WEEKLY NEWS RELEASE

OCT. 31, 2017

CINCINNATI BENGALS (3-4) AT JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (4-3)

WEEK 9, GAME 8
SUNDAY, NOV. 5
AT EVERBANK FIELD

NEXT WEEK:
NOV. 12 AT TENNESSEE

GAME NOTES

Kickoff: 1 p.m. Eastern.

Television: CBS broadcast with Andrew Catalon (play-by-play) and James Lofton (analyst). The game will air in the Bengals home market on WKRC-TV (Channel 12) in Cincinnati, WHIO-TV (Channel 7) in Dayton and on WKYT-TV (Channel 27) in Lexington, Ky.

Radio: Coverage on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship stations WLW-AM (700), WCKY-AM (ESPN 1530; all sports) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play) and Dave Lapham (analyst).

The game will also be aired to a national audience on the Westwood One radio network. Broadcasters are John Sadak (play-by-play) and Ross Tucker (analyst).

Setting the scene: Fresh off a win and armed with the aspiration of returning to large field of AFC playoff contenders, the 3-4 Cincinnati Bengals this week travel to Jacksonville to take on the 4-3 Jaguars on Sunday afternoon at EverBank Field.

Last week, in a gut-check game which more than once seemed like it might put their postseason hopes beyond reach, the Bengals in the end found a way to log a 24-23 victory over the Indianapolis Colts at Paul Brown Stadium.

It very nearly did not turn out that way. The Bengals were staring at what easily could have been a loss, but instead came away with one of the most peculiar victories in recent memory. The underdog Colts entered the game with the league's 28th-ranked offense and 31st-ranked defense, yet dominated both sides of the line of scrimmage. The Bengals suffered a blocked field goal, they lost two fumbles with no takeaways, and they had a rookie halfback (Joe Mixon) lead the team in rushing yards with just 18 as well as receiving yards with 91. The game itself had five lead changes and was tied twice.

And the contest's most decisive play was no less unusual. Down 23-17 with just under eight minutes left, the Bengals were forced to punt and offer the Colts an opportunity to embark upon what could have turned out to be a conclusive scoring drive. But that didn't happen. On the Colts' second play of that drive, Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap conjured up a season highlight play when he batted up a pass in the Indianapolis backfield, caught it when it came down, and then outran the pursuing Colts offensive players for 16-yard INT return for a TD and the game's final points. After that Cincinnati score, Indianapolis had two more possessions to try to regain the lead, but the Bengals' defense held both times.

"The game didn't unfold the way I wanted or expected," said Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "But give our guys credit for doing a good job. We kept overcoming ourselves, and in the end it was a good play by Carlos with the score, and it was a good job by us overall to win the football game.

"That is what happens. Everybody plays their tails off to win, and we made plays when we needed them down the stretch. The offense had moments where we drove the ball — seemed like the length of the field a couple of times — and other moments when it seemed like we couldn't get out of our own way. We have to look at that and get better. It was the same thing defensively. We allowed some third down conversions and some completions that we can do better job of defending — I'm sure of that. Then we had the turnovers — a fumble on special teams and a fumble on offense — and we can't have turnovers like that. We're right in the thick of the season and we have to work hard at getting better."

Getting better this week against Jacksonville will be no easy task. Coming off their bye, the Jaguars enter the game ranked eighth in the NFL in points scored per game (26.1) and first in the league in points allowed per game (15.7).

Having a successful passing game, particularly, may prove difficult. QB Andy Dalton last week recorded a solid 108.8 passer rating against the Colts after completing 17 of 29 passes for 243 yards, two touchdowns and no interceptions. But he was sacked three times, hit five more times and generally was under duress for much of the game. The Jaguars' defense this week ranks sixth in the league in net yard allowed per game (300.3), including first in net passing yards allowed per game (161.7) and first in sacks per game (4.7).

"As long as Andy keeps doing his job and staying on point, we will keep getting better as a team," Lewis said. "We just have to keep making sure that everyone around him is playing up to his standard all the time."

If Bengals fans breathed a collective sigh of relief after last week's win over Indianapolis, they may be holding their collective breath in anticipation of this week's matchup with Jacksonville. On the line for Cincinnati is a .500 record and perhaps the welcomed opportunity to launch the season's second half with a renewed enthusiasm.

"We have our work cut out for us," Lewis said. "We've seen a lot of the Jaguars (on video) because our division plays their division this year. I've been very impressed with the guys they have and what they've been getting done."

The series: The Jaguars lead 11-9, but the Bengals have won the last four meetings, most recently 33-23 at Paul Brown Stadium in 2014. The Bengals also won at Jacksonville in 2012 and '11, and at Paul Brown Stadium in '08. The last Jaguars win was 23-20 at Jacksonville in 2005. The Jaguars lead 7-3 as the home team.

The Bengals and Jaguars were rivals in the AFC Central Division from 1995 through 2001, playing twice each season. This week's game is their seventh meeting since the 2002 realignment that put Cincinnati in the AFC North and Jacksonville in the AFC South.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 33, in a 33-23 victory at Cincinnati in 2014. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 17, in a 27-10 win at Jacksonville in 2012. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 10, in the 27-10 win in '12.

Jaguars — MOST POINTS: 41, in a 41-10 win in 1999 at Cincinnati. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 31, in the 41-10 win in '99. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0, in a 13-0 win at Jacksonville in 2000.

The last meetings: Summaries of the last two Bengals-Jaguars games are on page 16 of this news release.

Records vs. Jaguars: On Dec. 9, 2001 at Paul Brown Stadium, the Bengals tied the club record with eight sacks, all against Jacksonville's Mark Brunell. Cincinnati's other eight-sack game was at Pittsburgh on 10-16-94.

On Oct. 9, 2005 in Jacksonville, Bengals P Kyle Larson recorded the longest punt in team history — 75 yards. That record was later tied by Kevin Huber on Dec. 1, 2013 at San Diego.

The most receptions the Bengals have given up in a single game to a single receiver came on Jan. 2, 2000 in Jacksonville, when Jimmy Smith hauled in 14 catches for 165 yards.

Individually vs. Jaguars: Past offensive performances by current Cincinnati players against Jacksonville include:

- QB Andy Dalton: Three games; 3-0 W-L record; 60-of-95 passing (63.2

percent) for 656 yards (218.7 per game) with six TDs and four INTs (87.0 rating); Eight-for-16 rushing (2.0) with one TD.

- WR A.J. Green: Three games; 14-for-251 receiving (17.9 per catch, 83.7 per game) and three TDs.
- HB Cedric Peerman: Three games; Six-for-57 rushing (9.5); Two receptions for 22 yards (11.0).
- H-Back Ryan Hewitt: One-for-seven receiving.
- HB Jeremy Hill: One game; 24-for-154 rushing (6.4) with two TDs; One reception for nine yards.

Bengals career records watch: Here is a look at potential upcoming movement in the Bengals' career records book (regular-season). Team records are listed in full detail on pages 170-179 of the 2017 media guide.

- QB Andy Dalton has 153 career TD passes, one shy of QB Carson Palmer (154) for third place all-time. QB Ken Anderson (197) is the Bengals' all-time leader.
- Dalton also has 22 career 300-yard passing games, one shy of the Bengals' all-time leader, QB Boomer Esiason (23).
- Dalton also has 2058 career completions, 596 behind the Bengals' career leader, Anderson (2654). This season, Dalton passed Esiason (2015) for third place all-time in Game 5, Oct. 8 vs. Buffalo, and then Palmer (2024) for second place in Game 6, Oct. 22 at Pittsburgh.
- Dalton also has 23,817 career passing yards, 3332 shy of Esiason (27,149) for second place all-time. Anderson (32,838) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Dalton passed Palmer (22,694) for third place all-time in Game 3, Sept. 24 at Green Bay.
- Dalton also has 3278 career passing attempts, 286 shy of Esiason (3564) for second place all-time. Anderson (4475) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Dalton passed Palmer (3217) for third place all-time in Game 5, Oct. 8 vs. Buffalo.
- WR A.J. Green has 53 career TDs, tied with WR Isaac Curtis for fifth place all-time. FB Pete Johnson (70) is the Bengals' all-time leader.
- Green also has 53 career receiving TDs, tied with WR Isaac Curtis for third place all-time. WR Chad Johnson (66) is the Bengals' all-time leader.
- Green also has 519 career receptions, 11 shy of WR Carl Pickens (530) for second place all-time. Johnson (751) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Green passed WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh (507) for third place all-time in Game 5, Oct. 8 vs. Buffalo.
- Green has 30 career 100-yard receiving games, one shy of the Bengals' all-time leader, Johnson (31).
- HB Jeremy Hill has 29 career rushing TDs, eight shy of HB James Brooks and FB Larry Kinnebrew (37 each) for fourth place all-time. FB Pete Johnson (64) is the all-time leader.
- P Kevin Huber has 29,065 career punting yards, 242 shy of P Pat McInally (29,307) for second place all-time. P Lee Johnson (32,196) is the Bengals' all-time leader.
- CB Adam Jones has 1065 career punt return yards as a Bengal, 136 shy of CB Lemar Parrish (1201) for third place all-time. WR Brandon Tate (1411) is the Bengals' all-time leader.
- Jones also has one punt return for a TD as a Bengal. One more would tie him for second-most all-time with WR Peter Warrick, WR Craig Yeast and CB Mitchell Price (each with two). Parrish (four) is the Bengals' all-time leader.
- DE Carlos Dunlap has 59 career sacks, tied with DE Ross Browner for third place all-time. DE Eddie Edwards (83.5) is the Bengals' all-time leader.
- DT Geno Atkins has 57 career sacks, two shy of Dunlap and Browner (59) for third place all-time. Edwards (83.5) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

Bengals celebrate 50th season: The Bengals are celebrating their 50th season in 2017. A commemorative logo is featured on patches the team wears on its uniforms, on the field at Paul Brown Stadium, and on the windows of the East Club Lounge facing downtown. Three-dimensional sculptures of the 50th season logo are located throughout the Cincinnati, Northern Kentucky and Dayton areas, including outside Paul Brown Stadium.

A key component of the Bengals 50th season celebration is the Bengals First 50, which recognizes the top 50 retired Bengals players as voted by fans and media. The Bengals First 50 and other Bengals legends will be recognized during halftime ceremonies at every regular-season home game, which will include video highlights and an on-field presentation.

Bengals legends being honored at the Cleveland Browns game on Nov. 26 include Coy Bacon, David Fulcher, Stanford Jennings, Tim Krumrie, Jim LeClair, Doug Pelfrey and Reggie Williams. Additionally, former head coaches Forrest Gregg and Sam Wyche will be recognized.

Bengals' road offense perfect in red zone: Scoring on the road can be difficult for any offense, and so is scoring TDs in the red zone. But the Bengals have managed perfection when combining both of those challenges, scoring TDs on all seven of their trips into the red zone as the road team this season. No other team has done so, with the Jets (six of seven), Buccaneers (six of eight) and Raiders (five of seven) coming closest.

The Bengals were two-for-two scoring TDs in the red-zone in Game 3 at Green Bay, three-for-three in Game 4 at Cleveland, and two-for-two in Game 6 at Pittsburgh.

Overall, Cincinnati ranks tied for 25th in scoring TDs in the red zone, reaching the end zone in nine of its 20 trips (45 percent).

The Bengals' opponent this week, the Jaguars, rank tied for fifth in the NFL in red-zone defense, having allowed touchdowns on 40 percent of their opponents' red-zone possessions (six out of 15).

Bengals' defense locks down the red zone: The Bengals currently lead the league in red-zone defense, allowing touchdowns on only 33.3 percent of opponent's trips into the red zone (eight of 24). Opponents have come away with points on 91.7 percent of their trips to the red zone (14 FGs, eight TDs). Over the last four games, the Bengals have allowed just four touchdowns in 15 opponent trips into the red zone.

Last week vs. Indianapolis, the Colts scored one TD and three FGs in their four red-zone trips.

The Jaguars enter this weekend's game ranked tied for sixth in red-zone offense, scoring 12 TDs in 20 trips.

* — Orange is designated as a "specialty jersey" with the NFL and can be worn for only two games per year. Color rush (CR) uniforms have been worn for only Thursday night games since 2016.

THE HEAD COACHES

Marvin Lewis in 2017 extends his Bengals-record head coaching tenure to 15 seasons, nearly twice that of Paul Brown (1968-75) and Sam Wyche ('84-91), who are tied for second with eight seasons each.

