in the NFL. He was named to the 2010 Pro Bowl as a return specialist after ranking third in the NFL with a career-high 27.5 yard kickoff return average, and posting both one kick and punt return touchdown. He has also tallied 353 receiving yards with four touchdowns over his career as a Falcon (2007-11, 14-16) and as a Chicago Bear (2012-13). He has tallied 102 total special teams tackles over 10 seasons. Weems handled return duties in six playoff games with Atlanta, most recently in Super Bowl LI.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Elected to the Pro Bowl as a return specialist in 2010 after ranking third in the NFL with a career-high 27.5 yard kickoff return average and posting both one kick and punt return touchdown, respectively. Set a Falcons franchise record when he returned a kickoff 102 yards for a touchdown at Tampa Bay (12/5). Weems then tied that long with a 102-yard return for a touchdown in the Divisional Playoff game against Green Bay (1/15/11). Also returned a 55-yard punt for a touchdown at Carolina (12/12) to add to his Pro Bowl season resume.
- In 2009, scored two touchdowns in two contests as a reserve wide receiver for Atlanta including a 30-yard score at Dallas (10/25). Both touchdown receptions came in the fourth quarter.
- Weems has participated in all 16 regular season games for eight consecutive seasons (2009-16) with Atlanta and Chicago.

TITANS TIDBITS:

 After competing in Super Bowl LI as a member of the Atlanta Falcons, Weems presented his alma mater, Seabreeze (Fla.) High School, with a golden football to commemorate his participation.

Sup

Super Bowl: 2015

PRO: Early in the 2017 NFL's unrestricted free agency period, the Titans reached a deal to bring former Denver Broncos nose tackle Sylvester Williams to Tennessee. The University of North Carolina product was originally drafted by the Broncos in the first round of the 2013 NFL Draft. The massive 6-foot-2-inch, 313-pound lineman provides stability and a runstuffing presence in the middle of the Titans defensive line. He appeared in 60 games (48 starts) in four seasons in Denver and was a key member of the Super Bowl 50 Championship squad. A permanent starter from 2014-16, Williams helped the Broncos defense rank eighth in the NFL in rushing yards allowed during that time, surrendering only 97.9 yards per game on the ground.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- During his first four NFL seasons in Denver, Williams played in 60 games in the regular season and seven postseason contests. His regular season totals with the Broncos included 64 tackles, 4.5 sacks, one pass defensed, one forced fumble and one blocked field goal.
- In 2015, Williams helped the Broncos defense finish first overall in the NFL (283.1 yards per game) en route to winning Super Bowl 50.
- In 2014, Williams helped the Broncos defense finish second against the run and set a franchise record for opponents' average rushing yards per game (79.8).

TITANS TIDBITS:

 After high school, Williams, who only played one season of football in high school, worked the night shift at Modine Manufacturing Company in Jefferson City, Mo., making radiator parts for large trucks before enrolling in college.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Jefferson City, Mo., native was originally selected by the Denver Broncos in the first round (28th overall) of the 2013 NFL Draft.
- Signed by the Titans as an unrestricted free agent on March 14, 2017.

SEASON RECAPS:

2017 (5/3 - Tennessee):

- \bullet Against Oakland (9/10), started at nose tackle in his Titans debut and posted two tackles.
- At Jacksonville (9/17), started at nose tackle and collected a tackle.
- Against Seattle (9/24), played as a reserve at nose tackle.
- At Houston (10/1), started at nose tackle and tallied three tackles. Stuffed D'Onta Foreman for no gain on a rush off right tackle in the final stanza. Stonewalled Alfred Blue for a one-yard loss on a rush off right end in the fourth quarter.
- At Miami (10/8), played as a reserve at nose tackle.
- Against Indianapolis (10/16), was inactive.

2016 (16/16 - Denver): Started all 16 games for the first time in his career, totaling a career-high 29 tackles, one sack and one pass defensed.

- At Tampa Bay (10/2), notched two solo tackles and one sack, dropping Jameis Winston for a seven-yard loss.
- At San Diego (10/13), posted three tackles.
- · Against Houston (10/24), notched three tackles.
- At Oakland (11/6), matched his career high with five tackles.
- At New Orleans (11/13), tallied three solo tackles.
- Against Kansas City (11/27), recorded one solo tackle and one pass defensed

2015 (15/15, 3/3 - Denver): Opened all 15 regular season games played, finishing with a then-career-best 25 tackles and a career-high 2.5 sacks for the league's top-ranked defense (283.1 yards per game). Tallied a pair of tackles and one pass defensed in Denver's three postseason contests.

- · At Detroit (9/27), posted three tackles and one sack.
- · Against Minnesota (10/4), notched a half sack and four tackles.
- At Oakland (10/11), blocked a 38-yard field goal attempt and added a tackle
- Against Carolina (2/7), posted two tackles and a pass defensed in Denver's Super Bowl 50 victory against the Panthers.

2014 (16/13, 1/0 - Denver): Played all 16 games in the regular season, including 13 starts. He totaled 21 tackles and one pass defensed while contributing to a defensive line that allowed just 79.8 rushing yards per game—the lowest single-season figure in team history and second-best mark in the NFL in 2014.

• At Seattle (9/21), recorded a season-high four tackles.

2013 (13/4, 3/3 - Denver): Appeared in 13 games with four starts as a rookie, totaling 19 tackles, two sacks, five tackles for loss and one fumble recovery. Contributed two tackles on special teams. Started all three playoff games and totaled three postseason tackles.

- Against Baltimore (9/5), recorded one solo tackle for loss in his NFL debut.
- Against Tennessee (12/8), recorded his first career NFL start.
- Against San Diego (12/12), registered his first career sack and tallied a career-best five tackles.
- At Houston (12/22), led the defense with three tackles for loss.
- At Oakland (12/29), recorded his first career fumble recovery.
- Against Seattle (2/2/14), started and posted two tackles in Super Bowl XLVIII.

COLLEGE:

- Started all 45 games played during his collegiate career at the University of North Carolina (2011-12) and Coffeyville Community College (2009-10), totaling 184 tackles (84 solo), 15.5 sacks, one interception, five passes defensed, two forced fumbles and four blocked kicks.
- Named a first-team All-America and All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection following his senior campaign for the Tar Heels in which his six sacks tied for the league lead among defensive tackles.
- Started all 13 games in his first season at North Carolina in 2011 and was the recipient of the team's Jeffrey Cowell Memorial Award given to the outstanding first-year player for the defense.
- Opened all 20 contests at Coffeyville C.C., working his way up from a walk-on in 2009 to a first-team All-Kansas Jayhawk Community College Conference pick in 2010.
- Graduated from North Carolina with a degree in communications.

PERSONAL:

- Played just one season of prep football at Jefferson City (Mo.) High School, making the team as a 310-pound senior and helping the school achieve a final ranking of No. 12 in the state and win the Freelance Football League title.
- Follow Williams on Twitter at @Sylwil92.
- · Follow Williams on Snapchat at @Slynineduece.
- · Born Sylvester Williams on Nov. 21, 1988 in Jefferson City, Mo.

PRO: The Titans used their fifth-round pick in the 2014 NFL Draft on Kentucky linebacker Avery Williamson The 6-foot-1-inch, 246-pound defender entered the NFL with a reputation as an aggressive, downhill, sure-tackling inside linebacker. In 2016, Williamson led the team with 149 tackles and became the first player in the Titans era to start his career with back-to-back-to-back 100-tackle seasons. He had one of the most productive seasons of any Titans defensive rookie in recent memory in 2014. Even though he did not record his first start until Week 5, he produced 107 tackles to rank third on the team and record the highest tackle total by a rookie in the "Titans era" (1999–present).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Williamson led the team in tackles for the second consecutive season with 149 stops.
- In 2015, Williamson led the team with 137 tackles and ranked third on the squad with nine tackles for loss. He became the first player in the Titans era to start his career with back-to-back 100-tackle seasons.
- As a rookie, Williamson saw action in all 16 games with 12 starts at linebacker and ranked third on the team with 107 tackles. He also tied for third on the squad with three sacks.
- As a senior at Kentucky, Williamson was a team captain and led the squad in tackles for the second consecutive season. His 102 tackles tied for fourth place in the SEC.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Williamson grew up in the West Tennessee town of Milan, which is approximately a two-hour drive from Nashville. He lists Eddie George, Steve McNair and Jevon Kearse as his favorite Titans as a child.
- During the 2016 offseason, Williamson spent time as an analyst on the set of NFL Network.
- · One of Williamson's "bucket list" items is to see the pyramids in Egypt.
- In 2013, he was chosen to represent the Kentucky football program on a one-week educational/service trip in Ethiopia.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

• The Milan, Tenn., native was selected by the Titans in the fifth round (151st overall) of the 2014 NFL Draft.

NFL EXPERIENCE (NFL/TITANS): 10/4 • HOMETOWN: LAGRANGE, GA.

Captain: 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017

PRO: The Titans signed Wesley Woodyard during the 2014 unrestricted free agency period, adding veteran leadership to the linebacking corps. Following his career at the University of Kentucky, the 6-foot, 233-pounder went undrafted and signed a free agent contract with the Denver Broncos. Woodyard spent six seasons in Denver and appeared 87 career regular season games, totaling 396 tackles, eight sacks, five interceptions, six forced fumbles and one fumble recovery. He was also a six-time team captain during his tenure with the Broncos.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 2016, Woodyard saw action in all 16 games and ranked second on the team with 88 tackles, while leading the squad with seven tackles for loss.
- In 2015, Woodyard finished second on the team with 110 tackles and third on the squad with five sacks.
- In his first season with the Titans in 2014, Woodyard started all 16 games at linebacker and led the team with a career-high 134 tackles.
- Represented the only player in the NFL in 2012 and just the 12th player in the last 30 years — to record at least 100 tackles, five sacks and three interceptions in a single season. Posted career highs in starts (14), tackles (114), sacks (5.5), interceptions (3), passes defensed (6) and fumble recoveries (1).
- · In 2011, started seven games for the Broncos and finished second on the club with 87 tackles to go along with two passes defensed and two forced
- · In 2008, was the only Bronco to rank among the top eight on the team in both defensive tackles (54 - 8th) and special-teams stops (11 - T1st) while seeing time in all 16 games with six starts as a rookie.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- · Woodyard has been a captain in his first three seasons with the Titans. He joined Hall of Fame running back Floyd Little as the only players in Broncos franchise history to serve as a captain in each of their first five years with the club. In 2004, Woodyard also became the first-ever Kentucky freshman to serve as a team captain.
- · Woodyard is the co-founder of The 16Ways Foundation which recognizes an emotional need for at-risk youth. The Foundation works on a national level to develop and implement workshops, seminars, camps, and other activities. These events are designed to build self-esteem, promote responsibility for one's own actions and overcoming obstacles, and demonstrate the importance of academics, knowledge of career options, professional development, community involvement, and mental and physical fitness among youth of all socio-economic backgrounds. The Foundation's primary focus is to work with at-risk youth between the ages of 8 and 18 and a secondary focus on adults in employment transition.
- · During the 2016 and 2017 offseasons, Woodyard's 16Ways Foundation hosted a youth football and cheer camp, as well as a charity golf outing in
- · Woodyard was a three-time nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year while with the Broncos in 2010-11 and 2013.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- · The LaGrange, Ga., native was originally signed by the Denver Broncos as a rookie free agent on April 28, 2008.
- · Signed by the Titans as an unrestricted free agent on March 14, 2014.

TITANS OWNER LIKES PROGRESS, WANTS TO TAKE NEXT STEP

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MARCH 28, 2017

PHOENIX — Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk feels the love, from the team's fans and other NFL owners.

She's appreciative. She also wants to keep the momentum going.

"The fans have been like, 'Way to go Amy. Keep it up. We love what you are doing with the team," Strunk said on Monday from the NFL owners meetings. "And I hope when I'm with them it comes across as genuine, and that I enjoy being out there talking to them.

"It is so exciting when I talk to people and they are so encouraging. You do all this hard work, and it is just so nice that the fans appreciate how this team is progressing. They see the progress and we want to keep it going."

The progress has been easy to see.

At the owners meetings a year ago, Strunk talked about her vision under recently hired general manager Jon Robinson, head coach Mike Mularkey and a team with some key free agent additions. She talked with optimism about the franchise moving forward.

Then the Titans went out and tripled the team's win total from the previous season, winning nine games in 2016.

So far this offseason the Titans have added seven free agents – including three players expected to start on defense – while retaining several of their own free agents. Strunk likes the direction the team is headed with the NFL Draft approaching.

"Jon is going to keep adding pieces, which is going to hopefully help this team take the next step," Strunk said. "I like what we've done in free agency, I think it is great. Jon has a plan, and there's a process. He's thinking years ahead about how he is fitting in these pieces now, and what we are going to have to do in the future.

"Looking ahead, if everyone keeps doing their part, this team is going to keep progressing and hopefully take that next step."

Strunk, who took over as the team's controlling owner in 2015, has made significant changes in the past few years. She said she's been thrilled with the pairing of Robinson and Mularkey. Strunk opted to retain Mularkey, named interim head coach during the 2015 season, on a permanent basis in January of 2016. He helped change the mindset – and results – last season.

"I thought this would be a good partnership, and it's turned out even better," Strunk said of Robinson and Mularkey. "Because not only professionally do they mesh well, but personally they mesh well, too."

The Titans have also made key acquisitions in free agency, and there have been significant upgrades at Nissan Stadium and Saint Thomas Sports Park in the past year.

Along the way, Strunk has gotten to some of the league's owners better as well.

Patriots owner Robert Kraft and Chiefs owner Clark Hunt recently praised Strunk, and the work she's done in Tennessee.

"I am a big fan of the owner down there," Kraft said of Strunk. "I think she is trying to do the right things. ... She's making a great effort, and I know how important winning is to her, and also to running the organization in the best way she can to support the fans down there.

"And she seems willing to make the commitments that need to be done, and I think that is all you can ask for."

Hunt, who has been involved in the leadership of the Chiefs for more than a decade, said he's also been impressed with Strunk's approach to running the franchise since taking over

"Having faced the Titans on the field this year and unfortunately coming out on the wrong side of that, I think she is doing a fantastic job with team," Hunt said of Strunk. "I think the team has a very bright future, and you really have to give her a lot of credit for that.

"She is somebody who has been around the business for a long time, and she understands the issues. She has been very, very committed. I know she is very, very involved and very passionate about the Titans."

Strunk, recently named to the Hall of Fame board of trustees, said she's appreciative of how owners have embraced her at league meetings.

"I try not to be pushy, but I want them to know I am doing my best to get the Titans back on track, and I am going to be a good partner," Strunk said. "Hopefully they are seeing that and appreciate that the Titans are making progress.

"It is just nice to see other owners take notice of the Titans, and they've said some very nice things, about how we're at the door. We're knocking."

During a break in between meetings on Monday at the Biltmore Hotel, Strunk touched on a number of other topics regarding the Titans.

Strunk said she's talked to quarterback Marcus Mariota this offseason, and wished him well in his recovery process. Mariota suffered a fractured fibula in December at Jacksonville, and underwent surgery. He's spent a good portion of the offseason rehabbing the injury in Oregon.

Mariota is currently back home in Hawaii, no longer in the cast and walking boot he was forced to wear for several months.

"I have talked to Marcus a couple of times and I know he is working hard to get back," Strunk said. "When he was first injured I was all upset and he was like, "Aw Amy, it's OK." But that's Marcus. He is going to work hard and he is going to be back."

Strunk said she was happy to see so many Titans in the Pro Bowl in January. Running back DeMarco Murray, tight end Delanie Walker, tackle Taylor Lewan, defensive lineman Jurrell Casey and linebacker Brian Orakpo all made it on the heels of a 9-7 season.

"I was so proud," Strunk said. "All of those guys deserved it, and it's great to get recognition from other guys in the league. Jurrell Casey set the tone. He played hard, and it was fun to see that. All the guys I was so happy for them."

As for the upcoming NFL Draft, Strunk said she plans to be in the war room in Nashville once again for the first round, when the Titans are scheduled to make two picks – at No.5 and No. 18.

She's also been in regular contact with Robinson about what he might do on draft night, and about the possibility of a trade.

"I ask him all the time," Strunk said with a smile. "But his plan is evolving, and things change.

"Right now, nothing is set in stone, and as he's said, "we're open for business."

AMY ADAMS STRUNK

AMY ADAMS STRUNK DONATES $1M TO J.J. WATT'S RELIEF EFFORT

BY CAMERON WOLFE ESPN AUGUST 29, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- Leaguewide support to help those affected by Hurricane Harvey in the Houston area is getting stronger.

Tennessee Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk is donating $1 million to Houston Texans defensive end J.J. Watt's drive on crowdfunding site YouCaring, which will go toward resources for those hit hard by the flooding.

Rockets owner reportedly ups aid as help grows

Rockets owner Leslie Alexander, who originally donated $4 million to Hurricane Harvey relief efforts, has instead reportedly upped his pledge to $10 million as more aid comes in from all corners of the sports world.

Cards to match pair's pledges for Houston help

The Cardinals will match the pledges of Matt Carpenter and Adam Wainwright aimed at helping Houston in its Hurricane Harvey relief efforts.

"As the person collecting it, I can promise you I'm doing everything I can to make sure this money is going directly back to the people," Watt said Tuesday from Arlington, Texas, where the Texans are working out this week. "I'm working very hard at that. I have a great group of people helping me. And I'm just going to do everything I can to make sure your money goes where it needs to go to make sure these people are getting the help they need."

Strunk is a Houston native and still has a home just outside of the city. She spent the week in Nashville and attended Titans practice Tuesday.

"The flooding and devastation to the Houston area has been painful to watch," Strunk said in a statement.

"As a native to the area, I have been so encouraged to see how the locals and the nation as a whole have come together to help one another. The NFL, at the end of the day, is a family that helps one another in times of need.

"JJ has created a dynamic where boots will be on the ground with immediate aid to those who need it. The Titans want to be a part of his effort to help the Houston community as it rebuilds. I talked with him earlier today and he was very appreciative. We discussed his plans and I know he is determined to help as many people as he can."

Watt said it was "hard to put it into words" his feelings about Strunk's donation, calling the pledge "remarkable."

"From a team in our division, one of our rivals, willing to go above and beyond football -- above and beyond anything -- and donate $1 million, it's incredible. And it just speaks to humanity, it speaks to the good in people," he said.

"So I can't say thank you enough to the Titans organization and everybody over there and Mrs. Strunk. But also everybody that's donating $5, $10. Everybody's donating whatever they can. I realize money's not easy to come by. So whatever people are donating, however generous they're being, it's unbelievable. We started out trying to raise $200,000 for this, and we're over $3.25 million."

The Titans Foundation donated $25,000 to the Red Cross over the weekend to be used in the same manner.

Just after 1 a.m ET on Wednesday, the drive had crossed the $5 million mark, and the new goal of the fundraiser was increased to $6 million.

"I'm trying to get semi-trucks full of water, food, clothing, cleaning supplies so that hopefully the goal is this weekend, once the floods are down and once we get back to Houston, we drive those semi-trucks up to a few locations around the city and we start handing it out," he said.

"And that's the tentative plan at the moment."

Texans coach Bill O'Brien called Watt's efforts "incredible."

"There's really not a lot of words that can describe what he's done. And that thing that's really pretty neat about him is he's adamant about that money going towards the people that need it. And I think he's got a lot of great ideas for that money and I think he's actually putting it into action right now," O'Brien said.

And while Watt still thinks the Houston-Dallas preseason game shouldn't be played, he did get his wish that money generated from ticket sales to the exhibition finale will go to recovery efforts from the storm.

The New York Jets also made a $1 million donation on Tuesday to the American Red Cross.

On Monday, Texans owner Bob McNair pledged a $1 million donation to the United Way of Greater Houston Flood Relief. The NFL Foundation said it will match the $1 million donation.

In addition, the New England Patriots announced Monday that the Kraft family is offering to match all funds donated to the American Red Cross up to $1 million.

Other non-monetary help is being provided, too.

Houston officials said they're opening a major shelter at NRG Park, the home stadium of Watt's Texans that can accommodate up to 10,000 evacuees from Harvey.

ESPN's Sarah Barshop contributed to this report.

ADAMS STRUNK NAMED TO HALL OF FAME BOARD

BY DAVID BOCLAIR NASHVILLE POST MARCH 10, 2017

Tennessee Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk has a clear affection for the history of football.

Thursday, she was named one of three newcomers to the Pro Football Hall of Fame Board of Trustees.

The appointment comes less than a year after she became part of the NFL's Hall of Fame committee, on which her father K.S. "Bud" Adams had served for years. Bud Adams founded the Titans as the Houston Oilers, a charter member of the American Football League, in 1960.

Also named to the Hall of Fame's board Thursday were Anthony Munoz, one of the game's greatest offensive lineman a Hall of Fame member since 1998, and Kim Metcalf-Kupres, an executive with Johnson Controls.

Adams Strunk has been the Titans controlling owner since March 2015 and serves as co-chair of the franchise's board of directors. She also is a successful businesswoman whose interests include farming and energy.

"The Hall of Fame welcomes these three extraordinarily talented individuals to the Board of Trustees," Chairman of the Board Randy Hunt said in a release from the Hall of Fame. "Their leadership will provide great benefit to our organization that is positioned for accelerated growth in the future. We look forward to Amy, Kim and Anthony's contributions to the Hall of Fame."

AMY ADAMS STRUNK

TITANS OWNER SKYDIVES WITH ARMY GOLDEN KNIGHTS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE APRIL 25, 2017

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. — Titans owner Amy Adams Strunk has no fear heading into this week's NFL Draft.

She proved it here on Monday morning when she jumped out of a plane – at 13,500 feet.

"Fantastic," Strunk said not long after her feet touched the ground, a parachute behind her. "That was so much fun! Am I grinning?"

The NFL Draft is a time of high anxiety for teams, draft prospects and their families. Strunk took things to even greater heights during a skydiving adventure here at Outlaw Field. Strunk did a tandem jump with the Army Golden Knights following an invitation from the 101st Airborne Division's Brig. Gen. Scott Brower.

Strunk initially thought Brower was calling to ask her to rappel.

"When he said, 'We want you to jump out of an airplane,' my mouth flew open and my heart started beating," Strunk said with a smile. "But then I was like, 'I'm in, let's do it."

Strunk did it alright.

Decked out in a yellow and black U.S. Army jumpsuit, Strunk boarded a Viking Twin Otter with other members of the Golden Knights tandem team. The aircraft lifted off the runway a little after 9 a.m.

With members of her family watching on the ground, including her husband, Bill, her son, Tommy, daughter, Tracy, and nephew Kenneth Adams IV, the aircraft circled above them, waiting for the clouds to pass.

"I guess there's no backing out now," Bill said with a smile.

High in the sky, when a clearing of blue skies approached, Strunk jumped with Sgt First Class Joe Jones.

"You get a little flash of anxiety," Strunk said. "But I took a deep breath, and we were off...

"I think I tried to say 'Titan Up' as I went out."

When the ripcord to the parachute was pulled at 5,500 feet, Strunk was even more visible to family members as she made her way to the ground. They cheered when she landed. Strunk immediately put on a red hat with a Titans logo.

"You landed on your feet," commanding general Maj. Gen. Andrew Poppas told Strunk. "That was well done."

U.S. Army Sergeant First Class Noah Watts, an assistant team leader for Golden Knights tandem who is stationed in Fort Bragg, N.C., said the group does camps across the country for what he called "Centers of Influence," or individuals with strong ties to the community with a reputation for being supportive of the military.

Former President George Bush jumped with this group previously, Watts said, along with celebrities like Kellie Pickler, Bill Murray, Tiger Woods and Mike Rowe.

"She's smiling," Watts said of Strunk. "She did a good job. She stood up. She followed directions."

Col. Wayne Hertel presented Strunk with a Marauder Coin at the end of her jump.

Watts advised Strunk to go home and take a nap.

"At first, when I told my family about it, they were like, 'You're doing what?," Strunk said with a smile. "But everybody was excited for me, and knew it was a great opportunity. And I had a lot of fun.

"And I don't even look at it as crazy. It was a way to support our friends in the Army, in the 101st. It just seemed an easy, natural thing."

Now, Strunk is ready for the NFL Draft.

She'll be in the War Room on Thursday night with general manager Jon Robinson, coach Mike Mularkey and others.

After jumping out of a plane, it should be a piece of cake, right?

"Like the Golden Knights, I have a lot of confidence in Jon Robinson and Mike Mularkey," Strunk said. "I don't have nerves there. I know those guys are going to come away with some great players and we are just going to keep improving.

"But what a way to kick off draft week, right? It's going to be a great week."

JON ROBINSON

HOW TITANS GM JON ROBINSON TURNED ALMOST EVERYTHING TO GOLD IN FIRST YEAR

BY JASON WOLF THE TENNESSEAN JANUARY 15, 2017

PAGE: 1C

Jon Robinson tried not to think about the previous day, when Marcus Mariota broke his leg in a blowout loss to the Jaguars and the Titans were eliminated from playoff contention with a week remaining in the regular season.

It was Christmas morning.

"I try as best as possible to leave work at work," the Titans' general manager said later. "I don't see my family a lot during the fall. It's a lot of early mornings and late nights. That's 'Santa Claus has come' and you try to put (football) aside and you enjoy what Christmas is about for what the true meaning of Christmas is, and talk through that with the kids, the birth of our savior, and then watching them dive into the presents and all that good stuff."

But his mind raced.

We've got to do this. We've got to do that.

A year ago Saturday, Robinson was hired as general manager of his home state NFL team, the gift of a lifetime after his playing career turned coaching career turned scouting career.

Robinson worked his way from the high school football fields of rural West Tennessee to a brief stint with the Air Force Academy, where he re-evaluated what he wanted out of his life and career, then from the I-AA college ranks up through the NFL, relentlessly grinding from area scout to Bill Belichick's inner circle over the course of 12 years with the Patriots, then on to the Buccaneers before smiling for cameras with a Titans helmet in hand.

He inherited a considerable mess, a franchise that had won five games over the previous two seasons combined, but also the means to clean it up. A young franchise quarterback in Mariota. The No. 1 overall pick in the draft. And a head coach in Mike Mularkey who shared his vision of a hard-nosed, run-first approach and already had deep knowledge of the roster, helpful as Robinson tried to figure out how to make the pieces fit.

Robinson, the apparent King Midas of general managers, recounted his first year with the Titans in a recent interview with The Tennessean, looking back at his shrewd trades, thoughtful free agent signings and a superb initial draft class that restored respectability to a franchise that had become a league doormat, and set the stage for another offseason of growth. It began with an introductory press conference on his 40th birthday.

"It was a very special day, seeing my family there, my old high school coach, a lot of people that were close to me," Robinson said. "To be back in Nashville, in my home state, really working for the team that I had longed to work for in the role that I was being named for, I don't know that I could have written or scripted it any better. It was a very surreal moment."

Robinson sat alongside Mularkey, who endeared himself to Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk despite his lousy record as head coach of the Bills and Jaguars, and having won just two of nine games as the team's interim coach the previous season. Mularkey was retained just two days after Robinson's hire, a move criticized in some quarters as uninspired, and led to legitimate questions about Robinson's power within the organization.

It would take him just eight weeks to attain rock star status.

The Titans claimed national headlines by acquiring running back DeMarco Murray from the Eagles for a mere swap of fourth-round draft picks. Murray, the 2014 NFL rushing champ, was coming off a disappointing season in Philadelphia. But in his new home, in Mularkey's scheme, he'd lead the AFC in rushing yards.

A month later, with the benefit of a franchise quarterback already on the roster, Robinson traded the No. 1 overall pick in the 2016 draft to the Rams for a "king's ransom," including the 15th overall pick, two second-round selections and a first rounder in 2017.

The deal rates among the most impactful in Titans history.

"I think having that first overall pick was somewhat daunting when I first took over the job," Robinson said. "You've got the pick of the litter. Your margin for error is not real high there. You can pick any player in the draft. You've got the key to the kingdom as it relates to the draft. I think in the end we found a willing trade partner there in L.A. and were able to craft a deal that made sense for both of us and kind of got us out of that spot and down. And in doing so, we accumulated some draft currency."

Robinson then traded with the Browns to move up to the eighth pick, where he drafted right tackle Jack Conklin, who became just the second rookie offensive lineman named All-Pro by The Associated Press since the AFL-NFL merger.

Oh, and that 2017 first-round pick acquired from the Rams?

It's the fifth overall.

In between came a steady stream of less high-profile, but important decisions.

Additions in center Ben Jones, wide receivers Rishard Matthews and Tajae Sharpe, cornerback Brice McCain, running back Derrick Henry, tackle Dennis Kelly, safeties Rashad Johnson and Kevin Byard.

Subtractions in safety Michael Griffin, running backs Bishop Sankey and Dexter McCluster, tackle Jeremiah Poutasi, wide receivers Justin Hunter and Dorial Green-Beckham.

All-in-all, more than 20 new faces on the team's 53-man roster.

Mularkey recounted his first interaction with Robinson.

"I stepped away and told my wife, I said, 'This can work out just based on one phone call.' I think he felt the same way after one conversation," Mularkey said, "that we wanted the same kind of player, we wanted the same mentality when we took the field. It's very ironic."

Vegas set the Titans' over/under at 5½ victories.

They ended the season with a 9-7 record, their first winning mark since 2011 and triple the win total of a year ago, when 3-13 tied for the worst record in the league. The sixwin improvement tied for the largest single-season turnaround in franchise history.

Five Titans were named to the Pro Bowl. Three more were tabbed alternates.

But it was a disappointing finish.

Tennessee was in position to win the AFC South and make the playoffs for the first time since 2008. The Titans needed only to defeat the miserable Jaguars, who had two victories and just fired their head coach, and then the Texans, who had just benched their starting quarterback.

But they faceplanted on the first hurdle.

They won the finale against Houston, which had clinched the division and rested some starters.

"I don't know that I'd grade myself," Robinson said last week, just hours before Strunk called to promote him to executive vice president and general manager. "We came in with a philosophy, Mike and I, we talked about the type of player we wanted to add to the football team, we talked about the style of football that we wanted to play, we talked about changing the culture here. We talked about a lot of things that were going to be different, and then we started to validate a lot of that with the moves that we made, with the trades that we made, with the free agents that we signed.

"And then Amy and her family, over the course of the summer, in backing us with the facility upgrades, a new bubble, a new locker room. All of that coupled together, there was a belief in the locker room, which the players are the ones who go out and make the plays. I have no bearing on how they go out and execute the plays. But they believed in what we were doing. They bought philosophically what we wanted to be about. They took to the coaching Mike and his implemented. And I think we made some progress."

The Titans have two first-round and two third-round picks in the upcoming draft and should have more than $70 million in cap space, one of the largest reserves in the NFL, vital tools as Robinson continues to remake the franchise and build upon what he started a year ago.

He looks back on his moves with a critical eye.

"Is there something more that I could have done? Not necessarily different, but more?" he said. "It's a competitive side, (a drive) to do whatever we've got to do within the confines of the picks that we have and the money that we have to spend in free agency to make the team better."

Each morning, Robinson leaves home and heads to the practice facility, the skyline coming into view as he drives along the highway.

He marvels at the sight.

"It's hard to believe that I'm driving through Nashville to work for the Titans in the role that I have," Robinson said. "Then when I get in the building — I was thinking about it the other day when I pulled in — it's not work to me, because I enjoy what I do so much. I love watching players, I love working with football people. I round the corner and see the fireball (logo) and still get goosebumps. I'm a pretty lucky guy."

Robinson owns two Super Bowl rings from his time with the Patriots. He doesn't look at them often, choosing to keep them stashed away, but will occasionally wear them to fundraisers.

What would it mean to have one with a Titans logo?

"Ohhhhh," he said and paused. "I don't know that you could really put that into words."

But that's what all his efforts are for, the early mornings, the late nights, the long stretches away from family, the bold trades and prudent signings and wise selections in the draft.

"That's what it says in the hallway. One team, one goal," Robinson said. "One team, one goal. That's what we strive to do. That's why we ultimately show up to work every day, is to hopefully one day stand on top of the podium and hoist that trophy and say, 'It's coming home to Nashville.""

A FATHER'S LOVE: TITANS GM JON ROBINSON MAKES WINNING BID AT JDRF GALA

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MAY 4, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Card No. 486.

Titans general manager Jon Robinson held it up during a live auction at the JDRF Promise Gala, and he wasn't about to put it down. He was thinking about his oldest daughter as tears filled both their eyes, and all those impacted by Type 1 diabetes.

Robinson won more than just a painting with his $10,000 bid that night. He provided a lasting memory for his family, and all those in attendance at the Omni Hotel the weekend before the NFL Draft.

"I guess it kind of showed a father's love and a family's love for their child, and that we are willing to fight to make her life better," Robinson said. "It was a really, really special moment for me and hopefully it impacted somebody out there to help continue to fight to find a cure. It was a really special night."

Anyone who thinks the Titans GM is aggressive in pursuing players or trades should've seen him at the 17th Annual Promise Gala.

Mary Lyn A. Schuh, Executive Director of the JDRF Middle Tennessee Chapter, got emotional retelling the story about the night Robinson refused to let anyone in the crowd of 830 outbid him for a special painting at the black tie affair.

The last item up for bid during a live auction was a "Dreams of the Future" painting inspired by 10 youth ambassadors, all of them impacted by Type 1 diabetes.

Robinson's 11-year-old daughter, Taylor, was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes in April 2012, on Easter Sunday. She is on an insulin pump and a glucose monitoring system. Finger pricks, middle of the night searches for juice boxes to address low sugars, and daily stress are a part of the routine for Taylor and the Robinson family as they hope and pray for a cure one day. Jaimie Robinson, Jon's wife, serves on the JDRF board in Nashville, and at previous NFL stops in Boston and Tampa, the Robinsons were involved with the JDRF community as well.

Inside a triangle on the painting, Taylor penned her dream: "I want to go to Harvard and become a doctor or lawyer." Other children wrote about dreams of being a No.1 draft pick in the NFL, an athletic trainer, a veterinarian or a dermatologist. Others said simply they hoped to one day find a cure for the disease, or to simply "stop worrying" because of it.

"I want to be able to say I HAD diabetes," one child wrote.