Lewis has led his teams to the postseason seven times, including a five-year run from 2011-15. The total number of playoff trips and the five-year streak of consecutive appearances are Bengals records, and the Bengals were one of only four NFL teams to reach the playoffs every year from 2011-15. The playoff run ended in 2016, however, as Cincinnati finished 6-9-1. The Bengals' last five losses came by a total of 16 points. Injuries were a greater-than-usual factor, and crucial missed place kicks plagued the team to an extent not seen for many years.

The Bengals' 58-36-2 record over the last six full seasons (2011-16) under Lewis gave the team a .615 winning percentage for that span, ranked sixth in the NFL.

Lewis has 121 career victories, the most in Bengals history by a margin of 57 over Wyche (64). Lewis' record now is 121-107-3 in the regular season and 121-114-3 including postseason.

Lewis in 2017 ranks second among NFL head coaches in longest current tenure with one team, trailing only Bill Belichick, who is in his 18th straight season with New England. In the category of most seasons as head coach with one or more teams, Lewis ranks fourth among active coaches, behind Belichick (23rd season in '17), Andy Reid (19) and John Fox (16).

Lewis has developed an impressive "coaching tree" during his Bengals tenure. Five of his former assistants have become NFL head coaches, and four of those are leading teams in 2017. The list, including their teams and head coaching tenures, includes former Bengals offensive coordinators Jay Gruden (Washington, 2014-present) and Hue Jackson (Cleveland, '16-present), former defensive coordinators Leslie Frazier (Minnesota, '10-13) and Mike Zimmer (Minnesota, '14-present), and former defensive backs coach Vance Joseph (Denver, '17).

Lewis was the consensus choice for NFL Coach of the Year in 2009, when the Bengals won the AFC North Division while sweeping all six division games. The Bengals also were AFC North champions under Lewis in 2005, '13 and '15.

Named the ninth head coach in Bengals history on Jan. 14, 2003, Lewis started quickly. His '03 club finished 8-8, six games better than the '02 club, good for the biggest improvement in the NFL that year.

Lewis came to the Bengals with credentials as a record-setting NFL defensive coordinator, having played a huge role in a championship season. His six seasons (1996-2001) as Baltimore Ravens coordinator included a Super Bowl victory in '00, when his defense set the NFL record for fewest points allowed in a 16-game campaign (165). That team clipped 22 points off the previous mark. The 2000 Ravens are always an entry in discussions regarding the best NFL defensive units of all time.

In 2002, the season before he joined the Bengals, Lewis led the Washington Redskins to a No. 5 NFL defensive ranking, serving as assistant head coach as well as defensive coordinator.

He had his first NFL assignment from 1992-95, as linebackers coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. He aided the development of four Pro Bowl players — Kevin Greene, Chad Brown, Levon Kirkland and Greg Lloyd.

Lewis began his coaching career as linebackers coach at his alma mater Idaho State from 1981-84. ISU's team (also nicknamed the Bengals) finished 12-1 in Lewis' first season there and won the NCAA Division 1-AA championship.

Lewis played LB at Idaho State, earning All-Big Sky Conference honors for three consecutive years (1978-80). He also saw action at quarterback and free safety during his college career. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981, and earned his master's in athletic administration in '82. He was inducted into Idaho State's Hall of Fame in 2001.

Born Sept. 23, 1958, Lewis attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety. He also earned high school letters in wrestling and baseball. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Marcus. Marcus Lewis joined the Bengals' coaching staff for 2014 and remains on the staff for '17.

Doug Marrone was named the sixth head coach in Jaguars history on January 9, 2017 after serving as the team's interim head coach for the final two games of the '16 season. His career record is 20-21.

Marrone joined the Jaguars in 2015 as the team's assistant head coach-offense/offensive line coach. He previously served as head coach of the Buffalo Bills (2013-14) and Syracuse University ('09-12).

Prior to his Syracuse tenure, Marrone spent seven years in the NFL, with New Orleans (2006-08) and the N.Y. Jets ('02-05).

Marrone was drafted in the sixth round of the 1986 NFL Draft by the L.A. Raiders and played two years in the NFL, first with the Miami Dolphins in 1987 and with the Saints in '89. He also had playing stints with Pittsburgh, Dallas and Minnesota before closing his career with the NFL Europe London Monarchs (1991-92).

Marrone was a three-year letterman (1983-85) at Syracuse as an offensive lineman. He earned a degree in liberal arts from Syracuse in 1991. He coached collegiately at Cortland (1992), the U.S. Coast Guard Academy ('93), Northeastern ('94), Georgia Tech ('95-99), Georgia (2000), and Tennessee ('01).

Marrone was born on July 25, 1964 in Bronx, N.Y. He and wife, Helen, have two daughters, Madeline and Annie, and a son, Mack.

Lewis vs. Jaguars: Lewis leads, 4-1.

Lewis vs. Marrone: Lewis leads, 1-0 (a 27-24 overtime win vs. Marrone in 2013, when Marrone was head coach of the Buffalo Bills).

Marrone vs. Bengals: Bengals lead, 1-0.

BENGALS NOTES

Bengals 'D' in top 10 in seven categories: The Bengals' defense has gotten off to a roaring start in 2017, with top-10 rankings in seven defensive categories, and four in the top five.

The Bengals are allowing 295.0 net yards per contest, good for a No. 5 ranking league-wide in total defense. They're also allowing 4.5 yards per play, second-best in the NFL.

The Bengals have led the league in total defense just once in team history — in 1983, when they allowed 270.4 yards per game.

Cincinnati also ranks fourth against the pass (183.1 yards per game) and third in yards per pass play (5.2). The Bengals' best league ranking against the pass for a full season is No. 2, achieved in both 1993 (174.9) and '75 (123.5).

The defense also ranks in the top 10 in three other primary categories — sixth in sacks per pass play (.09; 22 sacks in 248 pass plays), ninth in first downs allowed per game (18.0) and ninth in scoring defense (19.3 points per game).

Dunlap the playmaker: Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap's playmaking ability was on display again last week vs. Indianapolis, when he tipped a Jacoby Brissett pass in the fourth quarter and returned it 16 yards for a touchdown. The score, which came with 6:58 remaining in the game and the Bengals trailing by six, put Cincinnati on top to stay, 24-23. It was Dunlap's third career touchdown and second pick-six. Dunlap also recorded a sack of Brissett earlier in the contest.

For the season, Dunlap, an eighth-year player out of the University of Florida, has two sacks, seven QB hurries, two passes defended, five tackles for losses, a forced fumble and the interception for a touchdown.

Dunlap earned his second Pro Bowl nod last season, after filling up the stat sheet with eight sacks, a team-leading 15 passes defended and three forced fumbles.

Dunlap has 59 sacks for his career, tied for third all-time in Bengals history with DE Ross Browner.

With continued play at the level he's shown he can produce, Dunlap could wind up as the franchise's all-time sacks leader. He has averaged 8.1 sacks over his seven previous seasons. All-time Bengals sacks leader Eddie Edwards (83.5) averaged seven sacks over 12 seasons (1977-88), second-place Reggie Williams (62.5) averaged 4.5 sacks over 14 seasons (1976-89), and third-place Browner (59) averaged 6.6 over nine campaigns (1978-86).

In 2015, Dunlap had 13.5 sacks, second-most in Bengals history. Besides his 59 sacks, his career totals include 16 forced fumbles, eight fumble recoveries, 43 passes defended, four blocked FGs and three TDs scored.

"Carlos brings us a lot, and he needs to keep bringing it for us," said defensive coordinator Paul Guenther. "The key thing for Carlos is that he's an athlete, and a very big athlete. He's explosive and he just makes plays. He has also developed into a mature guy and a team leader."

Bengals D keeps 'em off the board: The Bengals defense has made its mark in scoring defense over the last few seasons, and that momentum has carried into 2017. The unit currently sports a top-10 ranking (ninth) in the NFL in points allowed per game (19.3). The Bengals have held opponents to 20 points or less in four of seven games this season. In the last 16 games (dating back to Game 8 of 2016 vs. Washington), the Bengals have allowed more than 20 points only six times and held opponents to an average of 18.0 points per game.

The Bengals last season finished eighth in scoring defense (19.7), thanks in large part to a seven-game stretch to close the year in which it held opponents under 20 points six times while allowing a scoring average of 15.0. That followed a 2015 campaign in which they ranked second in scoring defense (17.4). In 2014, Paul Guenther's first season as defensive coordinator, Cincinnati ranked 12th in scoring defense.

"My job is to limit points, period," Guenther said. "That's what I get paid to do. It's not holding them to 200 yards but have three plays be touchdowns. Regardless of where they get the ball — if we turn it over (on offense) and it's on the 10-yard line — let's go play defense. Hold them to three. I'm paid to keep them off the scoreboard."

Bengals D gets off the field: The Bengals' defense this year has proven adept at forcing opposing offenses off the field in a hurry. The defense has held opponents without a first down on 32 drives (out of 82 total) this season, meaning opposing offenses have failed to make a first down on 39 percent of their drives against the Bengals. That rate ranks sixth in the NFL.

These instances are typically referred to as 'three-and-outs,' although they technically include all possessions in which the opposing offense is held without a first down.

In their last game, the Bengals held Indianapolis without a first down on four drives.

Geno's sack streak halted at six: Bengals DT Geno Atkins' most productive sack streak of his stellar eight-year career ended in Game 2 at Green Bay, when he was held without a sack for the first time since Game 12 of last season. Atkins had recorded at least a half sack in six consecutive games. His streak of six tied for the longest streak in Bengals history with DE Eddie Edwards (1983), LB Reggie Williams ('84) and current DE Carlos Dunlap (2010), and it had also been the longest active streak in the NFL at the time.

Over the span of the streak, Atkins recorded 7.5 sacks for 51.5 yards. He had two multi-sack efforts during the streak — two sacks for 19 yards in Game 13 at Cleveland last season (the first game in the streak), and two sacks in Game 2 of 2017 vs. Houston.

Atkins has 57 sacks for his career, fourth place all-time in team history and the most ever by a Bengals interior lineman.

Marvin's youth movement: According to information released by the NFL regarding opening-week rosters, considered the baseline for comparing year-to-year roster information, the Bengals began the 2017 season with the youngest roster (average of 25.45 years old) in Marvin Lewis' 15 seasons as head coach. Lewis' next-youngest editions were in 2004 (25.7) and '11 (25.74). The Bengals' opening-week roster also ranked as the third-youngest in the NFL this year, behind Cleveland (24.17) and the L.A. Rams (25.11). The average age league-wide was 26.05.

The Bengals' 14 rookie or first-year players on the Week 1 roster were also the most ever for an opening week in the Marvin Lewis era, edging out the 2004 season (13). The total ranked as the third-highest in the NFL this year, behind Cleveland (16) and Detroit (15). League-wide, teams averaged 10.53 rookie or first-year players.

In terms of NFL experience, the Bengals' average of 3.75 years was the fourth-lowest in the Marvin Lewis era, behind the 2004 (3.57), '06 (3.6) and '08 (3.67) seasons. The Bengals this year tied for the seventh least-experienced roster in the league, with Cleveland leading the way at 2.55 years of experience. The average level of experience across the league was 4.10 years.

The Bengals also totaled only seven players aged 30 or older, which tied for the fourth-fewest in Lewis' tenure, behind the 2011 (two), '04 (six) and '12 (six) seasons. The 2009 roster also had seven players 30 or older. The Bengals' 2015 roster had the most players (11) aged 30 or older.

Eleven of the 44 players to see action in Week 1 (two were listed as DNP) were making their Bengals debut, and nine of those players were making their NFL debut.

Defense leans on the 'kids': While the core of the NFL's fifth-ranked defense is no doubt recognizable with veteran stalwarts like Geno Atkins, Vontaze Burfict and Carlos Dunlap filling up the stat sheets, this edition of the Bengals defense sports an unusually young surrounding cast. The Cincinnati defense has leaned heavily upon the 'kids,' a nickname coined by several analysts for the wave of young Bengals, and the results have been impressive.

Ten of the 25 Bengals players to see time on defense this season are either rookies or second-year players, including five who have been on the field for more than a quarter of the team's 480 defensive snaps. That includes the defense's leader in snaps played, second-year LB Nick Vigil, who has been on the field for 99.6 percent (478 out of 480 possible) of defensive plays this season. Vigil also leads the team in tackles, with 53.

Bengal rookie and second-year players have combined to play 1472 out of an available 5280 snaps (480 plays, multiplied by 11 players on the field at a time) this season, which works out to just under 28 percent. And from a production standpoint, they haven't disappointed, accounting for 6.5 of the team's 22 sacks, three of its five INTs, 12 of its 28 passes defended, and 107 of the 433 total tackles (24.7 percent). Rookie DE Jordan Willis also has a blocked punt on special teams.

Eight of the Bengals' 18 draft choices over the last two years were used on defenders, and seven of those players have seen action this season, combining for 1252 snaps. The lone defensive draft selection to not appear in a game, rookie sixth-round pick Brandon Wilson, is on the Bengals' practice squad.

Here are the Bengals' rookie and second-year players to see time this year: Vigil (478 snaps), CB William Jackson (254), LB Carl Lawson (217), DE Jordan Willis (170), DT Ryan Glasgow (157), S Clayton Fejedelem (105), DT Andrew Billings (59), CB KeiVarae Russell (16), LB Jordan Evans (12), LB Hardy Nickerson (four).

Defense's sack streak ends at 34: The Bengals were held without a sack in Game 6 at Pittsburgh, marking the first time in more than two seasons they did not record at least one sack in a game. The 34-game streak (regular season only) had begun in Week 4 of 2015, in a 36-21 home win over Kansas City in which the defense tallied five sacks. It had been the longest active streak in the NFL and the longest since Green Bay's streak of 42 ended in 2015.

The sack streak registers as the second-longest in team history, behind a 50-gamer that stretched over parts of five seasons in the early 1980s (Nov. 8, 1981 to Sept. 15, 1985). The next-longest streak is 32, which spanned from Nov. 8, 2010 to Oct. 21, 2012.

Over Cincinnati's 34-game streak, the Bengals recorded 87 sacks for 545 yards. Twenty-one different Bengals had at least a half sack over the span, and the defense logged more than one sack in 24 of the 34 games. DT Geno Atkins totaled the most sacks during the stretch, with 22, and he recorded at least a half sack in 19 of the games. DE Carlos Dunlap was a close second, with 20, and logged at least a half sack in 16 different games.

Through the team's first seven games of 2017, nine different Bengals have recorded at least one sack. The Bengals have 22 sacks this season, ranked tied for ninth in the NFL. Five of the eight teams ahead of Cincinnati have played eight games, while the Bengals have played just seven.

Add Jackson to the list: Early in the second quarter of Game 3 at Green Bay, CB William Jackson jumped in front of Packers WR Jordy Nelson, snagged a pass thrown by QB Aaron Rodgers for an interception and returned it 75 yards for a touchdown.

It was a big play for the Bengals at the time, giving the Bengals a 21-7 lead, though Cincinnati eventually lost to the Packers in overtime. Despite the loss, that INT stood out from a historical perspective, not only because it was a TD, but because it also was the first INT of Jackson's career.

Jackson, a second-year player, became just the 14th Bengal to score on his first career INT and the first since DE Carlos Dunlap did it in 2012. Jackson was the first defensive back to do it since CB Johnathan Joseph scored on his first INT in 2007.

Jackson, from the University of Houston, was the Bengals' first-round pick in the 2016 NFL Draft. He spent his entire rookie season on the Reserve/Injured list with a pectoral muscle tear, thus he recorded the INT for a TD in just his third career game.

Here is a complete list of the Bengals players who scored a TD on their first career INT:

Dalton second to go six-for-3000: A season passing total of 3000 yards is not in itself a stupendous NFL feat. Twenty-five passers reached it in 2016. But hitting 3000 in the first six seasons of an NFL career, which Andy Dalton reached last year in Game 11 at Baltimore, still is an event worth noting.

The only QB to do it before Dalton was Peyton Manning. The cinch Hall of Famer is beyond compare in this realm, as he reeled off 13 straight 3000-yarders before missing the 2011 season due to injury.

Carolina's Cam Newton ended up joining the same club a few weeks later last season, passing the 3000 mark on Dec. 19 at Washington, and he finished the season at 3509 yards. Newton was chosen first overall in the same 2011 draft in which the Bengals claimed Dalton at No. 35.

Dalton finished 2016 with 4206 yards. This year, he has passed for 1603 yards through seven games, which projects to 3664 yards for the full season.

Dalton chasing Kenny in TDs: Although he has been held out of the end zone so far this season, QB Andy Dalton's 19 total TDs are just one short of the franchise record for touchdowns by a QB, held at 20 by Ken Anderson. Dalton is in his seventh season, while Anderson played 16 Bengals seasons (1971-86).

All of Anderson's 20 TDs were rushing scores. Dalton has 18 rushing TDs, and he has 19 total by virtue of being the only Bengals QB ever to catch a touchdown pass. He scored on an 18-yard gadget connection from WR Mohamed Sanu vs. Tennessee in 2014.

The next-most TDs by a Bengals QB is 10, by Jeff Blake.

Dalton and Jack Thompson share the Bengals season record for touchdowns by a QB, at five. Dalton had five in 2014, tying the record first set by Thompson in 1979.

'Crazy Legs' Andy: QB Andy Dalton's 18 career rushing TDs not only puts him in rare company in team history, he's also among the best when compared to his current NFL peers. In the rushing TDs by a QB, only Carolina's Cam Newton, whose 51 rushing TDs are beyond similarity, ranks higher than Dalton since 2011. Dalton and Newton both entered the league in '11.

Andrew Luck (14), Russell Wilson (14) and Colin Kaepernick (13) round out the top five.

Dalton piles up the wins: Of the many things QB Andy Dalton has proven in his NFL career thus far, perhaps none is more valued than his knack for earning victories. And he has done so at a rate on-par, or better, than some of the game's best passers.

Here's a look at the most wins by QBs through their first six seasons. Dalton had 56 wins through the end of the 2016 season, his sixth, which ties him for sixth place.

PLAYER	TEAM	WINS
Joe Flacco	Baltimore	62
Russell Wilson	Seattle	61
Ben Roethlisberger	Pittsburgh	60
Matt Ryan	Atlanta	60
Tom Brady	New England	58
Andy Dalton	Cincinnati	56
Donovan McNabb	Philadelphia	56

When extending this list to a QB's first seven seasons, the required minimum number of wins to rank in the top five is 66. Thus, Dalton would have to lead the Bengals to 10 wins this season (he currently has three) to rank in the top five. After seven seasons, Flacco (72) again leads the way, followed by Brady (70), Roethlisberger (69), Manning (66) and Ryan (66).

An Andy roundup: Other records and notable accomplishments in QB Andy Dalton's career include:

- He is one of only three QBs in the Super Bowl era to lead a team to the postseason in each of his first five campaigns. Dalton did that from 2011-15, while Baltimore's Joe Flacco did it from '08-12 and Seattle's Russell Wilson has done it from '12-16.
- Dalton has posted 39 career games with a passer rating of 100 or more, and the Bengals are 33-6 (.846) in those contests.
- Dalton's .600 winning percentage (59-39-2) ranks sixth among active QBs with 50 or more starts behind Tom Brady (.778), Russell Wilson (.707), Ben Roethlisberger (.675), Aaron Rodgers (.667) and Andrew Luck (.614).
- Dalton's .600 winning percentage also is the best of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts.
- Dalton holds club season records for passing yards (4293) and TD passes (33), both set in 2013.
- He is the only Bengals passer to throw for 300-plus yards in four consecutive games (2013).
- He opened his career with 77 consecutive regular-season starts, a Bengals record for quarterbacks at any point during a career. The previous mark had been 61, posted by Boomer Esiason from 1985-89. Dalton's streak ranks tied for fourth in NFL history for the start of a career by a QB, trailing only Peyton Manning of Indianapolis (208), Joe Flacco of Baltimore (122) and Russell Wilson of Seattle (87 and counting). Dalton is tied with Miami QB Ryan Tannehill, whose streak of 77 ended last year due to an injury.

Geno does it again: DT Geno Atkins has again found himself atop NFL interior defensive linemen in sacks. After eight weeks, Atkins and Dallas DT David Irving are tied for the NFL lead in sacks for interior linemen, with 5.0.

It's a familiar position for Atkins, who has finished in at least a tie for the NFL lead in sacks by an interior lineman in four of his seven previous seasons. Last year, he claimed the honor outright with nine sacks, besting DT Aaron Donald of the Los Angeles Rams, who was second with eight. No other interior lineman had more than seven.

Atkins also was the outright winner in 2012, when he had a career-best 12.5 sacks. He tied for the league lead in 2011 (7.5 sacks) and 2015 (11).

Atkins has 57 career sacks, most by a Bengals interior lineman and fifth overall.

Now that's fast: To say that John Ross brings record-setting speed to the team is putting it rather mildly.

The rookie WR, the Bengals' first-round pick out of Washington (ninth overall), has speed that isn't just considered fast, it's considered exceptional. He clocked a 4.22-second 40-yard dash at the NFL Scouting Combine in February, which is considered to be an all-time combine record.

"His dynamic speed shows up on tape," said Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "When you watch the tape, you feel this guy playing. He gives us another option offensively and helps us balance the field (opposite WR A.J. Green).

"When you watch him, it's just play after play after play that he can turn into a big gain. Whether it's the inside slant, whether it's what we call 'lightnings,' or anything else — when teams are playing against him, they feel (his speed) every time he touches the ball."

And Ross isn't just a burner — he's also a very good football player. He posted career totals of 114 catches, 1729 receiving yards and 22 receiving TDs over three seasons at Washington.

The NFL began measuring 40-yard dash times electronically at the 1991 scouting combine. However, records of those times were not kept regularly until 2003. Here is list of the 10 fastest 40 times recorded electronically since '03:

YEAR	PLAYER	COLLEGE	40 TIME
2017	WR John Ross	Washington	4.22
2008	RB Chris Johnson	East Carolina.....	4.24
2005	WR Jerome Mathis	Hampton.....	4.26
2014	RB Dri Archer	Kent State	4.26
2003	WR Tyrone Calico	Middle Tennessee.....	4.27
2005	CB Stanford Routt	Houston.....	4.27
2013	WR Marquise Goodwin	Texas	4.27
2010	WR Jacoby Ford	Clemson	4.28
2015	WR J.J. Nelson	Alabama-Birmingham.....	4.28
2005	CB Fabian Washington	Nebraska.....	4.29

A knee injury has limited Ross to two games so far this season — Game 2 vs. Houston and Game 7 vs. Indianapolis. His only appearance in the stat column was a 12-yard run in the Houston game that ended in a fumble and Texans recovery.

Big-play John: Rookie WR John Ross has gained plenty of notoriety for his record-setting 4.22-second 40-yard dash at the 2017 NFL Combine, but his college numbers indicate that his speed translates to the football field as well.

Over Ross' four years at Washington (one of which was completely lost to injury), the speedster totaled five scoring plays of 90 yards or longer. And while NFL defenses are considered far superior to those at the college level, it's still worth noting that the Bengals as a team over the last 10 seasons (2007-16) have only two scoring plays of 90 yards or longer — a 100-yard kickoff return TD by Glenn Holt at Buffalo in '07, and a 96-yard kickoff return TD by Bernard Scott at Pittsburgh in '09. Current CB Adam Jones also had a 97-yard kickoff return vs. Carolina in 2014, but he was tackled just short of the end zone.

Joe's 2016 among the best: The University of Oklahoma's backfield has seen it's share of exemplary rushing seasons throughout history. Nine College Football Hall of Fame ball-carriers have cycled through Norman over the years, and over the last decade, players like Adrian Peterson and DeMarco Murray reached stardom there to add to the school's rich running back tradition.

That makes Joe Mixon's 2016 campaign all the more impressive. Only three times in school history has a back averaged better than Mixon's 6.8 yards per carry in 2016. College Football Hall of Famer Greg Pruitt, who also played 12 years in the NFL, was first to do it when he averaged 8.98 in 1971. Marcus Dupree was next, when in 1982, at the peak of his famously stellar but injury shortened football career, he averaged 7.84. The only other Oklahoma back to best Mixon's 2016 mark was Billy Sims, another College Football Hall of Famer and NFL standout, who averaged 7.41 during his Heisman Trophy-winning season of 1978.

Willis earns praise from a legend: Earning praise from a 77-year-old College Football Hall of Fame coach may not be easy, but that's precisely what Willis received from legendary Kansas State head coach Bill Snyder last year.