Schuh described what happened when the item went up for bid. And when card No.486 was raised into the air.

"Jon put his bid card up, and he wouldn't put it down," Schuh said. "And so the bidding is going on, and slowly people are realizing someone over there is not putting their bid card down. And then people started realizing it was Jon, and he has this look of utter determination and love on his face, looking at his daughter. And then Taylor looks at him and sees him, and she starts crying...

"The next thing you know Jon is walking up on stage toward Taylor, his arm is still up in the air holding the card in the air. He holds her and they are both crying on stage as he held that big card in the air. When (he won) there was a standing ovation. Everyone in the room could identify with that feeling of wanting to support their child. It was such a beautiful, beautiful moment.

"And it was very emotional. There was not a dry eye in the house. I had all these grown men come up to me telling me they couldn't remember the last time they'd cried, and they cried"

Robinson called it a "special night."

"I didn't do it for recognition," he said. "It was really to show her how much we are willing to fight for her, and to really show everybody in attendance how passionate we are about finding a cure, not just for her but for all the kids and families affected by diabetes."

The Promise Gala raised roughly $1.6 million for JDRF, and the money the foundation raised goes toward helping find a cure for children and adults with the disease.

Type 1 diabetes is usually diagnosed in children and young adults. Since the body does not produce insulin, those with the disease are required to take shots or use an insulin pump, in addition to regularly monitoring their blood sugars.

In addition to the $10,000 bid, the Robinsons, who have two daughters, also made a substantial donation to JDRF.

The highest bid of the night – $16,000 – was an opportunity to call a play in a Titans preseason game. Other Titans memorabilia, including a Marcus Mariota helmet, a VIP experience at a Titans practice, and a chance to play golf with Robinson and Titans head coach Mike Mularkey were also part of the fundraising event.

Schuh praised the Robinsons for their support, and generosity.

"That organization is making great strides and working on an artificial pancreas that will hopefully help slow the disease until we can eventually find a cure," Robinson said. "It is something we are very passionate about.

"I know there are certainly worse things that afflict families out there, but this one is one that impacts our family so we are going to do everything we can to thwart it."

HOW MIKE MULARKEY PROVED EVERYONE WRONG

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN JANUARY 17, 2017

PAGE: 1C

Mike Mularkey held a staff meeting Monday at Titans headquarters focused largely on the upcoming Senior Bowl, free agency and the team's offseason self-scouting, and with no mention of the anniversary.

It was exactly one year earlier that the Titans removed the "interim" from his head coaching title and received a lot of mockery for it.

"I didn't even know that, honest to God," Mularkey said Monday of the fact that it marked one year of permanence on his third — and by far most promising — NFL head coaching job. "Didn't realize it."

And he probably didn't think he'd spend part of Monday talking about the father he lost at 15, the grandson he adores in Detroit or the college degree he needed more than 15 years and four schools to complete. But those are all important parts of this, the story within the story of the Titans returning to relevance.

It hinges heavily on the 55-year-old Mularkey being what Titans ownership thought he was, and not what his head coaching record and the outside detractors said he was. Raise your hand with me if you have a higher opinion of him as a head coach than you did before the Titans' surprising 9-7 season.

Now raise your hand if you're still most likely to blame him when things go wrong. That's reality, especially for a franchise with a hotshot general manager (Jon Robinson), franchise quarterback (Marcus Mariota), all-time NFL legend running the defense (Dick LeBeau) and controlling owner (Amy Adams Strunk) who has taken steps to endear herself to Nashville.

Some measure of Mularkey skepticism is ensured, and reasonable, until he can lead the franchise to a Super Bowl. But understand that he's going to get a full run at it. And that the people who most need to believe in him are quick to credit his approach for their success.

With Mularkey this season, "everybody felt like they were in the fight together," said Titans cornerback Jason McCourty, and linebacker Derrick Morgan said of him: "He's fair and he treats us like pros."

"I think the best thing that Mike Mularkey did was say he was going to do something and then did it," Titans left tackle Taylor Lewan said after a season that saw the Titans establish a physical style of play — as Mularkey said they would — and saw him bench receiver Kendall Wright before an important game against Denver because Wright was late to a team meeting.

"He gave us his word, he made a promise, and he kept it," Lewan said of the guidelines Mularkey established before the season. "And so when you see a guy in a league like this where people don't always keep their promises, to have that is pretty refreshing. And I think the players really fell in."

It's a league that approves when billionaires uproot teams if they can't get taxpayers to fund new stadiums, community and tradition be damned. It's rich in entitlement and arrogance.

So when a straightforward, soft-spoken, former ninth-round tight end — who would be teaching if he weren't coaching, who swears by life balance, who has a 27-46 record as a head coach — takes off with a third opportunity that he never thought would come, well, that makes for a story.

Thinking of home

Mularkey's father, Jack, was an Army man, a World War II veteran who later worked in the press room of the Fort Lauderdale (Fla.) News and Sun-Sentinel. He died of cancer when Mularkey, the youngest of three children, was 15.

"I think a lot of it had to do with the ink, it really was not a good place," Mularkey said of the press room. "Plus, he was a smoker and it caught up with him."

Mularkey was in his 20s when his mother, Darlene, married Fred Gentile. Darlene is 88 and Fred is 96, and they live in Dunnellon, Fla. Mularkey said Fred has been "like a dad to me," but he has carried the loss of his father with him during his career.

"I wish he could see what we've accomplished, all of us kids," Mularkey said of an older brother who is an Army veteran and university fundraiser, and an older sister who works for Broward County schools.

Mularkey and his wife of nearly 33 years, Betsy, have two grown sons, Patrick and Shane. Patrick is pro scouting coordinator for the Detroit Lions, and Mike and Betsy were in Detroit as fast as they could get there after the season ended, to see 1-year-old grandson Waylon.

"I just have a ball when I have a chance to see him," said Mularkey, who got the game ball from tight end Delanie Walker when the Titans beat the Lions in the season's second week, then said farewell to Patrick outside the team bus.

"That was hard," Mularkey said.
"As exciting as that win was, knowing I wouldn't see him again until 2017, that was a little rough on me."

The search for balance in a profession that rejects it has been a running theme for Mularkey. Though he hasn't — and won't — divulge all the reasons he walked away from the Buffalo head coaching job in 2005 with three years and $3 million left on his deal, he said home life was "a large part of it."

MIKE MULARKEY

And he said he has turned down jobs for the same reason, "in a couple instances where people would think I was crazy, but family is very important to me."

Mitch Lyons can attest. Mularkey resurrected the tight end's career as Pittsburgh's tight ends coach in 1997, but Lyons was done after blowing a knee in 1999. He recalled visiting Mularkey in his office after that season ended.

"He pulled the door shut and said, 'I think this is my last year,' " Lyons recalled. " The boys are getting older and I never get to see them.' He was that close to leaving the game."

But Bill Cowher soon promoted Mularkey to offensive coordinator. His inventive trickery to supplement a power approach earned him the nickname "Inspector Gadget" and laid the foundation for his head coaching opportunities.

Pittsburgh is also where Mularkey finally finished his sociology and kinesiology degree, at Duquesne University, though the degree is from the University of Minnesota — Mularkey played tight end for the Vikings from 1983 to 1988 and resumed school while starting his coaching career at Concordia College in 1993. This after a short stint as an IBM software marketing rep.

Mularkey previously had credits from the University of Florida, where he played college ball, and he took more at the University of South Florida while a Tampa Bay Bucs assistant in 1994-95.

After all that, Mularkey took part in commencement ceremonies. His young family was there.

"Just to show my kids that you can still do something at my age," Mularkey said, and he's still showing them.

'More fun on this try'

Mularkey went in the ninth round to the San Francisco 49ers in 1983, but was cut before the regular season and picked up by the Vikings. Still, he said he absorbed some of the offensive philosophy of Bill Walsh in that short time.

He played for Bud Grant and Chuck Noll, he had to block against the 1985 Chicago Bears, and he even spent a season as Nick Saban's offensive coordinator, in 2006 with Miami. As a coach he has pushed toughness, calmly.

"Never a screamer, never that guy," Lyons said, but Mularkey's search for physical play extended to highlight tapes of big hits and rewards for players who punished opponents.

Just as a guy in the Steelers tight end room might be fined a buck for having his picture in the paper — no attention getters allowed — he might earn one for blocking through the whistle, or for footage of an opponent looking around for him in the open field, fearful of taking another hit.

The highlight compilations are part of Mularkey's method in Nashville as well, as Lyons found out when he visited minicamp last May. Mularkey still uses footage of Lyons and Mark Bruener blocking from those Pittsburgh days to show his current players what he expects.

But he has changed in other ways. He did not expect to get another head coaching shot after his second stint — the 2012 season with Jacksonville, a 2-14 showing with an awful team and troubled franchise — but when he did he vowed to "have much more fun on this try."

The Titans had daily competitions in training camp, from golfball driving to basketball to a spelling bee to beer pong — with kale smoothies instead of beer.

"He just really made football fun again," Titans linebacker Brian Orakpo said of Mularkey. "Everybody being loose but everybody still being held accountable."

Mularkey spent part of Monday coming up with ideas for new games, for a team that will have the talent to make the playoffs and then some. He spent none of it gloating.

"No redemption, no 'I told you so,' I don't have any of that," he said. "I just love my job, love what I'm doing, love that I get a chance to do it again. Amy has been tremendous, and Jon and I hit it off from day one, which to me is a blessing. I don't know how it happened, but it happened."

IBM TO NFL: 25 YEARS LATER, MIKE MULARKEY BACK AT THE BILTMORE

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MARCH 30, 2017

PHOENIX – When Titans coach Mike Mularkey's vehicle pulled into the pristine grounds at the Arizona Biltmore here this week, he couldn't help but smile.

It brought back memories from 25 year ago, when Mularkey was at the same hotel for a conference. He was a software marketing rep for IBM at the time, desperately hoping to land a job in the NFL.

"This is the first time I've been back since," Mularkey said. "To think about it, and to think about everything that's happened since, it really is amazing."

Mularkey, set to begin his second season as Tennessee's head coach, is here for this week's NFL owners meetings. He's attended functions during the week along with other members of the team's front office. At night, he's spent time on property alongside his wife, Betsy.

Mularkey has the Titans heading in the right direction. The team tripled its win total in 2016 with a 9-7 mark, and there's plenty of optimism about the future.

Here on Tuesday, Mularkey took a few moments to reflect on his trip to the Biltmore in 1992. He was in his early 30s at the time.

"I was a software marketing rep, based in Minneapolis," Mularkey said. "They had an annual meeting and I came out here for it, just like this time (for the owners meetings).

"I was trying to get into coaching back then, but I had to make a dollar, so I was working for IBM. I was working with companies in the Minneapolis area selling our software." Mularkey, who played tight end at the University of Florida and then spent nine seasons in the NFL with the Vikings (1983-88) and Steelers (1989-91), coached offensive line at Concordia College while working at IBM.

"But this is what I wanted to back then – to coach in the NFL," Mularkey said. "And the guy that hired me (at Concordia) knew I wanted to be a coach in the NFL, and he allowed me (to work at IBM). He allowed me to leave work, go do my job at the college coaching the o-line. He knew my intent."

Mularkey eventually landed an NFL job as a quality control coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1994, and a year later he coached the tight ends in Tampa Bay. Mularkey worked his way up to being an offensive coordinator before getting a chance to be a head coach, first with the Bills, then with the Jaguars, before he landed in Tennessee.

As he retraced his footsteps this week – on crutches and in a cast after recent surgery – Mularkey couldn't help but get a little sentimental. His life has changed, and the property has grown as well.

Mularkey said he's thankful for the position he's in now, in Tennessee. He's also thankful for the experience at IBM.

"I enjoyed what I did (at IBM), I really did," Mularkey said. "I had to get up in front of large groups, and I think I did a nice job. For not knowing or understanding the product when I first got in, I think I did a good job of marketing it.

"A lot has changed since. I certainly like being in the NFL more than with IBM, but that experience helped me. I was honest then like I am now. If I didn't know something about the product, I always told them: 'I don't know, but I'll get back to you.' And I always got back to people.

"But what I am doing now, this is what I always wanted to do."

DICK LEBEAU LOOKING FORWARD TO 2017 WITH TITANS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JANUARY 19, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Dick LeBeau enjoys three things when he has time away from football. He likes to read, play golf, and play his guitar.

But there's nothing LeBeau enjoys more than coaching, and being around the game.

It's why the legendary defensive coordinator will be back with the Titans in 2017.

"The only question in my mind was from the standpoint that somebody's got to want you to work," LeBeau said on Wednesday. "When Mike (Mularkey) said he wanted me to stay, there was no doubt."

LeBeau, who joined the Titans in 2015, will return for his third season with the team and his 59th year in the National Football League as a player or coach. Following a season when the Titans finished 9-7 while making strides in a number of key areas on defense, LeBeau said he's looking forward to what's ahead.

"We made some good progress and there's still a lot out there on the table to get done," LeBeau said. "It was really fulfilling for me to watch our players have some success and to see our team have some success, and that is really why you coach. You are just a teacher. It was a rewarding year.

"We didn't get where we wanted to get, and we know we have work to do. But it was not the type of thing you want to run away from. I want to see if we can get this thing over the top. If I were a younger person you wouldn't even think about (walking away). Things are headed in the right direction. I try not to pay much attention to the age aspect. It is what it is."

LeBeau, who will turn 80 in September, said being around the game keeps him feeling young. He remains in good shape by staying active, and moving. He made his 7th hole-in-one last offseason, before bouncing around the practice field during the season like someone half his age.

"I've almost never been on a treadmill in my life," LeBeau said with a smile. "Maybe at the doctor's office when they put you on a stress test, that's about the only treadmill I've been on.

"I just try not to have too much excess in my life. I try and stay active, keep moving, and don't sit."

Mularkey said LeBeau is excited about coming back "to finish what we started last year."

Prior to joining the Titans, LeBeau spent 11 seasons as defensive coordinator with the Steelers (2004-14), in what was his second stint with the team. During 13 seasons in Pittsburgh, the Steelers had 10 top-five finishes in the defensive rankings and five times finished ranked No.1.

A Hall of Fame defensive back with the Detroit Lions during his playing career, LeBeau was an assistant head coach with the Bills in 2003 and he served as head coach of the Bengals from 2000-02. He worked previously with the Packers and Eagles as well. Titans coach Mike Mularkey and LeBeau worked together previously in Pittsburgh.

"He is very passionate about his job," Mularkey said of LeBeau. "He is still very sharp, and he relates well to the players.

"I thought he got the most out of our players last year. Now there's areas we need improvement on. But I know this: The guys that played for him played as well as they could play and he played hard."

The Titans finished the 2016 season ranked 20th in total defense, including a 2nd overall ranking on rushing defense by allowing 88.3 yards per game on the ground. It was a 24-yard improvement from 2015. The Titans ranked sixth in third down defense, and 30th in passing yards allowed.

The Titans limited the opposition to under 100 yards rushing in 11 of the team's 16 games. Opponents failed to reach 70 yards in seven of those contests, and that happened just twice in 2015.

Led by linebacker Brian Orakpo's 10.5 sacks, the Titans also produced 40 sacks on defense in 2016. Linebacker Derrick Morgan finished with nine sacks, and defensive lineman Jurrell Casey finished with five.

Orakpo and Casey were both selected to the Pro Bowl.

"There were some important areas we did very well in," LeBeau said. "We were very competitive in the red zone, which was important. And we have some areas that we obviously need to improve in. The yards allowed, it was passing mostly, we have to get a handle on that and stay strong in those other areas – the red zone defense, goal line defense, short-yardage defense. There were a lot of good things.

"More importantly than the numbers themselves was the approach our players took and the effort they put in to what they were doing. If they continue to do that, which I am very positive that they will, they will continue to improve as a group and improve our football team."

LeBeau knows there will be some changes in personnel in 2017, just like every year.

But he noted the "nucleus is going to be somewhat the same," and he believes that's a positive.

"To see these guys respond and grow like they did," LeBeau said. "It was particularly rewarding to see how hard they worked, and the way they stayed together. I think it was evident to our fans these guys are going to play hard and in every situation in the game.

"Things are headed in the right direction and I am excited to be a part of it."

TERRY ROBISKIE

FALCONS QB: MARIOTA IN GOOD HANDS WITH MULARKEY, ROBISKIE

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE FEBRUARY 1, 2017

HOUSTON — Marcus Mariota is in good hands in Tennessee.

That's according to Falcons quarterback Matt Ryan, and he should know.

Ryan, the third overall pick in the 2008 NFL Draft, was coached by Titans head coach Mike Mularkey and Titans offensive coordinator Terry Robiskie at the start of his career with the Falcons. Mularkey was Atlanta's offensive coordinator from 2008-11, and Robiskie was the team's receivers coach from 2008-15 before joining the Titans last season.

"Both of those guys were a huge part of my development as a player," Ryan said Tuesday morning. "Mike was my first offensive coordinator, and we spent four years together, and I learned a ton from him about being a professional, about what it takes to be successful. Mike is one of the most detailed and organized people I have ever been around and he has remained a great friend to this day. He has been so supportive of me throughout my entire career.

"He means a lot to me. He is a great friend."

As for Robiskie, Ryan said he was a great influence as well.

"I spent seven years with Terry, and he was one of the most fun people to be around," Ryan said. "He keeps things light day in and day out. He is a great football coach, and I know our wide receivers learned a lot from him. Guys that I played with played as well as they did because he coached them up. He brings a lot of toughness to that position, and I think you've seen that in Tennessee this year. He'll get his guys to play hard and to play physical and he is an excellent motivator."

Ryan, a candidate for the league's Most Valuable Player award in 2016, has the Falcons in Super Bowl LI on Sunday against the Patriots. He threw for 4,944 yards and 38 touchdowns during the regular season.

Ryan said he's been impressed with Mariota, and he predicted good things with his pairing Mularkey and Robiskie.

Mariota completed 276-of-451 passes for 3,426 yards, 26 touchdowns, nine interceptions and a 95.6 passer rating in 2016 before suffering a fractured fibula in Week 16 contest at Jacksonville. He added 60 rushing attempts for 349 yards and two touchdowns in 2016.

Mariota's 95.6 passer rating ranks third in franchise history for a single season, behind only Warren Moon's 96.8 in 1990, when he was the Associ-ated Press Offensive Player of the Year, and Steve McNair's 100.4 in 2003, when he was the NFL's Co-MVP.

"I think Mike will do a great job with Marcus," Ryan said. "Marcus is a great player, a really young guy who has done a lot of really good things in his first couple of years. I think Mike and Terry will be great for Marcus."

While Mularkey, Robiskie and Ryan were together with the Falcons, the team advanced to the postseason three times in four years, ranked ninth in the NFL in total yards (354.8 per game), seventh in points (24.5), eighth in rushing yards (125.7), third in fewest turnovers (84), fourth in fewest sacks allowed (93), and sixth in third down conversions (44.2).

In three of the four years with the Falcons, Mularkey's offense produced a 3,000-yard passer, a 1,000-yard receiver and a 1,000-yard rusher in the same season. In 2010, Sporting News named Mularkey "Coordinator of the Year."

Mularkey said he sees some similarities between Ryan and Mariota.

"I have seen the growth of what he has done, and he has gotten better every year, and that is what you want that position to do," Mularkey said. "You knew early on that Matt had the ability to be a very good quarterback in this league, which I do with Marcus. It's the same thing with Matt.

"I thought what is happening with Matt right now would happen -- that he would be in a Super Bowl. And I think the same thing, eventually, Marcus has that ability if he continues to work like he does, like Matt does. Both those guys are workaholics — Matt and Marcus both want to be great."

DARREN BATES

NEW TITANS LB DAREN BATES GLAD TO BE BACK IN TENNESSEE

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MARCH 15, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Daren Bates grew up in Memphis, and went to his first NFL game in Nashville when his father took him to see the Titans.

He was little then, and didn't know much about the game.

Fast-forward to last week, when Titans general manager Jon Robinson called him on the phone. Bates was four years into his NFL career, with 60 games under his belt, with the Rams and Raiders.

"First thing he said was, 'I want to get you back in Tennessee," Bates said of Robinson. "He knew I was from Memphis, and of course we talked about barbeque. We talked about high school, really Tennessee stuff. And that kind of warmed me up."

Something else really got Bates fired up: Robinson complimenting him on his game. The two hit it off, and it's one of the big reasons Bates is now a Titan. He signed a deal with the Titans last week, and the linebacker will be counted on to play a big role on special teams and possibly some in the defense this fall.

"I like to hear people say: 'He's tough. He has attitude. He plays aggressive. He has his teammates back," Bates said. "What Jon Robinson said about me and how he likes the way I play, it makes me smile. For other people to see what I am doing, it makes me excited. Hopefully I can get Titans fans to feed off of me and my energy and what I bring to the team."

Bates played in 16 games last season with the Raiders, where he posted 12 tackles and was a key contributor on special teams. Prior to that, Bates played three seasons with the Rams.

Bates, who went to Auburn, played three seasons in high school at Christian Brothers in Memphis, and he was a two-time all-state performer at safety. He played his final high school season at Olive Branch in Mississippi.

Bates initially signed by the Rams as an undrafted free agent in 2013. He's one of three key special teams performers to reach a deal with the Titans since the start of free agency, joining another former Oakland Raider, safety Brynden Trawick, and former Falcons returner Eric Weems.

"I like his intensity," Robinson said.
"I like his instincts and his reckless abandon to throw himself in there to make a play."

Bates (5-11, 225) has played in 60 games in his NFL career, and totaled 37 tackles. He's played a big role on special teams during his four seasons.

Bates played three seasons in high school at Christian Brothers in Memphis, and he was a two-time all-state performer at safety. He played his final high school season at Olive Branch in Mississippi.

While with the Rams, Bates made some spectacular plays on special teams.

In 2013, Bates returned a fumbled kickoff return for a touchdown against the Texans. In 2014, he leaped over the long-snapper in a game against the Giants and blocked the kick. He was named a captain with the Rams in 2015.

He was a key player on Oakland's special teams units last year.

"Bates is violent, and fast," Robinson said. "He really takes pride in being a factor or special teams. I like his intensity, like his instincts and his reckless abandon to throw himself in there to make a play."

Bates freely admits he takes great pride in playing special teams.

"To me, you have to be a little 'off' (to do it)," Bates said with a smile. "You can't be sensitive, you have to be violent. You have to be a different type player. You have to have a defensive player's mindset, but just a little more off. I call it being crazy. You have to play with reckless abandon and be violent."

His friends and family in West Tennessee are fired up to have him back in the state.

"It is good to be back here," Bates said. "I am humbled, and appreciative to be able to come back to Tennessee and play.

"And everybody is excited. Some people have talked about moving to Nashville to be closer to me. My dad is moving back to Memphis from Florida, so everybody has been hitting me up. Everyone is pumped."

KEVIN BYARD

TITANS' KEVIN BYARD AIMS TO BE ONE OF NFL'S TOP SAFETIES

BY JIM WYATT TITANSONLINE.COM AUGUST 1, 2017

Keeping himself in top-notch shape was a given for Titans safety Kevin Byard this offseason.

Byard did it by working out at Saint Thomas Sports Park and his former school, MTSU. He even added some boxing classes to give him more punch in his second NFL season.

At the same time, Byard studied some of the best safeties in the game, from Earl Thomas to Eric Berry to Reshad Jones to Eric Weddle.

"When I am in the offseason training, I am thinking, 'What is Earl Thomas doing?' What are those top safeties in the league doing right now?'," Byard said. "And I am trying to outwork them.

"And I watched everybody. I watched at least five games of all of them, just trying to steal a lit bit from them. They are all different safeties, some of them play straight deep middle and some of them play in the box. So I just try and steal whatever I can."

A third-round draft pick by the Titans in the 2016 NFL Draft, Byard wants to be an All-Pro and Pro Bowl performer in 2017 while helping the Titans reach the playoffs. Coming off a solid rookie season, he's off to a nice start in training camp.

Byard got his hands on two footballs on Day One, when he intercepted pass. He's been steady through the first three practices of camp.

"He looks like a long-time vet the way he makes his calls and gets everybody in the right place," coach Mike Mularkey said of Byard. "Offensively we do a lot of things. There's a lot of moving parts that you have to adjust to, and make sure everybody is on the same page to adjust to what we do. And he has done very well with that."

Titans defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau has raved about Byard from the beginning.

A safety who also played a key role on special teams, Byard played in all 16 games for the Titans in 2016. He started seven games, and was fifth on the team with 63 tackles. He added a sack, three quarterback pressures and four passes defensed. Byard was second on the team with 10 special teams tackles.

"I think the sky is the limit on him," LeBeau said after Byard's rookie year. "I don't want to put a lot of pressure on a young player, but he had a great season for a first year player and he is going to do nothing but grow.

"He has an exceptional football mind and I think that is one of his strengths. He is going to grow and he is going to be a coach on the field, there is no question about that."

Byard, who led or tied for the team lead in tackles twice during his rookie season, spent extra time studying tape of not just the top safeties around the league this offseason. He also studied his own game film, and his opponents.

On the field in training camp, he can tell a big difference.

"It is like night and day," Byard said. "I feel so much more comfortable, and so much more confident in making the calls. And the guys trust me, and that is big when you have that from the coaches and the players."

Heading into Year Two, Byard is ready to make more plays this fall.

He also plans to step up from a leadership standpoint. In a secondary with plenty of new faces, from cornerbacks Logan Ryan, Adoree Jackson and Demontre Hurst to fellow safety Johnathan Cyprien, he plans to make his voice heard.

"I was definitely a little bashful last year, just not being fully sure of myself," Byard said. "This year, I am completely sure of everything I am doing. I am not looking to make mistakes, and if I do it will be full-speed, I can guarantee you that."

JURRELL CASEY DISCUSSES LIFE, ON AND OFF THE FIELD

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 27, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The Titans drafted Jurrell Casey in the third round of the 2011 NFL Draft out of Southern California.

Since, Casey has developed into one of the NFL's top defensive linemen.

He's coming off a Pro Bowl season, and he has over 430 tackles and 30 sacks in his playing career.

Titans Online sat down with Casey recently to discuss a number of topics, on the field and off it.

Here's how the conversation went....

Right out of the gate: How did you get steered into football?

"My mother and my uncle, Horace Burns. He actually got me into Pop Warner. My brother and all of us played, and that is what started to drive me toward the game of football."

What were your thoughts when you first arrived in the NFL? Any long-term goals?

"The first thing is I wanted to make sure I earned a starting spot on the team. From Day 1, that was my mindset when I came in, and I was able to do that. Now my goal is to make it to the Hall of Fame. I want to be the best player I can possibly be every week on the practice field, and on Sundays."

How much did it mean to you to play in the Pro Bowl last year?

"It meant so much to me. You get the respect of the guys around the league, and just to be in the presence of the guys in the league, the best players in the league. And they showed me a lot of respect. It is a huge blessing, and it's where each individual should want to be."

Since I've been around you, I've heard you talk a lot about your mother, Collette Burns. Can you describe the impact she's made on your life? And when you think about your mom, what comes to your mind?

"The biggest thing about my mom is her work ethic. No matter what the situation was when I was growing up, and no matter what was going on in our household, she was always dedicated to make sure we had exactly what we wanted, and exactly what we needed. She worked two jobs, and made sure she was there on time. She never missed a day. And she also made sure she was able to take care of her kids. When somebody can do that all by herself, it just shows you what you are capable of. She sacrificed for me, and helped set me up for a better lifestyle than she had."

Your older brother, Jurray, has impacted your life in a different way. Jurray was convicted of first-degree murder when he was younger. You've been very open in talking about that, while also crediting him for helping you refocus on becoming a better football player and student. How much did his experience influence your life?

"What happened to Jurray made a huge impact in my life. I could have definitely been in the same position he was in, or going in the same direction he went in when he was young. But he pushed me to go into the right direction and to make good decisions, and he kept me motivated to make sure I stuck with the talent God blessed me with."

You got married last summer. I know you and your wife, Ryann, set up the Casey Fund to help people in need, including people who have been incarcerated. She's an attorney in Nashville. How proud are you of Ryann, and what kind of impact has Ryann had on your life?

"I am super proud of her. She is great, and she has done so much to help me. She tries to help me with my presence in public, my public speaking, and just helping me be more of a patient guy. She wants to try and build my character off the field rather than just being a great person on the field. She has helped me in all kinds of ways. On top of that, she is a hard-working woman, someone who is dedicated to her craft. She graduated from law school, and she passed the bar exam [in California] and then passed another bar in Nashville. I give her mad props for that, because some people wouldn't do it again. But she is dedicated to our relationship and our family, and she got the job done."

You grew up on California. What did you think of Nashville when you first got here, and what's your opinion of the city now?

"When I first got to Nashville, I thought it was going to be a dead city. But now, I see it's a live city. It's a great city. And you see how many people have moved here and how many people visit here. No matter what time of year it is you'll see tour groups here, and it's always packed. It is great. I am definitely loving it."

You have played for three head coaches since you've been here – Mike Munchak, Ken Whisenhunt and now Mike Mularkey. What's different now?

"I think the biggest thing now is team chemistry. A lot of guys who've been around here for a little while now, we've been able to build a relationship between one another, and we've embraced new guys who have come in. We now have a team that plays off one another and plays together."

You've worn the No.99 since you've been here. Any reason why?

"It's just a number I got when I got here. I had no intentions of wearing 99. When they called me and asked me what number I wanted, I told them 91. But 91 was gone, and they told me the next best numbers. I said, 'Stick me in 99.' Now, I love the number. I think it is a beast number, and it looks good for a defensive lineman. And I am trying to rock it."

What's your best memory as Titan?

"I'm going to have to hold off on that one until we win a Super Bowl."

Who's the best offensive lineman you've ever faced?

"I'd have to say Joe Thomas [of the Browns]. He is one of the best out there, and he is still crafty and shifty out there for his age. I say he has to be the best one."

What will you do when your playing career is over?

"The biggest thing is to get into the real estate market, and really try to get into the entrepreneur world and try to start up some things for myself. I don't have anything in mind in particular right now, I am focused on football. But that will be exciting too."

When your career is over, what do you want people to think of when they hear the name Jurrell Casey?

"I want them to think of a guy who worked hard no matter what, and a guy who pushed himself to be the best he could possibly be. I want them to remember me as a legend who played the game."

PRO BOWL WEEK HAS BEEN A WILD RIDE FOR JURRELL CASEY

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JANUARY 30, 2017

ORLANDO, Fla. – It's been a heck of a ride for Titans defensive lineman Jurrell Casey here at the Pro Bowl, and we're not talking about football.

We're talking Tower of Terror at Disney's Hollywood Studios.

"I hated it," said Casey, shaking his head. "It makes my stomach dive. It is insane. I liked it a little bit, I guess, but that's not my thing."

We're talking Rock n' Roller Coaster, just around the corner at the same park.

"Oh man," Casey said. "That stretch (limo). Now that thing was fast."

Casey, making his second straight Pro Bowl appearance, tested his limits here this week. He rode Toy Story Mania, Buzz Lightyear's Space Ranger Spin and then slowed it down on the It's A Small World ride at the Magic Kingdom. Casey got his nerve up to go on Space Mountain, a fast-moving, quickturning roller coaster in the dark, but it was shut down.

"This is the first time really doing a roller coaster," Casey said. "I am not a big roller coaster person, but I said, "Hey, I am at the Pro Bowl, I have my family here, so let's have a good time. I decided to ride almost every ride we possibly could."

Casey, of course, earned the trip by playing football, after turning in another standout season for the Titans. He'll play in the Pro Bowl on Sunday night at Camping World Stadium.

Coming off a season when he racked up 51 tackles, five sacks and 29 quarterback pressures, Casey is thrilled to be back. He's had a big time with his family, including his wife, Ryann Gray, his mom, and both his sisters. Roughly a dozen are here from Casey's clan. Casey also invited his academic advisor from his high school in California to show his appreciation for what she did for him at a young age and beyond.

During the practice week, Casey has been surrounded by the NFL's best players, including four of his teammates with the Titans. He's had a lot of fun, and he was observed running routes and catching passes a few days. It's been that kind of week.

"I don't take it for granted at all," said Casey, who played in last year's all-star game, in Hawaii, after turning down invitations to go as an alternate the previous two years. "A lot of people deserve to be here, and to be pointed out as one of the best in the game, you definitely have to enjoy it and love it."

Casey gives credit to those around him for helping him get here, from his teammates to his coaches.

Back in Nashville, his bosses praised him for going above and beyond.

"Jurrell quietly goes about his business, and he's a great pro," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said. "He comes in, not a vocal guy per se, but the way he comes to work every day, just watch him practice. It is just like he plays."

"He is a tough guy to block," general manager Jon Robinson said. "He has good quickness, he has good hands, and he has good instincts. He has good pass rush skills. He plays hard, and you can tell football is important to him."

Casey worked hard, and used his athletic ability to get here. He said Monica Kim, his academic coach for the football program at Long Beach Poly High School, played a role in him advancing as a student, and challenging him off the field. It's why he invited Kim to join him during Pro Bowl week. While other players invited high school coaches as part of the NFL's 'Thank You, Coach' program, Casey invited Kim

The two first met when Casey was a high school junior.

"I was real close with my football coaches, but that wasn't the area of my life where I needed the most help, it was more in school," Casey said. "And she really dedicated her time to help me, getting me ready for SATs, spending extra time with me studying, helping me with papers. She did so much to help me where I wouldn't be so stressed.

"She was the type of person who would read over a paper I had written and say, "You can't turn this in. How are you going to turn this in? You have to re-do this.' And she'd force you to do it until you got it right. Those are the kinds of people you need behind you. Some teachers maybe could want to pass you through the course, but you are not learning anything. Monica is the type of person who wants to make sure you learn it and you know what you are doing."

Kim said she was touched by Casey's gesture. She spent time with Casey after Saturday's practice, and at a banquet later in the day. The two have remained in touch since he graduated from high school, throughout Casey's playing days at Southern California to his NFL career with the Titans.

Kim said the entire Long Beach community has fond memories of Casey, in part because he's never really left. Casey returns home to conduct a football camp each year, and he visits the school.

"It is an honor," Kim said. "I am so proud of Jurrell for who he is and the person he has become. I guess you never know how much you mean to someone. For him to invite me, it warms my heart."