"Jordan is the epitome of what our program is all about," Snyder said in 2016, his 25th season as KSU head coach. "He comes to practice exactly the same way he goes to a ballgame. If you were unaware of the setting, you couldn't tell the difference between what he does on the practice field and what he does on the game field. Like I have said so many times, he is a young guy who gives you his very best of every second of every minute of every hour of every day of every week. He has learned the value of that and (realized) what it has meant to him. He has allowed that to carry over into every aspect of his life.

He is going to be a highly successful young guy in a lot of ways, because he is that committed to doing the best that he can."

Willis invades the stat sheet: Rookie DE Jordan Willis has played in all seven games this year, including a start at RDE in Week 2 in place of injured starter Michael Johnson. He's been on the field for 170 of the defense's 480 total plays (35.4 percent) and has totaled 14 tackles and a sack. He also blocked a punt in Game 7 vs. Indianapolis.

Willis turned heads this preseason with his pass rush and playmaking ability, tying for the NFL lead in sacks, with four, while also adding a forced fumble. But gaudy numbers are nothing new for the former Kansas State Wildcat.

Last year, while longtime KSU head coach Bill Snyder was heaping praise on Willis as one of the top people to ever pass through KSU's program (see previous item), that stat sheet identified him as one of the school's best-ever defensive players.

Willis' 17.5 tackles for losses in 2016 set a school record, and he also led the conference and tied another school record with 11.5 sacks. He recorded at least one sack in eight of KSU's 13 games last year, including four games where he logged multiple sacks. He also forced three fumbles and had one fumble recovery. Willis was named the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year (AP and coaches), first team All-Big 12 (AP and coaches) and Big 12 Lineman of the Year (coaches). And that was just his senior season.

Over his four-year career, Willis totaled 114 tackles, 40.5 of which were for losses and 26 for sacks. That sack total ranked third in KSU history and tied for seventh in Big 12 history. He closed his career at KSU with a sack in 11 of his last 17 games, and at least a shared TFL in 15 of his last 17. And on top of it all, he proved to be durable, starting every game his last three seasons (39 straight).

Lawson leads rookies in sacks: Through the first seven weeks of the 2017 NFL season, Bengals LB Carl Lawson ranks first among all NFL rookies in sacks, with 4.5. Close behind are Myles Garrett of Cleveland and T.J. Watt of Pittsburgh, who each have 4.0. Among all players, Lawson stands in a tie for 24th, with Dallas' Demarcus Lawrence leading the NFL at 10.5.

In Game 3 at Green Bay, Lawson recorded 2.5 sacks, the most by a Bengals rookie since Justin Smith in 2001.

Last week vs. Indianapolis, with the Colts driving for a potential game-winning field goal attempt late in the fourth quarter, Lawson sacked Jacoby Brissett for seven yards on second-and-six. Two plays later, the Bengals denied the Colts' final fourth down effort, sealing a victory.

Lawson joins rare company: In Week 2 vs Green Bay, rookie Carl Lawson wreaked havoc in the Packers' backfield, recording 2.5 sacks on the day. Another sack was wiped off the stat sheet by an unrelated penalty. With the outstanding performance, Lawson joined DE Justin Smith as the only Bengal rookies ever to reach the 2.5-sack plateau in a game (Smith had three on Dec. 9, 2001 vs. Jacksonville). He also became only the second NFL rookie since 2013 to reach 2.5 in a game, joining Washington's Preston Smith, who had three on Dec. 26, 2015 at Philadelphia.

Lawson cut his teeth at Auburn as a defensive end, playing with his hand on the ground and developing a reputation as one of the Southeastern Conference's most feared pass rushers. Since being drafted this spring though, Bengals coaches have added linebacker duties to his plate. Lawson is listed on the Bengals' depth chart as the No. 2 SLB.

But with great speed, quickness and strength — his 35 bench press reps of 225 pounds at the 2017 NFL Combine tied for the top mark overall — Bengals coaches have found a way to get him on the field in a fashion that suits his strength as a pass rusher. Thus far in the 2017 season, most of Lawson's time on defense has come with his hand on the ground, as an edge rusher with the No. 1 nickel defensive unit. He has seven tackles on the year, including 4.5 sacks for 30.5 yards. He started Game 4 at Cleveland, when the defense opened the game in a nickel defensive package, and he's played in 217 of a possible 480 snaps on defense this season.

Lawson battled injuries while at Auburn — he lost 2014 to a torn ACL, and a hip injury cost him six games and limited him thereafter in '15 — but he still managed 14 career sacks among his 24 tackles for losses. Last year, while healthy, Lawson started 13 games for the Tigers and recorded nine sacks among his 13.5 tackles for losses, en route to earning All-SEC First Team honors.

Willie praises Lawson: Bengals rookie LB Carl Lawson, a noted leader and two-time team captain in college, earned high praise from former Bengals OT and fellow Auburn alum Willie Anderson earlier this year. Anderson, whose son attended Milton High School with Lawson in Alpharetta, Ga., offered this ringing endorsement of the rookie:

"He's a great kid. A leader. He worked his way up. (He had) no college offers before his senior year, and he and his dad worked hard to make him (one of the top recruits in the country). He dominated high school linemen and continued in college. He had the injuries, but now he knows how to train and take care of himself. He'll give you Takeo-like (former Bengals LB Takeo Spikes) effort and intensity. He's been a captain at both levels and has always been a positive guy that other young players like my son looked up to. Every coach he's ever played for absolutely loves him. No one says a bad word about Carl. He's a warrior."

Malone goes long: Bengals rookie WR Josh Malone recorded his first career catch against Indianapolis in Game 7 — a 10-yarder in the first quarter — and followed it up with his first career TD reception. His 25-yard TD in the third quarter came when he adjusted to an underthrown ball in the end-zone, putting the Bengals on top 17-13.

Last year, the 6-3, 208-pound wideout wrapped up his three-year career at the University of Tennessee with a record-setting campaign, totaling 50 receptions for 972 yards on the season and setting a school record for yards per reception, at 19.4. That mark topped the previous best of 18.3, set by Robert Meachem in 2006.

Malone also displayed a nose for the end zone, scoring 11 TDs (all receiving) in the Vols' 13 games. Six of those 11 went for longer than 40 yards.

The former Mr. Football in Tennessee finished his career with 104 catches, 1608 receiving yards (15.5 average) and 14 TDs. At the 2017 NFL Combine, his 4.40 40-yard dash ranked third among wide receivers and eighth overall.

"He's big and long and runs fast," said WRs coach James Urban. "He had a fine year (in 2016), and we think he can stretch the field at this level as well."

Malone's only action this season has come in the last two games - at Pittsburgh and vs. Indianapolis — and he has played 32 snaps on offense.

Green and some gold jackets: Though a hamstring injury cost him all but two plays of 2016's final seven games, A.J. Green finished his sixth season with nine career games with at least 150 receiving yards and a touchdown catch. The only players to have more such games in their first six seasons were Hall of Famers Lance Alworth (13) and Jerry Rice (11), and prime HOF candidate Randy Moss (10).

And already in 2017, Green already has added a 10th game of 150-plus and a TD — he had 189, with a 77-yard TD, in Game 5, Oct. 8 vs. Buffalo.

Here's a look at the list of players with 10 or more games of 150-plus receiving yards and a TD through their first seven seasons.

PLAYER	TEAM	NO. OF GAMES
Lance Alworth	San Diego Chargers	16
Jerry Rice	San Francisco 49ers	13
A.J. Green	Cincinnati Bengals	10
Torry Holt	St. Louis Rams	10
Calvin Johnson	Detroit Lions	10
Randy Moss	Minnesota Vikings	10

Dalton and Green make six-year history: WR A.J. Green and QB Andy Dalton were the Bengals' first two draft selections in 2011, and their first six seasons produced quite the ride.

Per Elias Sports Bureau, they stand as the most productive QB-WR duo in NFL history for players each in their first six seasons. Their 461 career completions and 6753 yards through the conclusion of 2016 were the most by any duo, and their 44 TD connections ranked second to Miami's duo of QB Dan Marino and WR Mark Clayton (53 TDs from 1983-88).

Only A.J.: Cincinnati's A.J. Green had his 2016 season cut short by a hamstring injury, which halted his bid for a sixth-straight 1000-yard season to start his career (he finished with 964). Green did, however, still manage a sixth nomination to the Pro Bowl (he did not play in the game due to the injury).

While 2016 marked the first time in his stellar career that Green did not accomplish both of those feats, he still stands as the only NFL receiver since the 1970 merger to start his career with five consecutive 1000-yard seasons (averaging more than 1200 yards) and five trips to the Pro Bowl. The last pass-catcher to start his career with five consecutive Pro Bowl appearances was Hall of Fame TE Mike Ditka (1961-65).

Dunlap's PD frenzy — unprecedented: In the first 40 seasons (1976-2015) in which Bengals defensive statistics were recorded, no defensive lineman ever led the team in passes defended for a season. None were even close, really. But it happened in 2016, and it wasn't close.

DE Carlos Dunlap had five more PDs — 15 — than anyone else on the team last season. And he had seven more PDs than any other NFL defensive lineman. The players ahead of Dunlap in the NFL were all cornerbacks, led at 24 by Brent Grimes of Miami.

The next-highest total by an NFL D-lineman was eight, by DE Jason Pierre-Paul of the Giants. The next-highest total by a Bengal was 10, by CB Dre Kirkpatrick.

"Carlos has those long, long arms," says defensive coordinator Paul Guenther, "and of course he gets good pressure. So I'm not surprised he's one of the best we've had in that area."

"Passes defended" include interceptions as well as passes broken up. When a player makes an INT, he also is credited with a PD. Dunlap had no INTs in '16, and in the category of passes broken up without counting INTs, only four players were ahead of Dunlap, led by Grimes at 20.

The NFL has no team or league statistics to offer in terms of "most PDs ever by a D-lineman" or "highest league ranking ever by a D-lineman in passes defended," because the statistic has been officially compiled league-wide only for a few years.

Through seven games in 2017, Dunlap has two passes defended, including a tipped pass in Game 7 vs. Indianapolis that he also intercepted and returned for a TD.

Erickson dangerous on KORs: Bengals WR Alex Erickson so far this season has flashed the ability that's made him one of the NFL's most dangerous kickoff returners. Through Week 8, he boasts a 22.5 average, with a long of 41.

As a rookie in 2016, Erickson posted a 27.9-yard kickoff return average (on 29 attempts), which led the AFC and ranked second in the NFL. He trailed only Cordarrelle Patterson of Minnesota (31.7). The second-place AFC qualifier was former Bengal Brandon Tate of Buffalo, more than five yards per-attempt behind Erickson at 22.8.

Erickson's 27.9 goes down as the second-best average in Bengals history, behind only the 31.3 posted by CB Adam Jones in 2014. Jones' figure led the NFL, giving the Bengals their first-ever NFL KOR title. Erickson was the third Bengal to ever lead the AFC, joining Jones and DB Tremain Mack (27.1 in 1999). He also became the only player in Bengals history with three returns of 65 or more yards in a season.

Erickson also serves as the Bengals' primary punt returner, with 187 yards on 24 returns so far this year.

Jones wears two crowns: Though the 2017 season is still young, the oldest player on the Bengals' roster, veteran CB Adam Jones (turned 34 on Sept. 30), has again flashed his ability as a return specialist. For the season, Jones has totaled 81 yards on just three punt returns (27.0), including returns of 40 and 33 yards.

Jones is the Bengals' career leader in punt return average (11.21) and kickoff return average (26.35). The second-place Bengal in punt return average is WR Quan Cosby (9.99 from 2009-10), and the No. 2 man in kickoff return average is CB Lemar Parrish (24.66 from 1970-77).

With a starting role on defense though, Jones has seen his return opportunities limited in recent years. WR Alex Erickson served as the Bengals' primary returner in 2016 and again leads the team in both punt (24) and kickoff (12) return attempts in the '17 campaign. Jones has three punt returns so far this season and no kickoff returns.

Jones' history as a dangerous returner dates back to the beginning of his career, when he returned three punts for TDs over his first two NFL seasons (2005 and '06) as a member of the Tennessee Titans. In 2014 with Cincinnati, he set a Bengals record and led the NFL with a 31.3 KOR average. That same season he finished second in the league in punt return average (12.0).

Adding in three NFL seasons played elsewhere to his now eight years (2010-17) of Bengals play, Jones has NFL career averages of 26.0 yards per KOR and 10.5 per PR.

Jones has five career PRs for touchdowns. That total is tied with Minnesota CB Marcus Sherels for second-most among active players, behind only Philadelphia RB Darren Sproles, who has seven. Jones has never had a kickoff return for a score. He had a 97-yard KOR for the Bengals in 2014 vs. Carolina, but he was downed at the Panthers' three-yard line. The return did set up a TD, and it stands as the longest play in Bengals history that did not result in a TD.

Hill among tops in rush TDs since '14: Bengals HB Jeremy Hill, a bruising runner with open-field speed to burn, has always had a knack for getting into the end-zone. Hill now stands at 29 career rushing TDs since entering the league as a Bengals second-round draft selection in 2014, a total that stands third in the NFL over that span, trailing Philadelphia's LeGarrette Blount (31) and Tennessee's DeMarco Murray (30).

Last season, Hill totaled nine rushing TDs. In 2015, he notched 11 rushing scores, and as a rookie in '14, he totaled nine. His 12 total TDs in '15 (one receiving, in addition to his 11 rushing) were the most by a Bengals RB since Rudi Johnson had 12 in 2006. For his Bengals career, Hill has 32 total TDs in 48 games, including two postseason games in which he scored one TD each.

Hill's 839 rushing yards led the Bengals in 2016, with a 3.8-yard average on 222 carries. Hill had significantly more than twice as many rush yards as the second-place Bengal and had his third team rushing title in three seasons.

Hill has been held out of the end zone so far in 2017. He has rushed 37 times for 116 yards (3.1), and has four receptions for 16 yards.

Jeremy excels inside the five: When Cincinnati's offense gets inside the opposing team's five-yard line, it likes to give the ball to HB Jeremy Hill. The 6-1, 230-pound halfback has proven to be among the NFL's most successful rushers at finding the end zone when entering that territory.

Of Hill's 29 career rushing TDs, 21 have come from the five-yard line or closer. He has 46 career rushing attempts from the five or closer, meaning he reaches the end zone on 45.7 percent of his carries inside that territory. Since the start of the 2014 season (Hill's rookie season), only Philadelphia's LeGarrette Blount (22) has more rushing TDs from the five and closer.

Recovered Gio sets sights on Brooks: HB Giovani Bernard missed the last six games in 2016, down with a major knee injury (ACL) suffered late in the fourth quarter of Game 10, Nov. 20 vs. Buffalo. But Bernard reported to training camp in July fully recovered from the injury and was a full participant in practice from the first snap.

And so far during the regular season, he hasn't missed a beat. Bernard leads the team in yards per carry, at 4.2 (minimum five carries), and also has 11 catches for 163 yards (14.8) and two TDs, including his 61-yarder in Cleveland.

Bernard's return sets him up to re-start his long pursuit of the all-time Bengals leads in both receptions and receiving yards by a running back. With 198 receptions, Bernard stands 99 short of James Brooks' record of 297. And with 1834 receiving yards, Bernard is 1178 short of Brooks' record of 3012. Brooks played eight seasons with the Bengals (1984-91), while Bernard in 2017 is playing his fifth.

Bernard has made his mark as both a rusher and receiver throughout his career. He averaged 1147 yards from scrimmage over his first three seasons, and his injury-shortened 2016 campaign ended with 673 yards in 10 games. Bernard in '16 was 91-for-337 rushing (3.7), with two TDs, and 39-for-336 receiving, with one TD. He ended '16 fourth on the team in receptions and fifth in receiving yards.

Bernard last season caught a career-best nine passes for 100 yards in Game 2 at Pittsburgh. It marked the second time he has been in triple digits in receiving yards. His 128 yards at Arizona in 2015 is the franchise record for receiving yards by a RB in a game. His 56 receptions as a rookie in 2013 is the Bengals season record for catches by a running back.

Some very good rushing numbers: The Bengals' record under Marvin Lewis with a 100-yard rusher stands at an impressive 44-7-1 (.856). What's more, their record with a rusher who hits the 25-carry plateau is 39-2 (951). Reaching 30 rushes as a team usually spells success under Lewis — they were 5-1-1 (.786) last season with 30 or more rushes as a team. They're 1-1 so far in 2017 when rushing 30 times as a team, with a win in Week 4 vs. Cleveland (30 rushes for 86 yards).

"It's not always the rushing yardage total that's most important," Lewis has said. "When you're running the ball a lot, it's a sign that even though the yardage will vary, you're controlling the ball, controlling the clock, and keeping your defense off the field. As it shows for us, that is going to be a winning combo."

"We love seeing a guy get 100 yards, but sometimes he can break one big gain and then get to 100 even though you may not be running as consistently well and controlling the game like you do when you get high-carry numbers."

Turnover tables are turned: During the tenure of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), the Bengals rank eighth in the NFL in turnover differential, at plus-41.

The Bengals are minus-10 in differential thus far in 2017, with five takeaways (all INTs) and 15 giveaways (eight INTs, seven FL).

Last week vs. Indianapolis, the Bengals were minus-one, with one takeaway (an INT) and two giveaways (both fumbles lost).

Prior to Lewis' tenure, the Bengals had posted a minus turnover differential for five straight years (1998-2002).

Since 2003, NFL teams with just a plus-one differential have won 68.4 percent of those games. At plus-two, the percentage has been 82.5. Teams with any plus have won at a 79.1 percent clip.

Here are the top six teams in differential since 2003:

TEAM	TAKEAWAYS	GIVEAWAYS	DIFFERENTIAL
New England Patriots	431	266	+165
Green Bay Packers	399	333	+66
Seattle Seahawks	395	335	+60
Kansas City Chiefs	385	327	+58
Carolina Panthers	425	375	+50
Indianapolis Colts	372	323	+49
Atlanta Falcons	381	337	+44
Cincinnati Bengals	407	366	+41

Since 2003, the Bengals rank tied for fifth in takeaways (407) and 10th in points off turnovers (1221).

A stat that matters: During the full term of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), a plus-differential in turnovers is linked to a big plus in wins. And the reverse has gone for a minus.

The Bengals are 75-17-1 in regular season under Lewis with a plus (.819 winning percentage), but they are only 18-67-2 with a minus (.218).

"It makes a huge difference," Lewis says. "You see it game after game. You have to possess the football to win. If you possess the football, good things happen. If you turn the ball over to opponents, you have a much harder day."

The Bengals' experience with turnovers under Lewis is backed up by league numbers. Since the start of the 2003 season, Lewis' first as head coach, here are the records of teams with varying turnover differentials.

(NOTE: Minus differentials are not included because they are the exact reverse of the plus figure for the same numbers.)

DIFFERENTIAL	W-L-T	PCT.
Plus 1	898-413-4	.684
Plus 2	725-154	.825
Plus 3	407-39-1	.912
Plus 4	211-6	.972
Plus 5	97-3	.970

Plus teams so far this season have gone 70-17, for a .805 winning percentage.

And when it's even? The Bengals are 28-23 in head coach Marvin Lewis' full tenure in games when the turnover differential has been even, for a winning percentage of .549. The Bengals have won 11 of their last 18 with an even differential (.611), dating back to 2012, but they have lost three of their last four, including a 1-1 record so far in '17.

The Huber roundup: Already a considerable presence in the Bengals record book, P Kevin Huber in '16 passed Lee Johnson for most career inside-20 punts in Bengals history. Johnson, who punted for more than 11 Bengals seasons (1988-98), had 186 career inside-20 punts, while Huber, now in his ninth season, currently stands at 220. A Bengals fifth-round selection in the 2009 draft, Huber also owns the franchise's all-time best ratio of inside-20 kicks to touchbacks (3.79-to-1, with 220 inside-20s and 58 touchbacks).

Huber's other top accomplishments with the Bengals include:

- He is the franchise leader in career gross average (45.13) and net average (39.66).
- He holds the top three Bengals season averages in gross and the top five Bengals season averages in net. His gross record is 46.84 in 2014, and his net record is 42.10, also in '14.
- He shares the team record for longest punt (75 yards) with Kyle Larson.
- His 33 inside-20 punts in 2012 is a franchise record.

Huber was an initial-ballot Pro Bowl selection in 2014 and also was named first-team All-Pro by The Sporting News that year.

Bengal bites: November (31-24-1, .563) is the month with the best winning percentage for Bengals teams in the 15 seasons of head coach Marvin Lewis, followed by September (27-23-0, .540). Clubs are also above .500 for December/January (36-30-0, .545 [regular season]). Lewis' only losing month has been October (27-30-2, .475) ... The attendance of 91,653 on Oct. 9, 2016, at Dallas was the largest ever for a Bengals regular-season game, topping a house of 87,786 for a 2004 visit to FedEx Field in Washington. The largest crowd for any Bengals game remains 92,045, for a 1990 season playoff game against the Los Angeles Raiders at the L.A. Coliseum ... The Bengals' tallest player is

DE Michael Johnson, who is 6-7. There is a tie for the shortest player between K Randy Bullock and HB Giovani Bernard, both of whom are 5-9 ... There is a three-way tie for heaviest player — OT Andre Smith, DT Pat Sims and G Alex Redmond are all 330 pounds ... CB Adam Jones is the lightest player, at 185 pounds ... Jones, who turned 34 on Sept. 30, is also the oldest player ... The youngest player is HB Joe Mixon, who turned 21 on July 24.

BENGALS QUOTES

Bengals president Mike Brown, on the Bengals' 50th season:

"For me, it has been more than 50 years. I was working on things five years or so before we even were awarded the franchise. It has been a lifetime for me. It's what I do. It's what I like. I have been very lucky to be involved with it."

Head coach Marvin Lewis, on the Bengals evolving from an older roster to a younger roster:

"Our approach has changed this year. We've had more competition since we started (offseason activities) back in April, because we knew we were going to be in this situation. This was what I envisioned, and I feel good about it — we wanted to put these young guys in situations where they would be ready to go (once the regular season began). Now they're proving who they are. We said back in April that there had to be a changing of the guard — it's inevitable in the NFL — and we've got some young, emerging guys, which is great to have."

QB Andy Dalton, on shaking off a bad game:

"That's how you have to play quarterback. You never know what's going to happen. You want to play well every week, but if you don't, you have to bounce back. Same thing series to series — if you have a bad play or give up an INT, you have to bounce back. You have to be resilient to play this position."

Lewis, on Dalton:

"He's a fine, fine player. He's a tough man, and he shows it. He's got the inner drive to just keep going, to overcome mistakes, to move on to the next play. That's a great quality that he has."

HB Jeremy Hill, on the team's slow start to the season:

"We just had to keep pushing. We have a lot of savvy veteran guys in this locker room. Not very many of us were in that situation before, but that didn't stop us from practicing hard and trying to execute at a high level. It's a long season."

Former Bengals WR Chad Johnson, on WR A.J. Green:

"To me, he's the greatest (Bengals WR) of all time because he can do things I wasn't able to do. He's a much more consistent pass-catcher than I was."

Baltimore Ravens coach John Harbaugh, on WR A.J. Green:

"I think I was the first coach to go on record saying he was the best in the league. That was maybe five or six years ago, and I stand by that today. I think he's a great player, and he has proven it."

Dalton, on TE Tyler Kroft as the No. 1 TE, now that Tyler Eifert is on R/I:

"He's a guy who works really hard. Before he was playing as much as he has been lately with Tyler Eifert being out, even then I felt like he didn't get enough credit for what he does. I think everyone is starting to see what he can do. He's a reliable player, and that has shown up a lot recently."

RBs coach Kyle Caskey, on HB Joe Mixon:

"His skills are top notch. They're the type of skills you can trust. He can catch the ball — he brings it in with his hands — and he (holds it tightly) when he's running the ball. He can make people miss in space, and he can run people over. He's 228 pounds, he ran a mid-4.4 (second 40-yard dash), and in space he has the agility of a much smaller back."

Director of Player Personnel Duke Tobin, on HB Joe Mixon adjusting to the pro level:

"He has really taken to it, and our coaches have done a great job getting him up to speed. There's a lot to learn at that position — running backs have to prove to be worthy in pass protection before they're going to be trusted long term — and we've been working through that with him. Obviously, his run skills and his instincts are natural. He's got all the physical qualities you look for."

Lewis, on not giving the players Mondays off after victories ...

"We've got work to do. As I told the players — they've worked hard a long time from the beginning of the offseason until now. There's a lot more left, and it's worth it to put their heads down, go to work, and be as great as they can be. It's worth it. Sure, you'll get days off in March. But if you want to make it special, you don't want to waste time now."