On Sunday, Casey will put on a uniform and play in another Pro Bowl.

He knows he won't be alone.

"It's great to be here, but you have to thank those who got you to where you are at," Casey said. "Because without those people, you wouldn't be who you are. So each individual in my life has been building my character since I was a young age.

"I'm glad I'm able to share all of this with some of the people who've helped me."

MATT CASSEL

NORM CHOW: TITANS NEARLY LANDED MATT CASSEL IN 2005

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MARCH 11, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Quarterback Matt Cassel became a member of the Tennessee Titans this week. If Norm Chow got his wish, it would've happened 11 years ago.

"Things turned out OK for Matt," Chow said with a chuckle. "He's about $50 million richer now than he was back then, and he's had a heck of a career."

The Titans signed the Cassel on Thursday as the team's back-up, behind starter Marcus Mariota. Cassel has played for the Patriots, Chiefs, Vikings and Cowboys during his 11-year NFL career.

Back in 2005, Cassel was a relative unknown leading up to the NFL Draft. He played sparingly at USC behind starter Matt Leinart, although Chow knew him well, having served as USC's offensive coordinator from 2001-04. Chow remembers how crushed Cassel was when he didn't get the job after Carson Palmer graduated.

Chow joined the Titans as the team's offensive coordinator in 2005. He said he'd convinced Titans general manager Floyd Reese and the scouting department to sign Cassel as an undrafted free agent following the completion of the 2005 draft.

"As soon as the draft was over, I was going to call Matt and he was going to come to the Titans as a free agent," Chow recalled on Thursday night from Los Angeles, where he was en route to see the Lakers-Cavs game. "Then, the seventh round occurs, and we're in that crazy room downstairs and someone runs down and says "They just drafted your boy. It was Matt Cassel."

"They" turned out to be the New England Patriots, who selected Cassel in the seventh round, with the 230th pick of the draft. Chow couldn't believe it, considering Cassel completed just 20 of 33 passes for 192 yards, with no touchdowns and one interception, in four seasons at USC.

The Titans had quarterbacks Steve McNair and Billy Volek, and Chow thought Cassel was worth developing.

"People thought I was nuts because Matt never had a chance to play. He had to send out practice tape," Chow said of Cassel. "But USC needed a quarterback to throw at Pro Day that year, and Matt wowed them at Pro Day.

"It's crazy. It was all set up. And I had already told Matt earlier – I am going to call you because you are probably not going to get drafted. How could he, because he never played?"

Cassel, who has thrown for over 17,000 yards in his NFL career, smiled on Thursday, when asked if he thought he was close to being a member of the Titans back then. New Titans general manager Jon Robinson was with the Patriots then as a scout.

Cassel was third on New England's depth chart behind quarterbacks Tom Brady and Doug Flutie in 2005 after beating out two veterans, Chris Redman and Rohan Davey. He ended up playing in 30 games for the Patriots over the next four seasons, and started 15 games in 2008 after Brady suffered a season-ending injury in the preseason.

"I know that there was contact made from the Tennessee organization, but it never came to fruition obviously because I got drafted," Cassel said. "But Norm coached me in college, so there was a connection there in terms of the possibility of me coming here."

The next year, of course, Chow was in a positon to get another one of his former USC quarterbacks in Leinart, but the Titans drafted quarterback Vince Young out of Texas instead.

Chow is convinced the team would've snagged Cassel had he been around after the draft.

"They didn't listen to me about Matt Leinart," Chow said with a smile, "but they listened to me about Matt. Some people thought I was crazy, because no one had really seen him play.

"Matt deserves so much credit because he worked so hard to get to where he is today. I am really happy for him."

TITANS RE-SIGN BACKUP QB MATT CASSEL

BY JASON WOLF THE TENNESSEAN MARCH 3, 2017

INDIANAPOLIS — Heading into his third pro season, Marcus Mariota may be reaching the point in his career where he doesn't necessarily need a veteran backup quarterback to serve as a mentor.

But with the young franchise quarterback rehabbing his broken right leg and expected to miss much of the offseason program, the Titans sure could use a grizzled pro waiting in the wings.

"I think at every position you want to have somewhat of a mixture between veteran players and younger players, and quarterback is not different, Titans general manager Jon Robinson said Wednesday at the NFL Scouting Combine.

The very next morning, the Titans agreed to terms with quarterback Matt Cassel, the team announced, ensuring the veteran will return for a second consecutive season as Mariota's backup. Cassel signed a two-year deal for $5.25 million, NFL Network reported.

The 12-year veteran is the first of the Titans' 16 pending free agents to agree to a deal to remain with the team.

"We're in discussions with a good portion of them," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said.

Free agency begins March 9, coinciding with the start of the new league year.

Cassel, who turns 35 in May, will play a large role in the Titans' offseason preparation as Mariota rehabs from a broken right fibula.

Mariota, who has missed five games to injury in his first two seasons, is expected to miss organized team activities but be healthy in time for training camp.

"I think our No. 1 goal is to make sure he's under center when we open up opening day," Mularkey said of Mariota. "I'm not going to put a time frame on when that first practice or when the first OTA (he'll participate in will be). I can't do that because every player is different in how they recover. It's a difficult thing to do."

Cassel appeared in four games last season, including a start in the season finale, a 24-17 victory against the Texans in Nashville after Mariota broke his leg the previous week. Cassel completed 16 of 26 passes for 150 yards, a touchdown and an interception against Houston.

He finished the season 30-of-51 for 284 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions.

Cassel has played in 108 career games, including 80 starts and one Pro Bowl appearance in 2010. He has thrown for 17,287 career yards and 103 touchdowns while playing for the Patriots, Chiefs, Vikings, Bills, Cowboys and Titans.

Titans third-string quarterback Alex Tanney, 29, is under contract for the next season, as well.

TITANS LINEMEN JACK CONKLIN, TAYLOR LEWAN PROTECT BABY DAUGHTERS, MARCUS MARIOTA

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN AUGUST 5, 2017

"Taylor Lewan quits football, joins motorcycle gang," would have been more plausible as a future headline one year ago than "Taylor Lewan makes Pro Bowl."

But Lewan was dropping clues in that 2016 camp, entering his third NFL season as a talented and recklessly unpredictable left tackle for the Tennessee Titans. He was in great shape. He was acting like a leader. And he was talking about a woman who had changed his life.

Now he's talking about two. And he's exchanging baby burping techniques with the All-Pro tackle on the other side, Jack Conklin.

"Jack's three months ahead of me and I won't lie, he's really helped me out," said Lewan, demonstrating a technique with the baby leaning forward and a hand on her belly that has worked with his 1-month-old daughter, Wynne Rebel Lewan. "Burping is my least favorite thing, but if you don't do it, you've got issues. I do this and I motor her legs, get her farting up a storm. It's a game changer, man."

These two players reside at the core of the Titans' turnaround, they are unlikely best buds, and now the primary professional duty they share — protection, of quarterback Marcus Mariota — is a primary instinct at home. Conklin and Lewan plunging into fatherhood won't necessarily get the Titans closer to their lofty goals, but it does make for some good stories and maturing tackles.

One of them needed it more than the other.

"Day and night from last year to now — oh, for sure," Taylin Gallacher, Wynne's mom and Lewan's fiancée, said of his transformation since they started dating seriously last summer. "I mean, as much as everyone kind of pumps him up in the media about how he's changed on the field, it started off the field. As I think everything kind of does. Being the man he wanted to be. He didn't like the direction his career was going or the direction his life was going."

Now it's going to the Pro Bowl, maybe some day the Super Bowl, possibly even Bed Bath & Beyond if there's time. The domestic life has captured Lewan, agreed with him and helped make him a Titans cornerstone.

"I never thought I'd be 26 years old and have a kid, and be with someone I knew I'd spend the rest of my life with," he said. "Those two are the best things that have ever happened to me. Without them, I don't think I would have had much more time here in Nashville."

Conklin and his fiancée, Michigan State sweetheart Caitlyn Riley, are still pretty new here. They found out they were going to be parents last August, shortly before the start of his rookie season. The March 27 arrival of Riley Caroline Conklin was an event Conklin has been talking about since he and his fiancée started dating seriously as college sophomores.

Their daughter is the start of a plan—four children, the third adopted so they can provide a good life to a child who may not have had one otherwise. That child is intended to be third so he or she does not feel like an afterthought. Of course, if Conklin had his way there might be more.

"I think he'd have 50 kids if it was up to him," said Conklin's father, Darren. "Hopefully it's not up to him."

The past few months have given Conklin some perspective on the difficulty of the process, though. He and Lewan are an odd couple for certain, bitter college football rivals, Conklin as quiet as Lewan is boisterous. They found common ground in blocking for the Titans, but the instant connection between Riley and Gallacher strengthened the bond quickly.

"We're very similar and we hang out a lot," Riley said of Gallacher. "So having babies together is just perfect."

That was not the plan. Riley and Conklin jokingly offered Gallacher and Lewan $2,000 to jump aboard the pregnancy bandwagon, and they got laughter in return.

But the day before the Titans' Oct. 27 home win over Jacksonville, Taylor came home to a pile of positive pregnancy tests. Eventually, Lewan called Conklin, who was watching the movie "Sausage Party" with Riley (it was Conklin's night to pick), and there was much reveling among four people on one call.

The deliveries both happened at Saint Thomas Midtown but were very different. Riley Conklin was upside down and doctors couldn't get her to flip, so she was born by cesarean delivery.

"As soon as she had the baby they gave her the baby, and then pretty soon she passed out," Conklin said. "And I'm sitting there for four hours with this newborn baby like, 'Oh. What do I do now?' It was pretty crazy."

July 4 fireworks were going off when the Gallacher and Lewan got to the hospital for Wynne's arrival. It came shortly after midnight on July 5, which was hours sooner than doctors expected.

"The most intense thing you'll ever go through," Lewan said of childbirth.

"He was the best," Gallacher said of Lewan during the delivery. "He was right here for every second of it. And she came and this big ol' bear became a soft teddy bear in about two seconds. He's been hands-on ever since. Going off to camp, he had a hard time."

"Hands on" is also how Riley described Conklin, who insisted on splitting night feedings with her until camp arrived and Titans players moved away from their families and into a hotel. Both babies make regular appearances at practices so their fathers can keep up with the changes.

Wynne turned 1 month on Saturday; Riley Conklin is chattering, grabbing her toes and starting to roll over. Both are usually sleeping through the night, which as many parents know is no sure thing that early. Both have given their parents new skills — Lewan says he'd be a star if diaper changing were a sport — and outlooks.

Said Conklin: "You go from being a year out of college to having a baby. It's a wake-up call. I think the biggest thing I thought about is I have a whole new respect for my parents. You think about it like, 'Oh, geez, the things I said to my parents, and they went through this? Oh my. That's bad."

Said Lewan: "You go from being this football player who's running around with grown men all day, smashing your heads into each other and grunting, to being like this sensitive guy with your kids. Little snuggles, little kisses, you know what I'm saying. It's cool, it's refreshing, it's a complete 180."

Now don't worry, they're both still smashing and grunting. But imagine reading this headline a year ago: "Doting daddy Taylor Lewan melts hearts with his little snuggles."

JOHNATHAN CYPRIEN

TITANS SAFETY JOHNATHAN CYPRIEN AIMS TO SHORE UP SECONDARY

BY COLTON POUNCY THE TENNESSEAN JULY 30, 2017

Titans safety Johnathan Cyprien spent most of his 27th birthday at the team's practice facility for the first day of training camp Saturday.

Most people wouldn't want to celebrate their birthday at their place of work. Even fewer would want to celebrate it in the grueling summer heat of NFL training camp.

But for Cyprien, it's welcomed.

"You can't ask for any other way to spend your birthday than doing what you love," Cyprien said Sunday with a smile. "It kind of dawned on me for a little bit. A lot of guys would complain about spending your birthday in camp, but I'd rather be here in camp playing football than anywhere else at this time of my life."

An ankle injury limited Cyprien a bit this summer, but other than that, it's been hard to get him off the football field since he entered the league in 2013. As a second-round pick of the Jaguars, Cyprien has played in and started 60 out of a possible 64 games in four seasons.

In those games, he's earned a reputation as one of the best rundefending safeties in the league, and he was rewarded with a four-year, $25 million contract in free agency this offseason with the Titans.

"This is a real good team," Cyprien said of the Titans. "We have good guys on the team. It's a real good organization. The coaches are leading us in the right direction, and we're ready to follow."

As recently as 2015, Cyprien's Jaguars finished ahead of the Titans in the division. That 2015 Jaguars team won five games, compared to the Titans' three. But the momentum in the division has shifted since then. Cyprien has joined a team that came within one game of winning the division a year ago, and he expects to seal the deal in 2017.

A lot of the newfound hype the team faces has to do with the offensive personnel. There are the additions at wide receiver in Eric Decker and No. 5 overall pick Corey Davis, both of whom are expected to contribute from day one. They'll join Pro Bowl players DeMarco Murray, Delanie Walker and Taylor Lewan to form what should be an explosive offense, led by third-year quarterback Marcus Mariota.

But the Titans' defense has been somewhat overlooked compared to its offensive counterparts. The team's secondary, in particular, wasn't an area of strength last season, tied for second-worst in passing yards allowed per game.

That's where Cyprien steps in. He's projected to slide in at strong safety, where he racked up 127 tackles, four pass breakups, a forced fumble recovery and a sack last season.

As far as the rest of his defense, Cyprien isn't worried about the lack of hype.

We're keeping Santa busy delivering fun perks! Look for different surprises throughout the month.

"We're not one to ask for attention," Cyprien said of his new defense. "At the end of the day, week one hasn't started yet. We'll take care of that when we line up against another team and make people talk about us."

COREY DAVIS

NEW TITANS WR COREY DAVIS: 'I'M A CULTURE GUY'

BY PAUL KUHARSKY ESPN.COM APRIL 28, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- Corey Davis wasn't at Tennessee Titans headquarters long for his pre-draft visit before he got a feeling about what's going on with the team.

"As soon as I got there, I could tell that they are all about culture," said Davis, the first receiver off the board when the Titans drafted him fifth overall. "And I'm a culture guy. I know it's going to be a great fit. I'm a culture guy."

Davis said the culture at Western Michigan was "blue collar, doing everything the right way and that's definitely how the Titans Up Nation does everything."

While his 6-foot-3, 209-pound frame is a bonus, the Titans are more concerned with precise route running, limited drops and a willingness to block.

"I feel like I am definitely dependable," Davis said. "I'm just going to do whatever I can and do whatever they need me to do."

The leader of Davis' new workplace, Marcus Mariota, just happens to be Davis' favorite NFL quarterback.

Davis will be the biggest, most athletic receiver with smarts Mariota has ever played with and should immediately be the Titans' most aggressive perimeter guy on offense.

"It's just his swagger," Davis said of Mariota. "He's an accurate quarterback, he's a great leader, he makes great decisions and he can use his legs. So he's a great quarterback."

He trained with Mike Williams and got to know John Ross a bit during the draft process. The three will forever be linked after going fifth to Tennessee, seventh to the Chargers and ninth to the Bengals.

"I'm just very happy to be part of a great wideout class," Davis said. "I feel like it's one of the greatest."

TITANS ROOKIE RECEIVER COREY DAVIS 'AN IMPOSING FIGURE,' COACH SAYS

BY JASON WOLF THE TENNESSEAN JUNE 14, 2017

Don't expect Corey Davis to let up now that the Titans are letting him go full bore.

"For the most part I won't pull myself out unless I really need to," Davis said after the Titans' rookie wide receiver, the fifth overall pick in the draft, practiced in full Tuesday for the first time since offseason ankle surgery. "I need the reps, and I need to get better."

Davis had been limited through the previous three weeks of organized team activities.

"We've been the ones that have monitored Corey Davis," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said after the first session of a three-day mandatory minicamp. "We've basically told him the plays we want him to be in. We know when there's a chance, where the ball's going to go. Now, we're leaving it up to him. What does he feel comfortable with his body and how much he can do? And from what I know, it looks like he did everything. That's a credit to him. He's been really wanting to get out on the field with his teammates, and I'm glad he's out here.

"He caught a lot of balls today. This is the most reps he's had since he's been here, and he was very productive today in a variety of routes. It was a good day for Corey Davis."

The 6-foot-3, 209-pound Davis, who set the all-time FBS career receiving record with 5,285 yards at Western Michigan, is expected to provide quarterback Marcus Mariota with a true No. 1 wide receiver and significantly upgrade a passing attack that ranked 25th in the NFL last year.

Davis caught a career-high 97 passes for 1,500 yards and 19 touchdowns last season, before joining Randy Moss as the only receivers from the MAC drafted in the first round.

"When you see Corey out there, you see an imposing figure," Titans wide receivers coach Frisman Jackson said. "He's a big dude that can run. You see why he went as high as he did. You see why he was such a highly touted guy coming into the draft, and he's got strong hands; he can run; he's competitive as heck.

"You watch him in meetings, he's competitive in the meetings, which for a young guy, young guys struggled to figure that part out about this game. But he's competitive in meetings, which is good to see. I like having him on the field. He's a difference maker and he should be able to make some plays for us this year."

Davis is part of a larger overhaul in the Titans' passing game – the team also used third-round draft picks on former Western Kentucky wide receiver Taywan Taylor and former Florida International tight end Jonnu Smith.

Davis said he notices a big difference between college and NFL.

"I do. That's one thing that you really notice, the speed of the game," Davis said. "Guys are bigger, obviously, but I'm getting there. Like I said, one day at a time."

In addition to his apparent size, strength and route-running ability, Davis showed the wherewithal to break up a possible interception Tuesday by knocking a pass to the ground.

"If I can't get it, no one will," he said, adding that it was great to compete without restrictions.

"Today was kind of the first day they really let me go full-go," Davis said. "It felt good. The team's looking good. All these wideouts do a good job of helping me and making sure I'm staying on track, so I feel like the impression (I'm making) is good so far."

WR ERIC DECKER READY TO MAKE HIS MARK WITH TITANS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JULY 28, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Eric Decker arrived to his first press conference in Nashville wearing a 615 hat.

Then reporters asked him for the 411 on his new team, the Titans.

What do you think of quarterback Marcus Mariota? How are you from a health standpoint? What do you think about the team's receiving corps? How good can the Titans be in 2017?

"(I am) very excited," said Decker, signed by the Titans in June. "It was kind of a tough transition, getting released late in the offseason (by the Jets) in June, and then trying to figure out where my next home is going to be. I had about five teams I spoke to but Tennessee was the first to call and was really the most interested.

"Everything about it worked perfect for me."

Decker is familiar with Nashville, and its 615 area code. He's had a home in the area for years, which "takes a lot of stress off."

Now, he's getting more and more familiar with the Titans.

A third-round pick of the Denver Broncos in the 2010 NFL Draft, Decker has 385 career receptions for 5,253 receiving yards and 52 touchdowns in seven seasons. He has three 1,000-yard receiving seasons in his career, including a 1,288-yard season in 2013. He's also turned in 12 100-yard performances.

When the Jets released him, he opted to sign a one-year deal in Tennessee. Decker was limited to three games last season, placed on injured reserve on October 12 before undergoing hip and shoulder surgeries. Decker returned to the team's offseason program, however, as a full participant. He said on Friday he's healthy, and ready to go.

"I feel great," Decker said. "This is the best I've felt in quite some time. I had a few lingering injuries last year that unfortunately had to be taken care of. Being away from the game was hard ... (and) having to watch it from home and on crutches. But it kind of fueled my fire a little bit. I had a great offseason and got to spend time with my family but got some extended time to work physically and get in good shape."

Decker was able to work with Mariota and some of the Titans away from the facility leading up to camp.

He said he's looking forward to being teammates with Mariota.

"I always knew he was a dynamic quarterback," Decker said. "He can really throw and run and he had a successful college career. I thought he did really well as a young quarterback in the NFL to play and manage the way he did last year especially. I think he throws an unbelievable ball, and he has this attitude and demeanor about him that you can tell he is going to have a lot of success in this league. I am excited just to get more time with him. Throughout these next few weeks when we are in film study and on the football field I'll get learn a lot about him."

Decker has a nice track record himself.

Since 2012, Decker's 43 receiving touchdowns rank fifth in the NFL and his 4,535 receiving yards rank 18th. His 33 red zone touchdown receptions are the second-highest total in the NFL over that time period. Between 2012 and 2015, Decker averaged 82 receptions for 1,085 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Decker joins a group that already includes veteran Rishard Matthews, who led the team in receptions and receiving yards last season. The Titans drafted Corey Davis with the fifth overall pick of the draft, and also selected Taywan Taylor in the third round. Others, like Harry Douglas, Tajae Sharpe and Tre McBride also return, and will compete.

Decker spent his first four seasons with the Broncos before joining the Jets in 2014. Decker led the Jets with 74 receptions for 962 yards and five touchdowns in 2014. In 2015, Decker had 80 receptions for 1,027 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Decker said he likes the group in Tennessee, and he's looking forward to seeing where the season goes. He said he prides himself with being able to play a number of positions, "and I want to fit in and help any way I can."

"I love the energy," Decker said. "I just want to win some football games and I think this team has a lot of capability to do that."

KEVIN DODD

TITANS LB KEVIN DODD MAKES EMOTIONAL RETURN TO FIELD

BY JIM WYATT TITANSONLINE.COM AUGUST 13, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – It was an emotional return to the field on Saturday night for Titans linebacker Kevin Dodd.

Dodd, a second-round pick by the team in last year's draft, had been envisioning what playing again might feel like ever since he had a second procedure to repair a foot injury. During the past year he's questioned himself, while others doubted him.

When he walked on the field at MetLife Stadium in East Rutherford, N.J., before the team's game against the Jets, he got his answers.

"It's just football," Dodd said after the game. "But after coming out for warmups, it did feel a little emotional just to be back out there. It felt really special. When I first came out to warm up and get a feel of the stadium and the turf, I felt a little emotional. There were a lot of doubts in the offseason whether I would be where I am today."

Dodd played in 37 snaps, and he performed well.

The former Clemson star was around the football, and moved without any issues. He was credited with just one tackle, but he impacted a number of plays in the team's 7-3 loss to the Jets.

"It feels good to be back out there with my guys and not practicing and going up against someone else other than (teammate) Jack Conklin," Dodd said with a smile. "But it felt really good."

"We're still in camp, and I felt like we're still in camp. But by the time (the season) gets here, I'll be ready." Titans coach Mike Mularkey said the team wanted to give Dodd a lot of playing time. Dodd played in just nine games last season, and he ended the year on Injured Reserve. He had a second surgery at the end of last year, which kept him out of the team's OTAs and minicamp during the offseason.

But he was back on the field for the start of training camp, and he was back on the field for the preseason opener.

"I'm sure it was (good for him)," Mularkey said. "Plus, his conditioning, he got a late start on conditioning. It's good to have the number of reps that he had. Nothing but good for him tonight to have all that experience and see where he's at conditioning wise."

FULLBACK JALSTON FOWLER APPRECIATED IN TITANS BACKFIELD

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE FEBRUARY 21, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — When NFL Network analyst Michael Robinson spent time with Titans running back DeMarco Murray recently, they had a conversation that brought a smile to Robinson's face.

Murray, who led the AFC in rushing with 1,287 yards in 2016, was raving about Jalston Fowler, his fullback with the Titans.

"It's funny," said Robinson, who played fullback for eight seasons with the 49ers and Seahawks. "DeMarco told me: 'Man, it feels good to have a fullback.' We talked about having a fullback, and how it helps.

"Fullbacks, we are really a position of service. We don't get a lot of 'Thank Yous.' So it was pretty cool."

Robinson, a Pro Bowler in 2011 who won a Super Bowl ring with the Seahawks in 2013, said he's been impressed with Fowler, the team's fourth-round pick out of Alabama in the 2015 NFL Draft.

Fowler was a Pro Bowl alternate in 2016 during a season when the Titans finished third in the NFL in rushing behind Murray and rookie Derrick Henry, who finished with 490 yards and five touchdowns.

"There's not a lot of teams that actually major in (the fullback), but look at the top of the league in rushing, and they have fullbacks," Robinson said during Super Bowl week in Houston. "(Fowler), he is really interesting. He plays with leverage, which not a lot of fullbacks understand that. But he is able to play with leverage and gets separation, and he is able to block a half of a body, which you have to be able to do in the zone run scheme. He does a great job of that, and I think that is what separates him from some of the other fullbacks that are more just thumpers."

In 2016, Fowler played in all 16 games for the Titans for the second straight year.

In 32 career games, Fowler has just eight carries for 16 yards, and six catches for 58 yards. As a fullback, he does a lot of the dirty work, and he's also a key performer on special teams.

Robinson said Fowler is still improving, but he believes he can be a key cog on a team on the rise.

"It is one of those positions, where we are really moving guards," Robinson said of the fullback position. "We are asked sometimes to block d-tackles, block d-linemen. But I don't think people truly understand how much they are the eyes to the running back. A running back can blindly follow him and be able to at least puncture through the line of scrimmage.

"(Fowler) seems tough. There are some technique issues that I would have some suggestions with him on but he is definitely above average. And I love the way the Titans run the ball. I think they are one of the sleeper teams in the league. They play the brand of football that resonates through the fourth quarter of the season. And you may see them in the mix at some point in the future."

TITANS RB DERRICK HENRY READY FOR YEAR 2 IN NFL

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JUNE 7, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – This time last year, running back Derrick Henry was just settling into his new team, in Tennessee.

He'd been through a whirlwind year that included a Heisman Trophy honor, training for the NFL Combine, pre-draft visits and finally the NFL Draft, when the Titans selected him.

He's spent this offseason focused on training, and improving.

"I've just worked hard," Henry said on Tuesday. "I worked out Monday through Sunday, just making sure my body was in shape, running, making sure I was prepared when I got back. I focused on me getting better. Whatever I struggled at last year, I want to get better at that, and be a better player. I want to be better, that is the main goal, the main focus."

Henry created some sports talk radio chatter when he was absent the first two weeks of the team's voluntary offseason program.

Henry was back on campus at the University of Alabama, and head coach Mike Mularkey said earlier this offseason he didn't have problem with it, aside from a lack of communication. acknowledged on Tuesday he could have handled things better. Henry was taking classes in Tuscaloosa, and he's closer to earning his degree, something he promised his family. including his late grandmother, he'd do.

The hulking back said he's also put on more muscle following a rookie season when he rushed for 490 yards on 110 carries for the Titans, with five touchdowns. Henry also caught 13 passes for 137 yards while playing behind starting running back DeMarco Murray.

Henry said he's better off from a mental and physical standpoint this offseason. He's focused on improving as a pass blocker, and catching the football, among other things.

"I've had more focus, not a lot of distractions," Henry said of this offseason. "The draft process (last year), going here and going there. ... I was at school (this year) working out Monday through Sunday and making sure I am better."

Henry has taken part in all eight organized team activities, and has looked good.

Coaches have praised him, in fact.

"I think he has looked great," Mularkey said of Henry. "It is evident he has worked extremely hard. I saw a lot of videos of him working out at Alabama. I think he has looked very well, really good for this time of year."

Titans running backs coach Sylvester Croom said Henry impressed him the day he showed up for the offseason program.

"He looks great, is moving well and seems to be in very good shape for this time of the year," Croom said of Henry. "It's obvious he's been doing a whole lot of work in the time he's been away."

The Titans have two more OTAs this week, followed by a three-day minicamp next week.

The team begins training camp at the end of next month.

Henry said he's ready to tackle year two in the NFL.

"I feel like year one you are experiencing and learning," Henry said. "And in year two it is time to attack. You know everything, you went through the process and now it is time to go. Put your foot on the pedal and don't let up."

DERRICK HENRY

DERRICK HENRY LEARNED FROM ROOKIE YEAR, READY FOR YEAR 2

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE AUGUST 1, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Derrick Henry was the face of Alabama football during his final year at the school.

The hulking running back won a Heisman Trophy, rushing for 2,219 yards and 28 touchdowns during the Crimson Tide's national championship season in 2015. Henry averaged 147.9 yards per game that year, on a whopping 395 carries.

So when he arrived in the NFL and took a back-up role with the Titans, it was naturally an adjustment.

Henry admitted as much after practice on Tuesday. But he said he learned from the experience in his first NFL season.

"It was different, coming off the year that I had in college, coming in and being the second guy," Henry said. "But it was a growth year, an experience year, and it helped me learn a lot and prepared me this year to get better."

Heading into Year Two, Henry is ready to help any way he can in an offense that still has the NFL's third-leading rusher from a year ago in veteran back DeMarco Murray, and plenty of new weapons at the receiver position.

"I am just trying to get better, and help the team," Henry said. "Even when I am not the starter, I feel like the starter. You go out here in training camp and try and make plays.

"(My mindset) is to be better than last year in all aspects of my game. I was training, working out hard (this offseason). I just want to try and do everything I can do to be better than I was last year, from running to catching to blocking."

Henry said he's also put on more muscle following a rookie season when he rushed for 490 yards on 110 carries for the Titans, with five touchdowns. Henry also caught 13 passes for 137 yards while playing behind Murray.

Titans coach Mike Mularkey said Henry has looked faster, and Henry said he's better off from a mental and physical standpoint heading into the season. He said he's a little heavier than he was a year ago, but said he feels great.

He's been impressive in camp. Henry got a lot of work with the first team on Tuesday, as the Titans eased Murray's workload for the day.

"He's a good player, he's a very good player," Mularkey said of Henry. "He came back in tremendous shape.

"I think the familiarity of the offense from this time last year to this time this year, there's not a lot of thinking. The blocking schemes, and having the same guys blocking for him, there's a lot of (reasons) why he's further ahead than he was last year at this time."

Mularkey has said on numerous occasions Murray will continue to be the workhorse back after rushing for 1,287 yards on 293 carries in 2016. But Henry will get opportunities, Mularkey said.

"I think he knows his role here," Mularkey said of Henry. "He knows we want to get him the football when we can, he understands his role. That's why he practices the way he practices, that's why he meets the way he meets. He gets it, he's a team player. If you don't practice like you're a starter you're going to have a problem when you line up on Sunday, whether it's starting a game, or coming in on a game, you better practice like you're a starter."

Teammates have been impressed with Henry as well.

"Derrick is a great player," center Ben Jones said. "He works extremely hard, and everybody sees it. He is always training, he is always pushing. When he steps in the huddle, you don't look at him as a young guy. You want to block for him, and he can do the same thing DeMarco can do with the ball. They are both special, they both do different things, but we are happy to have him.

"He could be a No.1 on most teams, and he will be the No.1 one day."

For now, Henry plans to keep working hard.

He'll be ready when his time comes.

He feels like a different player than he did this time last year.

"I know I feel a lot better than last year," Henry said. "When you are rookie, you are trying to get acclimated, and trying to learn everything and get more experience. This year I feel a whole lot better, second year. So I know the offense pretty well and I'm trying to get better every day."

THOMAS: BELLEVILLE ROOTS PROPEL JACKSON TO NFL

BY JIM THOMAS ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH AUGUST 21, 2017

NASHVILLE, TENN. • Whatever's the opposite of late bloomer — instant bloomer? — well, that would be young Adoree' Jackson.

Jackson thinks he was about 10 years old when he went to tryouts for his first little league football team in Belleville. All the youngsters went through drills that day, after which a draft was held to fill out the rosters for three teams.

"One of the coaches knew I was good, but they picked last," Jackson recalled. "So he was like, 'Just play bad and we'll pick you up.' "

That's right, the coach wanted Jackson to sandbag his drills. But Jackson couldn't do it — he ended up as the No. 1 overall pick, going to the Little Knights.

"That's when I figured I could do something good at this," Jackson said last Thursday at Tennessee Titans training camp.

For his father, Christopher, the revelation came just a little later, when Adoree' scored a long touchdown on the first day of practice. His son's first loves were basketball and track, but Christopher nudged him over to football.

"I just wanted to see what he could do with the speed that he had," Christopher Jackson said. "And the speed he had took him a long way."

All the way to star status in football (and track) at the University of Southern California, and then first-round NFL draft status last April by the Titans.

"It's certainly there," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said, when asked if Jackson was as athletic as advertised. "You see that every day he comes out here. The speed, the quickness.

"He's got a little bit of a swagger, which at that position, I kinda like. It's not one that's a distraction; it's a confidence that I like about him."

Jackson will play cornerback and return kicks in the NFL. Who knows, eventually he may play some offense, too, which he did at USC

Born in East St. Louis, Jackson spent his freshman year at Belleville East High, then moved to the Los Angeles area to live with older sister Lekisch Williams. There were many factors behind the move, all related to sports.

For one, Jackson said Belleville East wanted him to switch to quarterback, a move he didn't want to make. The warm weather in Southern California meant he could concentrate year-round on track — with the long jump his specialty.

Most of all, he wondered if he would get noticed by colleges after seeing a friend ignored in the recruiting process.

His one year at Belleville East was interesting, to say the least.

"Football went all right," Jackson said. "I didn't come out till late, so they had me on freshman team. I played like four games, I averaged like three touchdowns a game."

But a broken thumb ended that season early.

Basketball and track went better, although as was the case with football, Jackson spent the year on the freshman basketball team.

"He finished second in the state in the long jump his freshman year, and he was an unbelievable basketball player as well," said Jeff Creek, now Belleville East's varsity hoops coach, but then coach of the freshman squad.

"He played freshman basketball the whole year, which I'm still shocked

(about) because he was leaps and bounds better than everybody else. He was an ultra-quick point guard and he actually got up and dunked it a couple times in games."

At 5-foot-7.

Obviously, dozens of St. Louis area high school athletes receive scholarships to Division I schools every year in football, basketball, track, whatever. So it's hard to think Jackson would have been overlooked by recruiters had he stayed at Belleville East. Then again, it's hard to argue with the results after the move to the West Coast.

"He's never gonna look back with any kind of regrets because it basically worked out as best as it could," Creek said. "You just don't see talent like that very often. He stood out, and you knew he was gonna do something special.

"I went to Belleville East, and I've been around this area for probably the last 25 years, and we haven't had an athlete like him coming out of Belleville East. I think he's one of the best, if not the best athlete that's ever come out of here."

Jackson starred at Serra High School in Gardena, Calif., a school that includes current NFL players Robert Woods (Rams), Marqise Lee (Jaguars) and Paul Richardson (Seahawks) among its alums.