Defensive coordinator Paul Guenther, on DT Geno Atkins mentoring the younger players:

"One thing about Geno this year is that he has done a great job of being a mentor, more so than any other year I've been around him. Everyone knows him as a quiet guy, and he is generally quiet. But I've seen him taking Billings, Glasgow, Lawson, Willis and all of the other young guys aside and talking to them about protections, opponents and everything else. Any time the young players can receive feedback like that from a guy that's been around here for years — a player they respect — is tremendous. They get tired of listening to me all the time."

Lewis, on all the young Bengals players on defense:

"They've done a really good job. There are times when we have three (rookies or second-year players) on the defensive line, one at linebacker and one in the secondary on the field together at the same time. That's huge when we're getting such positive plays out of those younger guys. And they aren't missing a beat. A coach's instinct is to throw vets like Michael (DE Michael Johnson) or Carlos (DE Carlos Dunlap) back in there. But then you see (rookie DE) Jordan Willis, or Glasgow (rookie DT Ryan Glasgow), or Carl (rookie LB Carl Lawson), or Nick (second-year LB Nick Vigil), or (second-year DT) Andrew Billings or William (second-year CB William Jackson) making the types of plays their making, time and time again. They're earning their opportunities. We have to make sure the level doesn't drop, and so far, it hasn't."

Guenther, on playing young players:

"In my first year in coaching, the AD told me that for every freshman you play, you're going to lose one ballgame. That always stuck in my mind. At this point in the NFL, the way contracts are constructed, you have to get young players out there and playing. If they can play, you've got to let them go. I felt good enough (about this group) in the preseason. We played a lot of them early in games against good players (on other teams) in the preseason, so we felt good about them. They get it."

Lewis, on DT Geno Atkins:

"He's a man of few words, but he goes out and performs. He's productive against the pass and the run, week in and week out."

Guenther, on DE Jordan Willis:

"He's still learning how we do some things here — our techniques, and how to use his legs and his back. We're asking him to do things a little bit different here than he did in college. But he's beginning to understand that, and he's getting better every day."

Lewis, on LB Carl Lawson:

"He's been the early-to-work guy, and the late-at-work guy. He wants to do everything correctly. He may not seem like someone who talks a lot, but he talks out there on the field, and he comes into my office and wants to sit down and watch film with me. I really like that about him."

LB Vontaze Burfict, on rookies Jordan Willis and Carl Lawson:

"They come off the edge, and they don't even think about it — they just go after it. They're young, hungry and fast. Jordan (Willis) is going to be somebody to reckon with. He comes off the edge fast. And Carl — Carl's pretty good at getting to the quarterback."

Lewis, on LB Kevin Minter:

"He plays hard, with his pads at the right level. He understands the passing game and where he fits in on run defense, depending on the defense and coverage. I've been very pleased with him. It's been a good fit."

Lewis, on Nick Vigil:

"He has been very special. He keeps getting better, and his understanding (of the game) is improving each week. He's very coachable, and he understands the finer points of things, both with coverage and assignments we have at the line of scrimmage."

DE Carlos Dunlap, on knocking down opponents' passes at the line of scrimmage:

"The quarterback has a clock, too. If I can't get there before he throws it, then I jump and get the hand up."

Lewis, on CB William Jackson:

"He's done some things that have been stellar. There are other things that we're just trying to get him caught up on a little bit — get him up to speed. That's part of being a young player. We know he has the athletic tools and the intellect to play the position, now it's just (refining) the nuances of things that you do within the scheme. We're trying to make sure that he's good to go."

Lewis, on Jackson's ability to cover receivers:

"He's as good a guy at that as I've had an opportunity to be around. I said that last year. I've been around a lot of guys that are very good at that, and William, as a young player, has that ability."

CB Adam Jones, on the team turning the corner after an 0-3 start:

"We're not used to losing. We got a lot of guys in here and a lot of talent on offense and defense. For whatever reason, we didn't end up on the right side of the win column in the first three games, but there are a lot of positives with this offense and defense. I think we are in a great position."

Lewis, on players needing to contribute on special teams:

"We need to have the best offensive and defensive players, and a part of it is that they have to be a part of special teams. From the day they walk in through this door, they're beat over their heads with it. They're a part of 'teams' all the time, and that means everybody. They may not have done it at their college, but they all are a part of it now in some capacity."

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Seventh-year pro Andy Dalton threw for 243 yards and two TDs on 17-of-29 passing in Week 8 vs. Indianapolis, bringing his 2017 totals to 138 of 219 passing (63.0 percent) for 1603 yards, 11 TDs and seven INTs. Dalton is sitting at 153 career touchdown passes after last week's contest, putting him one behind Carson Palmer for third in team history. His 300-yard outing in Week 5 vs. Buffalo was the 22nd of his career, good for second in Bengals' history and one behind Boomer Esiason's all-time team record. His quarterback rating in Week 4 vs. Cleveland (146.0) was the second highest-rated game of his career, topped only by a 146.8 rating in Week 13 of the 2015 season. In 2016, Dalton completed 364 of 563 passes (64.7 percent), with 18 TDs and eight INTs. His 91.8 passer rating last year exceeded his career rating of 89.0. That career rating ranks as the Bengals' record, topping Carson Palmer's mark of 86.9. His 4206 yards passing in 2016 were the second most in team history, surpassed only by his own mark of 4293, posted in '13. Dalton also holds the club record for TD passes in a season (33, also in '13). Though the Bengals missed the playoffs in his sixth season in 2016, Dalton still is only the third NFL QB in the Super Bowl era to lead his team to the playoffs in each of his first five seasons, from '11-15. Dalton's 59-39-2 regular-season record as a starter works out to the best winning percentage (.600) of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts. Third-year pro AJ McCarron saw his first action of the regular season in the waning moments of a Week 4 win vs. the Browns, but had no statistics. McCarron showed much promise while filling in for Dalton after Dalton's thumb injury in 2015, logging a 101.1 passer rating for his three regular-season starts (2-1 record) and leading a dramatic comeback in the Wild Card playoff vs. Pittsburgh, only to see the Steelers prevail 18-16 on a late FG. As a collegian, McCarron led Alabama to a pair of national championships.

Running backs: Prized rookie HB Joe Mixon, a second-round pick out of Oklahoma, has found himself leading the Cincinnati backfield in carries through the first seven games (85). In Week 3 against the Packers, Mixon topped 100 scrimmage yards for the first time in his career, carrying the ball 18 times for 62 yards (3.4) and catching three passes for 39 yards. He topped the century mark again in Game 7 vs. Indianapolis, with 109 scrimmage yards (18 rushing, 91 receiving). Another career milestone was reached in Week 5 vs. Buffalo, as Mixon had a five-yard scamper that resulted in his first career TD. In 2016 at Oklahoma, Mixon posted a school-record 2331 all-purpose yards (194.3 per game). Despite playing only two college seasons and splitting time in the Sooners' backfield, Mixon finished his collegiate career ranked third in school history in career receiving yards by a running back (894) and fourth in career receptions by a running back (65). For his career, he totaled 300 carries for 2027 yards (6.8) and 17 TDs, as well as 65 receptions for 894 yards (13.8) and nine TDs. After suffering a major knee injury (ACL tear) last year in Game 10 vs. Buffalo, HB Giovani Bernard has not skipped a beat since the first day of training camp. In Week 4 vs. Cleveland, Bernard flashed some of his signature speed and agility, taking a screen pass 61 yards for the score. In his 10 games before the injury last season, Bernard racked up 673 yards from scrimmage, a total that stood fourth on the team at year's end. He had 91 carries for 337 yards (3.7) and two TDs rushing, along with 39 catches for another 336 yards and one TD receiving. Fourth-year HB Jeremy Hill has rushed for 29 TDs since entering the league as a Bengals second-round draft selection in 2014, and that total is two behind Philadelphia's LeGarrette Blount for the most rushing TDs in the NFL over that span. Hill led the Bengals in rushing (222 carries for 839 yards; 3.8-yard average) by a wide margin last season, despite seeing limited time in Game 15 and missing Game 16 due to a knee injury. In addition, Hill had the most touches by any player in the NFL in 2016 without a fumble (243). That number also counts as the most touches in a season without a fumble in Bengals history.

Wide receivers: Leading the Bengals in receiving through seven games is A.J. Green, who is coming off his sixth Pro Bowl nod in as many seasons (though he did not play in the game). In Week 3 at Green Bay, Green caught his 500th career reception and his 50th career TD. Green has the fourth-most yards of any receiver in the league and is eighth in the conference in receptions. The seventh-year WR is continuing the torrid pace he was on in 2016 before a hamstring injury ended his season early in Game 10. Through the first nine games of 2016, Green was averaging 107.1 yards receiving per game. Projected over 16 games, that average would have given him 1714 yards receiving. He finished the 2016 regular season with 964 receiving yards on 66 catches. Green's 519 career receptions rank third in Bengals history, and his 7707 receiving yards rank second. Green's 53 career receiving TDs rank tied for third, and his 30 games of 100 or more receiving yards rank second behind Johnson, whose total of 31 was recorded over a 10-year career. Veteran Brandon LaFell lines up opposite Green as the other starting WR, having grabbed 23 receptions for 180 yards and one TD through the first seven games. In Game 15 last year at Houston, LaFell went for a career-high 130 yards, including an 86-yard catch and run in the fourth quarter that was the longest Bengals scoring play of the season, and the second longest reception of LaFell's career. For the season, LaFell logged 64 catches for 862 yards and six TDs (all receiving), ranking second on the team in all three categories. Second-year WR Tyler Boyd is building upon a solid rookie year in which he posted 54 receptions for 603 yards and one TD, including 27 for 308 during the time that Green was out (Games 10-16). Boyd led all NFL rookies last season with 22 third-down receptions last season and has six receptions for 43 yards on the current campaign. Boyd has been inactive for three games this season, the last two with a knee injury, and his status for this week's contest is uncertain. Joining the Bengals this season are rookies John Ross and Josh Malone, both of whom specialized in the vertical passing game in college. Ross, the Bengals' first-round selection (No. 9 overall) out of Washington in April's draft, made his first appearance of the season in Week 2 vs. Texans, getting the start at WR, before being sidelined four games with a knee injury. Ross returned in Week 8 vs. Indianapolis and was targeted once with zero catches. Ross gained notoriety during the pre-draft process when he ran 4.22-second 40-yard dash at the NFL Combine, considered to be a combine record, breaking RB Chris Johnson's mark of 4.24 seconds from 2008. Ross piled up his share of impressive numbers at Washington as well, totaling 114 receptions for 1729 yards and 22 receiving TDs over three seasons of action. He also excelled as a kick returner, with four TDs in 85 career returns. Over his college career, Ross recorded five scoring plays 90 yards or longer. Malone, the second of two Bengals fourth-round selections (No. 128 overall) in this year's draft, was also known for stretching the field in college. Malone finished his three-year college career at Tennessee with 104 receptions, 1608 receiving yards (15.5-yard average) and 14 receiving TDs. In 2016, he averaged a school-record 19.4 yards per reception to go with 11 receiving TDs in 13 games. Malone's 4.40-second 40-yard dash at the NFL

Combine in March was third best among participating wide receivers. Malone made a statement play in Week 8 vs. Indianapolis, hauling in his first career touchdown on a 25-yard pass from Dalton. The catch was only the second of his career and came in just his second career game. Second-year pro Alex Erickson, a 2016 college free agent out of Wisconsin, posted career-highs in receptions and receiving yards in Week 2 against the Texans, nabbing four receptions for 62 yards. Though gaining a larger role in the offense this season, Erickson is known for his kick return prowess, as he currently ranks 10th in the NFL in kick return average (22.9). Erickson averaged an AFC-best 27.9-yards on 29 kickoff returns in '16, an average that ranked second in the NFL. Erickson is also the team's leading punt returner thus far, with 24 returns for 187 yards (7.8) in 2017 thus far. WR Cody Core, a sixth-round Bengals draft choice out of Mississippi in 2016, provides depth at wide receiver this season. He caught 17 passes for 200 yards last season, all of which came in the final five games, when Green was out hurt. Core missed Week 8 vs. Indianapolis with a concussion and his status for this week's game is uncertain.

Tight ends/H-backs: Now in his third Bengals season, TE Tyler Kroft has become more and more of a factor in the Bengals offense as the season has progressed. Kroft is currently tied for third in the conference in TD receptions by a tight end (three) and eighth in receptions by a tight end (23). Kroft had a memorable game in Week 4 vs. Cleveland, grabbing his first two TDs of the season as well as a career-high in receptions (six) and receiving yards (68). He appeared in 14 games in 2016 with 11 starts, recording 10 catches for 92 yards. Fellow third-year pro C.J. Uzomah, who played in 10 games with eight starts last season, has seen consistent action since Week 3 after being sidelined for the first two games with an ankle injury. Last year, Uzomah recorded 25 receptions for 234 yards and one TD, including eight catches in the last two games. Known for his blocking ability, fourth-year pro Ryan Hewitt has manned the H-back position since joining the Bengals in 2014 as a college free agent out of Stanford. Hewitt played in every game in 2016, with 11 starts, and had two catches for 13 yards. Despite missing the past three games with a knee injury, Hewitt has played in 51 of 55 possible regular-season games since joining the team, with 36 starts. Joining Hewitt at H-back is Cethan Carter, who made a successful roster bid as a college free agent out of Nebraska. Carter has been the lead H-back in Hewitt's absence, and recorded his first two special teams tackles in Week 6 vs. Buffalo. In his four years at Nebraska, Carter had 59 receptions for 744 yards and four TDs.

Offensive linemen: G Clint Boling is in his sixth season as the Bengals' starting LG, and is the longest consecutively tenured lineman on the roster. Boling in 2016 battled a shoulder injury suffered in Game 4, but managed to play through it until the final two games, when he was placed on Reserve/Injured. C Russell Bodine, who has been the Bengals' starting C since his rookie year in 2014, started all 16 games last season. Bodine has not missed a start in his Bengals career, covering 55 regular-season games and two postseason games. To Bodine's right this year is a new addition to the starting unit, G Trey Hopkins, who returned to the field in Week 5 vs. Buffalo after missing the previous three games with a knee injury. He did leave Week 8 vs. Indianapolis with a knee injury, however, and his status moving forward is uncertain. The second-year pro out of Texas first joined Cincinnati as a CFA in 2014 and spent most of his time since between Reserve/Injured and the practice squad. Part of the mix at OT this season is Jake Fisher, a second-round Bengals draft choice out of Oregon in 2015, who has started six games this season at ROT. Fisher played in 15 games last season, with three consecutive starts at ROT to end the season. He had served as the "big tight end" in extra-blocker situations most of the season, seeing increased snaps as the season progressed. The starting LOT for six of the first seven weeks of 2017, Cedric Ogbuehi, is a 2015 Bengals first-round draft selection out of Texas A&M. Ogbuehi started the first 11 games at ROT and one at LOT in 2016, before an injury ended his season before Game 16. Re-joining the Bengals' offensive line for 2017 is a familiar face — Andre Smith. A first-round Bengals draft pick in 2009, Smith was a mainstay at ROT until '16, when he signed with Minnesota as an unrestricted free agent. Smith's 2016 season, though, was cut short in the Vikings' fourth game when he suffered a season-ending triceps injury. An unrestricted free agent at season's end, Smith opted on March 16 to re-join the Bengals. Now in his second Bengals stint, Smith is listed as the backup at both LOT and ROT, but has nabbed a start in two games this season, rotating in with Fisher and Ogbuehi at the tackle spots. Fourth-year pro T.J. Johnson started in place of Hopkins during his absence, and will serve as the backup C and contribute on special teams. G Christian Westerman, a fifth-round Bengals draft selection out of Arizona State in 2016, brings depth to the interior of the Bengals' line and contribute on special teams. Westerman has been inactive for six of the first seven games and an active-DNP in Week 2 vs. Houston. First-year G Alex Redmond, a 2016 college free agent out of UCLA, made a successful preseason roster bid this year after spending all of his rookie season on the Bengals' practice squad. Redmond also figures to add depth to the interior of the line and rotated in at the guard spot in Week 4 at Cleveland.

Defensive linemen: Pro Bowl DT Geno Atkins is in his eighth Bengals season. Atkins has already recorded five sacks in 2017, including two against Houston. The two sacks in the Houston game marked the sixth-consecutive game in which Atkins had recorded at least one sack, a streak that came to an end against the Packers in Week 3. Atkins finished last season with a team-leading nine sacks, a total that also finished tops among NFL interior linemen (one ahead of Rams DT Aaron Donald). It's the fourth time Atkins has finished in at least a tie for that crown, and last season marked the second time for him to win the title outright (also in 2012). Atkins started every game last season and recorded 32 tackles. In addition to sacks, he led the team for the season in tackles for losses (13) and QB hits (26). DE Carlos Dunlap was the star in Week 8 against the Colts, as he tipped a ball at the line and ran it back for a go-ahead touchdown with just under seven minutes remaining in the contest. The touchdown marked the first score by a Bengals defensive lineman since Dunlap recorded a 14-yard interception return touchdown in Week 17 of the 2012 season. Dunlap also recorded a sack in Week 8, giving him 59 sacks for his career. That total ties him with Ross Browner for third all-time in Bengals history. Dunlap earned a trip to the Pro Bowl last year, his second selection, after recording eight sacks (second on team) among his 49 tackles. He also made headlines in 2016 after he led the team with a remarkable 15 passes defended. That total was seven more than any other NFL defensive lineman. It was the first time a Bengals defensive lineman has ever led the team in passes defended. The next closest Bengal was CB Dre Kirkpatrick, who had 10. Dunlap also led the team in forced fumbles (three). His 49 tackles led the D-line, and he also led the line in snaps played (840 of 1087). Dunlap had 13.5 sacks in 2015, the second-most in Bengals history. For his career, Dunlap has 15 career forced fumbles, eight fumble recoveries, 43 passes defended, four blocked field goals, two interceptions and three touchdowns scored. Though missing Week 2 vs. Houston with a concussion, DE Michael Johnson currently stands third on the team in sacks (three). His sack total includes two in Week 5 vs. Buffalo, marking his first two-sack game in a Bengals uniform since Week 17 of the 2012 season. Now in his ninth NFL season, eight of which have been as a Bengal (spent 2014 with Tampa Bay), Johnson was second on the D-line in tackles (45) in '16 and fourth on the team in sacks (3.5). Johnson left the Week 8 contest vs. Indianapolis with a back injury, and his status moving forward is uncertain. Listed as the No. 1 NT is veteran run-stuffer Pat Sims, who is in his eighth season as a Bengal and 10th overall in the NFL (he spent 2013-14 with Oakland). Sims was a productive player all season in the line rotation last year, posting 37 tackles, with 1.5 sacks, despite coming off the bench. Adding to the Bengals' depth at DE is rookie Jordan Willis, who started in place of Johnson in Week 2 and recorded his first sack in Week 5 vs. Buffalo. Willis made his mark early in Game 7 vs. Indianapolis, recording a blocked punt that set up a Bengals field goal drive. The Bengals' third-round draft choice this year and 2016 Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year out of Kansas State, Willis finished his four-year college career widely considered one of the top defensive players in Kansas State history. He totaled 114 tackles, including 40.5 for losses, and 26 sacks (third in school history). Last year, Willis led the Big 12 with 11.5 sacks. Willis tied for the preseason NFL lead in sacks, with four — one in each game — while also adding a forced fumble. DE Chris Smith, a third-year pro who the Bengals acquired in an April 11 trade with Jacksonville, has 1.5 sacks through seven games in 2017. In three years with the Jaguars, Smith played in 19 games, with 4.5 sacks, a pass defended and a forced fumble. In the rotation of the Bengals' interior defensive line is rookie Ryan Glasgow of Michigan, a fourth-round Bengals draft choice (No. 138 overall). A former walk-on for the Wolverines, Glasgow developed into a key contributor on one of college football's top rush defenses over the last two years. He played in 45 games (33 starts) at Michigan over five seasons (one redshirt), recording 91 tackles, including 18.5 for losses, and five sacks, two forced fumbles and a fumble return. Adding to the depth at NT is second-year DT Andrew Billings, a 2016 fourth-round Bengals draft selection out of Baylor who spent all of his rookie season on the Reserve/Injured list due to a knee injury suffered in training camp. Billings currently has two tackles on the season.

Linebackers: Returning to the Bengals in Week 4 was sixth-year pro Vontaze Burfict, who missed Games 1-3 due to a league suspension. Though only playing in four games thus far, Burfict has already worked his way up to fourth on the team in tackles and grabbed his first sack of the season in Week 5 vs. Buffalo. One of the NFL's most instinctive talents, Burfict is in his sixth season in stripes and is considered the leader of the defense. Burfict played in only 11 games in 2016, missing the first three due to a suspension and the last two due to a concussion and knee injury suffered in Game 14 vs. Pittsburgh. Despite the missed time though, Burfict still managed to finish with 101 tackles (second on the team), two sacks, eight passes defended (third on team) and a forced fumble. Burfict led the team in tackles by wide margins in 2012 and '13, and was a Pro Bowl selection in '13. Unrestricted free agent signee Kevin Minter, who spent his first four seasons with Arizona, is the No. 1 MLB this year and currently stands tied for seventh on the team in tackles. Known for his speed, Minter played in 61 games, including 37 starts, in four years with the Cardinals, notching 254 tackles, five sacks, 11 passes defended and a forced fumble. Minter missed Game 7 vs. Indianapolis with an elbow injury, and his status moving forward is unknown. Off to a hot start in 2017 is second-year pro Nick Vigil, who recorded his first career interception in Game 1 vs. Baltimore and his first career sack in Week 4 vs. the Browns. The team's leading tackler thus far, Vigil was a third-round 2016 draft choice out of Utah State and played in all 16 games a season ago, primarily on special teams. Seventh-year pro Vincent Rey, a longtime special teams ace and key backup, filled in admirably during Burfict's suspension to start the season. The second-leading tackler through the first seven games, Rey played in every game in 2016, with 12 starts, and ranked fourth on the team with 79 tackles. He also had one INT, seven total passes defended and a fumble recovery. Rey can play all the LB positions, and led the Bengals in tackles in both 2014 and '15. A promising new addition to the Bengals' LB corps comes in the form of rookie fourth-round pick Carl Lawson of Auburn, who posted 2.5 sacks in Week 3 against the Packers. Lawson's 2.5 sacks were the first few sacks of his career and the most sacks in a single game by a Bengals player since Carlos Dunlap had three sacks against the Broncos in Week 16 of the 2015 season. At 4.5 sacks on the season, Lawson is the leader amongst all NFL rookies in that category. A defensive end in college, Bengals coaches have added LB to his repertoire, in addition to duties as an edge rusher in the defense's No. 1 nickel package. Lawson battled injuries at times during his four seasons at Auburn (one redshirt), but when healthy, he was considered one of the top pass-rushers in college football. He played in 33 games in three years of action, with 20 starts, and notched 67 tackles, including 24 for losses and 14 sacks. Rookie LB Jordan Evans of Oklahoma, a sixth-round Bengals draft choice, impressed during preseason, finishing with 18 tackles (second on the team) and two passes defended. Evans was known for his speed and production in college and excelled in coverage. In 2016, he recorded four INTs and returned two for TDs. His 16 career pickups tied for second in school history among LBs. LB Hardy Nickerson was signed off the practice squad on Oct. 16, marking his second stint on the 53-man roster this season. He successfully made the team to open the season as a college free agent out of Illinois. He is the son of former All-Pro LB Hardy Nickerson Sr.