He starred at USC, where he was the Thorpe Award winner last season as the nation's top defensive back, and tied the NCAA career record for most touchdowns on kick returns (punts and kickoffs) with eight. In track, he was a two-time Pacific-12 Conference champion in the long jump, placing 10th at the U.S. Olympic trials.

The early signs are that the NFL won't be too big of an adjustment, either. Due in part to the surprisingly strong training camp by LeShaun Sims at cornerback, Jackson has yet to crack the starting lineup on defense.

He's getting reps with the second team both at corner and nickel back. But he displays his ballhawking skills continually in practice — he had an interception Thursday in a joint practice against the Carolina Panthers.

He will contribute in the return game right away. He gave Titans fans a glimpse of what to expect with a 63-yard punt return for a score in Saturday's preseason game with Carolina. Alas, the play was called back on a penalty.

Even with all his potential, Jackson was considered a little raw by NFL cornerback standards — coming out a year early. But it seems to be only a matter of time before he's starting.

"I think he's been very productive," Mularkey said. "He's learning a lot. He's getting a lot of reps. He's seeing a lot. ... He's getting a lot of experience, which is good for him."

Jackson grew up a Rams fan, owning Kurt Warner and Marshall Faulk jerseys as a kid. He was disappointed when the Rams left St. Louis and has told his father had the team stayed maybe he could've played for his hometown team. As it is, Nashville's only about a four-hour drive from home.

Without the Rams, some fans in the St. Louis area have adopted the Titans, including a growing legion on the East Side who have been ordering Jackson's No. 25 jersey.

"That's good," Jackson said. "I'm gonna have to recruit everybody up there I know from church, from East St. Louis, the whole 618."

And maybe some in the 314.

ADOREE' JACKSON

ADOREE' JACKSON'S WORLD-CLASS LEAPING ABILITY STARTED WITH A FISHER-PRICE HOOP

BY PAUL KUHARSKY ESPN.COM APRIL 29, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- Adoree' Jackson may be 5-foot-10 and 186 pounds, but he also may be the draft's best defensive back when it comes to going up and getting the ball.

He credits his older siblings --Christopher, who's seven years older, and his sister Lekisch, who's 14 years his senior.

"I always played with them, so just competing, that's what helped me out a lot," Adoree' Jackson said. "Just being competitive and not playing with kids my age. I was always acrobatic, I would always try to dunk the ball when I was a little kid on a Fisher-Price goal.

"I would put the goal up high enough when I was outside and try to dunk the ball. I just think those were the things that translated in being able to high-point the ball and getting up high."

The best cornerback to play for the franchise in the Titans era, Samari Rolle, loves Jackson as a defensive back.

"He's a world-class athlete with his track background and he has amazing ball skills," Rolle said on my radio show, The Midday 180. "His ball skills are like second to none. He high-points the ball and he can play the ball in the air."

Rolle said Jackson needs polish and work on his technique since he could often rely solely on his athleticism to make plays at USC.

As an 8-year-old, Jackson darted around closed gates to cross in front of an approaching train because thought he might be late getting home -- a story he told the L.A. Times in 2015.

"I've got some of that speed still, and judgment's still wise," Jackson said, grinning. "That was a smart decision then and I think it's still a smart decision now. I'm 21 now, so [my parents] just found out. They didn't say much, they just said they didn't know about that."

It sounded as if being late was a worse fate than getting hit by the train

Did he get home on time?

"I'm here now," he said to a big round of laughter.

TITANS ROOKIE ADOREE' JACKSON CAN DO THINGS MOST PLAYERS CAN'T

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN AUGUST 8, 2017

If we were taking a crowd "Oooooooh" count from the start of Titans camp, rookie cornerback Adoree' Jackson would be in the lead right now. Only because when Derrick Henry tears through the defense like Bo Jackson in Tecmo Bowl, the sound is more like "Ohhhhhhhhh."

The prevailing question with eight camp practices down and the preseason opener coming Saturday at the Jets is how much "Ooooooh" Jackson is going to produce when the football counts. As a returner, I have no question he'll have his moments. He'll return punts and we'll wait and see on kickoffs - the Titans may prefer to split that up and can do so more easily if Eric Weems makes the roster to bolster special teams. But honestly, I'd be very tempted to have Jackson, the No. 18 overall pick out of USC, return everything he can possibly return this season. And it may be that he has the time and energy available, if he doesn't end up a defensive starter.

Second-year corner LeShaun Sims has taken every rep in team drills as the starter opposite Logan Ryan, that's how the first depth chart read Monday, and that's not just a way to motivate the rookie. Sims has earned it, rewarded by coaches for being one of the three top workers on the team in the offseason, and he looks the part out there. He said Monday there's a "world of difference" from last year to now in terms of his understanding of Dick LeBeau's defense. If it's Sims with Ryan on the outside in that Sept. 10 opener against the Oakland Raiders, you're going to see two corners who play physical and smart, who battle, who bring reliable run support and who upgrade the Titans from what they were last season.

You're also going to see two corners who can't do some of the things the 5-foot-11 Jackson can do. Because very few people can do some of the things Jackson can do.

"He's probably one of the better athletes in the NFL already," Titans secondary coach Deshea Townsend said last week of a guy who had 15 touchdowns at USC – four on punt returns, four on kick returns and one on an interception – and was an All-America long jumper who placed 10th in the U.S. Olympic trials.

Monday night delivered the latest example of Jackson's potential as a defensive playmaker. First he messed up, stumbled and got beat by Mekale McKay in one-on-one drills. Then Townsend sent him right back into the mix, and he lined up against former Vanderbilt wideout Jonathan Krause. Marcus Mariota was the passer on this rep, and he put up a deep ball that was on target. It was going to hit Krause in stride and Jackson was going to be toasted on both sides in a matter of seconds. Except Jackson turned on those burners, turned his head, found the ball, leaped and grabbed it out of the air.

"Ooooooh."

"I was wondering if he was going to get his head around on the go route and he just snapped it," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said of the play. "Right when the ball came in, snatched the ball out of the air. It was a great play. That's the second time he's done that. He's doing some things we haven't really been consistently doing around here since I've been here."

The ability to turn and locate the ball in the air while maintaining acceleration, in particular, is something that is more difficult than it looks and less common in the NFL than you might think. But this was a one-on-one drill, a moment of isolation with no thinking required. To make plays like that in games, Jackson has to be reliable enough to be on the field. He has bigger receivers to battle, run support to provide and that LeBeau system to master. The results have been mixed there. That's no big surprise, and Sims' consistency is a positive at a position that needs as much quality depth as it can get. But the Titans need Jackson to make strides in the weeks ahead. They're also exploring his suitability in the slot, where his attributes certainly help.

"His athletic ability will be one of his strengths being in there," Mularkey said. "His quickness — he's a good player."

Other than Marcus Mariota, he's my No. 1 player to watch Saturday in the first preseason game. The more "A-ha" moments for Jackson in the next few weeks (and I'm not talking Norwegian bands from the 1980s), the more "Oooooooh" moments in the fall. Right now his concern level on repping primarily with the second-team defense can best be described as: "Eh."

"I don't look at depth charts," Jackson said. "I understand that when you get your opportunity you have to make the most of it. I remember coming in to USC all like sixth string, end up working my way to third string and then getting a starting spot I think like the fourth game of the season. So it's all about, whenever the coach calls your name, go play."

AUSTIN JOHNSON

TITANS SAW IMPROVEMENT IN DL AUSTIN JOHNSON IN ROOKIE SEASON

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE FEBRUARY 22, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Austin Johnson learned patience in college, and the experience helped him during his first NFL season.

The defensive lineman hopes to follow a similar path to success with the Titans.

"As the season went on, I feel like I got better in the defense," said Johnson, a second-round pick by the Titans in the 2016 draft, out of Penn State. "I am definitely better from a technique standpoint. And being around some of the veterans, it was eye opening, just listening to them and learning what to expect.

"I know I have to keep getting better, so it's just continuing to build."

Selected 43rd overall in the draft, Johnson was inactive for six of the team's first nine games. But he ended on a high note, playing in the final seven games, when he made some plays. Johnson finished with 15 tackles, a half sack and a quarterback pressure during his rookie season.

Titans defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau said the experience helped him.

"(His improvement) has been constant and steady, and I think it accelerated the last few games," LeBeau said at season's end. "I have talked a lot about the experience factor at this level, getting NFL snaps and playing experience and that's helped him grow.

"You can talk and show and teach, but until they get on the field and experience NFL competition, that will bring their career along the quickest." At the end of the season, Johnson talked about paying his dues at Penn State before he broke through, and had big success. Johnson racked up 78 tackles and 6.5 sacks in his final season at Penn State. He also had a 71-yard fumble return for a touchdown that year.

He has high hopes for his future in Tennessee. As a reserve nose tackle at Indianapolis, Johnson teamed with linebacker Derrick Morgan to sack Colts quarterback Andrew Luck. Johnson totaled a career-best four tackles in the team's win at Kansas City late in the season.

"At Penn State I had a redshirt year, so I sat out for a year behind a good group of guys," he said. "It took a little time, and it was a process, and I redshirted and then my redshirt freshman year I rotated in, played a lot of snaps and made some plays. And I was constantly building. My sophomore year I got even better, and redshirt junior year I kind of took off.

"So (the NFL) is another process. I am definitely better (from when I first arrived), and I just have to get better in the defense, and being able to play in it."

HOW TRAGEDY INSPIRED TITANS CENTER BEN JONES TO GIVE BACK

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE APRIL 5, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Ben Jones was just 10 years old when he received news that would change his life forever – his father had been killed in a freak helicopter crash not far from home.

A forester, Steve Jones was aboard a helicopter inspecting timber for insect damage when his aircraft went down. The crash killed Jones and the pilot.

In the wake of the tragedy, friends in the Brent, Ala., community rallied behind Jones and his family. His mother became "the rock." And the experience made a lasting impact on Jones, a five-year NFL veteran who is set to begin his second season as the starting center with the Tennessee Titans.

"During the tough times, our family made something of it," Jones said. "My dad's death was one of those accidents you never prepare for, but my mom was strong and a lot of kids benefited from it. It opened our eyes as a family. It's not about us, it's about helping others and giving other kids an opportunity."

Jones is ready to give back to the Nashville community – and the Ronald McDonald House – by hosting the first annual Ben Jones Celebrity Clay Shoot on May 12 at the Nashville Gun Club. Spots still remain for those 18 years or older, including a number of team slots.

Roughly 20-25 Titans are scheduled to take part in the event, hosted by Jones and his wife, Alex. The event will directly benefit families staying at the Ronald McDonald House in Nashville by helping fund a kitchen remodeling project. For more information, or to make a donation, visit www.BenJonesclayshoot.com.

Jones said family and other friends have benefited from the Ronald McDonald House in the past.

"It is close to my heart," Jones said.
"And it's close to the heart of my family and everyone I know who has benefited from it."

Jones, who played four seasons with the Texans before joining the Titans prior to last season, started all 16 games in Tennessee in 2016. He's played in 80 games, with 59 starts, in five seasons.

Jones said his childhood – he also fractured his skull when he was 10 when he was hit by a baseball bat and he lost a friend in a four-wheeler accident – helped shape him as an adult. Jones grew up in Brent, Ala., and played college football at Georgia.

"My dad was my little league coach growing up and when he passed, my mom and her father pretty much took over little league sports," Jones said. "She coached baseball, basketball and would drive me 45 minutes to wrestling practice every day. She did everything sports and academics. She was our rock, and I'll never forget that.

"Also, when my father passed away when I was 10, they started a foundation or fund to help benefit kids in youth sports and if anyone wasn't able to pay for their sports or didn't have a ride, our family would step up and help those kids financially so they could still play sports," Jones continued. "A lot of families in our hometown were single parents and we'd give them a ride in my mom's SUV or my granddaddy or uncle would give them a ride -- our whole team would be kids that needed a ride. I guess they weren't our friends starting out, but we were close afterward.

"You learn from experiences like that and it makes you want to help when you get a chance."

DENNIS KELLY

NEW LINEMAN DENNIS KELLY A GOOD FIT, TITANS SAY

BY JOHN GLENNON THE TENNESSEAN AUGUST 17, 2016

PAGE: 2C

In acquiring 6-8, 321-pound lineman Dennis Kelly from Philadelphia in the Dorial Green-Beckham trade, the Titans hope they've found an offensive lineman who will be a natural fit for new offensive line coach Russ Grimm's power system.

"I felt good about him when we discussed making this (trade)," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said. "I watched tape of him. I felt good about watching him play, his style. I thought he would fit with what we do."

Kelly started just two of the 15 games he played in for Philadelphia last season, but he still saw a solid amount of playing time. Per Pro Football Outsiders, Kelly got 453 snaps in 2015, the sixth-highest total of any Eagles lineman.

In the Eagles' first preseason game against Tampa Bay, Kelly saw 36 snaps, the fourth-highest total of any Philadelphia offensive lineman.

He's started 15 of the 30 NFL games he's played in, 10 of them coming in his rookie season of 2012.

"He's played, started games, he was in in the second series against Tampa and played a good portion of the first half," Mularkey said. "I liked what he did there. Again, he's very similar, in versatility (to injured Byron Bell and Josue Matias).

"(But) if somebody better comes across the waiver wire, we're going to go snag him if we can. We're going to try to improve this roster every day."

The Titans will likely start Kelly out at left tackle, but he can play a variety of different spots, which is important for the Titans because they don't have much experience at left guard either.

Dennis Kelly of the Philadelphia Eagles was traded

"I just think based on his skill set, he's big, smart and tough and he's versatile," Titans general manager Jon Robinson said. "He's played a lot of positions, so he'll be a nice added mix to that group for us.

"(The trade) was really just value based. Dennis was a guy we thought could help our football team, would make us a more competitive position up there."

Kelly's brother, Tim, was offensive quality control coach in Houston, where he coached current Titans center Ben Jones.

"I've already talked to (Kelly)," Jones said. "We're always excited to get another offensive lineman in the room who has some playing experience. It's always good to have more guys who've played some snaps."

JOSH KLINE

JOSH KLINE PROVING TO BE NICE ADDITION TO O-LINE

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 12, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. –When the Titans claimed offensive lineman Josh Kline off waivers the week before the regular season opener, he was viewed by many as an insurance policy.

When starting right guard Chance Warmack suffered an injury in Week 2, the Titans immediately cashed in. Kline was thrown into the mix a week later, and he's started ever since.

"He's fit right in," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said of Kline. "He's smart, he's tough, and he understands what we're trying to do. You know, he doesn't say a whole lot, he's a quiet guy, but he's playing our style."

Kline is part of an offensive line that's ranked No.1 in the NFL by Pro Football Focus. The Titans are currently ranked second in the NFL in rushing offense through five games, averaging 148.6 yards per game on the ground. Quarterback Marcus Mariota has been sacked just five times, and only twice since Kline has been in the starting lineup.

Mularkey indicated when Warmack tore a tendon in his finger – and had surgery – that he probably wouldn't return again this season. The team placed Warmack on Injured Reserve last month.

The team certainly seems very satisfied with Kline (6-3, 300), who played in 14 games for the New England Patriots last season, including 13 starts – seven at right guard and six at left guard. Kline also started at left guard for both of the team's playoff contests.

"He's played extremely well," Mularkey said. "He has had a tough duty, especially (vs Miami). There were some plays — we had some double teams in that game -- that you can't draw them up and script them any better than they doubled these guys out of there. He had a lot of pressure on him to perform, and he performed really well against that front.

"He started some big games in New England. You just have to say they wouldn't have put him in there if they hadn't had the trust that you need to have in a guy in big games. He's really done everything we've hoped he would do. I mean, it was a very good pick up."

Kline, originally signed by the Patriots as an undrafted free agent in 2013, played in 33 games over the previous three seasons in New England, with 18 starts.

He said on Monday he likes the environment in Tennessee, where he's developing chemistry with the guys who line up next to him -center Ben Jonesand right tackle Jack Conklin -- in addition to left guard Quinton Spain and left tackle Taylor Lewan.

"(Before I only knew them) on paper, not personally," Kline said of his fellow offensive linemen. "But I've come to know them and they are great guys. We have a great room and a great coach, and we just have to keep working on things as an offensive line and keep getting better and just go from there."

This week, the Titans face the Browns, who sacked Mariota seven times in a game last season. The Titans lost that game, 28-14.

While Kline brought with him valuable experience when he joined the team (he played in four playoff games with the Patriots), he downplayed how much influence he might have on his new teammates.

He made it very clear he's just ready to do his part.

"I think they already had the pieces here, and we just needed to execute and do the little things right," Kline said. "Last Sunday shows what we could do. "I am just trying to do everything I can to help out the team. I still have a lot of work to do, a lot of stuff I need to work on personally to try and get better every day. I think we've played well as a team, and now we are just worrying about Cleveland this week at home."

TITANS' TOUGHEST OF TOUGH GUYS — KARL KLUG — JUST TRYING TO KEEP UP WITH TWIN BROTHER

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN AUGUST 9, 2017

PAGE 1C

Karl Klug might be the toughest Titan. He might not be the toughest 29-year-old man with the last name of Klug living in Nashville.

If Karl's identical twin, Kevin, was going to engage his brother in a scrap or wrestling match, he'd have to build into a rage first. Kevin always gave up at least 10 pounds to Karl, and at one point in their lives it was about 60.

"I had to get angry to have any chance against him, just like he's got to get angry to compete against guys in the NFL who are 40 pounds heavier than him," Kevin said of Karl. "You get angry, or you get worked."

Karl agrees with that outlook — "You kind of have to flip a switch to play in this league," he said — and that's no surprise considering these are twins who talk about four times a day and are said in the family to have their own language. "Grind" is an English-language word they both use a lot.

In the past few months, Kevin has seen his young business, Klug Fitness, grow quickly. He'll bring a full-size van with a gym in it to you. Also in the past few months, Karl has obliterated the expectations of doctors and put himself in position to help the Titans defensive line in the Sept. 10 opener against Oakland.

The original timeline, after Karl tore his left Achilles tendon in a Dec. 19 win at Kansas City, had him in street clothes and weeks away from returning at the start of the 2017 season. But the 6-foot-3, 278-pound defensive lineman was out there running at the start of his seventh training camp, a full two months earlier than that was supposed to happen.

So add it to the legend of the man who gets an appreciative "Kluuuuuuug" from fans when he makes a play. And understand that his return to the field this season is more than a nice story. It's crucial for a defensive line and a team that draw from his relentlessness.

Coach Mike Mularkey said Karl was an "animal" during his offseason rehabilitation, which included the use of painful bloodflow restriction therapy to stimulate the muscles around the tendon. He was a top candidate for toughest guy in a locker room full of tough guys before this injury, but now it's almost silly to consider anyone else. He's certainly the only guy in the room who still uses a flip phone.

"It's Klug," fellow defensive lineman Angelo Blackson said. "Klug's Klug."

"One of the hardest-working and toughest guys we have," Titans defensive line coach Nick Eason said of Karl, who was slowly increasing his reps before a left ankle twist that may keep him out of Saturday's preseason opener at the New York Jets. "If you want to go down a dark alley, you want to go down a dark alley with that guy. You look at him over there with his kids and his wife, he's a family guy. But at the end of the day, he really represents what it means to be a Titan. What it means to be a football player."

Karl and his wife, Stacy, have three children ages 4 and younger, and when he reunites with them for a few minutes after a training camp practice, he's a happy-go-lucky father. His on-field alter ego has far exceeded expectations to provide for them. Even with Karl rehabbing an injury that can permanently hinder an athlete's mobility, the Titans signed him to a two-year, $5 million deal in the offseason.

Before the injury cost him the final two games of the 2016 season, Karl had seen action in 94 straight games, starting with his rookie season of 2011 after the Titans took him in the fifth round out of Iowa. He has played through nagging injuries, as he did at Iowa — a herniated disc and torn ligaments in a big toe, to name two that actually got reported.

"The dude never complains," Kevin said of his brother. "He'll just ride out an injury until he can't walk anymore."

Ouiet tolerance is a family tradition. When the twins were in middle school in their hometown of Caledonia, Minn., Kevin suffered from a condition that caused him to throw up after meals and choke on his own saliva at night. He and Karl were the only two who knew about the vomiting for a year and a half, which delayed the eventual diagnosis of achalasia condition that restricts the esophagus — and surgery to correct

"That was quite an ordeal, and it went way too long," said their mother, Mary. "We kept taking Kevin to the doctor but they treated him for asthma until he told us (about the vomiting)."

Kevin was about 60 pounds lighter than Karl after his surgery, and he never caught up. Karl got a full ride to Iowa and had to prove himself there as a 207-pound freshman defensive end. Kevin got a partial scholarship at Minnesota State University, Mankato, and played linebacker.

To this day, Karl gives the family toughness nod to Kevin. Their parents, who grew up on neighboring farms in Caledonia, instilled it.

"Grinding is all we knew," Karl said, and they still work out together with that word as a guide, though in the past several months Karl has had to stick exclusively with the Titans medical staff.

That work has further enhanced the Klug name in the Titans locker room, but that wasn't the point of it.

The Titans need Karl and the energy that has created 20 career sacks and so much disruption beyond that number. His comeback is ahead of schedule but it isn't complete yet.

"I've heard some people say, 'Oh, you'll never be the same," Karl said. "Well, I don't know. We're still going to find out, you know?"

HOW TAYLOR LEWAN TURNED THINGS AROUND (SPOILER: IT WAS A GIRL)

BY PAUL KUHARSKY PAULKUHARSKY.COM JULY 31, 2017

Taylor Lewan came into the league as a gifted athlete with virtually all the qualities an NFL team seeks in a left tackle.

Except for a tendency to do some dumb stuff -- the sort that left fans with their hands on their heads and prompted Mike Mularkey to strip him of a captaincy during his second season playing in the league.

It left a lasting impression that did not help him even as he matured a great deal in his third year. He was flagged for a crucial, costly penalty late in a Week 3 loss to Oakland, when he launched himself into a pile to help receiver Tajae Sharpe and got an unnecessary roughness penalty that stalled what looked like it would be a late, game-tying drive. In Week 10, he was tossed out of the win over Green Bay early on for making contact with an official.

Even with the two gaffes, he emerged as a key, dependable piece of an offensive line that did very well protecting Marcus Mariota and blocking for DeMarco Murray and Derrick Henry.

Mularkey's faith played a big role, as did the first year with Pro Football Hall of Famer Russ Grimm working as Tennessee's offensive line coach.

The top settling force, however, was Lewan's fiancée, Taylin Gallacher. The couple's daughter, Wynne, turns four weeks old Wednesday.

Gallacher sounds like a psychiatrist. She is not one, though she says a lot of people get the same vibe from her. Still, she clearly saw the issues that were holding Lewan back, both at work and at home, and she called him on them.

"Honestly, how it started is, he wanted to win me over as the girl in his life, and I was not having any of that," she said after a recent training camp practice, her baby wrapped snuggly to her and sound asleep. "I was like, 'I will be your friend.' Because of the song and dance. I didn't trust it, he was giving me a show and I didn't care for the show. He puts on the best kind of show. Now I appreciate the show.

"He was so willing and able, he saw the direction his life was going, he just didn't have the tools. And that's from where he came from, it's how we all are, it's where we came from. As soon as he got the tools, he just took it and ran. He's still running and he's still growing. Having a daughter, she's kind of taken over the next little bit of his growth here. Things plateau. I think it took six months to get those things ingrained in him, who he wanted to be and what he wanted to be and things just took off.

"I was so proud of him."

It wasn't an easy climb, and it's the kind of thing plenty of us might hear and see to be true but fail to act on effectively.

After one of his worst games in 2016, when Texans linebacker Whitney Mercilus had a big game against him as he recorded 3.5 sacks. The Texans took down Zach Mettenberger, a good friend of Lewan's, a total of seven times.

He did well taking ownership of it.

"I definitely played one of the worst games I ever played in my life," he said after the loss.

But the week went badly from there.

A day later I posted this on Instagram.

Lewan didn't like it and made a rare player appearance in the pressroom at team headquarters, showing it to me on his phone and asking what it was. (I said it was Mercilus beating him, in what he had already called one of the worst games of his life and one his coach, Ken Whisenhunt, had also been critical of Shockingly, this did not placate him.))

A day later, Whisenhunt was fired. And before Mike Mularkey coached his first game as the interim head of the Titans, he stripped Lewan's captaincy and gave it to veteran running back Dexter McCluster.

Publicly, Lewan said the right things. But for a proud guy coming off a terrible game, it had to have been embarrassing.

He and I got past it that encounter in time, largely because he was getting better and noticing that I was talking note along with everyone else.

When he got the late hit penalty against the Raiders last year, he joked with me that the reaction I asked him to have instead would have necessitated teleporting powers.

This week he joked with a young duo of reporters who do podcasts about the Titans that one of them once said that players are either born Pro Bowlers or not, and that Lewan was not

He played in last year's game for the AFC with Joe Thomas and Andrew Whitworth.

With free-agent center Ben Jones taking on the leadership role on the line in 2017, Lewan could do as much or as little as he felt comfortable with in that regard. With Grimm, Lewan and the rest of the line didn't feel nearly as robotic as Whisenhunt's disaster of a line coach. Bob Bostad, had them feeling.

And at home, he found some magic.

"He was so willing and able to change," Gallacher said. "Last year the way his career was going wasn't where he wanted to be.

"When we first met, I never saw Taylor as a football player. I'm from Canada. So it didn't impress me, he never had that allure to me. It was always a song and dance. I was like, 'If you want to be seen for this confident person that you are hiding under, then you've got to be and it you've got to own it. And that's not just for football, that starts off the field.

"And that starts with you being the human being you want to be perceived as by other people. And once you become that it will follow you onto the field.""

Lewan is grateful for Gallacher and the way she helped him figure himself out.

"She has done more for me than I could ever ask someone to do," he said.

Gallacher gives her beau a ton of credit for the work he's put in.

"Being judged for who you pretend to be and not who you are is a lot easier," she said. "There is a little more reality to the song and dance now."

TITANS LINEMEN JACK CONKLIN, TAYLOR LEWAN PROTECT BABY DAUGHTERS, MARCUS MARIOTA

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN AUGUST 5, 2017

"Taylor Lewan quits football, joins motorcycle gang," would have been more plausible as a future headline one year ago than "Taylor Lewan makes Pro Bowl."

But Lewan was dropping clues in that 2016 camp, entering his third NFL season as a talented and recklessly unpredictable left tackle for the Tennessee Titans. He was in great shape. He was acting like a leader. And he was talking about a woman who had changed his life.

Now he's talking about two. And he's exchanging baby burping techniques with the All-Pro tackle on the other side, Jack Conklin.

"Jack's three months ahead of me and I won't lie, he's really helped me out," said Lewan, demonstrating a technique with the baby leaning forward and a hand on her belly that has worked with his 1-month-old daughter, Wynne Rebel Lewan. "Burping is my least favorite thing, but if you don't do it, you've got issues. I do this and I motor her legs, get her farting up a storm. It's a game changer, man."

These two players reside at the core of the Titans' turnaround, they are unlikely best buds, and now the primary professional duty they share — protection, of quarterback Marcus Mariota — is a primary instinct at home. Conklin and Lewan plunging into fatherhood won't necessarily get the Titans closer to their lofty goals, but it does make for some good stories and maturing tackles.

One of them needed it more than the other.

"Day and night from last year to now — oh, for sure," Taylin Gallacher, Wynne's mom and Lewan's fiancée, said of his transformation since they started dating seriously last summer. "I mean, as much as everyone kind of pumps him up in the media about how he's changed on the field, it started off the field. As I think everything kind of does. Being the man he wanted to be. He didn't like the direction his career was going or the direction his life was going."

Now it's going to the Pro Bowl, maybe some day the Super Bowl, possibly even Bed Bath & Beyond if there's time. The domestic life has captured Lewan, agreed with him and helped make him a Titans cornerstone.

"I never thought I'd be 26 years old and have a kid, and be with someone I knew I'd spend the rest of my life with," he said. "Those two are the best things that have ever happened to me. Without them, I don't think I would have had much more time here in Nashville."

Conklin and his fiancée, Michigan State sweetheart Caitlyn Riley, are still pretty new here. They found out they were going to be parents last August, shortly before the start of his rookie season. The March 27 arrival of Riley Caroline Conklin was an event Conklin has been talking about since he and his fiancée started dating seriously as college sophomores.

Their daughter is the start of a plan—four children, the third adopted so they can provide a good life to a child who may not have had one otherwise. That child is intended to be third so he or she does not feel like an afterthought. Of course, if Conklin had his way there might be more.

"I think he'd have 50 kids if it was up to him," said Conklin's father, Darren. "Hopefully it's not up to him."

The past few months have given Conklin some perspective on the difficulty of the process, though. He and Lewan are an odd couple for certain, bitter college football rivals, Conklin as quiet as Lewan is boisterous. They found common ground in blocking for the Titans, but the instant connection between Riley and Gallacher strengthened the bond quickly.

"We're very similar and we hang out a lot," Riley said of Gallacher. "So having babies together is just perfect."

That was not the plan. Riley and Conklin jokingly offered Gallacher and Lewan $2,000 to jump aboard the pregnancy bandwagon, and they got laughter in return.

But the day before the Titans' Oct. 27 home win over Jacksonville, Taylor came home to a pile of positive pregnancy tests. Eventually, Lewan called Conklin, who was watching the movie "Sausage Party" with Riley (it was Conklin's night to pick), and there was much reveling among four people on one call.

The deliveries both happened at Saint Thomas Midtown but were very different. Riley Conklin was upside down and doctors couldn't get her to flip, so she was born by cesarean delivery.

"As soon as she had the baby they gave her the baby, and then pretty soon she passed out," Conklin said. "And I'm sitting there for four hours with this newborn baby like, 'Oh. What do I do now?' It was pretty crazy."

July 4 fireworks were going off when the Gallacher and Lewan got to the hospital for Wynne's arrival. It came shortly after midnight on July 5, which was hours sooner than doctors expected.

"The most intense thing you'll ever go through," Lewan said of childbirth.

"He was the best," Gallacher said of Lewan during the delivery. "He was right here for every second of it. And she came and this big ol' bear became a soft teddy bear in about two seconds. He's been hands-on ever since. Going off to camp, he had a hard time."

"Hands on" is also how Riley described Conklin, who insisted on splitting night feedings with her until camp arrived and Titans players moved away from their families and into a hotel. Both babies make regular appearances at practices so their fathers can keep up with the changes.

Wynne turned 1 month on Saturday; Riley Conklin is chattering, grabbing her toes and starting to roll over. Both are usually sleeping through the night, which as many parents know is no sure thing that early. Both have given their parents new skills — Lewan says he'd be a star if diaper changing were a sport — and outlooks.

Said Conklin: "You go from being a year out of college to having a baby. It's a wake-up call. I think the biggest thing I thought about is I have a whole new respect for my parents. You think about it like, 'Oh, geez, the things I said to my parents, and they went through this? Oh my. That's bad."

Said Lewan: "You go from being this football player who's running around with grown men all day, smashing your heads into each other and grunting, to being like this sensitive guy with your kids. Little snuggles, little kisses, you know what I'm saying. It's cool, it's refreshing, it's a complete 180."

Now don't worry, they're both still smashing and grunting. But imagine reading this headline a year ago: "Doting daddy Taylor Lewan melts hearts with his little snuggles."

NFL STAR MARIOTA HELPS CHILDREN FROM HERE TO TENNESSEE

BY DAVE SEGAL HONOLULU STAR-ADVERTISER MARCH 29, 2017

Tennessee Titans quarterback Marcus Mariota is rehabbing from a broken right leg suffered in December, but that hasn't stopped him from helping underprivileged youths in the three communities he's been a part of during his football career.

On Monday afternoon he hosted a golf tournament at the Oahu Country Club for the Motiv8 Foundation, which he founded two years ago after finishing college.

"I won't be playing a whole lot (due to the injury)," Mariota, who walks slightly straight-legged, said a couple of hours before the tournament. "I will take a couple swings."

Earlier he accepted a $115,000 check from First Hawaiian Bank that represented the net proceeds from the bank's sale of a limited collector's edition of a Mariota bobblehead doll that debuted in August at the Made in Hawaii Festival. The bank, which ordered 10,000 bobbleheads over two production runs and offered them at its branches, sold out in two months.

"Our aim and our mission is to help underprivileged youth," said Mariota, just days after having a cast taken off his leg. "We want to give an opportunity to kids to live up to their dreams, to have aspirations, and hopefully Motiv8 can kind of help fill that void."

Mariota, who wears No. 8 for the Titans, said his foundation has conducted a back-to-school backpack event in Nashville, Tenn.; held activities with the Boys and Girls Clubs in Oregon; and in Hawaii was involved in the Polynesian Bowl Hall of Fame game in January.

As a testament to 23-year-old Mariota's popularity, the bobbleheads that the bank sold for $20 apiece are now listed for sale as high as $49.99 on eBay.

All the proceeds raised from the bobbleheads will remain in the Hawaii community, said Mariota, who grew up in Hawaii and starred at Saint Louis School. He also has done fundraisers in Eugene, Ore., where he won the 2014 Heisman Trophy while at the University of Oregon; and in Nashville, where he plays now after being the second overall pick in the 2015 National Football League draft. Altogether the foundation has raised nearly $300,000, Mariota said.

Mariota has appeared in three commercials for First Hawaiian, the state's largest bank, and later this week and early next week will begin filming another one which will air before the start of football season, First Hawaiian Chairman and CEO Bob Harrison said.

"Marcus has certainly been a great person to use in our advertising because he's so well known in Hawaii and the community," Harrison said. "He's just a great person, and to have him in some way represent the bank has been a tremendous help for us. What Marcus is doing with the foundation is why we're here today. It's really just so Marcus, that the first thing he does when he turns pro is set up a foundation to help other kids."

Mariota attributes his motivation to his parents.

"I was very fortunate," he said. "My parents made incredible sacrifices for me, and they were a steady force throughout my entire journey, and we want Motiv8 to be that. The inspiration behind the foundation was really from my parents. They motivated me to become the best person I could be whether it was on or off the field."