Defensive backs: Sixth-year pro George Iloka, Cincinnati's starting FS since 2013, has been a steady presence in the Bengals secondary through seven games after missing the preseason due to an injury suffered early in training camp. Iloka recorded his first interception of the season in Week 5 vs. Buffalo, forcing a turnover with time expiring and the Bengals owning just a six-point lead. Iloka tied for the team lead in INTs (three) last season, while recording 73 tackles. Iloka has nine career INTs and 31 passes defended. Sixth-year CB Dre Kirkpatrick now is in his third season as the Bengals' full-time starter at the No. 1 LCB position. The 2012 Bengals first-round draft choice started 15 games last season, missing only Game 4 vs. Miami, due to a hamstring injury. He tied for the team lead in INTs (three) and had 46 tackles and 10 passes defended (second on team). For his career, Kirkpatrick has nine INTs, two of which he returned for TDs, and 41 passes defended. He has proven to be a durable performer over the years, having played in 68 of the last 69 possible games (including postseason). Eleventh-year CB Adam Jones has missed two games this season, Week 1 vs. Baltimore while serving a suspension and Week 7 vs. Pittsburgh with a back injury, but still finds himself tied for third on the team in passes defended (three). Jones, now in his eighth Bengals season, started all 16 games last year at RCB and led the defense in snaps (1057 of 1087). For the season, he had 66 tackles, one INT, seven passes defended and a forced fumble. Jones' time as a kick returner has been limited in recent seasons by his starting CB duties, but he's a longtime threat in that area. In 2014, he led the NFL with a Bengals-record 31.3 average on KOR and was second in PR (12.0). He is the Bengals' all-time leader in kickoff return average (26.4) and punt return average (11.2). Fifth-year pro Shawn Williams suffered an elbow injury in the second preseason game, causing him to miss Week 1. He returned in Week 2 vs. Houston and has 29 tackles this season. Williams in 2016 tied for the team lead in INTs (three) and ranked third in tackles (81). Second-year S Clayton Fejedelem, who started in place of Williams in Game 1 vs. Baltimore, was a seventh-round Bengals draft choice in 2016 out of Illinois. Fejedelem recorded his first career interception in Week 4 vs. the Browns, coming down with a tipped pass as Cleveland was entering the red zone. Fejedelem played in every game last season, primarily on special teams, but recorded three tackles in brief defensive action. CB Josh Shaw, who can play both S and CB, is in his third season in Cincinnati and acts as a versatile piece of the Bengals' secondary. Shaw played in every game last season, with 12 starts (11 as a nickel back, and one at SS). Logging a start in place of the suspended Jones in Week 1, 2014 first-round pick Darqueze Dennard adds to the depth at cornerback for the Bengals. After the first seven games of the season, Dennard leads the secondary in tackles (41) and sacks (two), along with three passes defended. Dennard played in 15 games last season, with three starts, and tallied 41 tackles on defense. Another Bengals first-round draft pick, CB William Jackson was a headline-grabber in Week 3 after recording his first career INT on Packers QB Aaron Rodgers and returning it 75 yards for a TD. The last Bengal to score a TD on his first career INT was DE Carlos Dunlap on Dec. 30, 2012 against Baltimore. Through seven games, Jackson leads the Bengals in passes defended, with six. He got his first career start in Week 7 vs. Pittsburgh, replacing the injured Jones. Adding depth to the CB room is second-year CB KeiVarae Russell, who closed out the Bengals' 2016 season with a late-game INT of Ryan Mallett in the season finale vs. Baltimore. The INT was the first of Russell's career. Third-year S Derron Smith of Fresno State will again add depth to the secondary in addition to experience on special teams. Smith played in 12 games last year and had seven tackles, one pass defended, and a special teams stop.

Special teams: Sixth-year pro Randy Bullock, acquired late last year on waivers from Pittsburgh, Bullock won a preseason competition for the team's placekicking duties and has been reliable thus far. Bullock has drilled eight of his ten attempts so far this season, one of which was blocked, with the longest coming from 46 yards. Now in his sixth NFL season out of Texas A&M, Bullock owns a career 81.3 percent average (91 for 112) on FGs and 96.5 percent average (111 for 115) on PATs. LS Clark Harris has handled all 1205 snaps in his Bengals career without an unplayable delivery. On Oct. 16, Harris was signed to a one-year contract extension. P Kevin Huber, the top Bengals punter in history in terms of gross average (45.13) and net average (39.66), now owns the top three seasons in Bengals history for gross average and the top five for net average. Last season, Huber finished with a 46.3-yard gross average and 39.5-yard net average. He also notched 23 inside-20s against eight touchbacks. Huber boasts the franchise's all-time best ratio of inside-20 kicks to touchbacks (3.79 to-1, with 220 inside-20s and 58 touchbacks). WR Alex Erickson, a college free agent out of Wisconsin in 2016, is picking up right where he left off last season in the kick return department, where he finished second in the NFL and first in the AFC in kickoff return average, at 27.9 yards on 29 returns. Erickson had returns of 65, 72, and 84 yards last season, and his 84-yarder in Game 9 at the N.Y. Giants stands as the longest Bengals kickoff return since CB Adam Jones' 97-yarder vs. Carolina in 2014. He is the only Bengal to ever post three KORs of 65-plus yards in a season. Erickson also serves as the team's primary punt returner, averaging 7.8 yards on 24 punt returns. S Clayton Fejedelem leads the Bengals in special teams tackles this season with 10 (seven solo).

THE LAST BENGALS-JAGUARS MEETINGS

2012 SEASON

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Jacksonville Jaguars 10
Sunday, Sept. 30, 2012 at EverBank Field

The Bengals turned the tide in their favor with a huge special teams play and then pulled away from the Jaguars with solid play on both sides of the ball. In the second quarter, with Cincinnati trailing 7-3 and apparently ready to give the ball back to Jacksonville, upback Cedric Peerman took a direct snap in punt formation and raced 48 yards to the Jaguars' 18. Four plays later, the Bengals led 10-7. The Cincinnati defense allowed Jacksonville only 212 yards — the lowest opponent total all season — and the Bengals' offense racked up 382 yards, with QB Andy Dalton throwing for two TDs and scoring one himself on a sneak. WR A.J. Green had 117 receiving yards, recording the first back-to-back 100-yard games of his career. The Bengals improved to 3-1, while the Jaguars fell to 1-3.

2014 SEASON

WEEK 9, GAME 8

Cincinnati Bengals 33, Jacksonville Jaguars 23
Sunday, Nov. 2, 2014 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals rolled to leads of 19-3 in the third quarter and 26-10 in the fourth quarter, but the Jaguars, coming in at 1-7, closed to within 26-23 with 8:13 left. The Jaguars' score to close within three was set up when LB J.T. Thomas III intercepted QB Andy Dalton and returned it 10 yards to the Bengals' seven-yard line. But on the Bengals' first scrimmage play after that, rookie HB Jeremy Hill capped a day to remember by rushing 60 yards for a TD and the eventual 33-23 final margin. Hill, making his first NFL start due to an injury to HB Giovanni Bernard, rushed 24 times for 154 yards and two TDs and also caught a nine-yard pass. The Bengals got hands on two Jaguars second-quarter punts — HB Rex Burkhead tipped one to help set up a FG drive, and S Taylor Mays blocked one out of the end zone for a safety. The Bengals improved to 5-2-1 and the Jaguars fell to 1-8.

2017 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

Baltimore Ravens 20, Cincinnati Bengals 0 Sunday, Sept. 10, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals had looked forward to their first regular-season opener at home in eight seasons (the last opener at home had been in 2009), but the Ravens made sure that Cincinnati's three-game winning streak in openers ended in front of the team's home crowd at Paul Brown Stadium. Turnover differential and drives inside the opponent's 20-yard line proved to be the major differences in this game. The Bengals were minus-four in turnover differential (four INTs and one fumble to the Ravens' one INT) and failed to score on any of their three drives inside the Ravens' 20-yard line (those drives ended on an INT, a fumble, and on downs). Meanwhile, on three drives inside the Bengals' 20-yard line, the Ravens came away with three scores (one TD and two FGs). QB Andy Dalton recorded his lowest passer rating since November of 2014, though two of his four interceptions occurred on deflected passes. The shutout was just the second in a regular-season opener in Bengals history, and the first since 1979.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Houston Texans 13, Cincinnati Bengals 9 Thursday, Sept. 14, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals' defense had a solid game, but for the second straight week, the offense's inability to score a TD crippled the team's chances for a win. The defense gave up just 13 points, 98 net passing yards and 266 yards overall, but story of the game was three Cincinnati drives inside the Texans' 20-yard line, and just three field goals to show for it. The Texans had huge play in the game, and it proved to be the difference. QB Deshaun Watson scrambled 49 yards on a broken pass play on third-and-15 for a 49-yard TD with 50 seconds left in the first half. With just under seven minutes left in the third quarter, Bengals QB Andy Dalton hit TE Tyler Eifert for an apparent TD, but the play was taken away because Eifert had stepped out of bounds and the officials ruled he had not re-established himself inbounds before becoming the first player to touch the ball. Bengals DT Geno Atkins had two sacks for the Bengals, extending to six the number of consecutive games in which he had recorded at least a half sack, which tied for the longest such streak in Bengals history. The Bengals fell to 0-2, while the Texans improved to 1-1.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Green Bay Packers 27, Cincinnati Bengals 24 Sunday, Sept. 24, 2017 at Lambeau Field

The Bengals' offense, which had not scored a TD in either of the first two games, scored TDs on two of its first three possessions. Behind those scores and an INT returned for a TD by CB William Jackson, the Bengals jumped out to a 21-7 lead on the defending NFC North Champions and controlled that advantage for most of the game. In the first half, Cincinnati outgained Green Bay in net yards, 192-78, while winning on third downs on both sides of the line of scrimmage, converting four of seven while holding the Packers to two of seven. In the second half, however, the Packers flipped the third downs, converting five of eight and holding the Bengals to zero of five. Behind the direction of QB Aaron Rodgers, Green Bay rallied late with a 12-play, 71-yard TD drive with 17 seconds left to send the game into OT. Then, after the Bengals' offense stalled with a three-and-out on the opening drive of OT, Rodgers connected with WR Geronimo Allison on third-and-10 for a 72-yard pass to the Bengals' seven-yard line, and two plays later, the Packers converted on a 27-yard FG. QB Andy Dalton completed 21 of 27 passes for 212 yards, two TDs and no INTs (124.1 rating), and WR A.J. Green caught 10 passes for 111 yards and a TD. Rookie LB Carl Lawson had 2.5 sacks. The Bengals fell to 0-3, while the Packers improved to 2-1.

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Cincinnati Bengals 31, Cleveland Browns 7 Sunday, Oct. 1, 2017 at FirstEnergy Stadium

Both Cincinnati and Cleveland entered the game with 0-3 records, but the Bengals' offense erupted for 31 points while their defense held the Browns scoreless until after the two-minute warning to give the team a much-needed first win. Bengals QB Andy Dalton completed 25 of 30 passes for 286 yards, four TDs and zero INTs (146.0 passer rating). It was his fourth career game with four or more TD passes, and his first since Game 15 of the 2013 season. At one point in the Browns game, Dalton had logged 16 consecutive completions. That was the second-longest streak of completions in a game in team history, behind only the team record of 20 straight completions by former QB Ken Anderson in the 1982 regular-season finale on Jan. 2, 1983 at Houston. TE Tyler Kroft had six receptions for 68 yards and two TDs (all three of those stat categories were career highs for Kroft). HB Giovanni Bernard added three catches for 67 receiving yards and TD. The game marked the return of LB Vontaze Burfict, who missed the team's first three games due to a league suspension. The defense held the Browns to only 21-15 net yards, including just 45 rushing. Cincinnati improved to 1-3, while Cleveland fell to 0-4.

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Cincinnati Bengals 20, Buffalo Bills 16
Sunday, Oct. 8, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati bested a 3-1 Buffalo Bills squad for their second straight win. The Bengals' defense was the story of the game. The Bengals allowed the Bills to score just one offensive touchdown and held Bills QB Tyrod Taylor to a passer rating of just 63.6 while sporting a relentless pass rush that sacked him six times, including three times in the fourth quarter alone.

WEEK 7, GAME 6

Pittsburgh Steelers 29, Cincinnati Bengals 14
Sunday, Oct. 22, 2017 at Heinz Field

Cincinnati's offense and defense had an uneven balance between them in the game's two halves that led to the disappointing defeat. Entering the game, the Bengals ranked No. 2 in the NFL in both average net yards allowed (262.8) and average points allowed (16.6). But in the first half alone, the Bengals gave up nearly their average in net yards allowed to the Steelers (251) and more than their average in points (20).

WEEK 8, GAME 7

Cincinnati Bengals 24, Indianapolis Colts 23
Sunday, Oct. 29, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati survived a gut-check game and recorded one of its most peculiar victories in recent memory. The underdog Colts entered the game with the league's 28th-ranked offense and 31st-ranked defense, yet dominated both sides of the line of scrimmage. The Bengals suffered a blocked FG, they lost two fumbles with no takeaways, and they had a rookie halfback (Joe Mixon) lead the team in rushing yards with just 18 as well as receiving yards with 91. The game itself had five lead changes and was tied twice. And the contest's most decisive play was no less unusual. With Cincinnati down 23-17 with just over seven minutes left, Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap batted up a pass in the Indianapolis backfield, caught it when it came down, and then outran the pursuing Colts offensive players for 16-yard INT return for a TD and the game's final points. Indianapolis had two more possessions to try to regain the lead, but the Bengals' defense held both times. QB Andy Dalton was sacked three times and under duress for much of the game, yet still managed to record a solid 108.8 passer rating after completing 17 of 29 passes for 243 yards, two TDs and no INTs. The Bengals improved to 3-4, and the Colts fell to 2-6.