'THE SKY'S THE LIMIT': MARCUS MARIOTA IS READY FOR SUPERSTARDOM

BY DAN POMPEI BLEACHER REPORT AUGUST 10, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Chugging tallboy cans of working-class beer, holding a catfish overhead and removing their shirts, the five starting offensive linemen of the Tennessee Titans fired up the crowd at Bridgestone Arena before Game 3 of the NHL's Western Conference Final between the Nashville Predators and Anaheim Ducks.

The quarterback waved a rally towel.

You might have assumed Marcus Mariota really wasn't one of the guys—that he was just there because the Predators wanted the sizzle from his big name. You might have remembered NFL scouts had concerns about his leadership ability when they were studying him prior to the 2015 draft. You might wonder how a soft-spoken teetotaler ever could be respected by those burly, tattooed, wild-eyed men.

But if you saw Mariota at a Titans game instead of a Predators game, you would have a different impression.

Down seven to the Raiders with less than two minutes to go in Nashville last September, the Titans were driving. A 19-yard pass from Mariota to Tajae Sharpe put the Titans on the Raiders' 3-yard line, but then left tackle Taylor Lewan was penalized for unnecessary roughness after diving on the pile. The ball was moved back to the 18, the drive petered out and the Titans lost the game.

Fans jeered Lewan. He was savaged on social media. ESPN analyst Kirk Herbstreit called Lewan "an absolute fraud" and a fake tough guy on Twitter. For Lewan, it felt like him against the world. He lost a game, the fans and the trust of his locker room. Then about an hour later, Mariota pulled him aside in a quiet hallway before the players dispersed.

"Don't ever stop being yourself," he told him. "I'm with you."

Now Lewan will follow Mariota anywhere. And he isn't the only one.

"We'll do anything for Marcus," center Ben Jones says.

The invitation to the Predators game was extended only to the offensive linemen. It was their idea to bring Mariota along. They also bring him to their Thursday night dinners every week, and he sometimes serves as designated driver.

"He goes out with us and he doesn't drink, but he's one of the boys," Lewan says. "He doesn't act like he's above us. He's not on a high horse. That's awesome. I'm never going to pass judgment. It's the perfect yin and yang between us."

And not just between him and the offensive line.

In Mariota's third season, the Titans are his team.

Anyone who has seen Mariota's golden eyes flash in a Titans huddle on game day knows.

"He's demanding in the huddle," head coach Mike Mularkey says. "He's vocal in the huddle. He cusses a lot in the huddle. He's as competitive in the huddle as anybody I've been around."

To sum it up, Mularkey declares him "our leader."

Mariota is detailed, and he expects no less from his receivers. When one of them runs a sloppy route, they hear about it.

"He will get on you if you aren't doing what you are supposed to do," Titans wide receiver Rishard Matthews says. "But he does it in a respectful manner."

If being demanding without being abrasive is an art, then Mariota is an artist

"There is a mindset you have to have when you get out there on Sunday," he says. "Guys understand it's out of love. It's not something where I'm trying to embarrass them. It's trying to get them to be the best they can be."

Mariota has become a veteran and has grown as a leader.

"Some of the best leaders in the world find they learn something every day to be a better leader," he says. "Whether it's developing a relationship, learning what someone likes or doesn't like, putting for the extra effort so guys understand you do what you preach. The best leaders adapt and are flexible with their situations. I try to be the same."

Mariota leads by knowing how to treat individuals differently. He leads by showing up every morning before his teammates—by 6 or shortly after—and by staying until the players' parking lot is nearly empty. He leads by volunteering to sign autographs every day after practice for a group of 25 kids chosen by team representatives.

His personal goal this season? "To be the best teammate I can be," he says.

Mariota was one of six Titans voted by teammates to be a captain last season. But Mariota and the other captains decided not to wear "Cs" on their jerseys so they didn't stand out from their teammates.

New Titans receiver Eric Decker has found Mariota's demeanor similar to another quarterback he played with.

"I love the even-keel, down to earth, humble approach," Decker says. "Being around Peyton [Manning], he had that as well. Both are guys' guys, and [they're] football junkies as far as the film, studying the game, knowing their craft."

MARCUS MARIOTA

Marcus Ardel Taulauniu Mariota grew up on the island of Oahu, the son of a blonde German mother and a thick Samoan father. They taught him Fa'asamoa—the ways of Samoa that stress humility and respect.

"I would say that's probably the focal point of my leadership," Mariota says. "Our culture is all about we, never about yourself. I always try to make it a point when I'm talking to guys to say we. It's not you need to do this, It's what can we do better. It makes it more of a family culture."

These Titans are ready to be led. They won nine games last season after winning three in Mariota's first year. They made a number of acclaimed moves last offseason and became the trendy pick to win the AFC South.

Mariota, meanwhile, is in a good place. His 93.8 career passer rating is third-best in NFL history among quarterbacks who threw at least 600 passes in their first two years behind only Dan Marino and Russell Wilson-according to Pro Football Reference. He has been his most menacing to defenses when the smell of blood is in the water. In the red zone. Mariota has thrown 33 passes touchdown and zero interceptions.

On Saturday, he is scheduled to play his first game since breaking his fibula on Christmas Eve. After an offseason season of rehab, Mariota is moving well.

Mariota can become a much better quarterback this season.

"The sky's the limit for him," Matthews says. "I'm expecting big things."

If Mariota has proven anything in his first two seasons with the Titans, it's that he is capable of growth. When he came to the Titans after playing in Oregon's spread offense, he was determined to show he could be a pocket quarterback. He worked at disciplining himself to stay put, even when his instinct was telling him to run. Last season, the emphasis was on getting rid of the football and avoiding the big hit, even if it meant throwing it away.

This year, Mularkey says he is giving Mariota more responsibility at the line of scrimmage. Mariota has been allowed to choose from two plays at the line in the past. Now he will be allowed to call whatever play he wants if he sees a defensive look that can be exploited.

"He's ready for that," Mularkey says of Mariota, who scored a 33 on the Wonderlic prior to the 2015 draft, according to former NFL scout John Middlekauff. "He's pretty sharp, and he works at it. He can do it all the time. He understands everything, what defenses are trying to do. He is amazing with protections, gets us in the right protections."

Empowering Mariota at the line of scrimmage wouldn't mean as much if the Titans had not acquired more players who can exploit advantageous matchups. They revamped their receiving corps, drafting Corey Davis with the fifth pick and Taywan Taylor with the 72nd, and signing free agent Eric Decker.

These additions came a year after the team added running backs DeMarco Murray and Derrick Henry. Last season, when defenses ganged up on the run, Mariota didn't have many appealing options. This year, he should.

"To be able to have a bunch of different guys to throw the ball to and get the ball in their hands and let them do their thing, it will really help our offense," Mariota says.

Davis can take a short pass and turn it into a long gain, or snatch a ball over the top of a defender. Taylor's suddenness plays well in the slot. Decker is a veteran with a knack for getting open—and Mariota has acknowledged it with his throws.

A natural chemistry between Mariota and Decker has been evident throughout training camp. "I feel we've had some plays where we just kind of connected," says Decker, who chose to sign with the Titans in part because of Mariota. "I hope we can keep progressing with that, getting comfortable with each other and trusting one another."

After one sweaty practice ended recently, the large majority of the Titans retreated to the cool of the locker room or the arms of loved ones. Mariota, meanwhile, worked on his drops for nearly 30 minutes.

By trying to improve his footwork, he is hoping for more accurate throws to Decker and the other receivers.

"I got pretty inconsistent with my drops [late last season], and that led to some inaccuracy," he says.

The result was noticeable. Over his first 12 games, Mariota had a completion percentage of 64.29 and a rating of 101.9. In his final three, his completion percentage was 45.21 and he had a 63.0 rating.

"If I have my feet under me, I'm a much better passer," Mariota says. "It's getting to that same position every time and making sure I'm consistent."

The second overall pick of the 2015 draft lives in a condominium overlooking the town that could be his. He has come to know what Music City is about, attending CMA Fest and concerts from Florida Georgia Line to Tim McGraw.

But it's not like he's barhopping every night. In fact, don't expect a response if you text him after 9 p.m. Mariota usually turns out the lights by then.

He is more comfortable on a beach than in a honky-tonk saloon. His idea of relaxing is bodyboarding off Oahu's South Shore.

"When I'm at home, that's the first thing I do is get in the water," he says. "I love bodyboarding and bodysurfing. It's a special time for me, kind of my sanctuary when I get in the water." And what would he do in a saloon anyway?

"For me, I've never been curious about it—drinking," Mariota says.
"It's never been something I wanted to do."

After NBCSN broadcast the scene of Mariota and his linemen at the Predators game, Mariota was asked repeatedly about not drinking beer with his teammates. At a banquet in June, he revealed he never had a sip of alcohol in his life.

Things have changed since then.

Ardel Deppe was a construction contractor from Kauai who loved to cast a line into the sea and sip a margarita. He passed away in April, and his family celebrated his life in Hawaii in July.

"He was a great man," Mariota says of his grandfather. "So the least I could do was have one of his favorite drinks and pay a little tribute to him."

It does not sound as if Mariota is hooked on margaritas, though.

"Hated it," he says. "Tasted horrible."

Mariota lives cleanly. He tries not to take painkillers, and he has no use for marijuana.

"I've never done it and probably never will," he says.

The worst thing he ingests is chocolate—especially Oreos. "My vice," he says.

He dropped about eight pounds in the offseason to get to 218, so he couldn't have eaten too many.

"I'm a big believer your body is capable of taking care of itself," Mariota says. "If you are putting the right foods in, doing the right things and taking care of it, your body will take care of you."

Now, he feels his body is right. He has more command of his offense than ever. He has better players around him.

The Titans are his team, and he could accomplish something special this season.

Even he might grab one of those beers from his linemen and drink to that

THE COLLECTED STORIES OF MARCUS MARIOTA

BY KEVIN CLARK THE RINGER SEPTEMBER 5, 2017

The first rule of Marcus Mariota is that he does not talk about himself. He can do many things—roll out and throw across his body, hang in the pocket and zip the ball down the field, run past linebackers when he must—but self-praise is not one of them.

It is a good thing, then, that everyone has a Mariota story.

"Last year, there was a rookie who didn't have a car," said Ben Jones, the Titans' center. "Marcus found out and he'd drive the rookie back and forth. Even after games, we'd land late at night, he'd go 30 minutes out of his way."

Who was it?

"He didn't make the team," Jones said.

Mariota won't tell you these stories, but everyone else will. Like the time he drove three hours to fix a teammate's car. How he always makes the bed—even when he's staying at a hotel. And the way he neatly puts cafeteria items away for other teammates—and guilts them into doing the same.

These are the legends of Marcus Mariota. They are as crucial to his story as anything that happens on the field. There's an entire locker room that would do anything for him because these moments, stacked upon one another, form the most interesting and effective leadership style in football.

Mariota is on the verge of becoming an NFL star. With the 23-year-old at the helm, the Titans seem primed for a run at a playoff spot—a young team coming off a nine-win season, buoyed by an improved roster and playing in one of the league's wideopen divisions. Only three players bested Mariota's 12.4 yards per completion last year, and he was ranked 50th among all NFL players by an NFL Network player poll after his second season.

But when Mariota starts winning big, it will not just be because of his electric athleticism and strong arm, it will be because of stories like this:

"Here's how he's amazing," Titans tackle Taylor Lewan said. "He goes out with the boys even though he doesn't drink. Most people who don't drink and then go out with you, they are judgmental fucks. That's what they are. They look at you and say, 'Oh really? How many beers is that, Taylor?' Marcus is not that guy. He's always ready to be a designated driver."

During training camps this summer, if I knew someone—on any team—had interacted with Mariota either with the Titans in the NFL or when he was at Oregon, I'd ask for their Mariota story. They always had one.

When former Oregon linebacker Tony Washington, now with the Houston Texans, was driving from Eugene to Los Angeles one spring break, his car was nearly out of gas and then broke down after an oil leak. He called his roommate, wide receiver Josh Huff, and asked for help. Washington told Huff what to buy at Walmart and said he'd reimburse him for the oil and the gas that Huff used to get down to the site of the breakdown. Huff showed up three hours later, but Mariota was driving. "I'm like 'Jesus,' because I hadn't even spoken to Marcus about this," Washington said.

Marcus handed him the oil then escorted him to a gas station—but refused to take the money.

"I came over to the car window and he's saying, 'No, no, no' and he's rolling up the window," Washington said. "I literally had to throw it in the small crack of the window before he rolled it up, that was the only way he would take it." I asked Mariota about this episode: "It was a teammate who needed help," he said.

"Shout-out to Marcus's parents," said former Duck and current Kansas City Chief De'Anthony Thomas. "Great job."

The history of bad scouting reports is long and illustrious.

The entire ESPN draft crew in 1998 couldn't believe the Arizona Cardinals were willing to give up the chance to draft Ryan Leaf for a package of picks and players. Doug Gottlieb, when he was at ESPN, said that Steph Curry lacked the upside and athleticism of Patty Mills, who's a sixth man with the Spurs, or Jonny Flynn, who's currently playing professional basketball in Italy. But it's hard to find a more ridiculous notion than the one that made its way through NFL circles in the spring of 2015. According to multiple sources, including a coach and executive who spoke with Oregon head coach Mark Helfrich, Mariota's lack of red flags was ... a

This was the perfect example of the draft process eating itself. In an age of information overload, the league was gifted a spotless prospect, and by the time the draft world was done with him, he was dirty because he was spotless.

Titans general manager Jon Robinson was a Buccaneers front office lieutenant at the time, and even though his organization drafted a different quarterback that year (Jameis Winston, the 2015 no. 1 overall pick), he knew how silly that logic was.

"I certainly didn't downgrade him because he's a good human being," Robinson said.

Robinson had also heard rumors about Mariota's soft-spokenness.

"I bristled at him just to see how he'd react to me. They didn't do a whole lot of huddling at Oregon, so I said, 'If we draft you and [then-Buccaneers offensive tackle Logan] Mankins misses his block, how are you going to rally him? What if he barks back at you? Marcus came back in that calm, calm voice. 'I've done it before. I'll be able to rally him. Trust me."'.

"Leading by example" is usually code for "never talks and isn't a leader." With Mariota, however, it's real. Mariota rarely yells, but his teammates seem to hang on every word or action.

"I think it comes down to 'be yourself," Mariota said. "Guys will respect that. Guys will gravitate towards that. I don't want to be something that I'm not. Guys tend to pick up on that quickly."

"His leadership is absolutely amazing," backup Matt Cassel said.

Mariota has a habit, Cassel said, of getting guys to do things. In the middle of this August, Titans players were roaring and ready for a training camp off-day. As soon as their meetings the night before are done, they are gone. "Everyone's in a rush to get out," Cassel said. "There's these folding chairs in the meeting room that weren't put away. [Mariota] walks in the back of the meeting room and starts folding them up and going and helping somebody who [would have to do it]. There is no other player who is doing this. I'm ready to get out of there, and I see that and I'm like, 'Oh, OK, I'll help too." Other players followed suit.

Darnell Arceneaux, Mariota's high school coach, said there was a tradition at Saint Louis High School in Hawaii in which the lowest quarterback on the depth chart would pick up equipment after practice and carry it to the locker room. That tradition stood until Mariota wouldn't let anyone else pick up balls and cones at practice.

"So we've got this guy who has already committed to Oregon and he's bringing in as many footballs as he can," he said. "It was amazing."

The generosity doesn't only exist off the field, either. If anyone on the Tennessee offense makes a mistake, Mariota will do whatever he can to claim responsibility.

"He throws you a ball, it gets tipped, and it ends up getting intercepted. He will come back and say, 'Hey that was my fault.' And, clearly, it was the receiver's fault," said tight end Delanie Walker. "But he takes it upon himself to say, 'This was my mistake. Let's fix it.""

"Deep down he knows [it's not his fault], and he knows that I know," said quarterbacks coach Jason Michael. "But what he wants to do is remove all doubt from his teammates. He wants his teammates to know that during film sessions, he has their back."

In fact, he won't even go out of his way to correct the coaching staff. At some Titans practices this summer, coaches have accidentally left words out of play calls. This is a perfect time for a quarterback to show the coaching staff up. Michael remembers one instance in which the staff forgot to "tag" the X receiver to indicate where he'd split out on the play. Mariota quietly added the tag in the play call and never mentioned it to the staff.

Because of the example he sets—always picking up after someone else, taking the blame for his teammates' mistakes—it lends more power to the times he does decide to lay into a teammate.

"I think that's what shocks people. When you tell people what Marcus is like in the huddle, they don't believe it," Walker said. "One time Taylor Lewan—you know, he's one of these guys who is always downfield hitting somebody. Well, one time we were huddling and Taylor wasn't in the huddle and Marcus yells, 'Taylor, get your butt in the huddle!" and we're all going, 'Whoa."

Last summer, the Titans held a runof-the-mill post-practice autograph session for Mariota during training camp. "I think there were like 700 people who showed up," Robinson said. This is not usually a problem because, as Robinson put it, "A lot of guys sign for 15 minutes and then it's 'I've gotta go." However, Mariota signed every single item for everyone who came by.

"He stands out there in the hot sun when he doesn't have to do that and signs autographs for two hours," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said. "It is not fake. This is the real deal."

A year later, the Titans' autograph process has changed. Now, the team selects about 20 fans to go on the field and interact with Mariota. (Super-secret sources tell me if you are a kid and you wear a Mariota jersey, you've got a pretty good shot).

As a native Hawaiian, Mariota's early brushes with pro football came at the Pro Bowl, where autographs were the main attraction. "I got a bunch—Hines Ward, Jerry Rice, Emmitt Smith," Mariota said. "When I'm signing, I remember being one of those people waiting in line for a signature, and I just do my best to get through as many people as I can."

He asks everyone where the signature should go on their ball or jersey; as a former autograph hound, he knows it's never where you think to sign. And he knows that a few seconds with a star athlete is a good way to get shy kids to open up: "When they come over to you and have the opportunity, you just try to spend a few moments. That's an easy way to get them talking."

Mariota's interaction with complete strangers is a constant source amusement—or bemusement—among his teammates. Cassel jokes that you "can't get through many meals" with the starting quarterback because he never turns away the strangers who approach him.

"We were up in Bandon Dunes [Golf Resort in Oregon], eating at this hole-in-the-wall restaurant. We sit down and the entire place closes in on us. I'm like 'Oh man, come on," said tight end Phillip Supernaw, who just wanted to eat his meal in peace. Mariota, the one the other patrons were after, was not only unbothered, he got to know everyone in the restaurant.

"I think people do a good job at respecting his space, but even if they don't, he's so good at dealing with it," Supernaw said. "He takes the time to learn everyone's name and act like he—well, not act like. He genuinely cares."

Mariota's attention to detail, of course, also shows up on the field. Michael said that Oregon's uptempo spread system prepared him for the professional ranks much more than outsiders may think. After all, the NFL is becoming infamous for its well-worn bias against spread offenses. Mariota, however, entered the NFL with the full ability to analyze film properly, which is not all that common. But there are still small details Mariota has to master.

"When he was at Oregon, they ran the same plays—whether it was first down, third down, red zone, two minute, whatever. They played with the speed and tempo they played with. He never really had to play with clock [constraints]," Michael said.

Two years into his professional career, Mariota is not, in fact, perfect: He has fumbled 19 times in two seasons, ranking in the top-five in each of his NFL seasons. Coming from Oregon's electric offense, his ability to make a big play out of anything can actually be a problem, since he came into the league without much inclination to slide or end a play if nothing is going to come of it. Michael mentions the win last November against Chicago, when Mariota threw the ball away a handful of times to set up field goals as an example of the player's growth as a well-rounded NFL player.

This is the natural progression of his work habits. "When you show him the film, you're not bringing up anything because he already did the work," Michael said. "He wants to talk about play 14 of the Miami game. How are we going to approach this?"

Mularkey said that Mariota's ability to impart his attention to detail on his teammates has been key to the team's success, as they've improved from two wins the year before Mariota arrived to three in his rookie season and then nine in 2016. "He's not going to embarrass you, but he'll tell guys, 'This is the way I want it done, this is the way I expect it to be,' and guys respect that," Mularkey said.

At quarterback meetings, Cassel and Mariota sit next to each other at a cramped desk. Unlike his positionmate, Mariota wants everything clean. "Matt's shit is all over the place," Michael said. During film time, Cassel will often take his pen and start marking up Mariota's notepad just to make it less perfect.

"What Marcus does, I guarantee you," Michael said, "is he goes home, grabs his notebook, and rewrites everything until it's perfect."

MARCUS MARIOTA IS ON AN UNPRECEDENTED PATH TO NFL GREATNESS

BY GEOFF SCHWARTZ SBNATION.COM JULY 14, 2017

Hope. The NFL sells hope more than any other league. In the NBA, we can pencil in the Warriors and Cavs in the finals. In baseball, does anyone care if it's not the Yankees, Cubs, Red Sox, or Cardinals? College football has Alabama, Clemson, USC, Michigan, etc.

For NFL fans, this time of year is hopeful. There are fan bases across the country getting excited for their team's run to the Super Bowl. Get hot at the right time, and you can watch your favorite team play in Minnesota on a cold Sunday in February.

One fan base whose hopes should be strong right now is that of the Tennessee Titans. That hope rests, as it rightfully should, on the shoulders of quarterback Marcus Mariota.

As Mariota enters his third professional season, the sky is the limit. I'm an Oregon alum, so I've been following Marcus since he first stepped onto the field in the Oregon green and yellow (or gray, black, orange, white or whatever other color Oregon chooses on a Saturday). I knew Mariota was talented. He's intelligent, a great leader, has a strong arm, and can move fluidly.

Still, I was skeptical he would succeed in the NFL.

One style of quarterback play wins Super Bowls — a pocket passer. There has yet to be a college spread option offense quarterback who's won a Super Bowl. Everyone will scream Russell Wilson at their screens. He played in a pro style offense at Wisconsin, and he's a pocket passer before he's a runner. The way Mariota is progressing, I could see him being the first quarterback from a college spread option offense to win a Super Bowl.

Mariota had an up-and-down, injury-plagued rookie season. He had turnover issues and got sacked 38 times, way too often for a rookie to get comfortable. To make matters worse, there was a coaching change midway through his rookie season. Ken Whisenhunt was out; Mike Mularkey was in.

There were other changes that needed to be made to get Mariota comfortable in the pocket.

Heading into the 2016 season, Mularkey and Co. added DeMarco Murray and drafted Derrick Henry to pair in the backfield. They also drafted stud right tackle Jack Conklin to help shore up protection for Mariota.

It was announced, with some mockery, that Mularkey wanted to go old school and run the football first, pass second. Use a tight end and a fullback on the field at the same time, which is the opposite direction most teams are heading nowadays. Now a full season removed from this decision, it couldn't have gone any better for Mariota's development.

By forcing Mariota into an old school offensive structure, it made him learn to play quarterback from the beginning — start under center, learn the proper reads, and improve as a pocket passer.

At times, offensive staffs decide to incorporate spread offense elements to help ease a college quarterback into the NFL. This doesn't always lead to success and more importantly, it can lead to injuries. You'd rather the quarterback get hit as little as possible.

Lastly, when you start with a runbased offense, it opens up the play action for success. Play-action passes are generally easier reads for the quarterback. The linebackers feel run, suck up, and you throw a crosser behind them. Not as complicated as spreading it out. Without much help at wide receiver, Mariota had a much-improved second season before breaking his ankle in Week 15. Mariota threw for 26 touchdowns and just nine interceptions. He had a top-10 quarterback rating, and his offense was just above league average.

Where Mariota shines, where it counts the most, is in the red zone. Lots of offenses can move between the 20s. That's easy. The field is spread out, and there are plenty of holes to find long chunk plays. In the red zone, things happen fast.

What's driving the Tennessee Titans' resurgence? Geoff Schwartz takes a closer look at the best red zone offense in the NFL and the man behind it, quarterback Marcus Mariota.

Last season, Mariota completed 62.5 percent of his red-zone passes, good for top five in the league. He's yet to throw a red-zone interception in his two seasons, running his tally to 33 touchdowns against zero picks. This is all without a go-to red-zone receiver.

A good front office is one that knows how to surround its franchise player with weapons. In 2016, they were Murray, Henry, and Conklin. This offseason, the Titans drafted Corey Davis fifth overall, a bigbodied wide receiver for Mariota. The Titans also drafted a receiver in the third round and a tight end in the fourth. Lastly, they brought in free agent Eric Decker, another go-to receiver in the red zone. Mariota should be excited about this offseason haul.

As well as improving the offense around Mariota, the Titans upgraded their secondary that was piss-poor last season. Improved play on defense should equal better field position for the Titans offense and more points.

Everything is looking up for the Titans and Mariota. I wouldn't be surprised to see the Titans, behind their franchise quarterback, win the division and go deep into the playoffs.

RISHARD MATTHEWS

DIRECT SNAPS: MATTHEWS STAYED THE COURSE, LANDED IN NFL

BY RISHARD MATTHEWS TITANS ONLINE DECEMBER 2, 2016

Direct Snaps is a story series contributed by Tennessee Titans players sharing their perspectives, both on and off the field, with fans. This week's entry comes from wide receiver Rishard Matthews.

There was a day, not all that long ago, I had to come to terms with reality. That reality was not what you see right now—playing in the NFL, scoring touchdowns and having one of the best seasons of my career.

My reality was working at the JUCO library.

Six years ago, I was in a much different place. The NFL was still a dream in my mind, but I was far from it. My story is crazy, and a lot of people don't know the journey that brought me here.

I grew up in a military family, so I got used to moving around a lot because my dad was in the Marines. Even though I grew up in that strict way of life, I always said I was going to play football. Everybody that knew me knew I was going to play sports.

Coming out of high school, I got recruited by Oregon and committed to play there. But I didn't score high enough on the SAT or the ACT, so I become a non-qualifier and ended up having to go to junior college. I started off at Santa Ana College. Things were going good there before I got in a car accident. I was the passenger in the car and messed up my sternum in the accident. The sternum has to heal on its own, so I lost a lot of weight during that process because I couldn't train or work out. I didn't feel right playing football after that, and I ended up having to transfer schools to Orange Coast College. I did the spring semester there and ended up being two credits short to be eligible to play for that next season. I remember the feeling I had at that point... what are you going to do from here?

I decided to move to Texas to live with my uncle and go to another junior college, Northlake College, to work on getting my GPA up. They didn't have a football team. I played in some six-on-six leagues, worked out and tried to find people to run routes with, but I got to a place of kind of just accepting that football was probably over for me.

Meanwhile, I started working at the school library and getting comfortable there. I liked interacting with all the kids, I started finding my place and I knew where all the books were at. I realized you've got to accept what happens to you. I wasn't going to sit there and whine about my place in life.

But then Bakersfield College reached out to me and I ended up packing up and moving back to California to play there, still hoping to end up at a DI school eventually. By the time I passed my classes to qualify for a bigger program, pretty much everyone told me all of their scholarships were passed out, but Nevada said they had a few spots left. I didn't even take a recruiting trip. I moved up there on a Saturday, got into the dorms and started class on Monday, not really knowing anything about the university or the football team.

After two years at Nevada, I was drafted by the Miami Dolphins in 2012 and spent four years there, which was the longest amount of time I've ever spent in one place in my life. Now I'm a Titan and hopefully I can make Tennessee my home, as well.

When I look back on it, I can see how it's all part of the process. I've had failures and I've had to go in different directions than I planned at times. But being here means that much more knowing everything I've been through just to make it.

I went back to Texas recently and decided to stop by Northlake College while I was there, just to go and reminisce on everything. Working at the JUCO library was my reality just six years ago. Being back there made me think about the importance of being positive in all life situations thrown at you. I could have let so many things bring me down, but instead, I was just being thankful that I was in that position to learn.

My journey has taught me a lot. But more than anything, I learned to stay the course. Remain positive, no matter what situation you're in. Anything can happen. And don't let anybody take away your dreams.

SITTING DOWN WITH TITANS WR RISHARD MATTHEWS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE DECEMBER 31, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The Titans made receiver Rishard Matthews a priority in free agency this past offseason, and signed him to a multi-year deal.

Since, he's developed into one of the team's top playmakers.

Titans Online sat down with Matthews recently about a number of topics, on the field and off it.

Here's how the conversation went....

After spending your first four NFL seasons with the Dolphins, you headed into free agency. After garnering interest from other teams, you ended up signing with the Titans. What made Tennessee a good fit?

Matthews: Just the overall opportunity, really. I knew I could come in and compete, and contribute right away. And I wanted to be part of getting an organization headed in the right direction.

What was the adjustment period like for you at the start with a new team? After a slow start in September, you took off in October, and ended up scoring six touchdowns in a span of seven games. What changed?

Matthews: A lot of things. After being somewhere for four years, you get so used to how things are done and how things are, and it was different. I wouldn't say there were some growing pains here early on, but maybe bumps in the road is the best way to describe it. Not being on the same page with some people, but it is what it is now. Things are on the right track.

Heading into the season finale, you've already set career highs for catches (56), receiving yards (831) and touchdowns (8). How would you describe your first season with the Titans?

Matthews: I think it's gone well. I feel like I've had the best season of my career, and I plan to just continue to grow. I still don't feel like I've played my best football. So hopefully I can continue to grow and get better as the years go on.

I know you grew up in a military family. Your dad, Andre, is a retired U.S. Marine Corps master sergeant and your half-brother also served in the Marines. How did that background shape you as an individual?

Matthews: It just taught me how to be respectful toward everybody, but also it taught me you have to give respect in order to receive respect, and respect your elders and everything. It just taught me how to be tough, and it taught me how to adjust to all situations. That's what they do in the military, they move around and adjust and have to be able to make any place home.

I've talked to you about your half-brother, Christopher Ruiz, on several occasions. He was killed while serving as a retired Marine working as a private defense contractor in Afghanistan in October 2015. He served in the Marines for 10 years. How did his death impact your life?

Matthews: He meant a lot to me. He was my brother, and you can't replace family. When something like that happens, you just have a different perspective on life and you don't take certain things for granted any more. I try to a better job of keeping communication with that side of my family. It is just a different perspective on life. Your life can be taken at any time, whether you are doing good or bad. God takes anyone He wants to. I think about (Christopher) all the time, and wear wristbands (with his name on it) and I have stuff hanging in my car for him. I find myself just talking with him lot.

There's no doubt you paid your dues to get to the NFL. After attending Bakersfield College and Santa Ana College, you finished at Nevada. In the 2012 NFL Draft, you went undrafted. Does that entire experience make you appreciate where you are today even more?

Matthews: It definitely does. I think it definitely gave me a chip on my shoulder, too, and it made me want to show people I belong in this league. I wouldn't say I ever doubted myself, but the process was bumpy. It wasn't an easy road. I guess at some points I thought it wasn't going to happen, but I stuck with it. I have been saying I was going to be doing this since I was young.

You were born on San Diego, went to school on the West Coast and played the last four seasons at Miami. How have you enjoyed living in Nashville?

Matthews: It is way different from where I was the last four years especially, but it has been great. I have a family, so it is a good place to raise a kid and just sit back and enjoy the town. There's a lot of good places to eat. One thing I really like is experiencing the different seasons. In Miami you don't get to experience all the different seasons, you get a tropical season and then you get sunny, hot weather. So it has been good.

What do you want defenders to think when they hear the name Rishard Matthews?

Matthews: Tough. I want them to know when they line up against me, it is not going to be easy. Some defenders line up against guys and they are just like, 'Oh, this is going to be an easy one.' When they line up against me, I want them to know it is not going to be an easy day.

When teammates and coaches think of Rishard Matthews, what do you want them to think?

Matthews: I just want them to think I'm a good football player, and a tough playmaker who will fight. At the end of the day it is what you do on the field to gain respect in this league. And I want them to know I am a team player.

After the best season of your NFL career, what will change for you heading into 2017?

Matthews: I feel like this year I showed what I am capable of doing, and hopefully it is a smooth road from here on out as far as being a guy people can depend on. But in the offseason, I plan to just keep working hard, and get ready for the next season.

TITANS CB BRICE MCCAIN KEPT HIS NOTES, AND IT'S PAID OFF

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MAY 20, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Brice McCain was the first.

Before the Titans traded for running DeMarco Murray, before the team added over a half-dozen free agents, and before the 10-man draft class was selected, McCain signed with the organization back on March 2.

The veteran cornerback has seen a lot of changes since.

"I love it," McCain said. "The team went a lot of good directions, and made a lot of good moves. Watching as a guy who just came in, too, you really look at it as a positive. We want to win this year, and I really like it. We brought a lot of young guys in and did well in the draft. So it is a positive."

McCain, who has played 100 games during his NFL career with Houston (2009-13), Pittsburgh (2014) and Miami (2015), said the adjustment to a new team has been smooth, in part, because of his preparation.

He kept his homework.

McCain played in Dick LeBeau's defense in Pittsburgh in 2014, when he registered three interceptions and 25 tackles in 14 games, including nine starts. LeBeau joined the Titans in 2015, and he'll serve as assistant head coach/defensive coordinator in 2016 under coach Mike Mularkey.

"I always keep all my notes from previous years," McCain said. "To come back in here and play with coach LeBeau, I look back on my notes and it was very familiar stuff. I jumped right in it. You can move pretty fast so you always know what you are doing.

"I've had a lot of good years, but (that season under LeBeau) was one of my better years." McCain (5-9, 190), who has nine career interceptions, has been working at the nickel position with the Titans. He's a serious contender in the fight to claim the job.

With the Dolphins, McCain played in 14 games with 11 starts in 2015. He totaled 39 tackles, eight passes defensed and one interception. Prior to joining the Dolphins and before his year in Pittsburgh, McCain spent five seasons with the Houston Texans after being drafted by the franchise in the sixth round of the 2009 NFL Draft.

McCain loves playing nickel, he said.

"It is a special position because you have to know linebackers, you have to know safety, you have to know corner, and you have to know nickel as a whole," McCain said. "A lot of receivers have the whole field to work with, so you have to take away leverage and learn how to control your body on breaks because they have a lot of field to work with."

He also loves competition, and he has some in Tennessee. In addition to the returning veterans, the Titans drafted two cornerbacks in the 2016 NFL Draft – LeShaun Sims and Kalan Reed. Jason McCourty and Perrish Cox return, along with B.W. Webb, Blidi Wreh-Wilson, Cody Riggs and Curtis Riley. The Titans signed former Steelers cornerback Antwon Blake in March as well.

"You don't want to come in and not compete," McCain said. "I love to compete, and I think every corner in this room does. It's a good thing to have competition and bring out the best in everybody."

McCain, who visited the Buccaneers and had another visit lined up before deciding to sign with the Titans, said he's happy he came aboard when he did.

He likes the feel of optimism in the building, and on the field.

"It wasn't a leap of faith," McCain said. "I think if you bring enough players here, anything is possible for a team to win games and turn a season around. Last year is over, it's a whole new year. Every team comes in thinking they are going to win a Super Bowl. That's our mindset, to come out here and work hard and try and seize that goal."

DERRICK MORGAN

DERRICK MORGAN'S PATIENCE PAYING OFF IN TITANS' PASS-RUSH

BY PAUL KUHARSKY ESPN.COM NOVEMBER 4, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- As Derrick Morgan went three consecutive games to open the season without recording a sack, he tried to stay true to Tennessee Titans mantras emphasizing effort and execution.

In the five games since, he's found his way to 5.5 sacks and reestablished himself as part of a productive front.

"The plays that you kind of notice statistically, they happen or they don't," defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau said. "If a player is consistent in his execution and effort, he is going to have some games that are up there productivity-wise. Any given player can play a great game and really not show up much on the statistic sheet, but if you ask the opponent, they'll say, 'That guy is a handful.'

"I think Derrick is always in that category. He may get sacks this week, he may not get it until next week. He's going to get pressure every week. He's one of our leaders. Our veteran leaders have done a great job for us on defense."

LeBeau preaches about that sort of patience and he never harps on a lack of stats. That's healthy for a player like Morgan.

Before the Titans strengthened their pass-rush scheme and personnel, he would often get close but not record the sort of numbers expected from top rushers.

"I think about how we started and kind of where we're at now, just kind of staying the course of being consistent with the process," Morgan said. "It's a week-in, week-out thing. You have to come to work, you have to approach it like a professional win, lose or draw.

"The results hopefully will come. And they've been coming. It's what he's been trying to preach and more so as a team we've been trying to exemplify that."

HOW AN NFL LINEBACKER IS TACKLING THE BUSINESS WORLD--THE GARY VAYNERCHUK WAY

BY JONATHAN SMALL ENTREPRENEUR.COM JULY 14, 2017

On a recent Monday night at the new Dream Hotel in Hollywood, Kevin Durant and Ezekiel Elliott bobbed their heads up and down to a live performance by Ty Dolla $ign, while hostesses dressed as sexy refs kept the champagne and vodka flowing. The club was packed with models, celebs, impossibly large athletes, and impossibly wealthy executives, all there for the VaynerSports Annual Celebrity ESPYS Kickoff Party.

Derrick Morgan, an 8-year-veteran linebacker for the Tennessee Titans, sized up the room like he would an opposing offense. When he's not pummeling quarterbacks, Morgan invests in startups and runs his own venture business. He seemed pleased with the networking opportunities.

"The only thing that's impressive to professional athletes is billionaires and CEOs, and the only thing that's impressive to billionaires and CEOs is professional athletes," explains Justin Giangrande, party organizer and Executive VP of VaynerSports, a full-service athlete representation agency. "Bring those two groups of people together in an environment where there's no deliverable objective and good things come from it." As proof, he cites an informal meeting at last year's party between an athlete and a Verizon executive that led to a marketing deal.

This might not be the traditional way to do business—but VaynerSports is not your traditional company. Started 14 months ago by marketing gurus and industry disruptors, Gary and AJ Vaynerchuk, the agency prides itself on building their players' brands both on and off the field. Rather than just offering show-me-the-money style contract negotiations, VaynerSports takes a "partner in life" approach—adding marketing and post-career guidance to the mix. Some of their high-profile clients include Braxton Miller of the Houston Texans, and Morgan, who signed just two weeks ago.

Though new to VayerSports, Morgan was no stranger to the Vayner brand. Last year, he began following Gary on social media, watching his videos, and listening to his podcast. "I thought, this guy is a hustler," he says. "He's teaching patience and working your face off for 13 years. I respect that."

also respects Vavner's entrepreneurial game. During Morgan's rookie season, he tore his ACL and had to sit out for a year. For the first time in his life, he realized that he was in jeopardy of never playing again-and that scared him. "You always hear about statistics of players going broke," he says. "I didn't want to be a statistic. I realized I needed to invest in myself outside of the game."

Morgan always had an interest in business, but he never pursued it. With nothing but time on his hands, he embarked on a one-man, business learning tour. He visited Barnes & Noble over and over, picking up all the best-selling business books. "I'd never been a reader, but I broke that pattern of playing video games and watching YouTube videos, and started to read and learn as much as I could," he says.

Next, he grilled every successful person he encountered, including his financial advisor. "He told me that he'd never been asked as many questions as I asked," Morgan says with a smile. "I told him, 'I'm sorry, but I'm not sorry." He admits asking people for advice wasn't easy for him. "I'm an introvert by nature, but I forced myself out of my comfort zone."

As Morgan's knowledge expanded, so did the quality of his network. He developed an interest in angel investing and put his money into various tech startups. He also took his business education to the next level, earning an MBA from the University of Miami.

Morgan recently co-founded Huddle Ventures, which helps athletes monetize their influence and serves as a social impact platform dedicated to empowering young, minority entrepreneurs. Last year, Huddle Ventures sent 100 students to SXSW to help them land jobs with Snapchat, Google, and Microsoft.

Back at the party, Morgan took some time away from working the room to reflect on his future. "In 5 to 10 years they're going to tell me that I can't play football anymore," he says. "But I don't see myself working for someone else after my NFL career." Like the Vayner brothers, he believes being an entrepreneur is his true calling. "I like the idea of being able to have a vision and work towards it based on my own principles and values. My success is in my own hands"

DEMARCO MURRAY

DEMARCO MURRAY, AND HIS DAD, FELL IN LOVE WITH TITANS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JANUARY 27, 2017

ORLANDO, Fla. – DeMarco Murray is no goof off.

Anyone who knows the Titans running back realizes he's not a clown-around kind of guy, even in the land of Mickey Mouse, Goofy, Donald Duck and Pluto.

But here at the Pro Bowl, Murray admits he lightened up a bit in 2016, his first year in Tennessee.

Part of it stems from his first day with the team after being traded last March, when the Titans opened up to his father.

Titans running back DeMarco Murray (right) pictured with his father, Kevin Murray (left).

"I think I approached things a little different," Murray said after wrapping up Thursday's practice here at the Pro Bowl. "I have always been a little more serious than some people, and I still am. But this year did give me a chance to lighten up a little.

"I have to still keep the leash a little tight on myself, but it is always good to have fun. And I think for me to see how they treated my dad from the beginning, it was huge for me to see. It let me know it was family. It felt like family from the start."

Murray is at the Pro Bowl for the third time in his career. The six-year pro earned this trip after rushing for 1,287 yards and nine touchdowns with the Titans. Murray finished third in the NFL in rushing, and he also contributed with 53 catches for 377 yards and three touchdowns.

Murray made a big hit on those around him in his first year in Tennessee, after playing previously in Dallas and Philadelphia.

Kevin Murray, DeMarco's father, said the Titans made a big hit on him and his son when he showed up at Saint Thomas Sports Park after being traded. It's stuck with him.

"Tennessee welcomed me like I was part of the team," Kevin Murray said. "They walked me through the building, took me into the offices, into the cafeteria, into the locker room.

"(Offensive coordinator) Terry Robiskie gave me his cell. I talked to Jon Robinson, and he's the nicest GM I've ever met. He's actually the first GM I've actually met and had a conversation with.

"And I spoke with coach (Dick) LeBeau for two hours. Never in my life have I spoken to a coach that long. That guy is an All-American defensive coordinator and he spoke to me for two hours. And that is something I will never forget the rest of my life. Just the way they treated me and my son, we knew it was the right place for him. And he's been very happy. He loves it."

Murray bought a house just outside of Nashville within a few weeks of joining the Titans. He didn't purchase a home in Dallas despite playing four years there, and he didn't buy a house on Philadelphia, where he played in 2015.

Nashville has been a good fit for him for a number of reasons.

"Ben Jones is a great guy, a funny guy. Brian Orakpo is a guy I've known for a while. The locker room in Tennessee, it is intertwined between defense and offense, and usually it is just offense and defense," Murray said. "I was able to communicate with everybody on a different level, from the coaching staff to the players, trainers, everybody. It was a lot of fun.

"And coach (Mike) Mularkey, he helped me out tremendously just watching him loosen things up. He let you know we were going to work, but we're going to have fun."

Murray said the folks in the city have treated him well.

"Nashville, the city is amazing," Murray said. "People have been overwhelmingly nice. They see guys like Blake Shelton, they are not worried about little old me."

Murray's old friends in Dallas and his new ones in Nashville are happy for his success.

Murray ran for 1,845 yards and 13 touchdowns in Dallas in 2014 and was named the NFL's Offensive Player of the Year. Last year in Philadelphia, he ran for just 702 yards and six touchdowns. When he was traded to Tennessee, some wondered if his best days were behind him.

"Man, that's my boy, DeMarco," Cowboys receiver Dez Bryant said. "I am happy for him, but I am not surprised at all the way DeMarco is playing. DeMarco is a phenomenal talent, and he always has been. He is a smart football player and he knows what he is talking about."

Cowboys coach Jason Garrett predicted success for Murray when he was traded to the Titans. He's not surprised he's back at the Pro Bowl.

"He is a hell of a football player and he is a great a human being," Garrett said of Murray. "He had a lot of success with us and it is great to see him having success back in Tennessee. They are handing him the ball and they are making him a big part of what they do and the kind of season he's had speaks for itself. He is just a really good football player and his style speaks to what they are doing offensively. There was no doubt in my mind he was going to have that kind of success moving forward and we are happy for him."

Mularkey believes Murray responded well to the team's promise to use him from Day 1. And then backing it up.

"He was told one thing, and that's the way it was," Mularkey said. "Even with all the naysayers out there about the offense, we did what we said we were going to do and he is a big reason why."

Robinson credited Murray for helping change the culture in the locker room.

"He came in, and he bought in," Robinson said of Murray. "He is a consummate pro. Football is very important to DeMarco. He is a very competitive guy and the more competitive players you have on your football team the better off you are. And I think once DeMarco got here, there was kind of a new challenge, a fresh start."

After wrapping up practice on Thursday, Murray spent extra time with fans signing autographs.

He said it's a privilege to be back in the Pro Bowl, surrounded by so many great players.

He's glad many of them are Titans, a team that embraced him. And his dad.

"Everyone has treated me well from the start, and they made my dad feel like he was the most important guy in the world from the very beginning," Murray said. "Everyone has been so good to me, and now to have a chance to have your teammates with here you, your crew with you at the Pro Bowl, it is awesome."

TITANS RB DEMARCO MURRAY AIMS TO PICK UP WHERE HE LEFT OFF

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE APRIL 19, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – DeMarco Murray hit the ground running with the Titans.

The veteran running back eclipsed the 100-yard mark in four of his first eight games in Tennessee in 2016, and finished the year third in the NFL with 1,287 rushing yards.

At the start of his second offseason program with the team, Murray feels good. The toe injury that slowed him during the second half of last season has improved.

"Obviously I got some rest, some rest that was much needed," Murray said on Monday. "And it feels good."

He's also even more confident in those around him, and the team's chances in 2017.

"Being here for a year, knowing the system, knowing the guys and knowing what they expect of us individually, collectively from a team standpoint," Murray said. "Last year was great getting to know everyone, working towards a common goal. And this year being able to know what it takes in order to get what we want to accomplish.

"I think we know what we are capable of doing. I think everybody this year is more energetic, and we are more confident than probably where we were a year ago. But everyone has come in with the mindset of working hard."

Murray made it to the Pro Bowl for the third time in his career in 2016. The six-year pro earned this trip after tallying 1,664 yards from scrimmage in 2016, including nine rushing touchdowns. Murray also contributed with 53 catches for 377 yards and three touchdowns.

Murray ran for 1,845 yards and 13 touchdowns in Dallas in 2014 and was named the NFL's Offensive Player of the Year. Last year in Philadelphia, he ran for just 702 yards and six touchdowns. When he was traded to Tennessee, some wondered if his best days were behind him.

Murray, who turned 29 in the offseason, said the similarities between the offense in Tennessee and the system he was in with the Cowboys has helped.

"(The key for me) is just working hard," Murray said. "My first three or four years in the league I was learning constantly. ... This system, it kind of reverts back to my first few years in the league. Obviously the terminology is a little different, but we are running some of the similar plays I am used to running."

Murray also praised his running backs coach, Sylvester Croom, for helping him in his development with the Titans.

Titans coach Mike Mularkey has said on numerous occasions this offseason that Murray will remain the team's "No.1 back" in 2017. Murray said he'll continue to learn from Croom.

"Working with Croom has been an unbelievable experience for me," Murray said. "Just learning new things, catching the ball and some routes that I've never been able to run, working with him just on footwork and things of that nature have definitely helped me out a lot in just one year."

BRIAN ORAKPO BALANCES FOOTBALL, FAMILY TO REACH PRO BOWL SUCCESS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JANUARY 29, 2017

ORLANDO, Fla. – A young Brian Orakpo made it to the Pro Bowl during his first year in the NFL. He was with the Redskins back then, and just 23 years old at the time.

Surrounded by some of the NFL's superstars, he had bright eyes. And he had fun.

"It was cool," Orakpo recalled this week. "It was definitely more of a party, hangout scene back then."

Fast-forward from 2009 to today. Now in his eighth NFL season, and his second with the Titans, Orakpo is a full-fledged family man. He has a wife and two young kids, and a greater perspective on life, his family, and his career.

And that's why here, the land of theme parks and Disney characters, is a perfect location for his fourth Pro Bowl trip. It came after arguably the best season of his career, when the outside linebacker finished with 10.5 sacks, and a career-high 49 quarterback pressures.

"It is definitely cool to be back at the Pro Bowl, a great experience to be around all the guys," Orakpo said. "Now that I have a family, it is definitely more family-oriented, and having fun with my kids.

"But this is what it is all about. I love it. It is very special. I am so happy my family, my son and daughter, can experience this, especially being in Disney World. And I want to show my son that by me being here, hard work really pays off. I want both him and my daughter to see that."

Orakpo's wife, Bitura, has been with him from the start. The two met during his redshirt freshman year the University of Texas, and married in 2010. They have a son, six-year-old Brian Jr., and a daughter, three-year-old Brianna.

And as a family, they've soaked up the fun.

The Orakpos went to a party at Universal Studios on Thursday night, and on Friday they hit the Magic Kingdom, the girls decked out in Mickey ears. Orakpo brought a bunch of his family to town. The group includes his mother, brother, nephews and a bunch of friends, including former Titans and University of Texas teammate Michael Griffin.

Griffin has seen Orakpo evolve as a player, and a father.

"I have pretty much known both of them since they were in college, and he is very good with his kids and he has a very supportive wife," Griffin said of Orakpo. "They work hand in hand together, with their two young ones. Brian, he is doing a great job with everything he does. He is great on the field and off the field, and you aren't ever going the separate him from his family. That is No.1 for him.

"Being a professional athlete and being a father, it can be a tough balance during the season. You have to be a good father as well as being a good football player and he is able to do both."

Bitura Orakpo, known by friends as "Tura," said her husband has done a good job balancing the rigors of the NFL, and his family.

He leaves football at home, he said. They don't talk football when he walks in the door, she said. Well, at least he doesn't bring it up.

"He has gotten a lot better," Bitura Orakpo said. "When he gets home we don't talk shop. Probably the only time we talk shop is when we are in the bed watching film, or me telling him on Sundays I noticed him play a certain way. In the nicest way possible, I might say, "You didn't get off that block enough. Were you tired?" I try and be nice.

We have those conversations because I have seen him progress from his freshman year in college to now."

Brian Orakpo said it's imperative for players to separate football and family, and to find time to make both work. Brian Jr. has made several trips to the Titans locker room in Nashville. He's old enough where he can now recognize the players, Bitura said, and he loves it.

"When I am on the field and at the facility, I work extremely hard at my craft," Orakpo said. "When I come home, I try and leave football at the facility and spend time with my kids. That is the only way to stay sane in what we do. It is definitely hard, and it takes experience. You don't want to overexert yourself with the game we play, our job, and take it out on the ones that love you and show you support. You have to spend time with them. And when you get to the facility, it time to go."

In Tennessee, Orakpo has been just what the Titans had in mind when they signed him prior to the 2015 season. In two seasons, he's racked up 17.5 sacks while registering 86 quarterback pressures.

He's been a tone-setter on a defense that generated 40 sacks as a team in 2016.

"He is your consummate professional," defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau said of Orakpo. "He is a coach's dream in how he sets example for young guys coming in.

"As a player, he has everything. He can play the run, has great quickness, size and speed. Plus, he has a competitive nature that allows him to compete at a high level through the fourth quarter. He attacks any time he is out there. Any coach would love to have a guy like that on a team."

Titans general manager Jon Robinson agreed with LeBeau's assessment. "Brian is a tough, football player, a smart guy, a captain," Robinson said. "He's dependable, and his teammates look up to him. He plays hard. I think he has a nice presence about him. He has that deep, booming voice that can be somewhat intimidating, which is a good thing. He likes it here, he likes what we are doing here. I think it is fun for him to come to work."

The road back to another Pro Bowl wasn't a straight and easy one for Orakpo.

In his career, he's dealt with adversity, including two season-ending pectoral injuries while with the Redskins. He played just two games in 2012 before being injured, returned to make the Pro Bowl after a 10-sack season in 2013, only to have his 2014 season cut short after just seven games because of a similar injury.

But he worked his way back, with his growing family around him.

And that's what makes this trip to the Pro Bowl even sweeter.

"It is an exciting time," Bitura Orakpo said. "It is always a fun time to celebrate his accomplishments. And to be honest, I think this is even more special. With the injuries, and struggling with that, and to finally get back to where he is now, it's really nice to see. We joke, his friends and I, we always say, 'The old 'Rak is back.' It really is great to see his success, and for all of us to be a part of it."

NATE PALMER STANDING OUT FOR TITANS, BUT SHHH...

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JUNE 8, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Titans linebacker Nate Palmer received a nice compliment from defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau on Tuesday, and when relayed the news, it almost made him want to put his hands over his ears.

Don't get Palmer wrong -- he was flattered.

"But I am one of those players where I try and keep it out of sight, out of mind," Palmer said of positive reviews. "When you start getting praise, some people start to get a sense of complacency and I don't want to reach that for myself. It is always nice to hear it, but you have to keep working. I just have to put my head down and keep working."

Palmer, heading into his fifth NFL season, earned the props.

He's roughly 20 pounds lighter, and if he looks a lot faster, it's because he is.

"I am getting from Point A to Point B a lot faster, and even point C down the field," said Palmer, who's listed at 248 pounds on the roster but said he's really 233. "I have noticed that a lot."

The legendary LeBeau has noticed as well.

"Nate Palmer moving tremendously, athletically," LeBeau said. "It has made him quicker. He has always been very athletic, but he has looked particularly athletic to me. He is a very valuable guy, him and Justin (Staples) both because they have played so many positions. They know the defense and they are responsible veterans. We value both of those players, Nate being one of them."

Palmer, who played in 24 games with the Packers from 2013-15, was claimed off waivers by the Titans in April, 2016. He played primarily on special teams last season for the Titans, and led the team with 12 stops. He also played some in the defense.

When Palmer became a free agent this offseason, he did some soulsearching. He was confident about landing a job because of his body of work in he NFL, but he wanted to put himself in a better position to be successful. He changed his diet, quit drinking alcohol, and trained especially hard.

"My mindset going into this offseason was just getting back to what makes me, me," said Palmer, who played collegiately at Illinois State. "I guess in a sense in college my game was predicated on speed and not size. So I focused on slimming my body down and just trying to get in the best shape of my life."

The Titans re-signed Palmer in March, which pleased him.

"It made me feel good to be wanted," he said.

Since, he's continued to pick the brain of the veterans around him, from coaches to veterans, while trying to earn more opportunities. He's worked on special teams this offseason, in addition to stints at inside and outside linebacker.

"They always say, especially for the back-up guys, the more you can do, it helps you out. So I just try and learn and soak up as much as I can," Palmer said.

"I just want to help the team any way I can, whether it be running down on kickoff coverage covering kicks or filling in on defense. Whatever it is, I am game for it. I just want to play football."

NFL PLAYER AND WIFE ASK WEDDING GUESTS TO DONATE TO ANIMAL RESCUE IN LIEU OF GIFTS

BY JOI-MARIE MCKENZIE ABC NEWS JUNE 18, 2017

When Tennessee Titans' cornerback Logan Ryan wed his college sweetheart Ashley Bragg Ryan, he had already received the best gift for a football player.

Ryan, 26, earned two Super Bowl titles with the New England Patriots before being signed to the Titans in March.

So when Ryan, 26, and Bragg Ryan, 26, jumped the broom in front of eight guests inside St. Lucia's Jade Mountain Resort on April 7, instead of gifts they asked their guests to donate to a local animal shelter, Help Animal Welfare in St. Lucia.

The couple, who met while attending Rutgers University in New Brunswick, New Jersey, got the idea when they arrived in the island country.

"When we got to St. Lucia we noticed on our drive all the stray dogs and cats on the street. It was very strange to us," Bragg Ryan told ABC News, who is a certified professional dog trainer.

Their idea was confirmed after their wedding, which featured their 1-year-old daughter, Avery. The two did a photoshoot around Soufrière, Saint Lucia when they spotted a stray dog, Ryan told ABC News.

"We were just having fun, having just gotten married," he recalled. "We're walking the streets, doing this photo shoot and this dog kind of chose us."

"The dog was following us and I was just worried about Ashley's dress, because it was so expensive. It was Ashley who welcomed it, petting this dog -- that's just the type of person she is. When I saw she was OK with it, I was OK with it," Ryan continued.

Ryan said they "felt attached" to the dog, and after leaving to go back to the resort, they felt they had to do something more.

Their photographer, Bernd Rac, told them about a local animal rescue organization, Help Animal Welfare in Saint Lucia.

"We got in touch with them, and talked about how we could help because we got married in Saint Lucia and it had become a special place for us, so it was a great way to give back," Bragg Ryan said.

Help Animal Welfare in Saint Lucia, founded in 2012, said in a statement that the wedding's donations did truly help.

"Running a rescue anywhere in the world is financially, physically, and mentally draining and it is impossible to do it without help from people like the Ryans," their statement began. "It is so easy to see a problem and walk right past or continue scrolling through your news feed hoping someone else will deal with it. Not many people actually stop to see what they can do to help when faced with a situation like this. Their actions showed us how big their hearts truly are."

"Without people like them who go above and beyond to help, we would not be able to continue saving lives in Saint Lucia," their statement continued. "The animals we rescue almost always have pre-existing conditions. which become expensive to treat and their wedding donations really helped us in a time of need. They haven't only have they helped us financially though, they've also helped bring awareness to our organization which is invaluable."

LOGAN RYAN'S FIRST BIG PURCHASE AFTER $30M DEAL? PAYING OFF BROTHER'S STUDENT LOANS

BY JORDAN RAANAN ESPN.COM JUNE 30, 2017

VOORHEES, N.J. -- Logan Ryan made his first free-agent purchase worth it after hitting the jackpot in March. He didn't splurge on cars, jewelry or a new house after signing a $30 million deal with the Tennessee Titans after four seasons -- and two Super Bowls -- with the New England Patriots.

Ryan wanted to use some of that new money for something special, like a gift for his older brother Jordan. But it wasn't something superficial.

Several days after Jordan's birthday, Ryan blindfolded him and presented him with an oversize check worth $82,000 to pay off his student loans. He posted a picture of the moment on social media.

"I had the idea for a little bit," Ryan said during a Thursday Night Lights football camp he cohosted with New York Giants cornerback Eli Apple at their alma mater, Eastern Regional High School. "After I signed the deal with Tennessee, people kept asking me, 'What are you going to buy with it? What are you going to buy with the new money?"

"I didn't buy anything. I felt I was completely cool where I'm at. I'm taking care of my immediate family and living my life. I don't want to change my lifestyle off a contract. So the one thing I knew I wanted to help was my brother. I just waited for the time when. No one told him. Very few people in my family knew. Figured his birthday was a great time to do it, and it worked out great."

It was an emotional moment for the brothers. Tears were shed.

Ryan thought it was something his brother deserved after spending many years as the other brother in the background.

"He texts me before every game, after every game. He's traveled, paid for traveling on his own. Engineer. went Drexel. to Extremely bright kid. Obviously had to take out student loans like many kids do for an expensive university. Did everything you want. Has a great paying job, had over $150K in debt. And I've seen that weigh on him a little bit and not live life the way he wants," Ryan said. "That's the system. That is life. I'm not making no excuses for anybody. But I got drafted to the NFL, won two Super Bowls, and I multimillion-dollar signed a contract, and that guy never asked me for a penny. And he traveled to all my games and supported me from day one.

"So it was my way as a little brother to say thank you."

In order to make it happen, Ryan and his wife searched the internet for a place to find oversize checks that could be presented as a gift and made it all happen.

Ryan didn't quite realize the attention the gesture would receive. He wrote a post Tuesday night on Facebook with the hashtags #Family and #FinallyFree that went viral, which he didn't mind because it sparked quality conversations about student loans.

What followed has been an overload of calls and texts during what has been a busy -- and successful -- week.

Ryan was inducted into the South Jersey Football Hall of Fame on Wednesday, then returned to his alma mater Thursday to hold a football camp in his hometown for 350 kids.

"I'm showing them," Ryan said.
"I'm challenging them, 'Why not you?' Same town, same field I worked on. Me and Eli both worked with each other and pushed each other here. So we're trying to keep that thing going."

And maybe someday they can do for a sibling what Ryan was able to do earlier this week for his.

DA'NORRIS SEARCY LIVING OUT HIS DREAM IN NFL

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 6, 2015

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Ever since he could first write his name, Da'Norris Searcy had a Plan A.

He never had a Plan B.

Questions about his dreams and aspirations started in elementary school, and continued in middle school. In high school, those around him insisted he should explore more options when his answer never changed.

"They all asked me what I wanted to be when I was older, for my job," Searcy recalled. "Career day would come along and they'd ask me what I wanted to be and I'd tell them I wanted to play in the NFL. They would always say, 'Well, you need a Plan B. What's your Plan B?' And I'd always tell them, 'Plan A and Plan B are the same. I plan on playing football."

Tracy Searcy, his mom, remembers well.

"He didn't have a back-up plan. He never had a back-up plan," she said with a smile. "I used to tell him myself he needed to have a second idea of what he wanted to do, too. But he always said he didn't have to because he was going to play in the NFL. I guess he was right."

Yes, Searcy was right. The safety is in his fifth NFL season, his first with the Tennessee Titans.

On Sunday at Nissan Stadium, Searcy will line up against his old team, the Buffalo Bills. Searcy spent his first four seasons in Buffalo before signing a four-year deal with the Titans during the offseason. Searcy smiles when he thinks about his childhood dream. But he doesn't pinch himself.

In his mind, there was never a doubt.

"I always give thanks, because I am thankful, and blessed. But I don't pinch myself, no," he said. "I'm not going to lie. I always imagined myself playing in the NFL. I never thought it wouldn't happen."

After playing in 62 games from 2011-14 with the Bills, the Titans signed Searcy in March, and paired him on the back end with veteran safety Michael Griffin.

In his first three games with the Titans, Searcy has made 11 tackles, which ranks him seventh on the team. The 5-foot-11, 207-pounder from Decatur, Ga., has also brought a lively spirit to the defense.

The Titans expect him to be a playmaker for years to come. Searcy tallied 191 tackles, five interceptions and four sacks in Buffalo, and he also forced three fumbles. He scored on a pick-6 in 2013.

"In evaluating the safeties that were out there (in free agency), he stood out as a guy who could do a lot of things for you – play coverage, be physical, and be very active. Just watching his tape, he was impressive," coach Ken Whisenhunt said of Searcy. "We liked everything about him. And he's been good.

"He brings intensity that brings a lot to our football team. It shows up in the weight room, in the meeting rooms, on the field. It shows up in a lot of places. He is a good team player and that helps build that chemistry."

Searcy grew up in an athletic family, his father Donald the leader of the bunch.

Donald Searcy, a linebacker, played semi-pro football. Searcy also had uncles, and a brother who played the game. While his mother preached academics – and the back-up plan – Donald Searcy pushed his son to be as good as he could possibly be on the football field. He trained him, and instructed him.

Da'Norris Searcy put in the time. He began playing at the age of 4, and loved it. He still remembers watching Monday Night Football every week with his grandmother, Virginia, who passed away in 2002. Searcy wore the No.21 at North Carolina because of his grandmother, who was born in 1921, and he's back in that number with the Titans after wearing No.25 in Buffalo.

When he takes the field on Sundays, he remembers his roots. Searcy has a tattoo of a cross and an angel wings to represent his grandmother and great grandmother.

"The last name on the jersey represents them," Searcy said. "My dad and my uncles, I know they all dreamed about playing in the NFL. My dad, he has always been my No.1 fan. Since I'm the one who is getting a chance to do it, I try and represent them well."

On the field, Searcy is known for his instincts, and play-making ability. With the Bills, he intercepted three passes in 2014, forced a fumble and also caused one

His teammates with the Titans say he brings an edge.

"He is a very instinctive player," cornerback Jason McCourty said. "He is not the tallest guy, but he packs a lot of power. He has that sense of swag, when he steps foot on the field he expects to make plays."

Griffin said Searcy brings something else.

"Da'Norris, he's a weird guy," Griffin said with a smile. "He's into action figures, Superheroes. He dresses the worst of anyone in practice, and even his whole thing with cars -- he is into old school American muscle cars. The music he likes, everything is different.

"But he's a great guy, and he can play football. And he hits the weights hard. He's a strong, strong guy. And he's a great guy to have on the team."

Searcy, who's married (Kennetra) with a daughter (Kenna), said he's enjoying Nashville, with the Titans. He misses his friends in Buffalo, but not necessarily the cold weather.

In Tennessee, he's closer to home. Tracy Searcy is from Chattanooga, and Searcy has family in Nashville and Knoxville. He's also not far from where his parents now live, in Stone Mountain, Georgia.

Nicknamed Spiderman because he used to do flips on the playground as a kid, Searcy plans to make a mark with the Titans in the years to come.

He wants to make the most of Plan A. And Plan B.

"I had people come forward and say they didn't think I'd make it." Searcy said. "Later they came up and apologized for it, and said they were glad to see someone from my neighborhood was courageous enough to do it and it make them proud.

"I love this game. I always have loved football. Off the field I am calm and I am laid back; my wife will tell you I'm nonchalant. But on the field I am zero to 100. I'm always going to go all out and give it everything I have."

VETERAN APPROACH HAS TITANS ROOKIE TAJAE SHARPE POISED FOR SUCCESS

BY PAUL KUHARSKY ESPN.COM SEPTEMBER 8, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- As the overmatched UMass Minutemen prepared for a trip to Bill Snyder Stadium and what would be a 37-7 loss to Kansas State in 2013, receiver Tajae Sharpe and his position coach noticed something a previous opponent of the Wildcats had employed.

"We saw someone start disguising the receivers alignment by putting him in the backfield and motioning him out," said Allen Suber, who's now at Alabama State. "I think at that time, Tajae really started to learn and develop the thought process for matchups and getting himself in better positions and lined up against backers or strong safeties.

"Which then intrigued him as a young player, not only to learn his route but to learn the concepts and where he fit and how we could get him in better matchups. He would come in and sit down and really, from that week on, go through all the pass concepts we had against their personnel. And he just understood it. He could sit down and talk you through it."

Three years removed from that 1-11 UMass season and his nine-catch, 98-yard game against Kansas State, Sharpe will line up as a starting wide receiver for the Tennessee Titans Sunday at Nissan Stadium.

In roughly four months of work, he's shown the Titans the same thing he showed Suber: an ability to understand concepts and how he fits into them.

Quarterback Marcus Mariota is sure to lean on last year's leading target, tight end Delanie Walker. But the 2014 Heisman Trophy winner has quickly bonded with Sharpe, a player he trusts to be in the right place and hold onto the ball.

Sharpe was a fifth-round draft choice by new Titans general manager Jon Robinson. Robinson inherited a receiver-needy roster but made five picks before getting to the position, using the 140th choice on a weapon who played on a struggling team in college but led the nation in receptions as a senior with 111.

When the Titans spent time with Sharpe ahead of the draft, receivers coach Bob Bratkowski installed some concepts with him. On the field, Sharpe executed them pretty much flawlessly, Robinson recalled.

"It's his intelligence level, his ability to process information quickly and his physical skill set," Robinson said of the 6-foot-2, 194-pound rookie. "... He's wiry. He's just got really good body control. He can sink his weight, drop his weight in and out of his breaks very efficiently."

After the Titans landed Sharpe, Robinson figured he'd found a rookie role player. But Sharpe has earned a role far more important than that, helped by a stark contrast with some guys who were already on the team. Justin Hunter and Dorial Green-Beckham didn't have a work ethic similar to Sharpe's. While more impressive physically, they didn't feel nearly the same gravitational pull of the position's detail and nuance.

Green-Beckham was traded on Aug. 16. Hunter was cut Sept. 3.

The Titans' longstanding fascination with fantastically athletic but unrefined wideouts went with them. Before he's even played a meaningful down, Sharpe has come to symbolize the kind of guy these Titans want.

"Tajae doesn't look like a rookie, he looks like a guy that's been around in this league for a little while," said Titans receiver Andre Johnson, who has stats that rate among those of the all-time great receivers. "The way he runs routes, he's faster than he looks. He makes plays. I think this year will be pretty big for him."

Johnson said if he knew nothing of Sharpe and watched him work, he'd have guessed he as a second- or third-year player.

Johnson was drafted by the Texans third overall out of Miami in 2003. Thirteen years later and 137 picks further down in the draft, Sharpe came to Tennessee.

"I wasn't really known for running routes coming in," Johnson said. "I think that's something I developed over the course of my career. As far as running routes, he's better than I was coming in.

"He asks a lot of questions when he doesn't understand something or he's curious about something. That's a good thing, and a lot of times it's what you look for in a rookie."

Sharpe speaks reverently about Johnson, and said compliments from him are humbling. The rookie also rates Suber, who was on the Texans practice squad during Johnson's time there, as a big influence in shaping him.

"The biggest thing was that he was a ball of clay," Suber said. "He just wanted to be coached. ... He fell in love with the preparation process."

When Sharpe was coming out of Piscataway (N.J.) High School, Suber rated him as just an average route-runner. Mark Carrier and Tampa Bay Buccaneers receivers coach Richard Mann taught Suber lessons he passed on to Sharpe that helped him evolve. "Separation technique, the ability to speed cut, the ability to separate," Suber said. "He's not the fastest guy with vertical speed, but he's always going to have separation. He is a master of the separation technique.

"It's understanding leverage, it's being able, regardless of whether you are running deep, [to be] always simulating it. He'll tell you, first 5 yards, everything should look the same. Speed and upper-body violence when you are running routes. He can sink his hips at 10 [yards] and maintain the same pad level and be out at 6 yards very, very quickly. He understands cutting off interception angles of defenders."

Since the start of the seven-round draft in 1994, only four receivers selected in the fifth round or later posted seasons with at least 51 catches and 720 receiving yards. The most recent, Stefon Diggs, will be on the field for the Vikings on Sunday during Sharpe's NFL debut.

Can Sharpe surpass them? He may be in just the right environment to give it a run.

"The game is very slow in his head right now," Suber said. "He's a football player. I think he's going to play a decade plus."

LESHAUN SIMS

LESHAUN SIMS WANTS TO CONTEND FOR BIGGER ROLE IN 2017

BY JIM WYATT TITANSONLINE.COM JUNE 28, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Less BBQ, and fewer mistakes.

Will a combination of the two along with solid play - help Titans cornerback LeShaun Sims land a bigger role in his second NFL season?

So far, Titans coach Mike Mularkey has liked what he's seen.

"He's been good," Mularkey said of Sims. "He's doing fine. LeShaun is very quiet -- he doesn't say a whole lot. But he comes to work every day, and he is all business when he is on the field. I think you can tell it's his second year. He is a better player this year than he was this time last year."

A fifth-round pick out of Southern Utah in the 2016 NFL Draft, Sims played in 13 games for the Titans in 2016, with two starts.

Sims saw his playing time increase at the end of last season, after the team parted ways with veteran cornerback Perrish Cox. After struggling late in a game against the Bears in late November, Sims settled down in the final month of the season. Pro Football Focus listed Sims as the team's highest graded player against Kansas City on December 18. Sims intercepted Chiefs quarterback Alex Smith in the end zone in that contest.

In the final five games of last year, Sims tallied 16 tackles and six passes defensed. He played primarily on special teams at the start of the season, and was inactive the first three games of the season.

"He is one of our promising young players," Titans defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau said of Sims at the end of the season. "I think he has a bright future ahead of him"

Sims said he learned a lot from his rookie season, when he watched those around him, and listened.

"You just have to relax, play ball, and get the (defensive) call," Sims said. "You can't overthink everything.

"I feel like once I got settled down I started to play some solid, decent ball. Now, I just have to build on that."

Sims has some new company around him this offseason. The team signed veteran cornerback Logan Ryan, and drafted former USC cornerback Adoree' Jackson in the first round. At safety, the team signed former Jaguars safety Johnathan Cyprien.

"The guys have been cool," Sims said. "We're competing, and working together."

To put himself in a better position to be successful, Sims said he changed his diet, and has focused on eating better. His plan is to stick to a mealprep, nutrition plan.

"Not as much fast food, I guess," he said with a smile. "They have some good barbeque out here. But I don't eat nearly as much now as I used to."

With a year under his belt, Sims plans to contend for a significant role in the defense this fall.

He likes his position, and coaches say he's a contender because of his size, speed and work ethic.

"Just having more time in the offseason and being able to prepare, it has helped me a lot," Sims said. "I've spent a lot more time in the playbook, and I think that has helped and kept me from having a lot fewer mental mistakes. I just have to keep getting in the playbook.

"This year, I just want to come (into training camp), still the same mindset as last year. But I definitely want a bigger role. I just want to come in, let the coaches see I understand the defense more, and do what I can to help the team, on defense and on special teams. That's the biggest thing for me right now."

JONNU SMITH

ROOKIE TE JONNU SMITH READY TO LISTEN, LEARN, CONTRIBUTE

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MAY 19, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Jonnu Smith is ready to listen, and learn.

In time, the rookie tight end hopes it will pay off with big results for the Titans.

"I am extremely capable. If I wasn't, I wouldn't be here," said Smith, drafted in the third round of the NFL Draft. "But I know I have to be a sponge right now, and learn the playbook and listen to others.

"You have one mouth and two ears, and that tells you a lot. My ears will be wide open."

Smith made his NFL practice field debut during the team's rookie minicamp last weekend. This week, he joined the veterans at Saint Thomas Sports Park.

A 6-foot-3, 248-pounder, Smith has the skill set to be a productive player for the Titans, possibly early. It's why the team has thrown him into the fray at a number of positions.

When asked how quickly Smith could make an impact for the Titans, coach Mike Mularkey said it depends on "how quickly he picks (things) up."

"We are going to move him around a little bit," Mularkey said of Smith. "He is going to play both the Y and the F tight end, and he is going to be an every down player for us. So he is going to have a lot on his plate, he already has. And he seems to grasp it pretty good. He's a real easy catcher with the ball, and can run."

Smith, the 100th overall pick of the draft, caught 178 passes for 2,001 yards and 18 touchdowns at Florida International, and tallied 42 catches for 506 yards and four touchdowns in 2016.

Smith holds the FIU record for career receptions (178) for a tight end, and he's also No. 1 all-time in career receiving yards.

With the Titans, he joins a tight end group led by two-time Pro Bowler Delanie Walker.

Walker told Titans Online earlier this month he's watched some film on Smith.

"I think he is a very physical, talented tight end," Walker said of Smith. "And I can't wait for him to come in so I can get into his ear and hopefully he can bring something to the table with his play to help this team out."

Walker's advice to Smith: Watch

"He is going to have to pay his dues," Walker said. "He can learn from me, and I think he will be a sponge. He is not a guy that talks a lot. He is going to come in and he is going to understand his place. He is going to come in and learn from the guys we have, and if he steps up I am pretty sure he is going to have an opportunity to play."

Smith said he's more than willing to work.

He said he's worked to improve his blocking, and plans to improve his technique to get even better.

He's a big fan of Walker, and winning.

"He's a hell of a player, and I am looking forward to learning from him and all the vets in the tight end group," Smith said. "So I am looking forward to adapting and maybe one day be better than Delanie Walker -- that is the goal, you know what I mean? If you are not here for that, then why are you playing?

"I just want to show that I can do everything at the tight end position. I want to come out here and play fast and physical, and be smooth in everything that I do.

"And whatever the Titans ask me to do, that's what I am going to do. And I am going to be relentless at doing it. I am looking forward to helping this team win a Super Bowl, because that is what we are aiming for. So I will do whatever is required of me."

TITANS' SPAIN LOOKING TO BUILD ON HIS SURPRISING ROOKIE YEAR

BY TERRY MCCORMICK ASSOCIATED PRESS AUGUST 5, 2016

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Quinton Spain has a much different pedigree than the other Titans linemen.

Spain is an undrafted second-year pro from West Virginia trying to maintain his status as the Tennessee Titans' first-team left guard. Spain started the final six games for the Titans last season and has been running with the first-team line in camp.

Contrast that with the Titans' other four projected starting linemen. Tennessee's line includes two first-round picks at the tackle spots in Taylor Lewan (2014) and Jack Conklin (2016), a first-rounder at right guard in Chance Warmack (2013) and a coveted free-agent acquisition at center in Ben Jones.

Spain is doing all he can to maintain his role as a starter.

"I felt like I've done pretty good," Spain said. "I've just got to keep moving forward and keep battling for the spot."

In assessing Spain's play through the first week of training camp, Titans coach Mike Mularkey offered some praise while also stressing Spain's need for improvement.

"He's been a little bit hot-and-cold," Mularkey said. "More hot than cold, but when he's had his mistakes, they've been pretty significant. I mean, they stand out. Not getting out on some screens, not covering up guys today.

"Again, he was an undrafted free agent last year that — he's held his own, but the more he gets, the better he's going to get, as well. He's still in a competition at that left guard position."

Spain's primary competition should come from former starting center Brian Schwenke, Jeremiah Poutasi and rookie sixth-round pick Sebastian Tretola. The competition to determine the starting offensive line begins in earnest in the next couple of days.

The Titans have intentionally stuck with the same starters up to this point because they were still putting in offensive installations.

That process is near an end, allowing offensive line coach Russ Grimm to start playing a form of musical chairs to determine the eventual starters.

"We're going to start rolling some people in there," Grimm said. "I tell people all the time we're not playing a game for real yet. So there are no set starters. So when you come out and you start stepping through stuff, you kind of keep guys at the same spot till we get the whole offense."

"As of tomorrow, the whole offense is going to be in, so now you're going to see guys that know the assignment so they can flip from one side to the other.

"I don't want to flip them too early because they start getting confused and stuff like that. Once they learn the offense and now that we've got it all in, then we're going to start shuffling some people around to see what we've got."

As for how things fall, Spain isn't fretting the competition.

"I've just got to play my game, and whatever happens, happens," Spain said. "If playing my game is not enough, I can't look back and say I didn't give it my all."

5 THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT TITANS KICKER RYAN SUCCOP

BY JASON WOLF THE TENNESSEAN DECEMBER 20, 2016

Five things to know about Titans kicker Ryan Succop:

Hero of the day

Succop's 53-yard field goal as time expired gave the Titans a 19-17 victory against the Chiefs on Sunday at Arrowhead Stadium, where the temperature was 1 degree at kickoff, making it the coldest game in Titans/Oilers franchise history. His career long is 54 yards.

A first for everything

Succop is the first player in NFL history to hit a game-winning field goal of longer than 50 yards as time expired to complete a come-frombehind victory against his former team. The 30-year-old kicker is in his eighth NFL season and third with the Titans. He played his first five seasons with the Chiefs.

Only getting better

Succop is on pace to set his career high for made field goal percentage for the third consecutive season. He's hit 90.9 percent (20 of 22) of his field goals this season. He hit 87.5 percent (14 of 16) last season and 86.4 percent (19 of 22) in 2014. Succop converted 86.2 percent of his field goals (25 of 29) in 2009, tying for the highest success rate by a rookie since the AFL-NFL merger (minimum 20 attempts).

Mr. Irrelevant 2009

Succop was "Mr. Irrelevant" after being selected with the final pick (256th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft. He's one of two Mr. Irrelevants on the team. Titans cornerback Kalan Reed was selected with the final pick in the draft this year.

Former Gamecock gives back

Succop grew up in Hickory, N.C., and played college football at the University of South Carolina in Columbia, which was hit hard in last year's flooding that killed 19 people. Succop bought all the bottled water at a local pharmacy to donate to Vanderbilt, which sent two 18-wheelers full of supplies to the Carolinas.

DIRECTSNAPS: PHILLIP SUPERNAW'S UNDRAFTED ATTITUDE PAYING DIVIDENDS

BY PHILLIP SUPERNAW TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 2, 2016

DirectSnaps is a story series contributed by Tennessee Titans players sharing their perspectives, both on and off the field, with fans. This week's entry comes from TE Phillip Supernaw.

Two grand.

That was my signing bonus when I entered the NFL in 2012. After taxes, it came out to $1,300. I still have that check. One day I may even get it framed.

Undrafted was more than a label for me coming out of the well-known football powerhouse of Ouachita Baptist. It's part of my identity, the core of what motivates me.

I grew up in Katy, Texas, about 25 miles from Houston. I played quarterback in high school, but I wasn't recruited by colleges. I didn't have a single Division I offer. When signing day came, Ouchita Baptist was the only place that said I could come play, so I did.

Fast forward four years, I didn't get a Combine invite. I also didn't get drafted, but the Texans gave me a chance as a college free agent. That's where the big signing bonus came in. I'll never forget that. In that moment I was like, "Holy cow, they're actually going to pay me to give me a chance. This is awesome." You know, all these guys are signing for millions of dollars, and I never even thought about it. I never asked about any other player's signing bonus. I just couldn't get over how awesome it was.

Another thing I'll never forget: getting to know Andre Johnson.

It was 2012, and we were both with the Texans. I was an undrafted rookie free agent and Andre was... well, Andre. I mean, he's like the godfather, right?

The Texans drafted him when I was in junior high, so I grew up watching him play. He had no idea what my name was. But I always had this really awesome jersey from when he played at Miami. The orange one... you know, real authentic. I had that thing in my locker for three weeks, and then one day I finally was like, "OK, I'm doing it."

I walked over to his locker with his No. 5 University of Miami jersey. I had it in a box, folded perfectly, pen ready to go. I was like, "Andre, do you think you can sign this for me, man?" When he signed it, he said, "Where did you get that jersey? It's sweet." That jersey is framed and has even more meaning now that we're teammates again in Tennessee.

I don't have a pride issue telling you that story. You'll hear guys in NFL locker rooms say things like, "I'm never going to get a jersey signed by another grown man." To that, I say big deal. When you've bounced around the league like I have, I think it's a cool opportunity. It's a reminder of where you've been and who you've played with along the way.

I was on four teams in my first three years. I was with Houston for two years, and I wasn't even really on a team my second year. I actually got cut before training camp on an injury settlement, and I was out of football until Week 15. I was just floating around, hunting and stuff. I wasn't even in the NFL. Then Week 15, the Texans picked me back up and I played the final two games. Then I went to Baltimore for a year. In that year—2014—I went to Kansas City for three weeks and then back to Baltimore. It was a lot of bouncing around, not really getting settled anywhere. And no, it never gets easier getting cut and starting over again.

From an early stage of being in the NFL, I just kind of took on that challenge of being undrafted. I never really thought about whether I was going to make the team or not because that will drive you crazy. I always had the same outlook. You just control what you can. I think all of it helped me—going to that really small school, being undrafted. It made me take nothing for granted, even the little stuff. It taught me to be a hard worker because nothing is guaranteed and nothing is given. This can all be taken away in an instant. I'll never take a play off because I can't ever forget how far I've come to get here.

I believe that's why I'm a Titan now. I found my niche here. With Mike Mularkey taking over and Jon Robinson coming in, it fit perfectly to the kind of player I am-tough, physical, nonstop, finishing, never quitting. This is a weird business and can get political, but here it's basically if you want to be a tough guy who will never quit and give it your all, you have a chance to play. That's why I consider this my home now. They really gave me a chance to contribute here, and I had prepared for it. It was the opportunity I was waiting on forever, and I don't ever want to squander that.

That undrafted attitude that got me here is kind of like the attitude this team has. That's the cool thing. We're pretty young, with the exception of some of those great vets we need, and we don't care at all what anybody thinks or is saying. We know how hard we work. We know how well we're capable of playing. I've been on teams that struggled before, but this team is different. We know we have so much in store for the future. The losses hurt, but at the end of the day, we have 13 left, and we're not even clicking on all cylinders yet. Everyone is just fired up for how good we can be.

It's sort of like that signing bonus check.

My $2,000 might not have been much to everybody else, but to me, it was an opportunity. I wouldn't change anything because it all ended up getting me here. Hopefully, there's a lot more to come.

TAYWAN TAYLOR

POLITE PLAYMAKER: TAYWAN TAYLOR MAKING IMPACT WITH TITANS

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE SEPTEMBER 20, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Taywan Taylor is as polite as they come off the field.

Spend time around the Titans rookie and you'll discover he's a "yes, sir" and "no, sir" kind of guy, always accommodating, and respectful. Ask around about Taylor and you'll learn he soaks up as much as he can from his veteran teammates, and asks for extra time with coaches.

His Twitter handle fits him well: @SilentGrind2.

"He's a humble guy," Titans offensive coordinator Terry Robiskie said. "A hard-working, humble guy."

But on the field, he's no pushover.

"He's a dog now," Titans veteran Harry Douglas said of Taylor. "He's a dog on the field, make no mistake about that."

And he's a fast one.

Taylor, a third-round pick out of Western Kentucky, blew past Jaguars cornerback A.J. Bouye to make a diving 42-yard catch in Sunday's 37-16 win. The folks at Next Gen Stats, in fact, recorded Taylor with a speed of 21.44 on the play, which makes him the fastest recorded player in the NFL this season.

Taylor has three catches for 56 yards through two games. The Titans have also given him the ball on handoffs, something the team did during the preseason as well.

"He's fast," Titans coach Mike Mularkey said of Taylor. "He can get around the edge on you, he can get by you on a go route. The thing about him, which is rare for a rookie, I've told you this before, all the young guys want to be coached and want to do it the way we want to do it.

"That go route, Terry(Robiskie) is very adamant about those kind of routes, not looking for the ball too early, run 20 yards as fast as you can, run by guys. Most players look too early, their speed slows down because they're looking back, defensive guys can keep up with them or can get back what they lost, and he ran by right about 18-to-20 (yards), which we tell him he looked up and he had beaten him and Marcus (Mariota) had a great throw on it. Those are some things, for a young guy to do, which were impressive."

The highlight-reel play earned Taylor a nice reception on the sideline.

"They were loving it, saying: That was big time right there," Taylor said with a smile. "Big-time players make big-time plays, they told me. Marcus gave me a good ball and I wanted to go out there and make a play for the team. I want to make those kind of plays all the time."

Taylor was a ball magnet at Western Kentucky. The most prolific receiver in WKU history accumulated 253 career receptions for 4,234 yards and 41 touchdowns in four seasons, setting team records in both categories.

In 2016, Taylor set Hilltopper records with 98 catches, 1,730 receiving yards and 17 touchdowns.

In the NFL, he's already drawn some pretty nice comparisons.

"He reminds me of T.Y. Hilton," Titans cornerback Brice McCain said of Taylor during camp. "He reminds me of T.Y. just the way he moves his body, how he is so confident, but so quiet. I like that about him. He catches the ball well, and he doesn't panic. I love Taywan."

Mariota has called Taylor "dynamic."

Douglas, a 10-year veteran who is currently on Injured Reserve, on Monday raved about Taylor.

"Since he's gotten here he's done a great job of learning," Douglas said. "We've asked him to do multiple things, and he's done a great job of grasping the information. At the same time I think he is an unbelievable athlete. He can rush the ball, he can catch the ball, he can block. He can do everything you need to be successful in this league. He is a playmaker, man. He makes plays. He's humble, he listens and I love that about him."

Depending on the status of receiver Corey Davis, who is dealing with a hamstring injury, Taylor's playtime could increase this week.

Taylor played just six snaps in Week One against the Raiders, and 12 snaps against the Jaguars.

Taylor said he'll be ready.

"That's what I told coach from the get-go, day one when they drafted me: Whatever they need me to do, I am willing to do it," Taylor said. "I just want to try and help the team as much as I can."

FREE AGENT PAIR PROMISES SPECIAL TEAMS IMPROVEMENT

BY DAVID BOCLAIR NASHVILLE POST MARCH 14, 2017

In the one season they played together, Daren Bates figured out something important about Brynden Trawick.

"You follow him around you're going to find yourself at the ball," Bates said.

Bates (pictured) didn't follow Trawick to the Tennessee Titans, they just ended up on the roster together. The two signed with the Oakland Raiders last season to inject some life into that team's special teams.

Free agents again this year, they independently agreed to deals with Tennessee, which clearly aims to upgrade its special teams for 2017. In addition to those two, Eric Weems, an experienced returned and cover man, also has signed.

"Obviously, they wanted a better core than they had in previous years — adding three of the top guys in the league from last year," Trawick said. "It's definitely going to be an improvement and it's definitely going to be fun to watch."

Trawick was one of nine NFL players who had more than 10 solo tackles on special teams last season. His 15 total stops on kicks were a career-high.

He played his first three seasons in Baltimore and averaged seven per season — the same number Bates averaged in his first three seasons, all with the St. Louis Rams. He had eight (five solo) last season with Oakland.

"To me, you have to be a little off," Bates said. "You can't be sensitive. You have to be violent. You have to be a different type of football player. You kind of have to have a defensive player's mindset but a little more off. I kind of call it just being crazy. You go out there and play with reckless abandon and play violent.

"... To be able to come in and change the whole look on special teams, that's what I plan to do."

The Titans ranked in the bottom half of the league when it came to covering kickoffs (18th) and punts (26th) last season. They were even worse when it came to returning them, 20th and 26th, respectively.

"Me being that guy my whole career, I'm taking that mindset regardless of what they think of me," Trawick said. "I'm playing special teams with the hopes of adding a role on defense and contributing on defense.

"You just have to want to do it and to be great. It doesn't take too much. It's just like being an offensive or defensive player, you just have to want to do it and dominate the guy across from you and make him feel you. That's what I've been doing. And that's what I'm going to keep doing."

ERIK WALDEN

NEW TITANS LINEBACKER ERIK WALDEN OF MTSU WANTS TO BE 'TONE-SETTER' ON DEFENSE

BY ADAM VINGAN THE TENNESSEAN JULY 29, 2017

PAGE 4C

Despite totaling a career-high 11 sacks last season with the Indianapolis Colts, outside linebacker Erik Walden remained unsigned as training camps throughout the NFL neared.

The Titans, who showed early interest in the veteran, signed the former MTSU standout Thursday to a one-year contract to add experience to their defensive depth.

"With all the talent they got in place, the coaches got a great atmosphere and the owner and the GM do a great job, so it feels like a perfect fit," Walden said Saturday. "Leaving (Indianapolis), I was thankful for the opportunity, but I'm definitely blessed with this one."

Walden's sack total last season tied for eighth in the league. The Titans were among the NFL's most successful pass-rushing teams last season, with their 40 sacks tied for sixth-most.

"It's a lot of talent," Walden said of the team's defense. "A lot of speed. I'm just trying to contribute the way I can. Whatever they ask me to do, I'm more than willing to do it."

The Titans are Walden's sixth team in a 10-year career since being drafted out of MTSU in the sixth round in 2008. He is expected to back up starting linebackers Derrick Morgan and Brian Orakpo.

Walden's championship experience with the Green Bay Packers in 2010 could be valuable to the Titans, who are being trumpeted as a breakout team in the AFC this season.

"I'm the tone-setter," Walden said.
"I'm going to be the one who sets the tone each and every week, trying to show the young guys how to be a professional and just motivate each other and feed off each other."

Bruce Alexander, a longtime Tennessee Titans fan, said that attending training camp was so important to him that he waited in line since 5:45 a.m. after leaving his wife and two-week old baby at home to be one of the first ones in the gates. Autumn Allison/USA TODAY NETWORK-Tennessee

In a complimentary tone, Titans coach Mike Mularkey described Walden on Friday as a "nasty" player. The Titans already were aware of that edge, with Walden head-butting tight end Delanie Walker during a 2013 game.

"That's the past," Walden said of the incident. "We're on the same side. We're trying to accomplish the same mission. (Walker's) a hell of a player. We're on the same team, so we're working together now."

TITANS TE DELANIE WALKER MOTIVATED FOR MORE AT PRO BOWL

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE JANUARY 28, 2017

ORLANDO, Fla. — Delanie Walker is an old pro at this whole Pro Bowl thing now.

The Titans tight end is here at the all-star game for the second year in a row after making his Pro Bowl debut in Hawaii. Prior to that, he turned down a chance to go as an alternate.

There was a time in Walker's career when he watched others receive honors, and he wondered if his time would ever come. He attended his first Pro Bowl in his 10th NFL season.

"I think having to wait like I did, it makes me appreciate all this more," Walker said after practice on Friday. "I appreciate being here with all these guys who play the game so well. I think I always felt like if I had the opportunity, I could play in the Pro Bowl myself. But everything that happened earlier in my career made me hungrier, and made me work harder. And now I want to keep proving myself.

"I am not slowing down. I've still got it. I still feel like I am 22 years old."

Walker, who's 32, is coming off a season when he caught 60 passes for 800 yards and seven touchdowns. In 2016, Walker caught more touchdowns than he did during his Pro Bowl season of 2015, when he hauled in 94 passes for 1,088 yards and six scores. With an improved running game, and more weapons around him, Walker's overall numbers didn't reach those from the previous year, but he hasn't lost a step.

Fellow Pro Bowl tight end Travis Kelce from the Chiefs can vouch for that.

"I have been watching Delanie since he was in San Fran, and to see how he moves, how big he is, how strong he is, it is impressive, man," Kelce said. "I remember watching a play where they were playing Denver and they threw a little screen to him -- we were putting that play in on our game vs the Broncos. We were basically stealing one of the Titans plays, OK? And Delanie catches it and he has eight people on him as soon as he catches it and he just starts stiff-arming everybody, breaking tackles and takes it 20 yards. And I am looking at everyone like, "So this is what you are expecting me to do on this play?"

Walker's 22-year-old self didn't get many chances to make those kind of plays. He spent his 20s paying his dues. A sixth-round pick by the 49ers in 2006, Walker didn't catch more than 29 passes in a season in his first seven years in the league, all in San Francisco. He played a lot on special teams, and after switching from receiver to tight end, he got limited opportunities while playing in an offense with perennial Pro Bowl tight end Vernon Davis.

Chiefs quarterback Alex Smith, who is at the Pro Bowl, was with Walker in San Francisco. He's thrilled for his success in Tennessee, and said it might've come sooner if he'd gotten more chances.

"No question there has been growth," Smith said of Walker. "Would the success he's having now happened if he got more chances then? Without a doubt, if he was given more sooner, it would happened sooner. But Delanie was such a great teammate, you never heard him complain. Obviously Vernon was kind of the featured guy but Delanie never complained and just did what he was asked to do. I think that says a lot about him and I think that is why he is doing what he is doing, because of that mentality.

"I'm not surprised at all by what he's done, going to Tennessee and playing at a high level."

Walker, who signed with the Titans prior to the 2013 season, has been a go-to guy in Tennessee. Walker set franchise records among tight ends in 2015, and he's continued to break franchise records at his position.

Last offseason, the Titans rewarded him with a contract extension.

Titans coach Mike Mularkey called Walker a perfectionist, and a tonesetter

"It is never good enough for Delanie," Mularkey said. "He wants to be the best, and he works at it. A great example is when he gets the extension, and his mission is to prove, "I'm worth it." Not every guy is like that in this league. A lot of guys will take it, and think "I've made it." And there's a lot of guys who get comfortable. He is not comfortable, he wants to get better every day."

Walker is enjoying his second Pro Bowl trip. He said the week is easier, because he knows what to expect.

He brought 27 family members with him to enjoy it, from mother, his son, his brother, his aunts and more.

"My mom is having a blast," Walker said. "She went to Universal Studious yesterday and said it's probably one of the best times she's ever had. It is good to have my family here with me, enjoying this experience with me. I know I don't have too much longer."

Walker quickly corrected himself when questioned further.

Eleven years into his NFL career, not too much longer means "at least four more years" for Walker.

He has no plans to hang it up any time soon, he said, even though he expects folks to doubt him.

But that's OK. He'll use that as motivation to get to the Pro Bowl again.

"I think the road I took, going Division 2 (at Central Missouri) and getting drafted in the sixth round, playing receiver and getting moved to tight end," Walker said. "I proved I could play tight end as good as anybody in the league after being switched from receiver. But I am still hungry. Every day I am out there I want to do better than the year before.

"A lot of people doubt me, saying "His level of play is going to go down, he is old." But I went out there this year and still played at the highest level and now I am in backto-back Pro Bowls. I am still moving up that ladder."

TITANS PLAYER JOINING USO TOUR

NASHVILLE POST MARCH 31, 2017

Tennessee Titans tight end Delanie Walker is joining a group of other NFL players for a USO tour of Southwest Asia this summer, the league announced.

Walker, New Orleans Saints defensive end Cameron Jordan and Miami Dolphins cornerback Byron Maxwell will visit U.S. troops and their families at military bases in southwest Asia, though specific locations are not being disclosed at this time.

The tour will include militarythemed athletic competitions at the bases, as well as meetings with military leaders at four locations in three countries.

Since 1966, more than 250 NFL players, coaches and executives have participated in USO tours, according to the league.

Walker was named the Tennessee Titans Community Man of the Year in 2013 and 2015, due in part to his work with Mothers Against Drunk Driving

"We are proud to work with the NFL on yet another entertainment tour, and look forward to bringing smiles and a piece of home to the many service members stationed in Southwest Asia," USO CEO and President J.D. Crouch said in a release.

ERIC WEEMS WANTS TO REPLACE PAINFUL MEMORY WITH GOOD ONE

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MARCH 14, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The ending of the 2016 season was a painful one for Eric Weems.

As a member of the Atlanta Falcons, Weems watched in disappointment as the New England Patriots celebrated a world championship after his team lost a big lead in Super Bowl 51.

"It took me some time to get over that loss -- I'm not even going to lie," Weems said on Monday. "I think I was in a dark place for two to three weeks, man. My mind was cloudy. It was like a gut punch.

"I am over it now, finally. I think I am over it now. It took a long time, but there's nothing I can do about it now. You live and learn from the experience. Now, hopefully I can get back there as a Titan."

After spending eight of his first 10 seasons with the Falcons, Weems officially signed with the Titans on Monday.

The veteran return man and special teams ace said he's excited about his opportunity in Tennessee. And he said he wouldn't have come aboard if he didn't believe the Titans were capable of making a run themselves.

"The arrow is pointing up here," Weems said of the Titans. "When I was looking to sign somewhere, my whole mindset was to find a team that had a shot to get into the playoffs, and once you get there anything can happen. I want to get back to that big stage. I want to get back there bad."

A Pro Bowler in 2010, Weems ranked sixth in the NFL in punt returns last season with an 11.4 average. He had a 73-yard punt return in Week 2, and also averaged 23.0 yards on 17 kickoff returns last season, with a long of 42. Weems also covers kicks, and will do just about anything asked of him.

"He is a tough football player, and he has good play speed," Titans general manager Jon Robinson said of Weems. "The thing that we liked about Eric is he is certainly returner first, but he also plays on the coverage units and can give us some value on kickoff cover, on punt cover. He has been a personal protector on punts before. So when you are looking at constructing the roster for game day he gives you an extra player, if you will, that can help you on other phases of special teams and not just in the return game."

In 10 NFL seasons, Weems has caught 38 passes for 353 yards and four touchdowns. Weems entered the NFL in 2007 as an undrafted free agent out of Bethune-Cookman. He's played eight of his 10 seasons with the Falcons (he played with the Bears in 2012-13).

A Pro Bowler in 2010, Weems will be reunited with Titans offensive coordinator Terry Robiskie, his former position coach in Atlanta, and Titans head coach Mike Mularkey, his former offensive coordinator.

Weems will handle return duties for the Titans.

"It is a fresh start," Weems said.
"The coaching staff and everyone sees something in me. The GM sees something in me. So I am here not to let those guys down.

"I have a past with Terry and Mike, and also Harry Douglas, who was also with me in Atlanta. I am looking forward to being back around those guys again, and to have fun. Terry and Mike, those are guys who know how to teach the game, not just on the field but off the field they are fun to be around.

"I am just looking forward to being a part of things here. I love the direction this team is going in and I want to do my part to help us win."

SYLVESTER WILLIAMS

TITANS DL SYLVESTER WILLIAMS WANTS TO MAKE LATE FATHER PROUD

BY JIM WYATT TITANS ONLINE MARCH 24, 2017

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Sylvester Williams knows his late father is proud of him, and that brings a smile to his face.

As a member of the Titans, the team's new defensive lineman plans to continue doing things to make his father happy. He just wishes his dad could witness it himself.

"I remember when I first went to college, my dad was so happy for me," Williams said. "The day I got drafted by the Broncos, he was so proud. And I told him then: 'Everything I do is going to be for you. I did everything I could to make him happy, and to make his life as easy as possible with his health issues.

"I know he was proud of me -- he used to tell me all the time. It hurts not having him here with me, but I plan to live through the memory he created."

Sylvester Williams Sr. died on February 10, a little more than a month before his son signed as a free agent with the Tennessee Titans. The elder Williams saw his son, who worked at Backyard Burger and Taco Bell while in high school, pay his dues after nearly missing out on a chance to go to college -- and play football -- while working in a factory for six months after his high school graduation.

He also saw his son win a Super Bowl ring in Denver after becoming a full-time starter, and a dependable pro.

Sylvester Williams Sr. died following a heart attack last month. He'd battled health problems for years.

The day Williams signed with the Titans, he said he was thrilled to know the Titans believed in him. But the 6-foot-2, 312-pound nose tackle admitted it was hard to not have his father with him on such a big day.

"Being here in this moment without him, it's tough," Williams said. "But I know he would be happy for me

"I just want to be as good a man, and as good a father as he was. He was a great man. My father worked in a factory for over 20-something years. There was nothing he couldn't do. I've seen my dad build walls and he was the type of person who wanted to help everybody, that's just how he was. He never took the time to look out for himself. That's why when I was able, I tried to do everything I could to make him comfortable."

A first-round pick by the Broncos in the 2013 NFL Draft, Williams has played in 60 games over the past four seasons, with 48 starts. He started all 16 games last season for the Broncos, when he recorded 29 tackles and a sack.

In his career, he's tallied 94 tackles and six sacks.

The story behind Williams is one of determination.

In high school, he started just one game at Jefferson City (Mo.). A coach spotted him in the hallways, and asked him to go out for football, so he gave it a shot. He was raw, with poor technique when he took the field. When he played, he simply tried to outmuscle his opposition. When his senior season ended, he figured that would be the end of his playing days.

Williams worked at Wal-Mart for a short time before landing a job at the same factory where his father worked, Modine Manufacturing Company. He made radiator parts for large trucks, and said he was happy with the money and the benefits. But six months in he wondered if there was something else out there for him.

"I have a ton of respect for the people there," Williams said. "But I just knew I wanted to pursue something different in life, so I went back to school."

A former coach suggested Williams go to junior college, and he did. His father drove him to Coffeyville (Kansas) Community College, roughly five hours from him.

There, Williams got serious about football, and his life. After ballooning to 360 pounds, he got into better shape, and he ate better. He learned football, and colleges began to find out he had a lot of potential. Williams visited schools like USC, Auburn, Ole Miss, Oklahoma State and Baylor before deciding on North Carolina.

Williams started 45 games during his collegiate career, and earned a first-round draft pick.

Now, after four years in Denver, Williams is ready to make an impact in Tennessee.

He's excited. And he's determined to keep going.

"It's sad to see him go, it really is," Williams said of his father. "He took a lot of pride in his kids. It hurts not having him here with me.

"But I am going to keep doing the things that would make him proud."

WILLIAMSON LOOKS FOR MORE IN FOURTH YEAR

BY TOMMY BOYD NASHVILLE POST JUNE 12, 2017

It is difficult to ask more from inside linebacker Avery Williamson, who has consistently been one of the Tennessee Titans' most important players since his fifth-round selection in the 2014 draft.

He has played in 47 of the team's 48 games since he entered the league, and has finished all three seasons in the top five of the team's tackling statistics. Last season, he led the Titans in both solo (73) and assisted tackles (31).

Still, he is hungry for more.

"Avery is just a steady player," said head coach Mike Mularkey. "He's physically bigger, he's running really well, and his weight's great. He's taken more leadership this year than he has in the past which is important, especially at that role."

Williamson is not the oldest of the team's linebackers. Derrick Morgan, Brian Orakpo and Wesley Woodward are on their eighth, ninth and 10th seasons, respectively. When it comes to his tenure with the Titans, though, only Morgan has been on the roster longer.

"Going from year to year and now being in my fourth year, I'm definitely one of the guys that people look up to," Williamson said. "I'm just trying to do my best and show them the right way."

While his statistics and on-field presence have earned him that leadership role, Williamson still has strides to make in order to be among the leaders of the league at his position.

In 2016, he finished just among the NFL's top 30 tacklers. He has yet to play in a Pro Bowl or earn All-Pro recognition. Individual honors appear to be the next logical step except that Williamson prefers to measure himself against himself rather than the rest of the league.

"I would say really it is to top what I did last year and to show improvement," he said. "I feel like as long as I'm helping my team win games, it's going to all work itself out from there."

His team-first approach to success stems from the mind of his head coach, and has been implemented throughout the duration of organized team activities (OTAs) in order to establish a foundation for the 2017 season.

"I think the team success has a lot to do with individuals and what they're doing," Mularkey said.

For Williamson, both his individual performance and the team's performance are more important now than they have ever been.

Because it is his fourth year in the league, his rookie contract is set to expire at the end of this season. While his role on the team is currently that of a leader at his position, he is aware of what a great season could mean for his career.

"It's pretty much the same, but you put a little bit more emphasis on different things," he said. "It's a big year. It's definitely a big year, so you just try to make sure you cross your Ts and dot your Is on everything."

TITANS LINEBACKER WESLEY WOODYARD HAS KEY INGREDIENT

BY JOE REXRODE THE TENNESSEAN MARCH 30, 2017

He's a 6-foot linebacker, which helps explain why Wesley Woodyard was a lightly recruited prospect out of LaGrange, Ga., in 2004 and an undrafted free agent out of Kentucky in 2008.

He was voted a team captain as a UK freshman and as a rookie with the Denver Broncos, which helps explain why he's a nine-year NFL veteran – recently signed by the Titans to a contract extension worth as much as $12.75 million. And why, even amid the offseason crunch of a 6-week-old baby at home and intensive work to improve his pass coverage skills, Woodyard found time for Brackets for Good.

The Indianapolis-based program is in Nashville for the first time this year, and 47 local charities took part in the first Nashville bracket, with a total of $72,000 raised so far. It's head-to-head matchups based on donations – which can be made at nashville.bfg.org/bracket – and it has been pared down from the original 47 to the "Philanthropic Four" to the championship match.

Donating goes until 8 p.m. Friday between Cottage Cove Urban Ministries (helping at-risk children excel academically) and Park Center (recovery programs for people with mental illness). The winner will get a $10,000 grand prize from the Buckingham Foundation in addition to the money raised. And both will get a visit from Woodyard.

He was chosen as the "Nashville All-Star" for this year's event and has helped promote it through his 16 Ways Foundation. He started that in 2010 with a focus on literacy programs, life skills and football camps.

And just as with his career and his family, Woodyard's passion is palpable. You get him going and you get out of the way.

"Any way we can help kids, whether that's providing mental help, physical help or just showing them, 'There's someone out here who believes in you,' I tell you what, it took a lot of people in my life," Woodyard said. "And they had nothing to gain from me being successful."

Coaches and teachers, for example, and cousin-in-law Derrick Kelley, a mentor who helped Woodyard develop as a player and student. Also, a DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) officer who made an impact on young Woodward with a talk about drugs.

"That definitely changed my life as a little kid because I grew up in a neighborhood where you would walk past drug-related houses and gang-related houses," Woodyard said. "My teachers believed in me; I had a couple who would bring me around their kids, and to be a kid from a middle-class, single-parent home and to be loved by not only just a teacher but a teacher from an opposite race, that goes a long way."

Woodyard and his wife, Veronica, welcomed Luca Cruz Woodyard to the world on Feb. 12, making it a family of five in their offseason home in Orlando. He has been working there with NFL cornerback Tony Carter, a former teammate in Denver, because Woodyard knows coverage skills are going to be crucial in 2017 after tight ends victimized the Titans often in 2016.

"I've been working on my flexibility," said Woodyard, who had 53 tackles, two sacks, five pass breakups and a pick last season. "Different backpedaling drills, different transition drills, to get out of cuts. And I think that will help me out a lot. I've never really taken advantage of working with DBs on my teams, but I think that's something all linebackers can learn from. I didn't know some of the footsteps that can put you in better position to get across the field and cover a guy. It's good to hear a cornerback's mindset, and most guys never hear that in their careers. I'm in year 10 and I'm still learning."

And that explains better than anything why the Titans extended Woodyard, a leader for his entire NFL career, through 2019. Even at just 6-foot and with a 31st birthday coming up in July. Passion matters, and Woodyard has it for more than the game.

"Michael Jordan said it best: you never know what kid is looking at you for the first time," he said. "You have an opportunity when you step on the field to open somebody's eyes, show them they can be better, how to do things the proper way. If you have an opportunity to use this game in a positive way, you should do it, and that's something I hold dear to my heart, man. Every rookie on our team, I take it personal to try to build a relationship with those guys, make sure they don't settle for less, make sure they're working hard every day. Make sure they're doing the things that will get them into year 10."

WESLEY WOODYARD

TITANS LB WESLEY WOODYARD TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

BY JOHN GLENNON TITANS ONLINE OCTOBER 4, 2017

Playing more than he has in years, the former Kentucky star has already set a team record for tackles through four games. Woodyard is crediting a new plant-based diet with giving him a big energy boost.

NASHVILLE Tenn. — Three quarters into the Titans' recent win over Seattle, linebacker Wesley Woodyard – fresh from stopping a Seahawks runner behind the line of scrimmage — happily wiggled backward out of the pile while still face down on the turf.

He then hopped to his feet, thrilled he'd put the Seahawks in a hole.

"It was just pure excitement," Woodyard said of his reaction. "I was joking with someone on Twitter about that play, saying, 'When you're ballin', you just gotta' crawl backwards sometimes. It's just fun."

Despite the Titans' poor overall defensive performance against Houston last Sunday, it's been a renaissance season for the 31 year-old Woodyard, who's increased his playing time and production after two years of declining numbers.

Heading into Sunday's game against Miami, the former University of Kentucky star has already piled up a team-high 50 tackles, marking the first time any Titans player has reached that mark in just four games.

Woodyard isn't leaving the field very often either.

A 10-year veteran, he's played 80 percent of the team's defensive snaps through a quarter of the season. That's a huge jump from his season-ending percentages in 2016 (56 percent) and 2015 (47 percent).

"I think Wesley is similar to me, man, like a good old wine that just gets better as it ages," Titans tight end Delanie Walker said. "He's been playing phenomenal, making plays left and right. I love seeing that. I'd say he's on a Pro Bowl roll right now."

So just what's gotten into Woodyard, who also leads the team with five tackles for loss?

The short answer is a lot of greenery.

A couple of months ago, Woodyard, following the lead of fellow linebacker Derrick Morgan, adopted a primarily plant-based diet. Morgan had been on the diet for about six months already, finding it significantly reduced inflammation, helped him recover more quickly after games, and lowered both his blood pressure and cholesterol.

Woodyard discovered an additional set of benefits.

"I can definitely say one thing about that plant-based diet – I do have more energy than I've ever had," Woodyard said. "I could tell a difference from the first day.

"It used to be I was sleepy toward the later part of the day, like when I was getting ready to leave work. I felt like I needed a nap. Now I feel like I'm freakin' 20 years old again."

A light 233 pounds to begin with, Woodyard said he probably lost five or six pounds at the start of the diet, which he compared to a body detox.

He has looked quicker this season, which might be part of the reason the Titans have used him more often in passing situations than in the past. Woodyard has been on the field for 31 of opponents' 51 third downs this season (61 percent), a figure that's a notable increase from his seasonending, third-down figures in 2016 (42 percent) and 2015 (24 percent).

"I think that's mostly off-season training, working hard on the little things and knowledge of the game – knowing what routes (opponents) are going to run in certain situations," Woodyard said. "But I love being in there when a game is on the line. Big-time players have to make big-time plays in big-time games. I live by that. You want to make plays, you got to be in the game."

A four-year captain with the Titans – and a six-year captain in Denver before that – Woodyard has also done a good job of teaching the team's younger players. Rookie linebacker Jayon Brown, like Woodyard an undersized interior linebacker, has been an eager listener – especially when it comes to the topic of pass coverage.

"I think he's like Yoda – the older he gets, the wiser he gets," Brown said of Woodyard. "He's playing at a high level right now and I think the whole league sees that. I'm just trying to learn what I can from him, so that when I come in I don't skip a beat."

Woodyard has always said he wanted to play about 13 years in the NFL, which would make him 34 years old.

But who's to doubt Woodyard at this point -- on pace for 200 tackles after a quarter of the season?

"I've always been a big fan of Woody, and I'm glad he's getting more opportunities to touch the field because he's a play-maker," Morgan said. "Father Time has been really generous to him. He's definitely not showing any sign of slowing down."

GEORGE BLANDA

QUARTERBACK/KICKER • 6'2" • 215 lbs • COLLEGE: KENTUCKY NFL SEASONS: 26 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 7 (1960-66) HOMETOWN: YOUNGWOOD, PA. • BORN: SEPT. 27, 1927 GAMES PLAYED: 340 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 1981

George Blanda, who came out of retirement with the emergence of the American Football League in 1960, was the offensive catalyst for the explosive Oiler squads of the early 1960s. He played quarterback and handled the placekicking chores in Columbia blue for seven of his NFLrecord 26 seasons in the league. Blanda was the team's leading passer and scorer in each of those seven seasons and still owns franchise records for most extra points (299), most touchdown passes in a season (36) and most touchdown passes in a game (7). He is also third in points scored with 596. The 36 scoring tosses stood as an NFL record for an astounding 23 years. Blanda's NFL career records included most games (340). most points (2,002) and most extra points (943). He also passed for 236 touchdowns. Blanda captained the Oilers to two consecutive AFL titles in 1960 and 1961, earning AFL Player of the Year honors in 1961. Blanda's career was divided into three distinct parts, 10 years with the Chicago Bears, seven seasons with the Houston Oilers and nine years with the Oakland Raiders. In 1970, he became the oldest guarterback to play in a title game. He was just a month shy of his 49th birthday when he retired before the 1976 season. Blanda passed away at age 83 on Sept. 27, 2010.

KEN HOUSTON

SAFETY • 6'3" • 197 lbs • COLLEGE: PRAIRIE VIEW A&M NFL SEASONS: 14 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 6 (1967-72) HOMETOWN: LUFKIN, TEXAS • BORN: NOV. 12, 1944 GAMES PLAYED: 196 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 1986

Considered one of the best safeties in football history, Ken Houston picked off 49 passes (898 yards), recovered 21 fumbles and scored 12 touchdowns over his 14-season NFL career, earning Pro Bowl honors 12 consecutive times (1968-69 AFL, 1970-79 NFL). Houston returned an NFLrecord nine interceptions for a touchdown in his six seasons as an Oiler. Four of those scores came in 1971, tying an NFL record. He returned two in one game against San Diego in the 1971 season finale, which also ties an NFL mark. His other three touchdowns came on a punt return, a fumble return and a blocked field goal return. Houston also holds the Oilers record for most career interception return yards with 650. With a long, fluid stride, Houston had excellent speed and guickness. His 6-3, 197-pound frame made him an ideal pass defender. Yet his lean, muscular body helped him to become a punishing tackler. Originally a ninth-round draft choice out of Prairie View A&M, Houston earned a starter's role by the third game of his rookie season. Two weeks later in a game against the New York Jets, he scored two touchdowns, one on a 71-yard blocked field goal attempt, and the other on a 43-vard interception return. After excelling for six years with the Oilers, Ken was traded to the Redskins for five veteran players in 1973. The Redskins once referred to Houston as "pro football's most underrated superstar," but his capabilities were widely recognized. He won all-league acclaim with the Oilers in 1969 and 1971, and then was either All-Pro or All-NFC with the Redskins every year from 1973 to 1979. He was selected for either the AFL All-Star game or the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl 12 straight seasons from 1968 through 1979. He played in 183 consecutive games before suffering a broken arm against the New York Giants Nov. 25, 1979.

EARL CAMPBELL

RUNNING BACK • 5'11" • 232 lbs • COLLEGE: TEXAS NFL SEASONS: 8 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 7 (1978-84) HOMETOWN: TYLER, TEXAS • BORN: MARCH 29, 1955 GAMES PLAYED: 115 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 1991

Earl Campbell, a 5-11, 232-pound ball-carrying dynamo from the University of Texas, joined the Houston Oilers as the first player taken in the 1978 National Football League Draft. The first player to earn All-Southwest Conference honors four years, Campbell was a consensus All-America and the Heisman Trophy winner in 1977. Campbell took the NFL by storm from the outset. In 1978, he was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player, All-Pro, and Rookie of the Year. He won the league rushing championship with a club-record 1,450 yards and was named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad. It was more of the same the next two years with NFL rushing titles, MVP honors, and consensus All-Pro acclaim each season. He followed his rookie campaign with 1,697 yards in 1979, but his finest year came in 1980 when he rushed for 1,934 yards, which at the time was second only to 0. J. Simpson's 2,003 yards gained in 1973. That year, Campbell gained over 200 yards in four games. In 1981, he won his fourth straight AFC rushing title with 1,376 yards. A sensational runner, Campbell was picked for the Pro Bowl five of his first six NFL seasons (1978-81, 1983). In his eight-year career, which finished in New Orleans, Campbell rushed 2,187 times for 9,407 yards, and 74 touchdowns, retiring as the NFL's seventh all-time leading rusher. He also gained 806 yards on 121 receptions to bring his career combined net vards total to 10.213. He set Oilers records for most career yards (8,574), most career attempts (1,979), most touchdown runs (73) and most consecutive games with a rushing touchdown (5). His most famous performance came in a Monday night game against Miami in his rookie season. That night, he rushed for 199 yards and four touchdowns to lead the Oilers to a spectacular 35-30 victory. In spite of the constant pounding he took from opposing defenders, Earl missed only six games out of 115 because of injuries. Midway into his seventh season, he was traded by the Oilers to the New Orleans Saints for a first-round draft pick. He played a season and a half with the Saints before retiring after the 1985 campaign. Campbell is one of just four people officially designated a Texas Legend by the Texas State Legislature. The others are Davy Crockett, Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin. Campbell was the only designee of the 20th century.

CHARLIE JOINER

WIDE RECEIVER • 5'11" • 188 lbs • COLLEGE: GRAMBLING NFL SEASONS: 18 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 4 (1969-72) HOMETOWN: MANY, LA. • BORN: OCT. 14, 1947 GAMES PLAYED: 239 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 1996

Charlie Joiner played 18 seasons in the NFL, including his first four with the Houston Oilers. One of the league's most prolific receivers, he amassed 750 career receptions for 12,146 yards and 65 touchdowns, ranking as the league's leading receiver of all-time when he retired at the age of 39 in 1986. His 18 seasons played were longer than any other wide receiver in history at the time of his retirement. The Oilers originally targeted Joiner for the defensive backfield when they picked the 5-11, 180-pounder from Grambling in the fourth round of the 1969 AFL-NFL Draft. Joiner played briefly on defense and the kickoff return team but soon became established as a premier pass catcher. Joiner caught 82 of his 750 career passes as an Oiler, totaling 1,480 yards and 12 touchdowns. He paced the squad with 681 yards and seven touchdown grabs in 1971. In his fourth season in 1972, Houston sent him to the Cincinnati Bengals in a four-player swap. Four years later in 1976, he was traded to San Diego. With the Chargers, Joiner blossomed into super-stardom. He and quarterback Dan Fouts formed a lethal pass-catch team that accounted for the preponderance of his 586 receptions as a Charger. During his 11 years in San Diego, Joiner caught 50 or more passes seven times and had 70 or more receptions three seasons. Injuries cut into his playing time at the beginning, but in a 193-game span over his final 13 seasons, Joiner missed only one game. He was an All-NFL pick in 1980 and a Pro Bowl choice three times. In the 1980 AFC title game, he led the Chargers with six receptions for 130 yards and two touchdowns. Blessed with excellent speed and tantalizing moves, Joiner averaged 16.2 yards per catch and accounted for 12,146 yards and 65 touchdowns. When he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1996, Joiner ranked fifth in receptions and sixth in receiving yardage on the NFL's all-time list. Joiner was once described by San Francisco 49ers coaching great Bill Walsh as "the most intelligent, the smartest, the most calculating receiver the game has ever known."

FRANCHISE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAMERS

MIKE MUNCHAK

GUARD • 6'3" • 281 lbs • COLLEGE: PENN STATE
NFL SEASONS: 12 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 12 (1982-93)
HOMETOWN: SCRANTON, PA. • BORN: MARCH 5, 1960
GAMES PLAYED: 159 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 2001

Mike Munchak was the eighth player overall and the first offensive lineman chosen in the 1982 National Football League draft. Selected by the Oilers, the former Penn State standout was an immediate success with the Houston club, earning the starting left guard spot in his first training camp. The 6-3, 281-pound lineman wasted little time establishing himself as one of the premier guards in the NFL. In 1984, in just his third year in the league, he was named to the first of seven All-AFC teams. That same year he received the first of nine Pro Bowl invitations. Not coincidentally, the Oilers' on-the-field successes increased as Munchak's development and experience increased. From their dismal 1-8 record in the strike-shortened 1982 season, the Oilers improved nearly every year that Munchak played. Along the way, the team advanced to the playoffs seven consecutive years (1987-1993) and captured the 1991 and 1993 AFC Central Divisional crowns. Munchak was a devastating blocker and considered the key to an offensive line that kept the Oilers at or near the top of the NFL's offensive statistical categories. In 1988 he led the Oilers' offensive line that gave up just 24 quarterback sacks which was third in the NFL. It was also the fewest sacks allowed by the team in 10 seasons. The following season the offensive line held opponents to no sacks in six games. In 1991, the Oilers offensive line finished second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL in the fewest quarterback sacks allowed. Behind the Munchak-led line, Houston led the NFL in total offense in 1990 and passing offense in 1990 and 1991. The Oilers finished second in points scored in 1990 and second in total offense in 1991. Equally effective as a run blocker, Munchak led the Oilers offensive charge in 1993 as the team finished fourth in the NFL in both average gain per rushing play (4.4) and average gain per offensive play (5.3). Although he suffered from chronic knee problems, Munchak played in 159 regular season games. His 12 seasons with the Oilers tied him for second longest in the franchise's history at the time of his retirement. He became the first player inducted into the Hall of Fame who played his entire career with the Oilers. Long-time teammate Bruce Matthews presented Munchak for induction.

ELVIN BETHEA

DEFENSIVE END • 6'2" • 260 lbs • COLLEGE: NORTH CAROLINA A&T NFL SEASONS: 16 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 16 (1968-83) HOMETOWN: TRENTON, N.J. • BORN: MARCH 1, 1946 GAMES PLAYED: 210 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 2003

Defensive end Elvin Bethea, an eight-time Pro Bowl selection during his outstanding career with the Houston Oilers, was named to the five-man class of the 2003 Pro Football Hall of Fame that included running back Marcus Allen, guard Joe DeLamielleure, wide receiver James Lofton, and coach Hank Stram. A third-round draft pick in 1968 (77th player overall) Bethea played in 210 games over 16 seasons, never missing a game until breaking his arm on Nov. 13, 1977. He was considered a "steal" in a draft class that produced three future Hall of Fame players in Larry Csonka, Art Shell, and Ron Yary. When he retired, he held three team records relating to career service: most seasons (16), most career regular season games played (210), and most consecutive regular season games played (135). Having led the team in sacks in six seasons, Bethea's unofficial 105-career sack total still ranks first in franchise history, including his team-best 17 sacks in 1973. He recorded four sacks and a fumble recovery in his best single game performance against San Diego in 1976. He played in eight playoff games and posted 691 career tackles. Bethea also played in eight Pro Bowls (1970, 1972-1976, 1979, 1980) and earned All-Pro secondteam honors in 1973, 1975, 1978, and 1979. More than just a pass rusher, Bethea was also effective against the run. Eventhough 1974 was the first year such statistics were compiled by the Oilers, his 691 career tackles, are still among the best in franchise history, even excluding the first six years of his career. "When people ask me who the best guy I ever played against was I always tell them Elvin Bethea and Lyle Alzado because both of them were complete ballplayers," said Art Shell, Hall of Fame member of the Oakland Raiders. "Elvin was one of the quickest guys I've ever been around. We always had to double-team him. There were times when I was supposed to block him when he would get by me so quick. And then Gene Upshaw was supposed to pick him up and he also got by him so quick that we would get back to the huddle and Upshaw would say, 'Did you see that?' and I'd say, 'Yeah, I saw that. He just beat the heck out of me too!' Elvin was just a great player."

WARREN MOON

QUARTERBACK • 6'3" • 212 lbs • COLLEGE: WASHINGTON NFL SEASONS: 17 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 10 (1984-93) HOMETOWN: LOS ANGELES, CALIF. • BORN: NOVEMBER 18, 1956 GAMES PLAYED: 208 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 2006

Warren Moon, the fourth leading passer in NFL history, was inducted into the 2006 class of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Moon played 10 years (1984-93) with the Oilers/Titans organization and holds the franchise records for passing yards (33,685) and touchdowns (196), while leading the Oilers to seven consecutive playoff appearances from 1987-93. During a 17-year NFL career, Moon played for the Houston Oilers, Minnesota Vikings, Seattle Seahawks and Kansas City Chiefs and amassed 49,325 passing yards, 291 touchdowns and 102 wins. He earned nine Pro Bowl invitations (tied for the most by a quarterback with John Elway and Dan Marino), posted nine 3,000 yard seasons, 49 300-yard games and led his team to nine playoff appearances. His eight consecutive playoff berths matched a feat accomplished by Terry Bradshaw and Joe Montana. At the time of his retirement, he held the single-season passing yardage record for three different franchises: Oilers (4,367 in 1991), Vikings (4,364 in 1994) and Seahawks (3,678 in 1997). Moon tallied many accomplishments during his Oiler career. His finest season came in 1990, throwing for 4,689 yards (363 for 584) and 33 touchdowns in only 15 games. He earned AP NFL Offensive Player of the Year for his efforts and his third of nine Pro Bowl invitations. Against Kansas City in 1990, Moon threw for 527 yards, which ranks as the second highest single-game total in NFL history (Norm Van Brocklin, 554 yards in 1951). In 1991, he surpassed the previous season's yardage total with 4,690 yards and became just the third player (Marino, Fouts) in NFL history to produce consecutive 4,000 yard passing seasons. Moon joined the Oilers and the NFL in 1984, after six seasons in the Canadian Football League, where he led his team to five Grey Cups (League Champions). In the CFL, Moon threw for 21,228 yards and 144 touchdowns. Moon was driven to play in the CFL after drawing little interest from the NFL as a starting quarterback following his senior season at the University of Washington. Moon became the first African-American quarterback to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame and his legacy as a minority quarterback cannot be underestimated. At the time of his arrival in the NFL only two black quarterbacks had been significant starters for their NFL teams (Shack Harris, Rams; Doug Williams, Tampa

BRUCE MATTHEWS

GUARD/TACKLE/CENTER • 6'5" • 305 lbs • COLLEGE: USC NFL SEASONS: 19 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 19 (1983-2001) HOMETOWN: ARCADIA, CALIF. • BORN: AUGUST 8, 1961 GAMES PLAYED: 296 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 2007

Arguably one of the best offensive linemen to ever play the game, Bruce Matthews became the first Tennessee Titan to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. At the time of his retirement, Matthews played in more NFL games (296) than any non-kicker in the league's history. Longevity and durability were his hallmarks, but that coupled with his unparalleled play, earning a league record 14 consecutive Pro Bowl (9 at guard and 6 at center) selections (tied with Merlin Olsen) and seven times named AP All-Pro, made him one of the all-time greats. He rose to the challenges presented to him in starting at every position on the offensive line during his NFL career (87 C, 99 LG, 67 RG, 22 RT, 17 LT). He becomes the first Hall of Fame offensive lineman to play significant time at all five offensive line positions. A constant for the Oilers/Titans franchise, Matthews started in a team record 229 consecutive games (streak started at Indianapolis, Nov. 29, 1987) and never missed a game because of injury. His 19 seasons also are a team record and he ranks second in NFL history for years with one team behind Jackie Slater, who spent 20 seasons with the Rams. Matthews and G Randall McDaniel (Vikings) were the only two NFL players to play in every game during the decade of the 90's. Matthews was a part of nearly one-half of the franchise's first 42-years of history and helped the team win 146 games, make the playoffs nine times, earn the only three AFC Central titles in team history, earn an AFC Championship and the franchise's only Super Bowl appearance. He blocked for 15 quarterbacks and 27 running backs, including five different 1,000-yard rushers (Earl Campbell, Mike Rozier, Lorenzo White, Gary Brown and Eddie George). During his career, he played in offenses that produced nine 1,000-yard rushing seasons and eight 3,000-yard passers. Additionally, he played in 42 different stadiums during his NFL career. During his career. Matthews blocked on a line that helped produce 65 100-yard rushing performances and 48 300-yard passing performances. Originally drafted by the Houston Oilers in the first round (ninth overall) of the 1983 NFL Draft, Matthews earned All-America honors at the University of Southern California. Matthews and his brother, Clay, each played 19 NFL seasons and the duo set an NFL record for games played by a pair of brothers with 574 games. Clay Matthews played in 278 games during his NFL career. Matthews had his number 74 jersey retired by the team and was inducted into the organization's Hall of Fame during a December, 2002 ceremony. Matthews joined a 2007 Hall of Fame class that included Dallas Cowboys WR Michael Irvin, Buffalo Bills RB Thurman Thomas, Detroit Lions TE Charlie Sanders, Cleveland Browns G Gene Hickerson, and St. Louis CB Roger Wehrli.

CURLEY CULP

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • 6'2" • 265 lbs • COLLEGE: ARIZONA STATE NFL SEASONS: 14 • YEARS WITH OILERS: 7 (1974-1980) HOMETOWN: YUMA, ARIZ. • BORN: MARCH 10, 1946 GAMES PLAYED: 179 • HALL OF FAME INDUCTION: 2013

Curley Culp was voted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2013. A six-time Pro Bowl selection, Culp played in 179 games during his NFL career with the Kansas City Chiefs (1968-1974), Houston Oilers (1974-1980) and Detroit Lions (1980-81). He was considered the prototypical nose tackle and helped pioneer the 3-4 defense. Hailing from Arizona State, where he was an All-American in both football and wrestling, Culp was selected in the second round of the 1968 NFL Draft by the Denver Broncos, who intended to use him as an offensive guard. However, his brief stint in Denver ended when he was traded to the Chiefs, who inserted him permanently on the defensive side. In 1969, the Chiefs won Super Bowl IV, and Culp was an instrumental member of one of the league's top defenses. He helped the Chiefs defeat the Oakland Raiders in the AFL Championship Game and the Minnesota Vikings in the Super Bowl. In 1974, during his seventh campaign in Kansas City, Culp was traded to the Oilers along with a first-round draft pick (used to select Robert Brazile) in exchange for John Matuszak. The move paid almost immediate dividends for the Oilers, who previously suffered through 1-13 records in both 1972 and 1973. In 1975. Culp's first full season in Houston, he helped the Oilers to a record of 10-4, the first winning mark for the club in eight years. With Culp anchoring the defense, the Oilers finished with the AFC's top-ranked run defense (third in the NFL). Individually, Culp produced arguably the finest season of his career, recording 11.5 sacks and earning NFL Defensive Player honors by the Newspaper Enterprise Association. Culp continued as a leader of the Oilers defense that culminated in back-to-back appearances in the AFC championship games in 1978 and 1979. He was named to one AFL All-Star Game and five Pro Bowls during his career. Culp also was picked as a first-team All-Pro in 1975 and a second-team selection in 1971, 1977, 1978, and 1979. He was selected first- or second-team All-AFC five times. "Curley Culp was perhaps the strongest man I ever lined up against," said Raiders Hall of Fame center Jim Otto. Culp used his strong wrestling background to create havoc for opposing guards and centers. He was the 1968 NCAA heavyweight wrestling champion and was named to the U.S. Olympic wrestling team that year. Culp joined a 2013 Hall of Fame class that included offensive linemen Larry Allen and Jonathan Ogden, wide receiver Cris Carter, coach Bill Parcells, linebacker Dave Robinson and defensive lineman Warren Sapp.

TITANS/OILERS HALL OF FAME

In recognition of the 40th season of the Houston Oilers/Tennessee Titans organization in 1999, the team's late owner K.S. "Bud" Adams, Jr. created an offici team Hall of Fame, featuring players and staff from the past, while creating a special place for Titans stars of the future to be recognized. To date, 13 individuals have been named to the franchise's Hall of Fame:

RETIRED JERSEY NUMBERS

In the history of the Oilers/Titans franchise, only six players have had the distinction of having their jersey number retired — Jim Norton (No. 43), Elvin Bethea (No. 65), Earl Campbell (No. 34), Mike Munchak (No. 63), Bruce Matthews (No. 74), and Warren Moon (No. 1).

Jim Norton played nine seasons for the Oilers (1960-68) as a safety and as a punter, establishing team records at both positions. As a rookie from the University of Idaho, Norton was a member of the Oilers' 1960 AFL Championship team. A four-time league all-star, he holds the club record for most interceptions in a career with 45. Also an accomplished punter, Norton was tops in club history with 519 career punts for a 42.3-yard career average and a long kick of 79 yards (11/22/64 vs. Kansas City).

Elvin Bethea joined the Oilers in 1968 after an outstanding career at North Carolina A&T. He started at defensive end in the 1968 season opener and didn't miss a game until breaking his arm in November 1977. That streak of 135 consecutive games played stands third in team history. An eight-time Pro Bowler (1970, 1972-76, 1978-80), Bethea ranks second for most seasons played (1968-83), while his 210 games played (1968-83) also stands second behind Bruce Matthews. Bethea led the team in sacks six times, including a career-best mark of 17 in 1973. The Oilers honored him with an "Elvin Bethea Appreciation Night" on Aug. 4, 1983. He became the sixth player in franchise history to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on Aug. 3, 2003.

Earl Campbell, the franchise's second leading rusher and a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, was honored by having his number retired at ceremonies on Aug. 13, 1987. He set a single-season club record with a league-leading 1,450 yards his rookie season. Campbell followed that performance with 1,697 yards in 1979 and an astounding 1,934 yards in 1980. Both those totals led the NFL and the latter was second only to O.J. Simpson's 2,003 yards in 1973. Campbell was selected to fiv Pro Bowls (1978-81, 1983) and retired as the NFL's seventh all-time leading rusher (9,407). He ranks second in franchise history in career rushing yards (8,574) and attempts (1,979), firs in touchdown runs (73) and firs in most consecutive games with a rushing touchdown (5).

Mike Munchak joined the Oilers as a first-roun draft pick in 1982 out of Penn State. He was the firs offensiv lineman selected in the draft and the eighth overall selection. Munchak won the starting left guard position as a rookie and went on to play in 12 campaigns (1982-93) and 159 games (156 starts) for the Oilers. He is tied for third on the team's all-time list for seasons played and ranks fift in games played. Munchak became a fixtur on an offensiv line that helped the Oilers to seven consecutive playoff appearances (1987-93). One of the premier guards in the National Football League, Munchak was selected to NFL's "Team of the Decade" for the 1980s and was chosen in 1989 to Oilers' 30th Anniversary "Dream Team." He ranks second in club annals with nine Pro Bowl selections, seven as a starter. Munchak announced his retirement on July 21, 1994, and on the same day, K.S. "Bud" Adams, Jr., announced that jersey No. 63 would be retired on "Mike Munchak Appreciation Day" on Nov. 6, 1994.

Bruce Matthews played in more games (296) than any non-kicker in NFL history. Longevity and durability were his hallmark. And that, coupled with his unparalleled play, in which he tied a league record with 14 Pro Bowl selections (tied with Merlin Olsen) and earned All-Pro honors six times, made him one of the all-time greats. He rose to the challenges presented to him in playing every position on the offensiv line during his NFL career (87 at center, 99 at left guard, 67 at right guard, 22 at right tackle, and 17 at left tackle). His number was retired during a halftime ceremony in Nashville on Dec. 8, 2002.

Warren Moon, the fourth leading passer in NFL history, played 10 years (1984-93) with the organization and holds the franchise records for passing yards (33,685) and touchdowns (196), while leading the Oilers to seven consecutive playoff appearances from 1987-93. Moon's fiest season came in 1990, throwing for 4,689 yards (363-for-584) and 33 touchdowns in only 15 games and becoming the third player in NFL history to produce consecutive 4,000-yard passing seasons. He earned AP NFL Offensiv Player of the Year for his effort and his third Pro Bowl berth. His jersey was retired in a halftime ceremony in Nashville on Oct. 1, 2006.
